

Chapter 674

Black Rose's expression was furious!

Alexandrina immediately understood. She was right.

However, she immediately doubted her guess. Black Rose was the number one female assassin in the world. Not only was she cruel and merciless, she was very vigilant as well. How could Frieda manage to take photos of someone like her?

How did she do it?

Maybe Black Rose was willing to?

No, that couldn't be. Alexandrina knew that Black Rose was particularly conservative in this aspect. Frieda could only succeed if she had done this behind Black Rose's back. Maybe she had been injured?

Maybe she had fallen asleep?

It was also possible that she had done so when Black Rose was under the influence of alcohol.

Nothing could deny the fact that Black Rose was really caught off guard regarding this. She didn't expect a vigilant woman like Black Rose would be sabotaged!

Alexandrina sighed secretly. Black Rose just wasn't careful enough. If Frieda had approached her, would she be able to take a single photo of her?

It was impossible. A cold sneer appeared on her face.

Would Frieda even dare to pull such an underhanded trick on her?

Apart from her slight moment of doubt, Alexandrina was also fuming. How could Frieda do such a thing? As a woman, she had taken nudes of other women! How low would she need to be to do such despicable acts?

Alexandrina began to hate Frieda. She used to think that Frieda had great potential, but now?

She thought to herself, "Would Frieda grow addicted to such underhanded methods after succeeding in taking Black Rose's photos? Maybe she had the thought of taking mine as well!"

Frieda must have, but would she be able to?

Dream on!

"Yes," Black Rose admitted coldly, "Now, can you allow me to kill Frieda?"

"No! I trained Frieda as a killer. In addition, she has improved rapidly. For someone this heartless and despicable, you may not be able to kill her now!" Alexandrina went straight to the point.

As killers, the more heartless one was, the longer they would live. People like Frieda would do anything in order to survive.

"If you don't allow me to kill her, aren't you afraid that she will take your nudes?" Black Rose inquired directly.

After all, Frieda had been in contact with Alexandrina for so long. Black Rose had only been with Frieda for a few days and she had already managed to take her photos!

Alexandrina had already been with Frieda for a long time. Based on Frieda's bold character, it was very likely that she would attempt to do so.

Chuck also looked at Alexandrina and was concerned for her. Did the b*tch, Frieda already succeeded in taking Alexandrina's photos when she was unaware of it?

Perhaps, Alexandrina was just like Black Rose? Maybe Frieda had already succeeded, but Alexandrina just didn't know!

"Her? Taking photos of me? Well, she can try, if she wants to die!" Alexandrina scoffed coldly.

"I didn't expect her to do so then, but she did," Black Rose answered with an expressionless face.

Indeed, she had saved Frieda back then. She was being nice to her, but look at how that ended up?

She didn't expect Frieda to do such a thing in return.

Alexandrina's expression was calm as she refuted, "I'm different from you."

Black Rose was silent for a few seconds before she said, "Well, you are stronger than me. I hope you'll never have to encounter such a thing since such memories will be a trauma for women for the rest of their lives!"

Chuck was startled.

Alexandrina was silent and just glanced at Black Rose a few more times.

"Black Rose, I won't mention it ever again, and I will also forget about this. Don't worry," Chuck was particularly serious.

He thought of how Black Rose had shot herself because of the photos.

Obviously, this was all very traumatizing for Black Rose!

If she wasn't hurt nor cared about it, why would she shoot herself?

Black Rose stopped in her tracks. Chuck's unexpected words as well as his sincere gaze made her heart beat faster inexplicably.

She was... just a little bit touched!

She didn't expect that Chuck would say such a thing!

Black Rose nodded slightly.

Chuck breathed a sigh of relief and consoled, "In fact, the photos has been destroyed. You can slowly forget that it ever happened."

"Right. I'll do that," Black Rose's reply wasn't as cold as it had been just now.

She didn't even understand herself. Just a while ago, she was borderline murderous and almost wanted to kill someone. But now, she had calmed down. What was wrong with her?

Chuck stopped talking further and suggested, "Maybe you can stay here?"

He worried that Black Rose would be reminded of the bad memories she had.

If he wanted to catch hold of Loomis's weakness, he had to obtain some evidence first.

"No, I have to come with you. Protecting you is my task, I can't fail again. As long as you can forget, I believe that I will slowly do so as well," Black Rose shook her head. After all, only Frieda and Chuck had seen her photos.

Frieda was a woman, but Chuck was a man. They were different.

After all, Chuck was the first man to see her pictures.

It was a difficult obstacle that she needed to overcome.

She could only forget about it if Chuck forgot it first.

"Yes, I will. Trust me," Chuck answered with a serious expression.

"Okay."

"Alexandrina, can we go in now?" Chuck could not wait any longer.

Carol had already gone inside for a while. Now, they needed to find a way inside since it was the best chance to act! They would definitely be able to catch him in the act!

"Alright. Black Rose, can you draw those people away?" Alexandrina asked.

Loomis's bodyguards had to be lured away first.

"Okay," Black Rose answered. She scurried over at once.

Chuck and Alexandrina were waiting on the spot. Three minutes later, Black Rose called Chuck and said, "I've lured them away. You have at most three minutes. Go in quickly!"

After saying that, the phone was hung up immediately. It was as if Black Rose was being chased by someone.

Chuck couldn't wait. He hurriedly slipped in with Alexandrina.

Once they were inside, he looked around, fully alert. This place was heavily guarded, but Alexandrina was the boss of a killer organization. She had her own tricks and managed to slip into the hotel easily with Chuck.

Finally, they found Loomis's room, but there were two people standing guard at the door.

Their expressions were solemn. At one glance, Chuck knew that they were extremely skilled fighters.

Considering this situation, he knew that rushing over directly probably wasn't the best idea.

He had to think of another way!

Sigh, if only Karen was here. Things would be so much easier. With her strength, dealing with the two of them might not be simple, but at least, it would not take too much time.

The bottom line was that he was still too weak!

"Chuck, let me show you. I'm not as weak as you think I am. Just wait and see," Alexandrina walked over directly.

"Alexandrina!!" He called out in a whisper. It was too late for Chuck to stop her. What did she want to do?

Staring at Alexandrina from the back, Chuck had to admit that she was really pretty and had an amazing figure. When she showed up, she immediately attracted the attention of the two men.

Men always liked to stare at women. Furthermore, Alexandrina was drop-dead gorgeous.

Who would be able to remain calm when they saw her?

Alexandrina did not say a word and walked past the two men. She took out a cigarette, and the two men seemed to freeze in their places. One asked, "Hi babe, you want a lighter?"

"Yes. By any chance, do you have one?" Alexandrina flashed a dazzling smile at them.

Seriously, she was too attractive.

Her voice was husky and seductive.

The man took out the lighter and approached her. Alexandrina winked and leaned over with the cigarette in her hand, growing closer and closer. The man started to feel a little parched.

All of a sudden, Alexandrina jabbed the man's forehead lightly, and he instantly collapsed to the ground and stopped moving. The other guy was shocked and quickly threw out a punch.

Then, Alexandrina shot a miniature ball out of her hand. There were electric currents stored inside the ball that had been compressed like a miniature power bank. When it touched the man, his whole body immediately convulsed and he dropped to the ground in a daze.

Surprisingly, she had managed to take care of the two people easily!

Chuck was dumbfounded. He didn't expect her to be so capable.

Rather, it made perfect sense. If Alexandrina didn't have any skills up her sleeve, how could she start a killer organization? In addition, she managed to expand the business and made it pretty big too!

Chuck came over with a look of total shock.

"What are you gawking at? Why don't you kick the door open and go in?" Alexandrina snorted.

"Alexandrina, you really are amazing!" Chuck praised sincerely.

"I'm an expert in many aspects. You're just unaware of what I'm capable of. Well then, let's go in!" Alexandrina knew that now wasn't the time for idle chat. It was better for them to take care of things quickly. If the people who were lured away by Black Rose came back, they'd be in serious trouble!

Chuck shrugged, took out his mobile phone and opened the camera app. Then, he broke down the door with as much force as he had.

The door was kicked open easily as expected. Without haste, Chuck dashed right in with his camera!

Chapter 675

Loomis smiled faintly. He had already had this woman's heart for a long time. What was he going to do?

Every man would understand.

"It's time for me to go back, or else he will wake up," Carol said, her face flushed.

"Why do you think he would wake up so easily after drinking? Even if he woke up, he wouldn't suspect you at all. To him, you are the perfect wife he could ever have dreamed of having. How would he ever think that in truth, you're with me instead?" Loomis cackled.

Hearing this, Carol blushed and glared at Loomis. She pouted, "You're the b*stard who made me like this."

There was nothing Carol could do even if she was angry.

Although her husband was a Yeager family member as well, he was quite dull and had no idea when it came to pleasing women. The only reason why Carol married him was because of the money.

Furthermore, Loomis was so sweet to her after she married into the Yeager family. How could she ever take it?

A few days later, she fell for Loomis after being trapped by his romantic and sweet words.

Carol couldn't do anything about it either!

That was because Loomis knew how to win a woman's heart.

In response, Loomis gave a hearty chuckle.

"By the way, do you still want Willa?" Carol asked.

"Yes, of course I do. I want her dead!" He growled. His eyes were full of resentment.

His hatred for Willa ran deep.

If he caught Willa, he would do everything to torture her!

"Why do you think about her? I'm by your side, but you're missing her now?" Carol pouted jealously.

"Haha! I don't miss her! I miss you!" Loomis consoled her with a toothy grin.

Just then, the door was suddenly kicked open!

Immediately, Loomis flew into a rage, "What is going on? Don't you know that I'm inside? Get lost... Oh, so it's you, b*stard! What are you using your phone for?"

Loomis shouted and suddenly noticed Chuck rushing in with his phone after kicking down the door.

First, he was enraged. Soon, his face turned pale with fright!

Even a fool would know why Chuck was taking photos right now!

Seeing this scene, Carol was so frightened that her face turned ashen too. She started to scream her head off.

She quickly covered her body with the quilt, but Chuck had rushed in so suddenly that he had already caught enough images of the two of them lying in bed.

Slap!

Then, Chuck slapped right Loomis in the face!

Loomis yelled out in pain since Chuck had really slapped him with all his might. He roared in shock, "Chuck Cannon, how dare you take my pictures?"

Chuck shrugged and put his phone away. His trip this time was not in vain. He had really caught hold of Loomis's secret.

At that moment, there was pure, unhidden anxiety going amok in Loomis' eyes.

That's right!

Loomis was truly panicking!

An affair was supposed to be done in secret, and he had found much pleasure and excitement from doing so. However, if the Yeager family found out, it would be an absolute disaster!

It would be impossible for him to have the right to inherit the family fortune, and he might even be driven out by them!

No one would tolerate his behavior, and that included the Yeager family!

It was forbidden to flirt with someone else's wife, let alone the wife of his very own cousin!

"Chuck, are you trying to die? Give me your phone! Give it to me!" Loomis rushed over like mad. Chuck's strength had increased again, so he kicked him to the ground easily.

Loomis clenched his stomach, writhing in pain. He groaned so miserably and was about to faint!

"Chuck Cannon, give me your phone!" Loomis's face was pale with fear and pain.

"So you're brave enough to have an affair, but you're afraid to admit it?" Chuck sneered.

"I... Chuck, how much do you want? I'll give it to you. I only want your phone!" Loomis said in a hoarse voice.

His entire future depended on that phone!

"Money? I don't want your money," Chuck shook his head.

Carol, who was sprawled on the bed, looked petrified. She begged, "Don't look at me. Please. Just give me the phone."

She climbed out of the quilt in fear and knelt in front of Chuck, pleading for his mercy.

She was considered lucky. When Loomis' cousin had gone out, he took a liking to her and they got married as a result.

Carol knew how capable the Yeager family was. If the photos were circulated, she'd be sentenced to death by the Yeager family!

She was scared and horrified.

"I beg you, please," Carol started to sob.

Chuck frowned, "Put on your clothes. You're not my target here!"

Chuck's target was Loomis. Carol was just involved by accident since she had betrayed her husband and slept with someone else.

"No, I'm really scared. Please give me your phone. You can have me do anything you want, as long as you ask me for it!" Carol wept. She was terrified out of her wits.

She could already imagine how miserable her fate would be.

The Yeager family would torture her to death!

"Anything I ask of you? That's interesting, but how about you, Loomis Yeager?" Chuck snorted and shrugged.

Loomis stared at Chuck in horror and gawked, "What do you want to do?"

"You should know what my plans are. Why do you ask?" Chuck said.

"In your dreams!!" Loomis crawled to his feet.

He knew what Chuck was thinking of. Chuck just wanted him to stop the Yeager family from dealing with Karen. He couldn't do that alone, and even if he had help, he couldn't do it either.

As of now, the head of the family, Brooke, was still unconscious and hanging between life and death!

"Oh really? Then I guess I won't bother you anymore. But later, your family will enjoy the video a lot, it's even in HD! Don't you think I'm being nice to you?" Chuck grinned.

"F*ck you!" Loomis was shaking with anger. He jumped up and tried to punch Chuck, but Chuck wasn't going to just stand there and allow him to do so.

With a single punch on his belly, Loomis knelt on the ground and whined in pain yet again.

"Tsk, tsk. You don't know how to appreciate favors. Alright then, you guys can continue where you left off," Chuck turned around and was about to leave.

Alexandrina stared at Loomis in disgust. Since he could do such a thing, he was just like Frieda, a shameless and despicable person who would stoop so low to get what they wanted.

"No, Loomis, please just agree to what he's saying! If the video is released, I'll be dead! Loomis..." Carol sobbed even harder now, snot and tears running down her face.

She was really scared.

"Hmph, let's see if he will! As long as he dares to, I'll torment him to death!" Loomis gritted his teeth.

"Well, you seem to have gotten the wrong order. If the video gets out, you'll be the first to die!" Chuck sneered at him.

Loomis's face froze. That's right. As long as the people from home saw the video, he was finished! Even if the other family members turned a blind eye to him, his cousin would never let him go that easily!

The more he thought about it, the more frightened he became.

Loomis finally trembled in terror and gave in, "Chuck, give me your phone. I promise you that I'll try!"

"Hah, give it to you?! Do you think I'm stupid?" This was the evidence of dirt on Loomis. If Chuck gave it to him, it would no longer be of use!

Of course, Chuck would not comply and started bargaining with him, "First, tell me what your family is going to do!"

"My grandfather is seriously ill and we're still saving him," Loomis admitted fearfully.

"Brooke Yeager is sick?" Chuck was startled. He still did not know that Karen had injected something into Brooke's body.

"Yes, my grandfather's situation is not optimistic. Everyone is waiting for him to wake up and order the doom of your family personally!"

Chuck understood the whole situation now. No wonder the Yeager family was so quiet these days. It turned out that Brooke had fallen ill. This was great!

"I've answered everything you asked me to. What do you want me to do for you to give the phone to me?" Loomis cried. He was extremely anxious.

If this weakness of his was still in Chuck's hands, he wouldn't be able to sleep or eat in peace!

"Well, it's not difficult. As long as you listen to me, I'll give you the video," Chuck shrugged.

It seemed that he had to consider his next move carefully before making a decision!

Alexandrina suggested, "Chuck, why don't you ask some money from him first?"

Although the Yeager family was loaded, there was also a limit. If they could ask for a portion of their assets, then the riches of the Yeager family would still be somewhat affected.

"Some money? Alexandrina, do you think that I'll ask for such a minor request?" Chuck shook his head. Loomis was just one of the Yeager family's descendants. How much could he possibly have?

It would only bring a minimal impact on the entire Yeager family, so he might as well forget about asking it in the first place.

"Chuck, you still want to take over the entire Yeager family?" Alexandrina gasped. If that was his plan, it would be too shocking!

She didn't expect Chuck to have such big plans.

"Of course, I'm going to be the richest man on earth! The Yeager family is going to belong to me soon, since he's the one who came after me first!" Chuck declared confidently.

Alexandrina's beautiful eyes widened as she exclaimed, "Chuck, you're really a bundle of surprises!"

"You want to take over my family? Hmph, I'll applaud you for your big ambitions, but do you have the ability to follow through?" Loomis rolled his eyes. He couldn't help but mock Chuck.

 Watch Ads to Get 15 Vouchers