

Chapter 769

"No, you guys go ahead!" Chuck shook his head and said.

As if he had the time to attend a gathering!

Besides, Chuck had quit studying and dropped out of school.

At the thought of that, Chuck gave a wry smile.

It was one of his regrets!

He didn't have the time to regret it at the present moment. Sabina was about to launch an attack on him soon!

Chuck felt the pressure of the hidden family and Sabina.

"Pfft, whatever. You think that we really want you to join us anyway?"

"He must be worried that if he joins us, we would ask him to pay for us. So stingy..."

"That's right. Since he's so rich, shouldn't he treat his friends?"

Several students muttered, they were displeased with Chuck.

Chuck had no mind to care about them, nor was he in the mood to argue with them. He then left with Yolanda.

There were other things to discuss. The next day, the matter of the pharmaceuticals would need to be finalized!

Time was precious!

"What a stingy guy!"

"Let's go. He isn't coming. We'll go by ourselves!"

"D*mn it, I'm not going to his City Square. There's never a discount when I go there!"

"It's that stupid Lara! She always suggests to go to City Square every time. D*mn, the City Square isn't even hers. Why does she care about it so much?"

"Are you stupid? Didn't you see it just now? Chuck has been hooking up with Yolanda. Will Chuck let go of that poor Lara? Lara has such a fine body... Chuck must have something to do with Lara. F*ck, I'm so jealous!"

"Sigh, it must be nice. I wish I were born with a silver spoon like him."

"Stop talking. Let's go first."

They took a cab to the City Square. When the students arrived, they went for karaoke and great food.

"Guess who we saw just now?" A student spoke loudly among the crowd.

"Who? Is it Zabrina?"

"Who cares!"

The students snorted and were not very interested.

"Can't even guess? The richest person in our class! That guy who dropped out of school!"

The students were taken aback. They were all dumbfounded.

"You mean Chuck? He's back? Isn't he in the United States?"

"He definitely can't survive there!"

"Is it true?"

"Of course it's true. Chuck is still with Yolanda! I don't know what he is looking at. Maybe he's still looking."

"Yolanda has become the manager of the plaza. I knew that something was wrong. It turns out that Chuck did it on purpose. The life of a rich person is so good. He can just hook up with the beauty of our school so easily."

Many students were envious.

"What? Did you say Chuck is back?" Lara, who was absent-minded, rushed over and grabbed the student, refusing to let go.

"Yes, I saw him. What's wrong? Didn't he call you? Why do you care about him so much? Did Chuck dump you?"

A student said with a sneer.

"Is there something wrong with your brain?"

Lara was furious. She gave him a slap and the two of them immediately got into a tussle.

Many students started to help and separate them from each other.

Lara left angrily. Usually, she would fight with him to the end. But that day, Chuck was back, and she wanted to contact him.

"D*mn!"

Initially, all of them were having a joyful gathering. But with Chuck's return, they were very unhappy.

"Why did Chuck come back this time?"

"How would I know? He's so rich!"

They were not in the mood to talk about it, but a girl whispered, "To be honest, I do miss him."

"What?"

"Chuck is not bad. He's rich and handsome."

"You're right. Chuck is quite handsome. If he goes after me, I would definitely agree."

"Me too! When I finally found out that Chuck is rich, I actually want to go after him..."

The girls chattered on, while the other male students were envious. They wanted to be like Chuck!

.....

"Charlotte, Chuck is back." Lara ran to her milkshake shop excitedly.

Clang!

Charlotte dropped the cup in her hand. She was so excited that she couldn't hold it in. "Really? You saw Chuck?"

"I didn't see him. My classmates did."

They looked at each other and then looked away.

"How about it, Charlotte?" Lara asked softly.

Anyway, the two of them had already made up their minds to go after Chuck together.

"Whatever you say, it's up to you." Charlotte lowered her head and continued with her work. Her voice was especially soft.

Lara nodded and took out her cell phone to call Chuck. But, would Chuck pick up her call?

Meanwhile, after Chuck and Yolanda ended their discussion, it was already past twelve o'clock. Chuck did not expect that the two of them would lose track of time.

It clearly showed that Yolanda was a businesswoman. It looked like he chose the right person for the job.

"Chuck, where are you going?" Yolanda asked.

Although she had managed basically most of Chuck's affairs, she still rented a house.

Chuck was also aware of it that he felt somewhat guilty.

"By the way, I have a house that I haven't lived in for a long time. Why don't you move there? You can help me take care of my house. You know, the house would become shabby if no one occupies it for too long..."

"I don't think that's a good idea."

"What's wrong? I'll take you to have a look now," Chuck said.

"Okay!"

Yolanda drove as Chuck led the way. They finally arrived at the destination.

Chuck's voice was low because he lived in the same residential area as Zelda!

It would definitely not be good for them to be seen by Zelda, especially when she was still so disappointed.

He opened the door.

Chuck heaved a sigh. It had been a long time since someone had stayed in that house. It had collected so much dust.

"You can live in this house. You can ask your parents to stay with you, I don't mind. I might as well give you this house." Chuck had his mother's hotel anyway, so he could live in that hotel.

Thinking of the house, Chuck felt that he was a little ridiculous at that time.

For him to leave Yvette, he actually bought this house.

Since he had reconciled with Yvette, he could give the house to someone else.

"Give it to me?" Yolanda was stunned.

"Yes, it's for you."

Yolanda shook her head and refused. Chuck smiled and said, "What are you afraid of? You can just move in here."

Yolanda was silent for a moment. "Okay, thank you."

Chuck was so nice to her that she felt uneasy.

"No problem. Call someone to clean it up tomorrow. You can move in the next day."

"Okay."

"You can go back now. I'm staying at my mom's hotel," Chuck said and was about to close the door.

Yolanda wasn't paying attention, she bumped into a cabinet and almost fell down. Chuck quickly held her waist and asked, "Are you okay?"

"I'm fine." Yolanda blushed. Chuck shrugged and let her go. When he looked up, he saw a person at the door. It was Zelda who heard the clamoring.

She was tearing up and she upset. "I'm sorry for disturbing you..."

Chapter 770

Zelda was devastated. She had asked Chuck to stay earlier, but Chuck left. But now, he brought another woman back to his house.

She was very upset seeing that she was comparable to Yolanda.

Why did Chuck want Yolanda, but not her?

She was not bad either!

Zelda dashed out. She heard the sound of door opening earlier, thus she went out to have a look. She didn't expect to see that.

It looked like she was fated not to be with him.

"Yolanda, please wait a minute." Chuck helped Yolanda up and quickly chased after Zelda.

Yolanda was dumbfounded.

When Chuck left to chase after Zelda, Yolanda suddenly felt a little inexplicably disappointed.

"Zelda!" Chuck was chasing after her.

"I'm sorry, I shouldn't have come over." Zelda tried to hold back her tears.

However, her tears started streaming down.

"No, you've misunderstood me. I don't have anything with Yolanda." Chuck felt helpless.

"Yolanda almost fell down just now, I was just helping her up. Nothing happened."

"Then why were you still holding her?"

"She almost fell down just now, I just reached out my hand. Yolanda is the manager of the plaza. How can I have feelings for her?" Chuck shook his head and was really helpless.

When Chuck saw Yolanda for the first time, he thought she was beautiful, but he really didn't have any other intentions towards her.

Chuck was conscious of the fact that Yolanda was his employee. If he had any other intentions, wouldn't it be a complete mess?

How much of an impact would that have on their work?

"You really don't have feelings for her?" Zelda asked.

What was her status to have the right to ask that question?

Chuck's girlfriend?

No, that was not it.

A confidante?

That was not true either. After all, something unexpected had happened between her and Chuck.

She was a little more than just a confidante. Did she have the right to ask that question?

"No," Chuck replied while shaking his head resolutely.

"No?" Meanwhile, Yolanda was leaning against the door in a room. She was in despair when she heard their conversation.

What was going on?

In fact, Yolanda had thought about it. Chuck trusted her so much and even gave her so much money. What did Chuck feel about her?

Love?

No, Yolanda felt that there was nothing. They only had a trusting work relationship.

Because Chuck trusted her, he gave her so many benefits and authority.

But what did she feel about Chuck?

When Yolanda couldn't fall asleep, she often thought about that question.

Chuck was so rich, and she was also a woman. Did she have feelings for him?

Yolanda had thought about it many times, but she didn't have the slightest bit of feelings for him.

It was only a work relationship between them.

When she saw Chuck for the first time, she was not attracted to him at all.

Did her heart beat wildly?

No!

At most, she would feel awkward. The one time when Chuck told her that her sock was torn, she felt awkward.

When he had held her so tightly earlier, her first reaction was awkwardness.

Her heart did not race at all. Did it not mean there were no feelings there?

Even if the two of them were in the same room and on the same bed, nothing would happen between them.

Because she didn't have any feelings for him and he didn't have any feelings for her either.

It was possible that besides their work relationship, they had become good friends.

Such a relationship still existed between a man and a woman.

But why did she feel disappointed when she heard Chuck say that he didn't have any feelings for her?

Where did that sense of loss come from?

Yolanda was confused. Her beautiful face was pressed against the door and she was listening quietly. She knew it was not good to eavesdrop, but she wanted to listen.

"Never mind, I'm sorry. I shouldn't have asked that."

Zelda apologized.

She had shops in the City Square and she had known Chuck for a long time. As a woman, she could sense clearly whether there was anything between Yolanda and Chuck.

"It's alright, Zelda," Chuck said as he heaved a sigh of relief.

"Please go on. I'm going home."

"Alright." Chuck sighed. "Zelda, I..."

Chuck felt sorry for Zelda. He had sex with Zelda previously, and she could be considered his woman.

However, there was nothing Chuck could give her.

She wanted a family, but how could he give her that?

If he couldn't give her that, he couldn't drag her along...

"Don't say that. I'm of my own free will," Zelda said with gratification.

She really felt distressed about Chuck's tone as she sensed he was worried about her.

"But..."

"No. I took the initiative to give it to you that night in the car... I don't regret anything I did," Zelda said firmly.

Chuck coughed while Zelda smiled slightly. Her tearful smile was really beautiful.

"I'll go back now. You two continue with your chat."

"Let me make it clear, the reason why I brought Yolanda here was to give the house to her. I..."

"No need to explain, I believe you."

Zelda hugged Chuck.

Chuck did not resist.

He felt so guilty that he couldn't resist.

He had grown up and he could think clearly now. What was on his mind at that moment?

His own business empire!

"Good night."

"Good night."

Zelda went back to her house next door. When she was about to close the door, she bit her lip, looking seductive. Chuck coughed and said, "Zelda."

"I won't lock the door tonight, you can come in any time. I'll wait for you."

"Um..."

Zelda closed the door.

Chuck gave a wry smile and returned to his home.

Yolanda quickly stepped back, pretending that she didn't hear anything.

"Yolanda, are you alright? Where did you hurt yourself just now?" Chuck asked with concern.

Yolanda was so tall that she hit her thigh and was limping.

"I'm fine."

"Then, you can ask someone to tidy this place up tomorrow."

"Sure."

Speechless.

Both of them were silent. Yolanda said softly, "Did Director Maine misunderstand anything?"

"No, there's no misunderstanding," Chuck said with a bitter smile.

"True, true." Yolanda lowered her head, feeling more despair.

It was just a simple work relationship. Why should she be disappointed?

She was baffled.

"Then, I'll drive you back to the hotel." Since Yolanda drove him there, she had to send him off.

Chuck was wondering whether or not he should spend the night at Zelda's house.

"Why don't you go back by yourself? I'll have a word with Zelda."

Chuck told the truth.

Yolanda understood what he meant. She decided that she shouldn't interrupt them. Yolanda forced a smile and said, "Okay, then I'll go home first."

Chapter 771

Yolanda went downstairs, absent-minded.

She sat in the car with her beautiful eyes fixed on the road. After a moment, she let out a sigh.

She laughed at herself mockingly.

Did she make a mistake?

"It's just a work relationship. I must have made a mistake."

"Why am I overthinking things?"

Yolanda made up her mind. She was certain that she had no feelings for Chuck. Chuck was just her employer.

That was all!

Yolanda thought it over and drove home. She had to work hard the next day. She could feel Chuck's solemnness when he returned.

There was going to be a huge show in the mall!

As Chuck's employee, how could she not do her best to support him?

Chuck opened the door and stepped into Zelda's house.

Zelda was in her pyjamas. Chuck coughed before saying, "Zelda."

"Come over and tell me what happened in the United States." Zelda leaned over and laid on Chuck's chest.

She had dreamed about what Chuck might have encountered in the United States. She just wanted to hear it from Chuck himself at that moment.

It should be very interesting.

"Before I start, can you change into something else?" Chuck was speechless.

Zelda's figure was already perfect in the first place. Looking at her in her sleepwear at that moment, her beauty was beyond Chuck's imagination.

"I won't change," Zelda said with a flushed face.

"Um..."

Chuck was embarrassed. He took a few deep breaths while Zelda laughed. "Okay, I'll listen to you. I want to listen to some stories today."

Zelda got up and went to change her clothes. When she came out of the room, she put on something casual which was much better.

"Is this okay?" Zelda still looked happy. At least, Chuck still had some feelings for her.

"That's fine." Chuck chuckled.

Zelda once again nestled in Chuck's arms and said softly, "Tell me all about it."

"All right."

Chuck nodded and recalled his purpose for going to the United States, because Yvette was being assassinated. Chuck started his story from that incident.

When it came to the matter of Chuck and Elise, Zelda was obviously mad, but she felt sorrow at the same time. She trembled and realized that Chuck might've been beaten to death by Elise.

When she heard about Chuck coming out of the Amazon, it was so thrilling that she was very intrigued. She was caught up in the moment.

As Chuck was sharing his stories, she felt as if she had personally experienced it with him. She was nervous, scared, happy, sad...

At the end of his story, Chuck went silent.

When it came to the part about Sophia and the accident, Chuck of course filtered it out.

That sort of thing couldn't be revealed.

It wasn't good for Sophia either. Even though if Zelda found out, she wouldn't tell anyone about it.

"A hidden family? There is actually such a family in this world?" Zelda muttered to herself. She came to her senses upon realizing what Chuck had just said.

When she heard the words 'hidden family', she was taken aback. It was the first time she was hearing of it.

It was not normal as Zelda's net worth was barely more than a hundred million, it was of course impossible for her to get to know about those things.

"Yes." Chuck's eyes flashed as he mentioned Sabina from the Yeager family...

Chuck had a headache. He could easily explain about Adriana and the other hidden families that had never appeared. But for Sabina who hated Chuck so much, it became a heartbreak for him.

"Can you deal with this Sabina person?" Zelda asked in fear.

Chuck didn't have much information about the hidden family, but it sounded terrifying to Zelda!

There was actually a family in the world that had been passed down for generations over thousands of years!

It was something that Zelda had never thought of.

"I don't know. I can't handle her with what I have currently, so I came back to build my business empire as fast as I can so that I can deal with Sabina!"

Sooner or later, he would have to go against Adriana of the Whitlock family.

Chuck could already figure out what she would do when he kept refusing such an obsessive woman.

His existing nemesis whom he was very certain about was the mighty Sabina.

The other possible nemesis was Adriana.

As for the hidden family, Chuck didn't have much information about them and he didn't know if they would go against him. They still stayed in the shadows up until then.

Zelda muttered to herself, "Then, let me help."

Chuck chuckled while Zelda looked serious. "Although I'm nobody in the eyes of the hidden family, but I can help secretly!"

Chuck was moved.

Zelda could feel the pressure on Chuck. Things turned out to be so ugly that he had such an immense pressure on him.

"Chuck, I believe that you can overcome it." Zelda leaned against Chuck.

Under such great pressure, Chuck could still feel her giving him a sense of security!

"I hope so!"

Chuck sighed as he knew that Adriana and Sabina should have received the news that he had returned. What would be their next move?

Could it be that they were there too?

Sigh!

"Don't sigh," Zelda comforted.

"Okay."

Zelda knew about Chuck's pressure. She did not tease him, but instead snuggled up to his chest and asked, "Can I sleep in your arms?"

"Of course you can."

"Then, I'm going to sleep."

"Good night."

"Good night."

Just like that, the two of them slept together.

.....

"Miss, we have arrived." Adriana had arrived in Chuck's home country.

"This is it?" Adriana arrived at the largest hotel. She shook her head and said, "There are many opportunities here. Chuck choosing to come back here for business was definitely a good choice."

"Yes, that's right."

"Where is Chuck?"

"Chuck has the City Square and a hotel. There is also a construction site and a nightclub. I think he should be in the City Square."

"Then, take me there." Adriana thought of something and said, "Help me check out how many women Chuck has here."

"Miss, what do you mean?" Nelson understood what she meant. Did it mean that she wanted to deal with all of Chuck's women?

"Check it out first. Don't miss out anything." Adriana leaned on the couch lazily. Nelson immediately did as he was told. It was a little complicated, but he still had to investigate.

Adriana looked at the night scene and felt extremely disappointed.

"Chuck, I've been looking for you. I'm so kind to you. It's my first time coming here. Why don't you appreciate me? You should like me, you should..."
