

Chapter 789

"What did you say? You're at the front door of my house?" Quinn was shocked.

Why did Chuck appear in front of her house? She didn't remember telling him where her hometown was.

No, she did not.

How did he find out?

Sergio and Libby were shocked as well. They turned to look at the door at the same time.

"He's already at the door? Is that even possible?" Sergio smiled and asked.

Libby's eyebrows furrowed. Her daughter's boyfriend was actually right in front of the door?

Was that a joke?

Wasn't he in the United States? Why was he here now?

How did a man full of lies like him end up as her daughter's boyfriend?

Libby was truly furious. Her daughter was simply too disappointing!

Alas!

"Yes, I'm at your door."

"Chuck, are you serious?" Quinn's beautiful face turned serious!

She understood. Chuck's mother was so powerful that it would not be difficult for him to locate her whereabouts!

But, when did he return?

It was too sudden!

Did he come back on purpose after discovering that something had happened to her?

Women really liked to let their imagination run wild, even a strong and independent woman like Quinn.

"Of course I am. Come out for a moment. I'm a little lost."

"Okay! I'll be out!" Quinn ran out immediately, looking surprised.

Libby was annoyed. "Quinn, do you believe him? How could he be outside? He's playing you!"

Sergio was still there, yet Quinn went to welcome another man. What about Sergio?

Libby had already accepted the ten million dollars engagement gift!

"Mom, I believe him. If he says that he is at the door, he must be there!" Quinn said firmly.

Ever since the two of them had slept together, Quinn believed in Chuck!

She believed in him unconditionally!

If Chuck said that he was outside the door, he would definitely be there!

Quinn ran to the door and opened it!

Libby was furious. "Sergio, don't mind her. This is how Quinn is. She will give up on that man eventually! Don't worry! I'm on your side!"

"Madam Libby, I'm assured by your words," Sergio said with a smile.

Although Quinn usually did not listen to Libby, if Libby really threatened her with her life, Quinn would definitely give in!

Therefore, what else did he have to worry about?

Nothing else!

"Didn't I tell you? He is just messing with you, Quinn!" Libby walked out of the house with anger in her eyes. Quinn was disappointed as she did not see Chuck. There was no one outside the door.

Sergio laughed in his heart.

The more disappointed Quinn was, the happier he was!

"Mom, Chuck would not lie to me. If he said that he is at the door, it means that he definitely is. Just wait and see!" Quinn explained.

Even at that time, she still believed in Chuck, even though she could not see him!

The reason Chuck had not appeared was that the entrance of the community was too complicated. There were too many blocks. It was Chuck's first time there, therefore it was normal that he could not find his way.

"Quinn, are you trying to piss me off? Where's this person you're talking about? Where is he?"

"He is..."

"I want to see him! Where is he?" Libby was enraged!

Quinn could not answer because she could not see Chuck either.

"Why would you choose a piece of trash? Why do you want to give up a good man like Sergio? Look at him. When you're in trouble, he won't appear. He'll disappear and go missing. When you're in great debt, he's still playing with you. What does this mean? Tell me, what does this mean?" Libby was really upset with Quinn for not coming to her senses! 2

What was wrong with her daughter?

Why did she trust him so much?

"Mom, listen to me. He must be nearby somewhere. I'll go out and find him!"

"You are not allowed to leave! You won't be able to find him even if you go out! Why waste your time?" Libby scolded Quinn angrily!

"I'm going!" Quinn went out resolutely.

She ran outside.

Suddenly, a person appeared. Quinn was ecstatic. "Chuck, this way!"

She was about to cry. One of the reasons was that she had not seen Chuck in a long time!

The other reason was that Chuck had really returned from the United States!

And upon his return, he actually looked for her!

Quinn was moved, but she was disappointed at the same time. How could she tell him that she went bankrupt? The gap between her and Chuck was even bigger now. How could she be with him?

How could she be a match for him in terms of status?

Chuck walked over with a smile and said, "Sister Miller... It was so hard to find you. I have been driving around in circles just now and kind of lost my way!"

"Really?" Quinn was touched. She suddenly realized that Chuck's aura had changed.

What kind of changes had he gone through?

What happened to Chuck in the United States?

In such a short instant, many questions flashed across Quinn's mind.

"Yes! This must be Madam Libby, right? Hello Madam Libby! How are you?" Chuck saw Libby, whose features were similar to Quinn's.

Of course, he could tell at a glance that they were mother and daughter.

"I'm not well!" Libby refuted.

Who was that? What was his intention? He was so young!

At first glance, Libby disapproved of Chuck. She thought that he must be a poor man with no money!

That kind of temperament simply could not be compared to Sergio's!

The difference was huge. Sergio looked like a rich young man. Chuck looked like a construction worker, as his skin was dark and rough!

What the hell was this!

Sergio smiled when he saw Chuck. Why?

Chuck's appearance was ordinary. How could such a person compare to him?

"Madam, are you not feeling well?" Chuck said with a smile.

"I feel very uncomfortable after meeting you!"

"Mom, what are you talking about?" Quinn was really angry. Since Chuck was there, wasn't it enough?

"I don't like him. Ask him to leave! If he couldn't even find his way here, what kind of potential does he have?" Libby was extremely furious!

He was terrible!

"Mom!"

"I am Quinn's boyfriend. What are you dissatisfied about? Just say it!"

Quinn was stunned. What did Chuck say?

She was his girlfriend?

Was it true?

"I'm not happy with you! Weren't you in the United States? What were you doing there?" Libby was suspicious of Chuck. She did not believe that a person like Chuck could afford to go abroad. He must have been hiding somewhere in the country and said that he was abroad instead.

"I have been very busy. I just opened a casino in the United States and I'm preparing to do something else."

"A casino?" Libby was furious.

"Yes, it's one of biggest casinos in the United States now."

Quinn was shocked. Chuck went to the United States for a business start-up? He actually owned the biggest casino there?

"Are you kidding?" Libby looked at Chuck in anger.

"A casino? Then, you must be rich!" Sergio said with a smile. He could tell that Chuck was a pretentious man. How much would it take to open a casino in the United States? It would cost more than a few billion.

He also said that it was one of the biggest casinos there!

How shameless of him to say that!

"I suppose so." Chuck shrugged while Sergio smiled. He supposed so?

Sergio was one hundred percent sure that Chuck was just pretending.

Sergio was going to expose him!

Chapter 790

"You're pretty awesome. How much did the casino cost?" Sergio asked with a smile.

"It is quite big and the renovation cost about 100 million. The building was from my mother who had built it earlier, which must have cost more than a few hundreds of millions. The floor of my casino is all made of gold..." Chuck said as if he was describing it in detail.

"Stop talking!" How could Libby bear to listen to him anymore?

The renovation cost more than a few hundred millions?

What kind of a show was he putting on?

And the floor was made of gold?

Just how brainless was he to brag about all of that?

Quinn was stunned. Based on what Chuck said, the casino would cost billions of dollars.

How could Chuck open such a big casino in the United States?

How long would it take to earn back such a large amount of money?

"Madam, let him continue with his story. It's quite interesting," Sergio said as he almost laughed to death in his heart.

He invested so much money?

Was it even possible?

Libby hated him to the core!

"Well, since your casino is so huge, how much are you earning every day?"

"Well, I think a few billions of dollars."

"Billions of dollars? How dare you say that!" Sergio said with a mocking laugh.

"Why not? On the first day of business, I won ten billion dollars!" Chuck shrugged.

Quinn was shocked beyond words!

He won so much on the first day?

Oh my goodness!

Ten billion dollars!

That amount was a lot to her even before she went bankrupt. How could he earn so much money in a day?

"It's so funny. What kind of casino allows you to win so much money in a day? Is it using some fake coins?" Sergio said with a smile.

His sarcasm had gone a bit too far.

This guy won 10 billion in a day?

Was it not ridiculous?

It didn't make sense at all.

Even if he wanted to brag, he could at least be more realistic!

He was not professional at all.

"Of course not fake coins!"

Chuck shrugged, "You're not on the same level as I am, therefore it's normal that you don't believe me!"

"What level are you on? Your words are hilarious. You can't even imagine how much money I have!"

"A few billion dollars?" Chuck asked.

How arrogant he was!

Libby really could not stand it anymore. How could Chuck say a few billion dollars in such a light manner?

How could he be so shameless?

"That's right, a few billion! And it's real money!" Sergio said as he took a step forward. He had a mocking gaze and was full of sarcasm. "You, stop pretending in front of me! You won't even have a chance to fight back if I wanna compare my wealth with you."

"Only a few billion dollars? That's not even equivalent to my win that day!" Chuck said.

"Is that so?"

Sergio grinned hideously. "Then your casino business must be really good. Since you're so rich, let's play. Do you dare to?"

There was a playful expression on his face.

"What do you want to play?" Chuck shrugged and asked indifferently.

Why wouldn't he dare to?

He dared to play no matter how big the amount was!

"Do you agree?"

"Of course!"

"That's good, come with me! Madam Libby, Quinn, you two should join us too!" When Sergio snapped his fingers, a car approached from the distance.

It was a Rolls-Royce.

"Get in the car. You have not sat in this kind of car before, haven't you?" Sergio said with a smile.

"I drove here!" Chuck drove a car over earlier.

"What car is that?"

"Well, it's parked at the entrance of the community."

"You drove a Benz worth about 300,000 dollars here?" Sergio said with a smile.

"Yes, it's not bad." Anyway, it was in his mother's basement parking lot, and it belonged to his family. Of course, Chuck just picked any car to drive out.

He was not too particular about it.

"You have not driven a luxurious car before. Of course you would think that it's not bad. Madam Libby, Quinn, please get in the car!" Sergio invited them.

He would teach Chuck a lesson that day, so that Quinn would give up on Chuck.

It was very simple. He just needed to expose Chuck's lies.

Libby stared at Chuck impatiently!

She got into Sergio's car.

Quinn did not say a word and got into Chuck's car.

Libby was mad with Quinn. That d*mned silly girl!

"Sergio, don't mind her! This is just how Quinn is." Libby was worried that Sergio would be angry.

What was there to be angry about? Quinn would soon be disappointed with Chuck!

Then she would throw herself into his arms!

"Madam Libby, how could I be angry?" Sergio closed the car door and snapped his fingers.

His driver started driving.

"Sergio, what do you plan to play with him?"

"It's just a simple game! I'll expose this clown to Quinn and let her see his true colors. I think she will change her mind."

"Then, I'm relieved. When I heard him boasting just now, I really wanted to slap him and make him leave! A casino that can win ten billion dollars a day?"

"Don't be angry, it's not worth it. I regard his words as jokes."

"It was really uncomfortable to listen to him. He opened my eyes to a new level of shamelessness." It was hard for her to listen to Chuck. How did her own daughter get tricked by him?

It was obvious that what Chuck had said earlier were lies!

But her daughter believed in him firmly. She must have been possessed.

"Madam Libby, just wait and see. I will expose his lies. He will have nowhere to hide at all!" Sergio said ferociously.

His family was the richest people in that place!

If Chuck dared to compete with him, he must be looking for death!

"Yes, eliminate him immediately and get him out of here!"

"Don't worry!"

In Sergio's eyes, Chuck was a piece of trash. It was Chuck's honor to have Sergio to play with him!

Chuck's car followed right behind Sergio's.

Chuck would just play along with Sergio if he wanted to play with him.

"Chuck, what happened to you in the United States? You look different from before."

"It's a long story. Let's talk about it tonight," Chuck said with a smile.

"Talk about it tonight? Where? In the car?" Quinn's voice became softer.

Chuck was stunned. He immediately understood her meaning and said with a smile, "Wherever you like!"

"No, it's up to you," Quinn said. Did she just flirt with Chuck?

Chuck's face became serious after he laughed earlier. He then said, "Sister Miller, I'm sorry. Such a huge incident has happened to you, but I was not by your side!"

Her business went bankrupt!

Ordinary people would not be able to withstand such a blow, and only someone like Quinn could withstand it. If it happened to any other person, they would be completely devastated.

"Don't say that. I am very happy that you have returned to look for me," Quinn said gently. She was very moved.

"Well, now that I'm back, I will help you make a comeback!"

"That's not needed, I can do it myself. Don't interfere!" Quinn could not bear to hear it. If Chuck helped her, she would become a burden to him.
