

Chapter 874

Lily gritted her teeth and stood motionless.

Along the way, she had put up with her senior sister's unreasonable behavior.

However, she was not going to stoop so low as to wash Lanvin's feet. That was humiliating.

Lily could not take her nonsense anymore as her body trembled in fury.

Lanvin was furious upon seeing Lily did not respond to her commands. "Hey, Ugly! I told you to wash my feet! You're really deaf, aren't you?"

Lanvin kicked the bucket hard while saying that.

Swash.

The water splashed out of the bucket and landed on Lily.

...

Meanwhile,

In the Carter Mansion. Darryl shut himself in the room and laid in bed with a quilt snugly pulled over him.

He was thinking about Lily!

He told himself to wait for just one more day for his godfather to be out of danger. He must wipe out the Incandescent Sect and avenge Lily!

The pains in his heart feel as though a knife had sliced it open whenever he recalled Lily's death!

Jewel was worried to see Darryl being troubled. She opened Darryl's door and coquettishly begged Darryl to go out shopping with her.

Jewel knew that the only way Darryl would feel better was for him to go out for a walk.

However, Darryl was not in the mood for shopping! How he wished to be at the New World Continent in front of the Incandescent Sect at that instance! Then again, he was unable to refuse Jewel's repeated pleadings and ended up taking Jewel out.

The Mid City where the Carter Mansion was located was about the same size as Donghai City with both cities being prosperous.

Jewel took Darryl to the busiest street— Puyang Street.

Puyang Street was particularly lively because there were many high-end shopping malls, small merchants, and vendors along the street. People were selling roasted sweet potatoes and candied hawthorn.

"Mister, World Universe is so advanced."

Jewel took Darryl's arm and quipped excitedly as she was happily skipping while pulling Darryl through the crowd toward a cellphone shop before saying, "Master, phones in the Great East Continent are very heavy and bulky, but these phones are so small in the World Universe!"

While talking, Jewel jumped up excitedly and pointed in the air before saying, "Mister, look at the thing flying in the sky!"

"That's called an airplane." Darryl laughed and caressed Jewel's head. "If you like it, I'll take you on it one day."

Initially, Darryl was in a bad mood. However, Jewel had such an amiable character that Darryl was amused by her.

"Sure! Mister, you've promised to take me on a plane." Jewel was very happy and tightly hugged Darryl's arm.

Unconsciously, the two had arrived at a shopping mall.

The mall was very big and also the busiest in Puyang Street. It was called the Universe Shopping Mall.

The Universe Shopping Mall had a variety of entertainment, food, beverage, and branded clothing stores!

There was hearsay that the mall was developed by a big boss who invested more than a billion bucks. It had just started operations for a month, but quickly became a well sought after place! The visitors were mostly youngsters.

Darryl felt a sharp pain in his heart when he saw the huge shopping mall. He was reminded of the times when he shopped with Lily.

It was so vivid as though it was just yesterday.

Jewel pointed to the entrance of the mall and excitedly asked, "Mister, it's so lively in there. What's this place?"

Jewel was at the World Universe Continent for the first time and was curious to see many youngsters patronizing the mall.

"This is a shopping mall. A place where things are sold. They have almost everything in there." Darryl was amused by Jewel's reaction as he explained to her.

Chapter 875

It had everything.

Jewel's eyes lit up as she hugged Darryl's arm. "Mister, let's go in and have a look. I... I want to buy beautiful clothes..."

Jewel was most impressed by the beautiful girls in the World Universe Continent.

The girls wore mini skirts, professional attire, with some even wearing tights and jeans. Any of those styles were beautiful to her.

Darryl smiled and nodded before leading her into the mall.

As soon as they entered the mall, their eyes were greeted with a line of Porsche cars in the first-floor lobby.

That was an event organized by the shopping mall—shoppers who had purchased 1,000 bucks or more were given a chance to participate in the lucky draw. There were more than a dozen prizes for first place which was a car.

However, the event had been held for several days with none managing to win the first prize. Everyone knew full well in their hearts that those luxury cars were just there for show.

Those cars were the Porsche's latest models after all and many people ended up spending a lot of money in the shopping mall just so that they could have a go at the lucky draw.

"Wow! Mister..."

Jewel was so happy to see those stylish cars.

Jewel was excited like a bird flapping its wings. She cheerfully asked Darryl, "Mister, are those cars expensive..."

Jewel could not take her eyes off those cars. Those luxury cars in front of her looked much better than those in the Great East Continental.

Darryl slightly smiled and said, "The cars are from a luxury brand. They are indeed expensive, but not too expensive."

Jewel was curious and could not resist touching it with her hand.

"Hey, you! What an uncultured girl! How dare you touch the car?"

There was a loud scolding from the side before a woman in professional attire quickly walked over with an angry expression on her face.

The woman was the Universe Shopping Mall's manager—Esther Joan. She was usually in the office and just so happened that she was out of her office to send a customer off and spotted some random girl touching the car.

Jewel panicked and hurriedly withdrew her hands. While her hand jolted back in a panic, her bag accidentally scratched the car door which left a slight scratch behind on the car door.

Gasp!

In an instant, everyone's eyes were on her!

Esther was shocked, angry, and in distress. She pointed at Jewel and cursed, "What's the matter with you, girl? Do you have an itchy hand? Don't you know how much the car is? Do you think you can simply touch it?"

Esther was furious as the mall's manager to see the display car scratched.

Those cars were rented and had to be returned to the Automobile Sales Serviceshop in a few days! The mall would have to pay compensation upon returning it to the shop because of the scratched car!

Esther was fuming at the time and pointed to Jewel before saying, "Are your parents here with you? Let me tell you, don't even think about leaving today if you don't pay up! You uncultured thing! Why must you touch around? Have you got no sense at all?"

"I... I..." Jewel was panicking as her eyes turned red and whispered an apology, "I... I'm sorry, I didn't mean it."

Esther pulled on a cold stony face and rebuked, "Do you think an apology is enough to cover up for what you've done? Bloody girl, do you know how much this car is? Get your parents to pay up."

Esther reached out to grab Jewel's wrist while talking.

The car price was more than two million bucks, so Esther would most definitely not let Jewel slip away.

Suddenly, Darryl stood in front of Jewel and seemed barely able to put on a smile. "I'm sorry, she's my sister. I'll definitely compensate for the damage, don't worry."

Darryl was not angry even though Esther was hurling hurtful remarks at Jewel. It was indeed Jewel who accidentally scratched the car after all.

However, Esther was angrier after hearing Darryl's assurance. In an instant, she pointed at Darryl's nose and shouted, "Can you even afford to compensate?"

With that, more and more people gathered around to watch and gloat at the excitement.

Darryl sighed. "Don't worry, I can afford to compensate."

"Okay, you'll compensate, right? Go prepare three million bucks then," said Esther coldly.

Chapter 876

"Three million bucks?" Darryl asked in shock.

That was a bit too much to ask for, was it not? The car was only two million bucks in total. How could she ask for three million bucks to fix a slight scratch on the door?

The onlookers who had no idea the car value started pointing their fingers at Darryl and passing comments after noticing Darryl's stunned expression. All of them thought that Darryl could not afford to pay the compensation.

"If the car is scratched, you must pay up..."

"Your sister is the one who couldn't resist touching it, she has to pay up for her mistake..."

Darryl was a household name in the World Universe but it was a pity that those ordinary people had never seen Darryl in person. Who would have thought that the young man in an ordinary outfit before them was the Darryl who defended Donghai City?

Jewel was embarrassed after hearing the crowd's remarks. She looked like a kid who did something wrong with her head hung low while holding Darryl's arm and whispered, "Mister, I... I'm sorry..."

Although the World Universe Continent was still a new place to Jewel, three million bucks sounded a lot to her.

"What happened?"

A middle-aged man slowly emerged from the crowd.

The branded suit-wearing middle-aged man had an extraordinary aura.

He was the owner of Universal Shopping Mall— Larry Wood!

"Mister Wood!"

Esther hurried over and greeted him with a warm smile.

Larry looked around and frowned. "What's the matter? Why are there so many people gathered around this area?"

Larry was in the office earlier and discussed with two important men before coming out to check out the situation when he heard the noise.

"Mister Wood, they damaged a Porsche." Esther pointed to Darryl, looking panicked. "I... I'm asking them to pay for it."

'Pay?'

Larry glanced sideways at Darryl and Jewel before furiously looking at the car next to him. "Can they even afford to pay for this?"

Judging by the look of the two people dressed in street fashion, Larry was sure that they could not afford to pay for the car.

Larry blew up as he said to Esther, "What's the matter with you? Have I not told you before to not let anyone touch these expensive cars? Especially these poor bums!"

Darryl breathed a heavy sigh as he remained patient and tried not to lose his temper. He did not bring his bank card with him when he came out shopping and only brought a cellphone. Darryl was helpless when he saw the mall owner's unforgiving attitude, so he took out his phone to call someone to send him money.

At that instance, Larry strode forward in his leather shoe and raised his hand before slapping Jewel in the face!

"Bloody girl, are you in the city for the first time? Well, you now learned a lesson not to go around touching things next time!" Larry shouted and pointed to the Porsche. "Now tell me what are you gonna do about it since you can't afford to pay for this car!"

"Jewel!"

Darryl was holding his cellphone at the time and preparing to dial only to turn his attention back toward Jewel who had a palm print appearing on her face at that moment!

"You're digging your own grave!"

Darryl was fuming inside. His Martial Emperor's aura gushed out like a tide drawing in and completely drowned the crowd!

It was silence!

The entire mall went still and everyone froze as though they were about to be suffocated!

"This person...is terrifying!"

"You..." Larry swallowed his saliva anxiously as he sensed that the young man in front of him was a cultivator. One of quite a high level too!

Chapter 877

Larry hesitatingly stepped forward. "Well, you still have to compensate for the scratch on the car."

Whoosh...

After he said that, more than a dozen of security guards quickly gathered around and looked at Darryl like watching a prey!

They were ready to charge forward and take the young man in front of them down upon Mister Wood's orders!

Seeing that the atmosphere was getting worse and worse, Jewel held Darryl's arm tightly and whispered, "Mister, forget it. Forget it..."

Although she was slapped, Jewel just wanted to quickly leave the scene. She did not know much about the World Universe, but she could tell that Larry was the mall's owner and had a very high social status.

Darryl looked at Jewel and took her hand. The burning red palm print on Jewel's fair face was visible. It broke Darryl's heart to look at it.

"Wham!"

Darryl was so angry that he could not endure anymore and slammed his palm down hard on the Porsche! The huge force spread and soon a crisp sound was heard as the car's windows instantly shattered!

Hiss!

Everyone around was stunned as all of them took a sharp breath.

'How dare he break the car's windows?'

'Is he crazy?'

"I can pay for the car. Now tell me, what are you going to do about slapping my sister?" Darryl said coldly while suppressing his strong killing intent!

"Pay me? Do you know how much this car is? A poor bum like you won't be able to drive this car even if you work for a lifetime," derided Larry with a sneer.

"Yeah, why don't you pee and look at yourself in it?" Esther walked up again and said, "I've told you before that this car is worth three million bucks."

"This car only costs two million bucks. Why should I pay three million bucks for it?" Darryl said with a smile despite his tone showing that he was losing control of his anger!

"Oh, a hillbilly like you knows about cars." Esther glanced at Darryl and said, "Yes, this car is worth only two million bucks. However, you caused a commotion and disrupted the order in the shopping mall besides scratching the car, so it won't be enough if you merely pay for the car!"

"Pfft..." Darryl's eyes were red before turned to look at Esther and said with a smile, "You are really a good manager, aren't you? You've worked hard for the mall's best interest."

Darryl was hissing the words through his teeth before looking at Larry. "Today I won't only buy this car, but I'll also buy your entire mall. What's the price for this mall?" ①

"What?"

"Is he crazy? Haha!"

The people around burst out laughing. Larry had also joined the crowd and laughed out loud as he joked, "I've invested a total of one billion bucks in my shopping mall. Do you know how much one billion bucks is? Someone like you can't possibly have that much even if you work for eight hundred lifetimes. Got it?"

"Well, I'm buying this mall and that One billion bucks will be delivered in cash within half an hour." Darryl took a deep breath and pointed to Esther. "A billion bucks in cash will be delivered soon. Once I am the new boss here, you'll be fired."

"What a fool." Esther cursed. She rarely scolded people, but the man in front of her was disgusting.

Larry also laughed in anger on one side. 'Is he crazy? Did he say that he wants to use one billion cash to buy my mall? He must be sick in the head. There sure are weird people around.'

Darryl kept a straight face and said nothing. He just took out his cellphone and dialed a number. "Pearl, send me one billion bucks in cash to the Universe Shopping Mall of Mid City. Oh right, it must be delivered within half an hour. I'll be here waiting."

Pearl had been taking care of Platinum Corporation ever since the big families of Donghai City had jointly suppressed the Platinum Corporation. As a last resort, Darryl told Pearl to lead the celebrities contracted under the company toward Mid City for new development. A new entertainment company was opened in the city using Pearl's name.

Pearl named the company Darrell Entertainment which was a different spelling variation for Darryl.

Darrell Entertainment had developed very well in Mid City. It was a well-known entertainment company inside the entertainment circle with an annual net profit of five billion bucks!

Pearl was in the office taking a power nap when Darryl called. She was both surprised and delighted after receiving Darryl's call! It had been a year since she heard from Darryl and was so excited to have finally received Brother Darryl's call. She wasted no time and immediately started making calls to major banks for the large cash withdrawal!

One usually had to make an appointment in advance to withdraw even one million bucks of cash from the bank. One could not get one billion bucks in cash without a sufficiently huge network in the banking industry! However, Brother Darryl ordered that the money must be delivered within half an hour. Even if she had to use up all the resources she had, she must send the money to Darryl within the stipulated time as Darryl's orders were like the imperial edicts to her!

Chapter 878

Darryl feigned a smile after hanging up the phone and looked at Larry. "The money will be delivered within half an hour. You can wait for it."

"Wow!"

Everyone present was shocked!

Many ridiculed and mocked Darryl.

"Haha, deliver one billion bucks in cash within half an hour? He must be living in his wonderland, right?"

"Did he escape from the mental hospital?"

"Look at his poor and sorrowful look. Did he say a billion bucks in cash? I guess it's hard for him to get even a hundred thousand bucks."

For a moment, the contemptuous voice filled the mall.

Finally, Larry calmed down with an extremely ugly face. "Oh man, are you pulling my leg?"

'Can he come up with a billion bucks in cash?'

Larry must have lost his mind to believe in Darryl.

Darryl smiled indifferently. "President Wood, I'm standing here with you. Can't you wait for half an hour?"

In truth, Darryl could completely raze the entire shopping mall to the ground and then left with his strength at that moment.

However, he was a man with principle and wanted to pay for things he had damaged.

More importantly, he must vent out his anger. He had to have his revenge for the slap across Jewel's face!

"Sure!"

Larry gritted his teeth and nodded. "I'll wait for half an hour. If I don't see the money in half an hour—I'll make sure you, who came walking in, will leave in a stretcher."

Larry barked an order at the security guards around him after speaking. "Watch him carefully. Half an hour later, break both his legs and throw him into the river and feed the fishes."

"Yes!"

After receiving their order, more than a dozen security guards surrounded Darryl and Jewel with their fierce-looking faces.

Jewel was a little flustered by the scene as she tightly held Darryl's arm and whispered, "

Mister, will someone really send you money later?"

It hurt Darryl's heart to look at the red palm print on her face as he rubbed Jewel's head. "Don't worry, someone will send the money later. When did I ever lie to you?"

Jewel felt assured after looking at Darryl's serious look.

In less than half an hour, Larry had completely lost his patience. His expression was extremely gloomy as he raised his hand.

More than a dozen security guards understood what he meant as they marched forward to grab Darryl.

"Clang!"

Suddenly, the mall door was pushed open! Thereafter, a woman quickly walked in wearing a suit that tightly wrapped around her body which showed off her sexy curves!

Swash!

In an instant, everyone's eyes were focused on the woman.

Suddenly, someone recognized her and exclaimed in a low voice, "She... Isn't she the boss of Darrell Entertainment?"

"It seems to be her. I saw her in the newspaper before."

"Why did she come here?"

Larry was stupefied and secretly shocked.

Who would not know of Pearl? She was the boss of Darrell Entertainment!

However, why was she there?

Did she plan to arrange some of her company's celebrities to perform in the newly opened shopping mall? That would be a win-win situation for both parties!

Larry smiled and was about to greet her with that beautiful plan in his head.

However, what took Larry by surprise was that Pearl did not even look at him and went straight to Darryl instead.

When Pearl reached Darryl, she was so excited that she gave a ninety-degree bow. "Brother Darryl, the transport truck carrying the cash is outside the door. Do you want the trucks to be driven in here or..."

'What?'

'President Hahn made the trip to bring Darryl money?'

Everyone was stunned and looked at Darryl with complicated gazes!

Darryl laughed and looked at Pearl.

'I haven't seen her for more than a year and her figure is getting even better.' Her nice curves could not be hidden even when she was wearing a suit. Darryl smiled and said, "Drive the truck in and just pour the money in this hall. Mister Wood thinks I have no money to buy a car, so I'll have to let him count the money himself. In that way, he won't say that I was lying."

"Yes!" Pearl nodded and agreed and spoke into the mini walkie-talkie on her collar, "Just come in here."

Chapter 879

Engine noises started roaring outside!

"Clang!"

In the next second, there was a loud noise as five trucks smashed the mall's glass door and drove right into the mall!

Wow!

The five trucks' rear doors were opened at the same time before piles of cash came pouring out like a snow avalanche. In a blink of an eye, the entire mall lobby seemed to be filled with cash! The shopping mall had turned into red ocean banknotes!

There was total silence!

Everyone looked at each other and became lost for words!

'This... Are these one billion bucks in cash?'

Everyone present was struck in a stupor at the sight of the cash strewn floor!

Many people present had never seen ten million bucks of cash, more so a billion bucks in cash. The scene had completely renewed their concept of what money was as all of them stood shivering there!

No one even dared suspect the cash was fake!

It was because every bundle of cash had a visible bank seal! It had obviously just been withdrawn from the bank!

"Whoa!"

In an instant, everyone's eyes fell on Darryl!

Larry's face was extremely ugly! He thought that Darryl was a psycho who boasted about his billions of wealth.

Unexpectedly, Darryl managed to bring one billion bucks in cash!

'Even every bank in Mid City combined might not have one billion bucks in cash! This man... Who the hell is he?'

Esther was biting her lip on one side as her knees went weak and slipped to the ground!

One billion bucks!

That was a billion bucks in cash!

Never in Esther's life could she forget the remarkable scene before her eyes!

"This mall is now mine," announced Darryl with a stern face. He then slowly walked toward Esther and pointed at her nose. "You're fired."

"I..." Esther was in a daze. Not knowing exactly what went on in her mind, she knelt, crawled to Darryl's side, and grabbed his trousers. She wanted to beg for his forgiveness, but her throat seemed to be blocked, and was unable to say a word as she was still rather shocked.

Darryl ignored and kicked her out of his way before walking to Larry's side and coldly said, "One billion bucks in cash is here. This mall is mine now, right?"

Huh!

Everyone turned their gaze toward Larry.

Larry twitched his mouth, forced a weak smile, and hesitantly said, "Yes, yes..."

It did not matter who Darryl was but Larry knew Darryl was not someone to be trifled with for he was able to come up with a billion bucks in cash within half an hour!

"I've already given you the money. You should now pay for the slap you gave my sister," said Darryl casually with a cold look on his face. After that, Darryl slowly raised his hand and slapped Larry's face!

"Slap!"

The speed of his palm landing on Larry's face threw everyone in surprise! No one knew how to react toward it!

A crisp sound landed on Larry's face before his body was sent about 30 meters away, like a kite with a broken string! Blood spurted from his mouth as he fell heavily to the ground in a loud thud!

The entire mall was in complete silence!

At that moment, many onlookers gathered around the entrance of the mall outside the shopping mall.

The hearsay about someone spending a billion bucks in cash to buy the mall had attracted many onlookers.

Outside the mall's entrance, two women were pacing among the crowd.

Among the two women, one of them had a beautiful face and firm figure.

The other had a scarf over her face with a curvy and extremely enchanting figure.

They were Lanvin and Lily!

It was Lanvin's first time to the World Universe. She knew that Darryl, the target of her assassination mission was in Mid City at that time. However, it was rather difficult to find Darryl in the big city. Therefore, she thought of taking a break from looking for Darryl and just have a few fun days in the new city.

Lanvin wanted to go shopping and buy some clothes that night, but they saw the mall surrounded by a huge crowd upon their arrival.

"What's happening?" Lanvin looked curiously into the mall but could not see clearly what was going with so many people around.

"Ugly, keep up with me." Lanvin looked back at Lily and ordered angrily before squeezing through the crowd and going into the mall.

Lily bit her lip and followed closely behind her.

Chapter 880

Lanvin and Lily walked into the mall and found that there were more onlookers in the mall. There were at least three layers inside and three more layers outside the mall!

The point of attraction was those five trucks parked in the center of the mall. Those five trucks had been driven recklessly into the mall! The mall's glass and revolving door were smashed into pieces!

On the ground, wads of cash piled up like a mountain which spread out far and wide—a red ocean of banknotes!

Lily felt her body tremble. She was shocked and could not even say a word!

Lanvin was not from the World Universe so she had no idea the concept of so much money but Lily knew!

The sight of one billion bucks in cash was spectacular. Anyone who had seen it before would never forget it for their entire life!

"Ugly! Come here!" Lanvin yelled in a low voice as she looked through the crowd only to see a man standing in front of the trucks. The man looked very familiar. 'Isn't he the assassination target, Darryl?'

Lanvin only knew that Darryl was in Mid City but the city was too big to find him.

What took Lanvin by surprise was someone that she was looking for had been found almost effortlessly!

Lanvin gradually put away her smile before releasing a cold breath from her body.

"Crack!"

After the crisp sound, a golden-thread dagger appeared in her hand!

The dagger was five inches long and extremely sharp!

Lanvin, the Eldest Senior Sister of Spiritual Invisible Sect had successfully assassinated no less than a hundred people! Among them were a few Martial Emperors!

As long as Lanvin made a move, her target would die for sure! This golden-thread dagger had been following her for more than ten years. It was uncertain how much blood had stained the dagger!

"Senior Sister, what are you..." Lily asked softly. She did not see Darryl, so she did not know why her senior sister drew out her dagger.

"Shut up!" Lanvin reprimanded in a low voice, "that man is who we are going to assassinate this time. I'm telling you that you're just supposed to watch by the side! You can't be of any help with your level of strength. Did you hear me? Ugly."

Lily bit her lip and nodded.

She thought she had a chance to experience completing a mission but was disappointed that her senior sister would not allow her to take part.

At that moment, Lanvin who was standing behind the crowd had sweat beaded on her beautiful face. Lanvin had been in the Spiritual Invisible Sect for more than ten years and was used to assassination by then. However, Lanvin was a little nervous because she heard that Darryl's strength was at the level of a Martial Emperor. In addition, he possessed Pure Energy internal energy! She had no confidence in her mission to assassinate Darryl!

Lily was shocked when she noticed Lanvin being nervous next to her. In her impression, her senior sister had always been calm in each of her missions. However, Lavin was sweating profusely at that time. 'Is the person to be assassinated very powerful?'

As that thought was in her mind, Lily followed Lanvin's gaze and looked forward.

She spotted Darryl in the crowd!

Hum!

Suddenly, Lily's mind turned blank and her whole body was stunned. Her eyes instantly flushed red!

'That... Is that Darryl?'

'Am I dreaming...'

Lily rubbed her eyes in disbelief and looked again.

She was right! It was indeed Darryl!

'He isn't dead...'

'My husband isn't dead...'

"Waa!"

Lily could not control her emotions and started crying! She was both surprised and delighted as her heart almost leaped out from her throat while tears kept trickling down her cheeks!

The man who she had been dreaming of the meeting had appeared in front of her. She felt like she was the happiest woman in the world and had lost control over her emotions.

'Husband, you aren't dead. You aren't dead...'

Lily's body was trembling as her vision blurred from tears.

'Husband, do you know how much I missed you? Do you know...'

'I dream of you every day...'

'I dream about our marriage for three years on top of many other little things.'
