

Chapter 78

In William's office.

William and Melissa stared at each other.

A minute had passed.

"Let's cut to the chase. Don't beat around the bush," William said while peeling a tiny orange.

Melissa took the orange peel and threw it into her own cup. She said coldly, "You've signed the contract with the Bai family. Are you playing favoritism?"

William nodded. "Yes, you're correct. Favoritism."

Melissa was stunned. She didn't expect William to be so straightforward. He did not even think of an excuse to defend himself.

"Do you want to help the Bai family?" Melissa asked again.

But this time, William shook his head and showed a menacing smirk. "That's incorrect. I am going to make the Bai family perish!"

Melissa had a headache. This little b*stard always had a totally different thinking logics compared to other normal people!

"It's time for the Bai family to change," William uttered and shut his eyes.

His words made Melissa wordless for a long time.

She didn't know what William meant.

After a while, he opened his eyes again. His eyes at this moment were sparkling, like two pools of water.

"Do we receive any proposal from companies interested in investing funds in us recently?" William asked.

Melissa immediately replied, "Yes, there are a lot of them. After all, we have the stock that has the most potential in Qena City now. It is only natural for these companies to show their interest in investing in us. What do you ask?"

William did not answer her, instead, he asked another question. "Which, among them, is the strongest yet also the most despicable?"

Melissa was blown away by William's question. This little b*stard always threw out all kind of strange questions!

However, when she saw that William's confident eyes, she immediately suppressed her dissatisfaction. She knew William must have something up his sleeve. She continued, "It's the Chens. Their family company is called the North Wind Fund. Baxter Chen is the only son of the Chen family. He is a cunning and infamous playboy in Qena City. But to be honest, he's very smart."

"Help me arrange an appointment with him," William ordered.

Melissa squinted her eyes while looking at William before she went out to make a phone call.

After a while, she came back and said, "Ten o'clock tonight at North Wind Bar. It's a bar under their family. You'll meet him in the VIP room No. 888."

William nodded. At this time, his phone rang.

He glanced at the caller ID and found that it was Xena.

William felt he was in a dilemma.

Melissa was about to go out of the room, but she was intrigued when she saw William scratching his head. She wondered who could make this little b*stard act like this. This person must be a god sent from heaven.

At this moment, Xena turned around and dialed William's number. After he picked up the call, Xena looked at Felicity.

She was so good at playing with fire.

"Hello, is this the boss of the Genuine Care Medical Center? I'm Xena," Xena mumbled softly and flirtatiously while gazing at Felicity provocatively.

Felicity looked at her puzzledly when she sensed the jealousy in Xena.

When William heard Xena's voice, he knew that this little troublemaker was going to make his life difficult again. He asked helplessly, "What's wrong?"

"Sir, I really admire you. Besides, I'm very grateful to you too. Would you come with me to the bar tonight? We could have some fun together." Her voice had a kittenish quality.

"I don't think that's necessary. I'm happy to help." William's instinct told him that something was off.

"Hmph! Are you going to ditch me now that we have signed the contract? Believe it or not, I'll tell others..." Xena threatened with coquetry.

William was at his wits' end. He felt so vulnerable now that Xena had known his identity. It seemed that he had no choice but to fulfill Xena's request.

"Don't do that," William warned. "Sigh. Forget it. Nine o'clock tonight. Come to North Wind Bar. I've booked a private room." William thought that since he was going to the bar, he might as well have a serious talk with Xena.

Otherwise, judging on Xena's perseverance, she was not going to let him go.

"Oh, you're so bad! You have even booked a room! Alright, alright, I'll be there on time. See you tonight!" Xena made a 'muacks' sound before she hung up.

Felicity was speechless. "Xena, is this some sort of love scammer? Are you sure you have met the owner of the Genuine Care Medical Center? Why do I feel that you are..."

Xena giggled cheekily and held Felicity's arm. "Hehe, Felicity, I'll go and have some fun tonight. Don't worry. I know where to set the boundary. But, I hope that you won't get jealous of me."

"I'm not jealous at all. William treats me well." Felicity rolled her eyes at her.

Xena felt so proud of herself in her heart.

He treated you well, huh? Hmph, so well that he was meeting up with his sister-in-law secretly.

William and Xena met at the entrance of the bar.

Xena came over to cling on William's hand shamelessly.

William did not have any idea of how he should react. He pushed her hand away carefully and said, "Let's go. I'll only give you an hour. I have something important to do tonight."

Xena pouted and mumbled with dissatisfaction, "Hmph, I can't believe that you have to work even when you're out at a bar. You're really no fun."

However, in actual fact, Xena was delighted to be able to meet William out here.

This stoic man had finally come out of his shell to have fun in a bar.

She didn't have any intention to seduce her own brother-in-law. But, she was really happy to see William here.

The two of them were in a private room. Xena was overjoyed and had been persuading William to drink with her.

After all, everyone in the Bai family had to be respectful to her now that she had gotten the contract with the Genuine Care Medical Center.

Besides, she had such a mighty brother-in-law backing her up. She did not have anything to worry about.

Xena acted if she could really drink. However, the reality was always cruel.

She did not take liquor well.

It took her only half an hour before her face turned pale. She then went to the washroom to vomit.

When she came out of the washroom, she could not even walk straight.

Her phone rang. She used her last bit of alertness to glimpse at her phone screen. It was Felicity.

She waved the phone in front of William and then stumbled out of the room to answer the phone.

William waited for about five minutes but Xena never returned. He left the room to look for her.

He then heard a commotion not far away.

His face turned solemn and he quickly ran over. Xena was surrounded by several men. One of them had long hair. His name was Baxter. He teased Xena, "Hey young lady, isn't it boring to drink alone? Shall we share a few glasses together?"

"Get out of my way!" With a stumble, Xena slapped Baxter in the face.

Baxter's expression changed right away.

"D*mn! You little b*tch! It's your honor to have me talk to me! Do you know that you're currently in my territory? I own this bar! There is no one in Qena City who doesn't respect me! You're digging your own grave! Seize her now!" Baxter demanded with a ferocious look in his eyes.

Baxter's men were just about to catch Xena.

At this time, a man rushed out all of a sudden!

"Bang! Bang! Bang!" He gave them three kicks.

Immediately, Baxter's three men were flung away by William's kick.

Baxter became sober right away and roared angrily, "D*mn it! Are you trying to play hero to rescue this damsel-in-distress? Don't you know that I own this place? I'm so gonna kill you!"

When Xena saw William in front of her, she plunged into his arms and burst into tears instantly. "William, they are trying to hurt me!"

William pulled Xena behind him, his face as cold as frost.

Baxter pointed at William again and cursed, "F*ck! Do you know who I am?! I am Baxter Chen. Nobody in Qena City dares—"

"Get out of our way!" William interjected with these five words coldly before he grasped Baxter's finger that was pointing at them.

He concentrated all his strength in his fist.

And with a crack, Baxter's finger was fractured!

Chapter 79

Baxter broke out in a cold sweat and screamed in pain!

He wanted to lash out at William again.

Suddenly, their eyes met!

Dumbstruck by William's gaze, Baxter was glued to the spot right away.

William's eyes were cold and cruel!

There was a murderous energy in the depths of his eyes.

Although Baxter was rich and spoiled, he wasn't foolish. The bloodlust in William's eyes had frightened the wits out of him!

He wondered, "Who on earth is this person?"

"Hey! Stay there! All the people in the bar are my men! You'll wait and see!" Baxter staggered away with the help of his men.

William's eyes were indifferent. Was this the infamous Baxter?

"Hehe, you're really bold, aren't you? You really live up to your reputation."

Beside them, Xena had already become sober. Her entire being was consumed by fear.

She grabbed William and dragged him outside.

"Let's go, he's calling for help. Let's just go away. We won't get a chance to escape if we stay here."

However, William did not move an inch. "We're not going anywhere. We're going to wait for them."

To wait for them?

Xena was stunned. William pulled her into a private room.

All of a sudden, she got goosebumps all over her body. "William, why do you want to wait for them? What if they surround us and block our way out?"

William sat down on the sofa, staying calm. "They had laid their finger on my sister-in-law! How could I just leave?"

His words warmed Xena's heart.

Her brother-in-law was such an affectionate and righteous man.

A few days ago, he had become a murderer for Felicity. And at this moment, he was going to do similar things for her...

However, Xena was still very worried.

William had backup by his side previously, hence he could be bold.

However, at this moment, he was alone, and she was a burden for him.

Baxter would definitely not let them go.

"Don't worry and wait here. He will apologize to you later," William said and closed his eyes. He had a strange feeling in his heart.

Since the last massacre, he seemed to have awakened the innate violence inside him which was constantly bubbling and boiling.

He had to suppress this deadly rage.

At this moment, Baxter was burning with anger!

He came here to talk about a potential business partnership. Elated, he had a few more glasses of wine.

In the bar, he saw an exceptionally beautiful girl and started to trifle with her. Never did he expect that the man would dare to hurt him!

This was the Chens' territory!

He rushed into a private room, which was crowded with people.

The leader of the group was surprised when he saw Baxter and his miserable look. "Baxter, what's wrong with you?"

"F*ck! I met a b*stard just now! Brother Li, come with me! Come and help me to beat this b*stard up!" Baxter hissed fiercely. Apparently, Baxter was Brother Li's good friend.

Brother Li immediately stood up and instructed with a forceful tone, "Listen up, boys! Take your weapons and come with me!"

Baxter led the way and rushed to the corridor where he encountered William.

But nobody was there.

His subordinate reported that William had yet to leave the bar.

"They must be here somewhere. There are only ten rooms on this floor. Search them one by one!" Brother Li ordered fiercely.

One by one, all of them immediately started kicking on the doors!

But they couldn't find anyone.

Soon, there was only one room left.

When Brother Li was about to kick the door, a thought flashed across Baxter's mind. He immediately grabbed Brother Li and mumbled, "Wait! We can't kick this door! I booked this room for a very important guest today. We can't offend him. I'll go and check if he's in here."

After that, Baxter opened the door carefully.

However, he was taken aback at the sight in front of him.

Fury twisted inside him instinctively. "F*ck! You're hiding here!"

Hearing this, Brother Li immediately kicked the door open, and more than a dozen people rushed in with weapons in their hands!

Seeing how aggressive the people who dashed in were, Xena was so frightened that she leaned on

William, shaking like a leaf.

Brother Li and William looked at each other.

William's lips curled up into a smirk, his eyes as cold as ice. "What a coincidence. It's you, Tyler."

Brother Li was Hugo's grandson, Tyler!

When Tyler saw William, he was stupefied!

It was William!

Baxter had picked a fight with William!

Since the day William proved his ability to the Li family, Hugo had the utmost respect for William.

Every day, Hugo would mention William and address him as Junior Divine Doctor Lu.

Tyler saw the respect his grandfather had for William. Needless to say, he didn't dare to go against his grandfather.

Beads of sweat started to trickle down his forehead.

Tyler thought, "Oh Baxter, even if you want to die, don't drag me with you!"

"Brother Li, it's him. Kill him!" Baxter pointed at William fiercely.

Tyler suddenly scurried towards William.

Xena tightened her grasp on William.

But the next second, her fear turned to surprise.

"Mr. Lu, it's you. This conflict is a misunderstanding. They do not know who you are. I'd apologize on their behalf. I am truly sorry about that!" Tyler bowed.

Everyone around them was taken aback.

Baxter knew Tyler's temperament very well.

Tyler was practically an undisputed overlord in Qena City.

At this moment, Tyler, however, was bowing low in apology to that stinky kid with so much respect...

"It's none of your business." William waved his hand nonchalantly.

It was as though Tyler had been granted amnesty by an emperor. He wiped the sweat off his forehead and gulped, "Alright, Mr. Lu. You have a good time here. I'll bring my people away now. I am sorry to have disturbed your time here."

After that, Tyler led his men out of the room.

Suddenly, Baxter grabbed Tyler and crowed, "Brother Li, what are you doing? Who is he? Do you know him? If you are his acquaintance, I can let him off the hook. I only need me to apologize to me by paying part of my medical expenses..."

When Tyler heard this, he was so mad that he stamped his foot on the ground. "He's not going to compensate for your f*cking medical expenses! I'll give you that money! Hurry up and come with me if you want to stay alive!"

Baxter was perplexed. He darted a glance at William with envy and hatred.

"Who on earth is he?"

Tyler looked at Baxter and sighed before he whispered, "I can't tell you who he is. But remember this, even my grandfather has an extremely high opinion of this guy. Now, ponder on this statement yourself! I'm leaving!"

With this, Tyler bowed respectfully at William again and left the room with his men in a hurry.

Only Baxter was left in the room with a bewildered look on his face.

Even Hugo thought so highly of William?

Baxter shuddered when Tyler's words finally knocked some sense into him.

He looked at William again. His gaze had completely changed.

He knew that he had offended someone he shouldn't have offended.

Thinking of this, he turned around and wanted to flee away.

But at this time, a bright light flashed across right in front of his eyes!

A silver needle had flown its way in the air and landed on the wooden door in front of Baxter!

It was gleaming under the dim lights!

A cold voice rang out from behind him.

"What's wrong? Don't you want to talk about business? Why are you leaving so soon?"

Baxter turned around in horror!

"Yo- yo- you are from the Genuine Care Medical Center..."
