

Chapter 763

However, Siu did not expect that she would fall into the hands of a five-year-old baby.

The bottle of concentrated sulfuric acid in her hand has already opened.

Now it happened to fall on her back without slanting or slanting.

Ouch!

It was pierced by glass and then burned by sulfuric acid.

That's a sore pain!

Siu's voice is like a howling ghost: "Cousin...cousin, please help me, take me to the hospital quickly, give me a painkiller, I am in pain, as long as you are willing to save me, I will tell... tell you a vital thing..."

Kraig took out his mobile phone and dialed 2012.

Not because I want to know something important.

Not to mention sympathizing with this cousin.

Rather, lying in this box with such a woman is really unbelievable.

The October 20 came very quickly, and they were arrogant, Siu sent to carry it away, and after catching someone to clean the place, the box was calm again.

"Sorry." Suzi looked at Kraig calmly.

Among the four life and death brothers of Arron, she had the deepest impression of Kraig.

She still remembers that it was Kraig who reminded her to continue her construction career.

Therefore, at this moment, Suzi said very honestly: "I didn't expect your cousin to still hate me, and I didn't expect that she had that kind of thing in her hands."

She shrugged, she was really innocent.

Kraig smiled: "It's none of your business, she makes her own mind. Besides, although we are both surnamed Jun, I am not close to her." Suzi: "Thank you."

Yubi, she looked at the others present openly again: "I'm sorry, I made you laugh."

After dealing with two women in a row, she was indeed so calm and calm.

No panic, no surprise.

Not only that, she also wore a professional attire today, carrying a briefcase in her hand, and looked very capable. Such a Suzi is really impressive.

"You have changed a lot." Zhong Muzhan said first.

He still remembers that the last time he saw Suzi, Suzi described himself as a drunk girl.

"Is there?" Suzi asked calmly.

"She hasn't changed." Kraig said with a smile: "She has always been like this, but you don't understand it. She has always been pampered and not surprised. Taishan collapsed without changing her face. Otherwise, you think the old man will like it so much. Her?"

With words, Kraig looked at Arron: "Old Fu, I'm right?"

Arron hugged Suzi with one arm, holding Lilly in his hand, looking casually at the people present. The tone was more casual and calm: "So, brothers, don't make this kind of joke with me in the future. Let me get a woman in quietly. I am now a man with a wife and children.

Today this is my wife's generosity, if my wife is stingy, I..."

Arron didn't finish speaking, Kraig + Zhong Muzhan + Jiang Shenhe asked Arron together: "Old Fu, you...are you really afraid of the inside?"

Arron: "What's wrong with fear?"

Four people: "..."

The cold-blooded, bloodthirsty, unkind, unkind man who was unkind to femininity once admitted that he was afraid of himself!

When the four people were about to swipe and kneel down to sing conquest, Arron's cell phone rang, and he picked it up to connect.

At the other end, Christopher called: "Four Lord, that female tramp is at the entrance of the clubhouse."

Arron was shocked: "What?"

Chapter 764

Christopher said on the phone: "Master, I just saw it, I will chase her right away, this time I will definitely be able to catch up with her."

Arron glanced at Suzi.

"What's wrong, Arron?" Suzi asked.

Arron shook his head: "It's okay."

Then hung up the phone.

At this moment, Christopher, who was sitting in the car, looked at the female tramp without blinking. She was so ragged that she was a beggar, and her long hair was so dirty that she was caked.

The long hair was spread over his face, so Christopher could only see the eyes under the messy long hair.

Those eyes were looking at the door of the clubhouse intently. Her concentration made Christopher feel that she might rush into the clubhouse in the next second.

While she was looking at the clubhouse intently, Christopher suddenly pulled the car door and quickly ran towards the homeless woman.

However, to Christopher's surprise, the wandering woman reacted surprisingly fast.

She could already feel Christopher getting off the car. Before Christopher rushed over, the woman turned and ran.

Moreover, the way she ran away was a very reckless way. There was a lot of traffic on the road, and she didn't evade at all, so she rushed through.

Fortunately, I was not hit by a car.

Christopher dared not chase.

The identity of the homeless woman is important. He must not let her make any mistakes. If there is a mistake, then he Christopher will have to take the blame and die if he is not killed by the Fourth Master!

Christopher waited for the green light before crossing the main road and came under the overpass. Christopher barely missed any inch of the place, but once again he couldn't see the figure.

Where can I go?

The traffic light is only 30 seconds, Christopher can estimate from the person's identity that the person does not look like a young man, but why does she hide so fast every time?

Christopher was puzzled.

Reluctantly, he yelled to himself under the overpass: "If you are around here, then I want to tell you that Miss Shen is very good now, she is already Mrs. Fu, and Master is very kind to her. Well, they have a daughter in common."

After speaking, Christopher looked around again.

After a pause for several minutes, Christopher said again: "I hope you can hear this. They are living well. Don't worry."

After speaking, Christopher left.

He gave no hope.

He just said to himself.

However, what Christopher didn't know was that within a few minutes after he left, a person climbed up into an inconspicuous sewer pipe under the overpass here.

The man said to himself lightly: "Really...is it true? Are you telling the truth?"

No one can hear it.

Christopher has returned to the car.

His main duty is to protect the Fourth Master's family, so he can't leave for too long.

Sitting in the car, Christopher called Arron. At the other end, Arron answered quickly: "How about?"

Christopher said apologetically from time to time: "I'm sorry Fourth Master, but I didn't catch up."

"I see." Then he hung up the phone, raised his eyes, and saw Suzi looking at him.

"What's wrong with you, there are so many calls right now?" Suzi asked.

Arron: "Well, the affairs of the company."

"Don't be too tired, making money is small, but your body is important." Suzi gently concerned.

"Yo!" The slightly rude Bell Exhibition next to it suddenly said: "I don't think we need to serve food anymore, we are all full."

"Who said that Uncle Zhong!" Lilly looked at the clock show with dissatisfaction: "I'm still hungry, why are you full? Didn't you have no meals?"

"Huh! You little thing!" Zhong Muzhan raised his hand and squeezed Shen's only small nose: "I didn't eat, but I was stuffed by your father and your mother's dog food! Can you still eat it? "

Shen only smiled awkwardly: "Haha, Uncle Zhong, do you mean you are a puppy?"
