

Chapter 919

"Of course! I am the master of this east courtyard. Here, I always speak for words." Pan Haoyang said.

"Oh...oh, I have a big horse to ride." Lilly hugged the big stupid bear and happily ran out to play again.

Children still like playing in the yard outside.

Because the place is big.

Pan Haoyang continued to smoke, and then said to Suzi: "I...I will finish smoking in a few more puffs."

In fact, the cigar in his hand just started smoking.

Suzi suddenly laughed: "Why... treat my children so well? You... seem to like children very much?"

"Why?" Pan Haoyang closed his eyes and thought for a while.

"I've been alone since I was a child. When I was the only time I was this old, I especially hoped that my father could hug me and my mother could hold me in his arms. However, my father never hugged me and treated me very much. Cold, what did my mother tell me..."

Thinking of his childhood, a trace of pain flashed across Pan Haoyang's face.

Suzi: "What can your mother tell you? I can't tell you, she doesn't want you?"

Suzi is a mother herself. She knows mothers very well. When a mother is a mother, she always tries her best to treat her children well.

"She said that she was not my biological mother. She said that my three brothers and I were not born of the same mother." Pan Haoyang sneered sadly.

This really surprised Suzi.

He and his three brothers were not born to the same mother. How could this fate be so similar to Arron's?

Suzi couldn't help taking another look at Pan Haoyang.

Just one look!

She really thinks, where exactly is Pan Haoyang like Arron?

Is it looks?

No, if you look closely, Pan Haoyang and Arron are really different.

Pan Haoyang is also beautiful, but Pan Haoyang is slightly feminine, speaking and gentle.

Arron is different.

Although Arron is thin and thin, he is not feminine. In appearance, Arron is like a wolf king, very sturdy, calm and cruel.

However, the two people seem to be a bit similar again.

Because the heart is all hot.

Thinking of her husband, Suzi asked Pan Haoyang in a gentle voice, "Your... 's mother?"

"I have never seen her! She lost me!" There seemed to be tears in the corner of Pan Haoyang's eyes.

Seeing him like this, Suzi didn't know how to comfort him.

On the contrary, Pan Haoyang suddenly took a big puff of cigarette, and then looked at Suzi and smiled: "Because I have never gotten family affection, so I like children very much... When I see any child, I think she can get warmth. Don't be alone like when I was little..."

Suzi: "..."

"Okay, let's not talk! Go and ride a horse with the only one!" After speaking, Pan Haoyang got up and went out.

Although the ground in the yard is not dirty, it is not just a guide. Pan Haoyang didn't change his clothes. Instead, he wore an expensive suit and lay down on the ground, letting Lilly only sit on his back with his little hand holding his ear: "Ma Son, run away, horse."

Pan Haoyang crawled quickly.

"Hahaha... giggle... Mom, mom, come and see it soon, it's fun." Lilly was really happy.

She screamed happily to her mother.

At this time, the outer gate in the yard was suddenly knocked open.

The scared Lilly sat on Pan Haoyang's back and dared not move, Pan Haoyang also raised his head and looked at the door.

Everyone came in from outside the door, and when they saw Pan Haoyang like this, the person suddenly became angry: "Fourth! How well are you like this!"

Yubi, the man looked at Lilly again: "Are you... Arron's daughter?"

Chapter 920

Lilly was still riding on Pan Haoyang's back, and his little hand was still holding Pan Haoyang's ears.

She was just taken aback. After seeing the person's appearance, Lilly was not afraid immediately.

She looked at the half-old man who had just entered the door with dignity and disgust, and scolded: "Who are you! Don't you know it is illegal to break into someone's home without permission? Do you know if you would go to jail like this!"

The old man was shrunken and shrivelled, like a grandson, not as powerful as his father.

Even the horse he is riding now is more powerful than the half-old man.

Lilly is not afraid of him.

She pulled Ma'er's two ears, and the sorrowful ordered Pan Haoyang: "Ma'er, kick this little dwarf out of me!"

That little appearance, as if she was the monarch of this Jiaying Island.

Pan Haoyang: "..."

Suzi: "..."

Although he has never seen this person, Suzi has already guessed who it is.

Suzi hugged Shen Zizhi in his arms, looking defensively at the little dwarf who was burning with anger, and the Lin family three behind the little dwarf.

Before coming to Jiaying Island, Suzi had learned about Pan Haojing, the monarch of Jiaying Island.

Pan Haojing became the ruler of Gasing Island from the position of hereditary father. Actually, Pan Haojing was a ruler who did nothing.

Pan Haojing was short in stature and ugly in appearance.

Compared with Pan Haoyang, the two did not look like the brothers of their compatriots.

This is strange.

In the previous generation of the Pan family, Pan Yongtian and Yan Qiurui had four sons in total.

The eldest son Pan Haojing has lived to the present and inherited his father's business. The other two sons, Pan Haochun and Pan Haodong, both died before they were twenty years old, while Pan Haojing, Pan Haochun, and Pan Haodong all looked like crooked melons and dates.

Only the four sons, Pan Haoyang, are thin, tall, and talented.

Not only that, Pan Haoyang is more capable than his elder brother in all aspects, but the fourth Pan family is not very interested in Jiangshan Sheji.

Pan Haoyang's ambition is not on Gasing Island either.

The reason why Pan Haoyang still lives in the eastern courtyard of the monarch's mansion is because his elder brother Pan Haojing repeatedly begged Pan Haoyang to do both soft and hard to Pan Haoyang, even Pan Haojing directly threatened Pan Haoyang: "I am your eldest brother! You are my fourth brother! If it belongs to our Pan family. If this island is really invaded by Arron, you will be a subjugated slave! No matter where you go, you will have no roots!"

Helpless, Pan Haoyang had to stay on Gasing Island and help his eldest brother support this industry.

The people in Gasing Island have talked in private. If Pan Haojing hadn't supported him here because of a capable fourth brother, maybe their Pan family would have been ousted long ago.

That is the previous statement.

However, now with the support from the King's family in Kyoto and Mr. Shu, Pan Haojing is more confident.

Pan Haojing now confidently believes that Arron has absolutely no chance of winning.

If Arron dared to invade Jiaxing Island, he Pan Haojing would take Arron's head!

Of course, Pan Haojing also knew that if he wanted to kill Arron, he had to connect with the monarch in Kyoto, and he had to form an inseparable relationship with Mr. Shu.

That is marriage.

Pan Haojing personally agreed to the marriage between Lanita and his fourth brother Pan Haoyang. He believes that as long as Pan Haoyang and the granddaughter of Mr. Shu have a marriage relationship, then Jiaxingdao and the Shu family, and the Jun family in Kyoto, will no longer have a relationship.

However, Pan Haoyang did not agree with this marriage.

For this reason, Pan Haoyang and his eldest brother Pan Haojing had a fight.

In order not to marry Lanita, Pan Haoyang even used all his relationships and hid in Nancheng, wanting to see what Arron was doing.

As a result, Pan Haoyang found nothing.
