

Chapter 951

She used to know that her husband was killing people like hemp, and killing people was a matter of talking and laughing, but she never knew that her husband had such a cherished side of life.

He really didn't use a single soldier, without any casualties, and took down Gasing Island.

This seems easy.

Actually, this is the result of my husband's little deployment over the past few years.

In the next time, Arron began to repair the monarch's mansion and the former residence of the Xia family.

He ordered to go down and restore the monarch's mansion to the appearance of the Xia family for fifty years, and enshrine the ranking meaning of the ancestors of the Xia family here.

These things didn't take long, and all the decisions were made in one week.

In the past week, the Lin family and the Pan family were put under house arrest in a small house with Fu burning money. Originally, Pan Haojing complimented the Bajielin family very much, but now they don't need it anymore. The Lin family are controlled more strictly. In the next week, Pan Mingsai could come and go freely in the house, so in this week, Pan Mingsai did not find any trouble with Lanita.

Within a week, Lanita had a few more purple bags on her head.

A week later, when Arron brought Suzi and Lilly to this small house, when he saw the purple bag on Lanita's head, Lilly almost laughed again.

She looked at Pan Mingsai: "Sister, is this your masterpiece?"

Pan Mingsai smiled and nodded: "Of course! In the past few months when their family of three lived in my house, I was almost bullied to death by this ugly toad. She wanted to marry my fourth uncle. She didn't know how disgusting my uncle was. She is so disgusting. I am now avenging my uncle!"

Needless to say, Pan Mingsai smashed Lanita's head again.

Lanita: "Oh..."

But she didn't dare to howl, especially when Arron was there. At this moment, Lanita just wanted to return to Nancheng quickly.

It's better to be in Nancheng.

Nancheng is her hometown, where she has lived for more than 20 years. Now, she can go back soon.

Lanita looked at Arron eagerly.

Jarod and Moira also looked at Arron eagerly.

Jarod said: "Four Lord Fu, I...My daughter's grandfather, Mr. Shu... It must have been a good deal with you, right, I... Mr. Shu You have your very useful secret value in your hand. When do you think you can send us back...to Nancheng?"

Moira also looked at Arron with a smile on her face: "Master, let's talk about it, it's still that the old man Shu and the Fu family have met from generation to generation..."

Halfway through, Moira looked at Suzi again. Jarod consciously or unconsciously said: "Suzi, you have lived in the monarch's mansion these past two days. You have received special care from the fourth son of Pan, and your life is also very nourishing. Ha, this way I am an adoptive mother can rest assured. Originally you and your daughter were taken prisoner. I was worried that you would be wronged or abused. As a result, I suddenly thought that you would be unscathed because of your manhood. Ha."

Lanita also echoed: "Yes, yes, sister Suzi, you...you really have a way of dealing with men."

Seeing the mother and daughter singing in harmony, Suzi looked at Moira with a faint smile: "Moira, I want to ask you a question. Your husband kept saying her daughter's grandfather, which is your daughter's grandfather, please, you What is the relationship between this mother and your daughter's grandfather? Is it a father-daughter relationship?"

Asked in one sentence, Moira was dumbfounded and speechless: "..."

Suzi laughed again: "This kind of complicated relationship may take a while to figure out what your relationship is with Lanita's grandfather. This is not an urgent matter. There is a more urgent matter at present, I Please verify with you. Someone, do you know?"

Moira: "Wh... someone, I don't understand what you are talking about."

"He..." Suzi asked Christopher to bring up the man who stabbed her and the only man.

When the scrawny man saw Moira, he shouted: "Sister Ying, save me..."

Chapter 952

Moira: "..."

Suzi sneered at Moira: "Ms. Xu, don't you have any impression of a man?"

Moira: "You...he..."

"Who is he?" Suzi still asked with a smile.

Seeing Suzi's expression and hearing the man's address to Moira, Jarod suddenly looked at Moira with suspicion: "Who is he!"

"He..."

"Sister Ying, you have always loved me so much. I will do whatever you ask me to do. I live in Nancheng very well. I also have a job. If you ask me to come to Nancheng with you, I just I came to Nancheng with you, you can't help but save me now..." At this moment, the skinny man knew that he was dying, so he definitely wouldn't conceal anything.

Suddenly Moira kicked the man away fiercely: "You D*mn man! Are you colluding with Suzi! That's right! I asked you to stabbing Suzi, I admit it! But, at that time I was looking for someone to kill Suzi because of the intention of the Pan family monarch. Also, at that time, the entire Gasing Island was driving into the fire with Suzi and Fu Siye. We just wanted to seize the opportunity!

Now that we have settled with Fourth Master Fu, you have nothing to do with me! "

Up to now, Moira can only refuse to admit it.

Hearing Moira's explanation, Jarod still looked at Moira in confusion: "What you said is true?"

Jarod suddenly remembered a few months ago, when they were still in Nancheng, one day he smelled a particularly unpleasant question on Moira, which was a sorrow.

Now the more I think about it, the more Jarod feels angry.

Helpless, at this time Lanita also came out to help her mother speak, "Dad! At this time, our family of three should be one mind. You should not doubt my mother. My mother has always been with you and me. This is Suzi's instigation. Suzi is the best at playing this trick."

Lanita is not afraid of Suzi now.

She knew that my grandfather had absolutely restrained me from Arron, and Arron had also promised my grandpa that he would take the family of three back to Nancheng.

Therefore, Lanita is not afraid of Suzi.

Hearing his daughter's explanation, Jarod calmed down his anger, but he looked at Suzi viciously.

Even if he didn't speak any more, Jarod's meaning was obvious. His eyes were full of meaning that Suzi was doing a lot of evil.

Suzi sneered in his heart, calm on the surface.

Great!

She faintly said: "This is really good. My husband has been busy with the things on hand these days, and I will definitely take you back to Nancheng safely at that time."

Moira sneered: "Do you think I will be grateful?"

"It's my parents who brought you back to Nancheng. Why don't you thank my mother? If you don't thank my mother, you are a bad guy! Bad guys, only bad people can give birth to ugly monsters like your daughter. Humph! Ugly guys!" Angrily, Moira was angry.

Moira: "You..."

Originally wanted to scold something small, but Moira was afraid that Arron would kick her off her leg again, that would be bad.

Moira immediately changed her words and said: "You are a child, I don't know what you are."

Then Moira looked at Arron again: "Fu Siye, the reason why we found someone to murder Suzi and the little princess last week was because we were on the opposite side. Either you die or I die. Of course I will look for every opportunity to win. So, I have no complaints about the man who assassinated your wife and daughter. You can kill him now."

When the man who was kicked to the ground heard Moira say this, he immediately wailed: "Moira, you poisonous woman, you are so cruel, you poisonous woman, I will never let you go as a ghost! "

The man was wailed and pulled out.

Arron looked at Moira with a cold and frosty expression: "The man who assassinated my wife and daughter, I definitely can't keep him!"

Yubi, he lightly ordered his subordinate mercenaries: "Take him down and throw him into the waterway!"

Such indifferent words determine the life and death of a person.
