

The Amazing Son In Law Chapter 3658

At this moment, the expressions of everyone on the scene were horrified.

No one thought that Abbas, as an eight-star warrior, had not even fought Charlie before, so he would completely surrender his meridians!

Even Charlie himself was slightly surprised.

I thought that Abbas would fight to the death, but he didn't expect that he would directly cut off the meridians.

At this time, Abbas slammed his head on the ground again, and said loudly: "Thousands of mistakes were made by me, Abbas alone. I beg Mr. Wade to arrange for someone to bury my parents again, and Mr. Wade to let him go. After these men who have followed me for many years, as for myself, as long as you say a word, I would die in front of you!"

For Abbas, he had long realized that he could not be Charlie's opponent at all, and none of his subordinates could be Charlie's opponent.

The helpers behind Charlie have not even started, and they have lost three warlords on their side. Not to mention that their subordinates are now scared by Charlie, even if they dare to fight Charlie to the death, it is impossible. Any chance of winning.

The greatest possibility is that the entire army will be wiped out.

At that time, neither he nor his subordinates will be spared, and the coffin of his parents will also fall into the hands of Charlie.

Therefore, Abbas decided to kowtow to Charlie for mercy by cutting off the meridians, only to keep the coffin of his parents, while also leaving the lives of other soldiers in Wanlong Palace.

As for his own life, he has ignored it.

As long as he can be satisfied with Charlie and let Charlie let go of his parents and his other subordinates, he will die here without any complaints.

Lord Banks almost passed out at this moment.

He also hoped that Abbas could become his solid backing in the future, but now, Abbas has abolished his meridians and turned into a useless person.

On Charlie's side, many people felt that this scene was very pleasant, but Deana's expression was a little bit unbearable.

She watched Abbas grow up. Seeing him so miserable now, she couldn't help but sympathize, and she even hoped that Charlie could open the door to this and stop pursuing it.

However, when she thought that Charlie told herself before Abbas went to Yeling Mountain, she told herself not to intercede for him, so she didn't know how to speak.

At this time, Charlie looked at Abbas blankly, and said coldly: "The reason why you cut your meridians is entirely because you are too weak and you want to ask for my forgiveness. It seems pretty bold to say. But in fact it is just a way to break your wrist! All you have done is to preserve the corpses and coffins of your parents! I will not buy you!"

As soon as Abbas heard this, his whole body collapsed. He suddenly bowed and slammed his head to the ground!

At this time, his forehead was already full of blood, and several large openings were constantly bleeding, but even so, he stood up and pleaded loudly: "Mr. wade, please raise your hand and let my parents go!"

Charlie remained unmoved.

Abbas knocked his head down again, and when he lifted it up, blood was already flowing all over his face, and he continued to plead loudly: "Mr. wade! Please raise your hand! Let go of my parents!!!"

Charlie looked as usual, and he didn't even look at the bloodshed Abbas in his eyes.

After all, Abbas had threatened to frustrate his parents before, so even if he really knocked and died here, Charlie would not have the slightest sympathy.

Seeing this, Abbas slammed his head again, and the blood that was smashed on his head was almost gushing out, and he said extremely weakly, "Mr. wade...please...please raise your hand...raise your hand... Let... let me go... let go of my parents..."

Charlie's expression was still cold as ice, and he asked, "Abbas, you still haven't figured out the situation. Why do you let me raise my hand? Why should I raise my hand to you?!"
