

Chapter 1313

The Shaw family house... Years had passed since the last time she was here. This was the place which she both longed for and where she was also humiliated. When she was a girl, she was terrified, even when she walked past this house, worried that the dogs would come out and bite her.

When she was seventeen or eighteen, she had been thrown out by the servant with her arms crossed over her chest.

Later, she managed to get into music school but had no money to pay tuition, and back then, her mother was also in hospital and needed money urgently. Back then, she secretly came here, trying to contact Old Master Shaw.

However, not only did she fail to find him, she was also caught by Mrs. Shaw. Mrs. Shaw brought her to a corner not far from the Shaw residence and threatened her. "In the future, if you try to sneak into the Shaw residence again, I will sell you the dirtiest establishments so that you will never see the sun again."

Back then, she was in utter despair. Now when she recalled those days, tears filled her eyes.

her eyes.

Right when Gloria was at her most terrified, with tears swimming in her eyes, the main doors to the Shaw residence were opened. Next, a wheelchair was wheeled out. The man seated in the wheelchair was Old Master Shaw.

In the past month, the old man had aged drastically. After all, he was almost 90, in the past, because he had received the best medical treatment, the 80-year-old man looked ten or twenty years younger, back straight as a rod, mind bright and lively.

Since the incident where it was exposed that he acknowledged the wrong girl as his granddaughter, and after his true daughter appeared, the old man wanted to acknowledge his true daughter and granddaughter, but was rejected. Since then, the old man's body seemed to have aged ten years. Until now, he needed someone to wheel him in a wheelchair in order to go out for a walk.

At this moment, the person pushing his wheelchair was not anyone else but Jennie Gibson herself.

Jennie, her daughter, and her granddaughter had just moved in granddaughter had just moved in yesterday, and finally understood what it meant to live a life of wealth and luxury.

Even though the Shaw family was not as powerful and influential as it had been fifty years ago, Old Master Shaw, who chose to forgo politics and invested himself into his business, flourished in the world of business. Until now, the Shaw Group was still strong and thriving in both South City and Kidon City.

Moreover, the old man once held a powerful position; old subordinates of his were scattered all across Kidon City. That was why, even though the Shaw family had been keeping a low profile for the past few years, in South City, the Shaw family enjoyed privileges only second to the Ford family.

Staying with the Shaw family and enjoying all the luxuries afforded to her as the daughter of the Shaw family was the first step in Jennie's plan when she decided to return to her homeland.

Her plan was incredibly successful.

Wheeling the old man out for a walk, a smile blossomed across Jennie's face. "

Uncle, first I'll wheel you around, give you

Wheeling the old man out for a walk, a smile blossomed across Jennie's face. "Uncle, first I'll wheel you around, give you the chance to breathe in some fresh air, then I'll bring you to eat your favorite blood pudding."

With that, she bent down and said softly to Old Master Shaw, "I know everyone at home doesn't let you eat blood pudding; they said it's not healthy, not nutritional, and even oily. But we'll eat it secretly, okay?"

The old man smiled happily, "Alright, okay, Jennie, my dear. You're already an adult and yet you're still so mischievous. Haha."

Jennie smiled too.

The moment she lifted her head, she saw the gaunt and exhausted woman in front of her.

"Who are you? What are you doing! Why are you standing in our way!" Jennie reprimanded sharply.
