

Chapter 17

Sigrid had been reading the posts on Twitter for a long time. When she saw Rebecca being criticized and even closed her comments section, she felt very happy.

As soon as it became known that Rebecca had a pre-marital affair, most of her fans, who had just become her fans, loathed her immediately. Even among the old fans, some of George's fans became anti-fans.

At first, some fans wondered whether the video was made by George in order to 'whitewash' the relationship between him and Sigrid. But when a comparison was made with a shot of Rebecca in a swimming suit in a modern drama she had acted in, it was confirmed that the woman in the video had the same mole as Rebecca. So the fans were convinced that the woman in the video was Rebecca!

After dealing with the matter, George came to the door of the room and saw Sigrid sitting on the bed looking at her mobile phone happily and tittering. She wasn't aware that her skirt had slipped up to just below her buttock, revealing the white panties beneath.

At that moment, Sigrid's cell phone flashed a caller ID. Looking at Rebecca's photo on the screen, she was stunned and slipped her index finger over the phone to answer it.

"Sigrid, tell George to announce immediately that those videos are fake. Also, tell him to give me 5 million as compensation for my mental damages! Otherwise, I will destroy your mother's ashes immediately! I am definitely not joking with you!"

Sigrid, who had been in a good mood, stopped smiling when she heard this. She looked at the door and found that George had already been standing there for some time. "He won't listen to me. If it's false, it will affect the Toland Group. He can't do it."

"If it's you who ask him directly, he will do that!" Rebecca gnashed her teeth in frustration. In order to prevent Sigrid from appearing to be the mistress, George had allowed that many people would know that he had been cuckolded before the wedding. So what if the Toland family lost a little money? Wasn't it said that reputation was more important than money in the eyes of rich people?

Sigrid frowned and was about to speak when Rebecca hung up.

Sigrid looked at George and said, "Brother-in-law... I have something to discuss with you."

"Speak." George strode over and his eyes fell on her... panties, without moving an inch.

Sigrid was frightened by his gaze, which made her feel that he could see what kind of underwear she had on. She swallowed and said in a low voice, "My sister says that she wants you to announce the news that those videos are fake, and she wants five million or she will destroy my mother's ashes..."

George: "..."

Sigrid took his silence as his refusal. She knew that her mother's ashes were important to her, but in his view, there was no comparison with the Toland Group. He must certainly be unwilling in his heart!

"If you don't want to," she said anxiously, "we can pretend to Rebecca that we don't care and then go behind her back to retrieve my mother's ashes! It will not affect your company."

Anyway, as long as she could get the ashes back, no matter what Rebecca tried, it had nothing to do with her!

After a long silence, George took out his mobile phone and made a call.

At first, Sigrid thought that he was going to ask someone to steal her mother's ashes back. She still had some expectations in her heart. The next second, she heard the man's cold tone. "Take good care of her mother's ashes. If there is anything wrong, you'll pay with your life."

'Is he making a phone call to threaten Rebecca?' Sigrid was surprised.
