

Chapter 1452

Sean looked at Sebastian in panic. "This... your brother's number doesn't exist anymore. What's happening, Sebastian? Quickly think of a way to find your younger brother!"

Sebastian was speechless. All this while, he did not have any good feelings towards his father. It was his father who had ruined her mother's life. It was his father who had caused him, his mother and his biological brother to be separated from each other. His father had robbed his mother of all her love, but he had given her true love. All his father had given his mother were lies. Therefore, Sebastian hated his father.

However, this was the first time Sebastian had seen his father, an old man over seventy years old, panicking like this. Sean Ford was already old. He was no longer the man who had commanded the world and led the Ford Group to dominate and cause bloodshed on the island back then.

That was forty years ago. The current Sean Ford would unexpectedly be incomparably worried of a son that he had just been reunited with because the call could not get through. He truly was already old.

through. He truly was already old.

Seeing him looking so helpless and frantic, Sebastian suddenly felt heartbroken. He took a step forward, raised his hand and patted the elderly man's shoulder, and then said with annoyance, "You're being silly! Think about it, he is going abroad from the northwest border. Just the journey alone would take almost three days. Besides, once he had left the country, his phone signal would not work anymore. You're using a domestic cell number, so of course, the signal doesn't exist!"

Sean immediately nodded. "Oh, oh, is that so?"

"Otherwise, what do you think?" Sebastian scolded again with annoyance.

Only then did Sean breathe a sigh of relief. He raised his head and looked at Sebastian delightfully "Sebastian, I...I still have two sons?"

"That's right!" said Sebastian.

"I...actually still have two sons? Say, when will Holden be like you and get married and have kids?"

Sebastian was speechless.

"You should urge Sabrina and let her

"You should urge Sabrina and let her quickly have another child. I...can even help you take care of the child.

"It has already been more than a year since you've found and brought her Sabrina back. It's almost a year and a half, right? Why...isn't there any progress in her belly? The both of you should at least go and do a checkup at the hospital. Do you not have time to go queue for the specialist at the hospital? If you don't have the time, I do. I can go and stand in line early in the morning for you. When I've gotten the number, I will call you ...It can't just be Sabrina who gets her body checked, you also have to do it. Those years that you had spent in combat..."

Sabrina and Sebastian were speechless. How could a seventy-year-old elder man just change his attitude at his own whim?

"Mr Ford!" Sabrina blushed a violent shade of red.

"Well...I won't talk about it anymore. I've said too much." Sean immediately hit his own mouth. Then, he laughed again. It was that kind of snicker that was directed at himself. "I never thought that at such an old age, I would actually still have two sons, and my youngest son could still get married and have children. In the future, I married and have children. In the future, I will still have many grandchildren."

Sabrina and Sebastian were both speechless. They suddenly realized that the elder man had indeed gotten older. He no longer had the will to fight. The only thought he had at the moment was to have his children and grandchildren with him. Sean indeed had such a thought. However, Rose, who was watching all of this from outside the room, might not think the same way. Everything that the old man had at this moment had nothing to do with Rose. Nothing! Her sons were all dead! She had nothing left at all!

Did she have anything to do with the only two sons of hers now? No!

"Godmother, I will be your daughter from now on," Lily comforted Rose appropriately.

The reason why she followed Rose back was to take sides.
