

Chapter 1453

Lily had already understood it very clearly. Now that she had joined forces with Axel, Rose, and Old Master Shaw, she might be able to do something. Perhaps with the support from these people, she would still have an extremely high possibility of marrying Alex.

Lily just wanted to marry Alex in this life! In order to marry Alex, she must take sides and join forces with Rose and Axel to eliminate all those she wanted to get rid of. Then, she would definitely be able to marry Alex. Thinking of this, Lily then coaxed Rose and entered her room.

That night, Sebastian and his family of three had dinner at the old Ford residence before returning home. The atmosphere at the dining table seemed to have eased up a lot. It was mainly because of Sean's change. He became much gentler and kinder.

Rose, on the other hand, became more and more somber. However, she did not express it on her face. Therefore, the dinner appeared to be more harmonious than ever in the old residence. After dinner, the family of three went home happily.

On the way home, Sabrina said to

On the way home, Sabrina said to Sebastian emotionally, "Actually, it isn't a bad thing for Holden to go abroad. It is considered as compensation for Holden the fact that your father was willing to fork out this money for him. When he is willing to return to the country again, we can make arrangements for him then, and we won't mistreat him.

However, wouldn't it be better if he is not willing to return to this country in this life?

I feel that you two can be even more at peace with each other when you're apart."

Actually, Sabrina was right. She had that thought because Holden liked her. That being the case, then it would be better if he did not return for the rest of his life. That way, they can both be at peace with each other.

Sebastian did not say anything. He just put his wife in his arms. He knew that his wife was right. Sometimes, it might not be a good thing for brothers to be together. After all, they did not grow up together. On the contrary, perhaps this was the best arrangement.

The days went by. In a blink of an eye, two weeks had passed.

weeks had passed.

When it was the weekend again, Sabrina and her family of three went to spend their weekend at Gloria's place. Before they arrived at the door, Sabrina saw Old Master Shaw's figure. The old man was standing a distance from Gloria's yard. When he saw that Sabrina and Sebastian had arrived, the old man turned around and hobbled away.

The moment she entered the door, Sabrina asked her mother, "Mom, that old man...was outside the door?"

Gloria sighed. "Well...in these two weeks, he had already come about twice, and he just stood far away and looked at me every time."

"Mom, are you alright?" asked Sabrina.

Gloria forced out a smile. "What can happen to me?"

Sabrina said, "If you can't say it yourself, then I'll go and chase him away."

Gloria shook her head. "Forget it. He's already so old, so why bother? As long as he doesn't come in, I'll just pretend that he doesn't exist."

Sabrina nodded. "That's good too."

Sabrina nodded. "That's good too."

However, Gloria could ignore Old Master Shaw, but Old Master Shaw did not back down because of that. Not only would he stand at a nearby place outside of Gloria's small courtyard for a whole day, but he even followed Gloria to the senior dance group that she had joined. Many people could often see that there was an old man sitting in a wheelchair outside of the senior dance group.

Occasionally, he would even cheer Gloria on. "Gloria! You dance well! I'll applaud you!"

Over time, many people knew that this very old man sitting in a wheelchair is the father of this middle-aged dancer. Many people would seek justice for this old man. They wondered how could Gloria be this cruel to not care, instead of being concerned and even acknowledging her own aged father.

The woman leading the dance scolded Gloria that morning. "Gloria, you can't be like this! If you continue on this way, then this senior citizen group would not want you anymore!"
