

The Charismatic Charlie Wade Chapter 3890

As long as he hits the turn signal, the car behind, even if it is tens of meters away from him, will immediately brake and let him change lanes first.

Because no one dared to go against this tens of millions of luxury cars.

In case it is a person who does not pay attention to his own responsibility or full responsibility, the three of them risk the amount of one or two million, which is simply not enough.

Therefore, this also greatly satisfied Jacob's vanity.

Walking on the road, he felt that he had become the king of the road. The feeling of giving up to me wherever he went was something he hadn't experienced anywhere else in his life.

Because of this, although he was asking Charlie what to do with the car, he prayed silently in his heart that Charlie would let him keep the car.

As a result, Charlie hadn't spoken yet, Elaine said excitedly at this moment: "Good son-in-law! Since this car has entered our door, we can't deliver anything anymore!"

After all, she stroked the golden waistline on Cullinan's body, and said pitifully: "I haven't taken a Rolls-Royce in my life! You see, it's been a while since we lived in Tomson, even though this The villa is the best in Aurous Hill, but our car is really unavailable in this community. The cars that go in and out every day are millions of luxury cars. Our two BMW 5 series are not as good as the total. Half a car is worth a lot of money, and now I finally have a luxury car that can match our villa, and I can't return it for anything!"

Jacob rarely agreed with Elaine's words, and immediately echoed: "Yes, my son-in-law! Your mother is right! Our family lacks nothing but a luxury car!"

In fact, Charlie has always had two top sports cars.

Those two cars were given by Mr. Quinton and Mr. White, a Bugatti's Hermes co-branded model, and an Aston Martin One77.

However, because these two cars are too eye-catching and really not very practical, Charlie has never driven home, and Mr. Quinton has always kept them on his behalf.

Those two cars had been in hand for so long, and they were used when Claire's high school classmate got married.

Since the wedding, the two cars have been dusted up again, and they have not been driven again until now.

Moreover, even though Elaine and Jacob had seen those two cars, Charlie told her that they had borrowed them, and she didn't have the slightest doubt.

However, because of those two cars, Elaine had sprouted the dream of luxury cars in his heart.

Now, a Rolls-Royce Cullinan was delivered to her yard, and her husband Jacob's name had already been written, so she said she couldn't let Charlie return the car.

She even thought that if Charlie really wanted to return the car, she would simply lie under the wheels of this car!

No matter who wants to return the car, just let him drive over him!

Charlie could see the heat in the eyes of his old father-in-law and mother-in-law, but he didn't want to have too much ties with that Zhan .

However, he changed his mind, since Zhan had a ghost in his heart, he didn't have to be polite with her.

So he said to Jacob: "Since Dad and Mom like this car, keep it."
