

The Charismatic Charlie Wade Chapter 4041

Although the condition of high paraplegia cannot be reversed medically, for Huichundan, it seems to be overkill.

In fact, Jacob is all too familiar with this situation.

At the beginning, his injury was almost the same as Todd.

But Charlie cured him at first, but he only used half a blood-scattering pill to save the heart.

And the level of Sanxue Rescue Pill is far worse than Huichun Pill.

Therefore, half a rejuvenation pill is more than enough to treat this disease.

At this time, Todd, with the help of the sturdy entourage by his side, called his finances, and couldn't wait to instruct the other party to pay ten billion dollars directly to the designated account of the auction.

After receiving the payment, Jasmine Moore said, "The finance department just told me that the payment has been confirmed. Next, please come on stage 027 and take the second rejuvenation pill in public!"

Todd couldn't wait, and gave the entourage beside him a gesture with his eyes, and the other party immediately picked him up from the seat.

High paraplegia for two years made Todd's body very thin, and his body muscles also had a very obvious atrophy. This was because the body lost the ability to move, and the sequelae caused by being unable to move for a long time, even if he has been accepting the best Rehabilitation training cannot prevent this from happening.

At the moment, Todd, although he is 1.8 meters tall, weighs less than 100 pounds, so the entourage easily carried him to the stage.

On the stage, Jasmine Moore also asked someone to prepare a chair, and the chair was placed in front of the stage where the rejuvenation pill was displayed, so that Todd could sit and take the medicine.

For the organizers who have always been cold, this can be regarded as giving Todd a special humanitarian care.

Todd was naturally very excited. As soon as he sat down, he couldn't wait to open his mouth, looking forward to the moment when he entered the Huichundan and stood up again.

Jasmine moore explained to him the rules of the Huichundan auction as usual, that is, they were not allowed to participate in other Huichundan auctions.

Todd nodded again and again without hesitation. Although he couldn't wait, he still respected Jasmine moore's professionalism. After she finished speaking, he said seriously, "Okay lady, I understand what you mean, and I won't participate in other rejuvenation in the future. Dan's bid."

"Okay." Jasmine moore smiled slightly and said, "Then ask our staff to feed you medicine."

Immediately, under the watchful eyes of everyone, the staff around him picked up the rejuvenation pill and put it into Todd's mouth.

The staff made sure that everyone could see the Huichundan in his hand all the time, so as to avoid anyone doubting whether the Huichundan would be tampered with.

When the medicine pill was put into Todd's mouth, Todd only felt a warm flow to his throat, and then he no longer felt any sensation.

This is because people with high paraplegia, starting from the neck and going all the way down, do not have any neural perception ability.

After a few seconds, though, Todd could feel his body sending a long-lost warmth to his brain.

This feeling is like soaking in a hot spring in winter, or being irradiated by the warm sun, very comfortable.

This is because the efficacy of Huichundan has already begun to repair Todd's damaged spinal cord, allowing him to repair his broken nervous system, so he can feel the warmth that Huichundan brings to his body.

Todd has been paraplegic for two years, and he knows very well what kind of despair his whole body feels like a black hole without any perception. Therefore, when he suddenly felt the warmth from his body, he immediately shouted excitedly: "I feel it! I feel it! I feel the warmth coming from my body!"
