

Chapter 1711

“Besides, Aino was also very sensible. I had already explained it to her, and she understood it very well,” said Zayn.

“Zayn, it’s still working hours now, but you suddenly came running over. What is on your mind?” Sabrina knew Zayn the best.

“I...am going to get a marriage certificate with Tessa tomorrow,” said Zayn.

Sebastian was speechless. There was a pause before she asked, “What is the matter that you can’t still let go of?”

Zayn replied truthfully, “Sabrina, do you think I’m too stingy? Perhaps I have gotten used to the tough life that we had in the past? Therefore, I can’t stand girls who keep spending my money?”

“Tessa spends a lot of money?” Sabrina immediately asked.

“She did not spend more than my income, but she had already spent a few million dollars yesterday,” Zayn said. “Tomorrow, she still wants to...”

Tomorrow, she still wants to..."

Sabrina was speechless. She knitted her eyebrows tightly. There was a pause before she said, "Actually, that's also not a big deal. Which girl today doesn't like shopping? If I have the ability, I also like it. This is nothing much."

"Mm-hmm." Zayn sighed. "I...I can't quite put my finger on it. I actually quite like Tessa. She is a good girl and doesn't have any big flaws. However, when it comes to marriage, I feel that it's too soon since we have only known each other for almost a couple of months."

"Then, don't get married first. I feel that two months is a little short too," said Sabrina.

Zayn sighed. "But...her mother is too pitiful. For the sake of her daughter, she almost wanted to kneel before and asked me to treat her daughter well for the rest of our lives. She asked me to make her daughter happy. I...can't refuse a mother's plea."

Zayn finally divulged his true thoughts in front of his sister. Sabrina was speechless. Sabrina had heard about Zayn and Hana's matter from Zayn over the and Hana's matter from Zayn over the phone in the past couple of days. She was even planning to go visit Hana at the hospital these two days. After all, Hana had saved his brother's life. However, Sabrina did not expect that it was because of Hana's plea that Zayn decided to marry Tessa. ①

"Well, let's not talk about it anymore. After all, I truly like Tessa," Zayn said with a smile.

"I came over today just to tell you that I will be going to Tessa's house tomorrow morning to bring her for a routine health check. After that, we will be going to get our marriage certificate."

"Congratulations, Zayn." Sabrina smiled sincerely. If her brother has his own family, then a great concern on Sabrina's mind would be relieved.

"Remember to give me some great gifts!"

"That is a must!"

After chatting with his sister for a while, Zayn felt quite relieved. After he got home, Zayn took out an emerald pendant from his treasured collection that he had been keeping in his house for a very long been keeping in his house for a very long time. The value of the emerald pendant was immeasurable. A rough estimation of the value should be almost a few million dollars. There should not be a problem giving that as a gift to Tessa's father, right?

Zayn went to the Caven family's house early in the morning the following day. When he took out the emerald pendant to give it to Hector, Hector was first stunned. Then, he squeezed out a smile by force. Zayn was stunned. Could it be that Hector felt that that was not enough? It was such a huge pendant made with emerald, and it would be very difficult to find another one in the world at that moment. However, Hector did not say anything. Zayn also did not ask his future father-in-law if he liked the gift he had given him.

They had to do a health check, so Tessa and Zayn did not have breakfast and they simply rushed to the hospital. The health check was very simple. It was just a routine checkup before marriage. Therefore, it was very quick. The result was already out after more than an hour.

“Doctor, are my health and my was already out after more than an hour.

“Doctor, are my health and my girlfriend’s health suitable for marriage?” Zayn asked. Surely, they would be suitable! He did not carry any deadly infectious diseases. Tessa had a physical every year at the company, so she also did not have any of that.

However, the doctor said unexpectedly, “You’re infertile. I don’t know if that counts.”

“What?” Zayn was stunned.

Chapter 1712

"Have you experienced any major trauma in the past?" Doctor asked Zayn very solemnly.

"I had broken my legs before. I went through physical therapy as well as high technology surgery later on, so my legs have recovered now," Zayn answered.

"Then that makes sense. When you had broken your legs at that time, it indirectly affected your..." The doctor stopped mid-sentence, but Zayn understood what he wanted to say.

This information was like a bolt from the blue for Zayn. It never crossed his mind that his broken legs would affect that aspect of himself. After all, he had never thought of checking that aspect during his previous health checks. He asked quietly, "Can this...be...cured?" ①

The doctor shook his head. "Nobody dares to promise anything on that. In any case, looking at the numbers, you are infertile."

Zayn was speechless. He turned to look at Tessa, who looked stunned.

Tessa, who looked stunned.

"Tessa...I'm sorry," Zayn first apologized to Tessa.

The doctor had already left. He was only there to notify them of the result. Whether the patient had the ability to accept the news was not part of the doctor's responsibility.

Tessa took a few steps back. She was in disbelief. She looked at Zayn and said coldly, "Zayn Smith! I... finally understood why you have never agreed to live together with me although I had, again and again, hinted at you. It turned out... It turned out that you actually have a flaw in this aspect! You are not a true man, you're a man with a flaw! Why did you lie to me? Liar! You're a liar! Was it fun to cheat with my feelings? Is this how you rich kids behave? Ho! Zayn, don't tell me that it was all because you've fooled around with women so much in the past that you're unable to produce a young now!" ①

Tessa had heard from Hana about the matter of Zayn being a player many years ago. When Hana told Tessa about it, Tessa almost wanted to kill Hana. It was because she knew that it was a crime to Tessa almost wanted to kill Hana. It was because she knew that it was a crime to kill someone, so she had hoped that Hana would be run over by a car instead! It was truly lucky for Hana that she did not die from being struck with a stick by the old man, Dixon, a few days ago. However, Hana was right. The man in front of Tessa, who had once been a player, actually ended up unable to produce a young from fooling around too much! Tessa did not care about how much a player Zayn was in the past. However, being infertile did not mean that he could not have intercourse?

He was a useless man! He was a castrated man! Tessa was actually in love with a castrated man? A sense of disgust emerged in Tessa's heart. She looked at Zayn with disgust and dislike. She had already forgotten that Zayn had spent several million dollars on her just two nights ago. Also, just that morning, Zayn had gifted her father the emerald pendant that he had treasured. At that moment, she just fiercely shouted, "Castrated man!"

Zayn was speechless. He also had just learned that he has this flaw in this Learned that he has this flaw in this aspect. It was already hard enough for him to have this flaw! However, he never expected that Tessa would rub salt into his fresh wound! At that moment, he truly wanted to raise his palm and violently slap Tessa across her face. However, as a man, he could not do it. He has a physical flaw, but he could not stoop so low to do such a thing!

“You may leave!” said Zayn calmly and miserably.

“I will leave without you telling me to!” said Tessa fiercely.

Zayn was speechless. Tessa turned around and left. After taking a few steps, she turned back. Zayn suddenly felt touched. He thought to himself if Tessa was willing to be with him at that moment, and was willing to go through thick and thin with him, then he would give the entire Smith Group to her. However, Tessa only said calmly, “Mister Smith! After what happened today, my bright future in the Ford Group is also gone!”

Zayn did not understand. “What does this have to do with your future in the Ford

Chapter 1713

He did not understand Tessa's intention for turning back and saying that.

"You are a relative to the Ford family. You are Director Ford's brother-in-law. How can I still continue to stay in the Ford Group?" said Tessa coldly.

Zayn forced a smile. "Don't worry. I am not a petty person. That's a separate matter. We are broken up, but that doesn't mean you can't work at the Ford Group anymore. Besides, Director Ford is also not the kind of person you think he is. Us breaking up doesn't affect your future at all."

Tessa sneered. "What you said is nice to the ear, but will I be foolish enough to believe you?"

Zayn was speechless. There was a pause before he said calmly. "You can choose not to believe me."

"So, I want you to compensate me for my loss!" Tessa finally revealed her request.

Zayn was speechless, and then he suddenly laughed. "Alright, how much do suddenly laughed. "Alright, how much do you want?"

"Ten million dollars."

Zayn was speechless. He was not short of money. However, he never expected that the girl he had been dating for two months would actually demand so much. He had a great impression of her. It was so great that it made him feel heartbroken!

Zayn could not help but ask, "Could it be that there isn't any affection between us at all?"

"Affection. Two months. What do you think?" asked Tessa ruthlessly.

Zayn was speechless. He did not regain his senses for a very long while. Early that morning, she was still holding his arms lovingly and she was planning their married lives in the future. It had only been more than an hour and she actually could say it so calmly that they had only been together for two months, so there was no affection between them?

Zayn muttered to himself in a self-deprecating manner, "Was it because I'm already old? I am already outdated?"

"(That's right! You're already old! You're already old! I am already outdated!

“That’s right! You’re already old! You’re a whole ten years older than me! We’re not suitable for each other! Alright! I strongly suspect that you’re tricking me, alright, old man! This kind of behavior of yours is cheesy and vulgar! Ten million dollars, and not a penny less!”

“Alright!” Zayn suddenly intercepted her words. “I will give you ten million dollars!”

Coincidentally, he brought his briefcase with him when he left his house, and it so happened that he had a cheque in the briefcase. Without any hesitation, he took out the cheque, wrote the sum of ten million dollars on it, and then handed it to Tessa.

“Get the hell away from the Ford Group immediately! If you don’t get lost, then I will have you fired.” After saying that, Zayn left without looking back at all.

He could not take such a twofold blow. He also could not argue with a girl in the hospital in broad daylight. Therefore, he ended the matter as quickly as possible.

After he had given the cheque to Tessa, h

After he had given the cheque to Tessa, he felt relieved. He only decided to marry Tessa as he wanted to express his gratitude to Hana, to begin with. There was no longer a need for that anymore. It was just a matter of not having his own children! What was the big deal? Aino would just like Zayn's child! Sabrina would also have more children in the future! On top of that, Zayn's biological sister would also get married and have children in the future! Although Zayn could not be a father, being an uncle is also great! It was not a fatal matter, anyway! It was a small matter.

At that moment when he started driving, tears streamed down Zayn's cheeks. He drove on without any destination in mind. Without realizing it, he actually drove to that hospital in between the suburb and the city.

Zayn parked his car and came to Hana's ward with a mixed feeling. Hana was resting with her eyes closed at that moment, and she had a peaceful expression on her face. There was even a little joy on her face. She heard some movements at the door, so she opened her eyes. When she saw Zayn, Hana her eyes. When she saw Zayn, Hana immediately asked, "Mister Smith, aren't you...going to get the marriage certificate with Tessa today? Have you gotten it already? You're already married? Could you...let me see...let me see your marriage certificate with Tessa? I can't attend my daughter's wedding, but it's enough for me to have a look at the marriage certificate."

"I...am practically a castrated man," said Zayn in despair.

REDMI NOTE 9S

Chapter 1714

Hana was startled. "What did you...what did you say?"

The Zayn that she saw had a depressed, hopeless, miserable, and helpless expression on his face. He was originally such a mature and reliable man.

However, at that moment, he seemed like a homeless and incomparably helpless child. He was so pitiful, and he kept having a catch in his throat. Hana could clearly tell that Zayn was trying his best to suppress his tears.

She saw Zayn gradually raise his head and look at her with despair. "Your daughter doesn't want me anymore because I am like a castrated man. The doctor said that I am infertile. I am not a man, I am a...useless person. To put it nicely, I am a useless person. If it were to be said bluntly, then I...am neither a man nor woman?" This was the greatest blow Zayn had suffered in thirty-two years of his life.

He had broken his legs during the six years he spent being on the run with Sabrina, and he had spent a few years in a brina, and he had spent a few years in a wheelchair, but he did not feel that it was a big deal. However, when the doctor announced that he was infertile, he truly had broken down. He had no idea who he could still drive all the way here. He looked at Hana with a pale face.

"I...am fine. I'm fine. I'm just here to see if you are feeling better today. After all, you're hospitalized because of me. I...am fine. I have already thought it through. It's fine if I am infertile. I have a sister, anyway, and she will have children in the future. Also, I have Aino. Aino is the closest child to me. It's just being infertile! It doesn't matter."

The way he forced himself to be calm made Hana feel incomparably heartbroken. Hana called out gently, "Mister...mister Smith. Just cry if you feel like it. Lay on this cover. It's fine even if you bawl your eyes out. Otherwise, you'll suffer from holding it in."

Zayn was speechless.

"Just cry it out. You'll feel better after crying," Hana continued to encourage Zayn.

Zayn.

Zayn's tears had already gushed out like a broken dam. He finally bawled his eyes out, his sobs were incomparably repressed. It sounded like a goshawk's whimpering cry. Hana, who was sitting on the bed, felt extremely heartbroken when she heard it.

At that moment, she also did not know what to say. She greatly sympathized with Zayn. However, Hana selfishly thought that if Zayn did not have that ability, then would Tessa not be just like those grass widows who could not experience consummation if she married him? After that, would she also not have her own children in her life? Therefore, Hana felt relieved when she heard Zayn say that Tessa had broken up with him for that reason. She felt relieved because Tessa had cut her loss early. However, Hana felt even more guilty towards Zayn.

She continuously patted Zayn on his back. "Mister Smith, don't be upset. I also don't know how I should advise you. I can only say that there are a lot of miserable people in this world. There are many people who have it worse than us, but they also have to continue living.

but they also have to continue living. Look at me. Although I had my child, didn't my daughter also not acknowledge me?

"Also, my aunt was widowed at a young age. She raised my cousin with great difficulty, but my cousin was imprisoned for involuntary manslaughter. In order to raise my cousin's young son, my aunt had suffered in silence while being someone's wife for ten years. In the end, she did not get anything out of it.

"In comparison to my aunt, you're still very young. Perhaps the medical field will be even more developed in the future, and you will be cured. Just like your legs. They were originally paralyzed, but haven't you also recovered? You have to have more confidence in yourself. Don't be upset. Relax your mind and body. Perhaps your condition will be miraculously cured one day."

Hana knew that what she said was all nonsense. However, she could only slowly and gently tell Zayn that. Zayn cried a half an hour, and it was that kind of inconsolable bawling. It was fortunate that it was lunchtime then, so there were only a very few doctors and nurses on in inconsolable bawling. It was fortunate that it was lunchtime then, so there were only a very few doctors and nurses on duty. Zayn was also crying under the covers, so he did not alarm others.

He had no idea why he would cry his heart out in Hana's ward.

Chapter 1715

Zayn had such a cathartic release from bawling out. Perhaps it was because Hana was the only suitable person Zayn could turn to. He was very close to Sabrina, but she was pregnant, so he could not upset her. What about his parents? They were even more so unable to take such a blow. Therefore, Hana became the best person for him to vent his sorrows.

After crying for half an hour, Zayn had calmed down quite a bit. He lifted his head and looked at Hana apologetically. "I'm sorry, Madam Sharpe. I truly was in shock. I'm sorry you had to see that."

"It's fine, Master Zayn." Hana felt more relaxed.

"Don't call me Master Zayn, and don't call me Mister Smith either. Just call me Zayn," said Zayn.

Hana nodded. "Zayn, don't be sad. You have to be strong. You still have your parents, who need your care, so you can't collapse."

"I know. Thank you, Miss Sharpe."

REDMI NOTE 9S

"I know. Thank you, Miss Sharpe."

"Why did you change the way you address me to Miss Sharpe?" asked Hana with puzzlement.

Zayn smiled with sorrow. "I used to call you Madam Sharpe, but I always had trouble doing that because you're only eight years older than me. All is good now. I finally don't have to feel awkward anymore since I have already broken up with Tessa."

"Zayn, I...I am very sorry. Tessa..." Hana said.

"I don't blame her," Zayn said with a smile.

Zayn suddenly felt relieved. That was because he had always felt that there was a generation gap between him and Tessa. However, all was well. It was Tessa who dumped him. He did not need to have any psychological burden anymore.

"If it was any other girl, it also would not be possible for her to live with a man without the ability in that aspect. Isn't that just the same as entering a living hell? I understand," Zayn consoled Hana instead.

instead.

“Zayn, you’re too kind. I don’t object to both of you breaking up, but Tessa had spent too much of your money. I heard that she had already spent tens of millions of your money in just these past few days. That is not a small figure. That is already enough to be a house in the heart of South City. That is not a joke. I will reprimand her later on and ask her to return the money to you. She should pay you back as much as she could for all the money spent on those luxury bags.”

“There’s no need for that, Miss Sharpe,” Zayn said with a smile.

Right at that moment, his phone rang. He saw that it was Sabrina calling. Zayn felt incomparably lucky. It was lucky for him that he had vented and cried just now. Otherwise, he truly had no idea how he should face Sabrina. At that very moment, he was already calm. “Sabrina, why are you calling at this hour?”

On the other end of the line, Sabrina was extremely happy. “Zayn, how’s it? Have you gotten your marriage certificate? Quickly come to my house and let me have a look. I have a big gift to give my sister-in-law.”

Take a look. I have a big gift to give my sister-in-law."

Zayn was speechless.

"Hurry up and come over! Let's go out for dinner tonight and celebrate. I will also buy some clothes, jewelry and so on as gifts for Tessa!" Sabrina said with great enthusiasm.

"Alright...I...I will go over now," said Zayn.

"We're waiting for you, hurry up!" said Sabrina.

After saying that, she hung up the call. She was still wearing a joyful expression. She was sitting on the balcony at that time. There was a delicate box on the small coffee table in front of her, and it contained a pair of onyx earrings. That pair of earrings were processed from a gem that Sebastian had gotten at the bottom of Barfait Summit. They looked like a black stone, but they were worth tens of millions. Presenting this as a gift to Zayn's wife certainly would match her status.

Just when Sabrina was scrolling her phone to find a place to celebrate that

● One to find a place to celebrate that night, the doorbell rang. She thought that it must be the couple, so Sabrina immediately clumsily got up to open the door.

Sabrina was stunned when she opened the door. "Who are you...looking for?"

Chapter 1716

The man who stood outside the door was a stranger, and he was carrying a large package in his hand.

“May I know if you are Aino Scott?” asked the man.

“I’m not. She is my daughter.”

“This is a package for Aino sent from abroad,” said the man.

A package? She had not ordered many packages since she got pregnant. It was mostly Ruth and Yvonne who was in charge of ordering things for Aino, and they had never sent any packages directly to the house. Instead, Ruth and Yvonne would send the packages over themselves. Why would this package be delivered to her house? Sabrina had her doubts, but she did not ask too many questions. She picked up the pen and sign to acknowledge receipt. The package was very huge. It was a box that was a cubic meter in size.

After the delivery man helped Sabrina get the box in the house, she opened it with a utility knife. Sabrina was immediately the box in the house, she opened it with a utility knife. Sabrina was immediately dazzled after she had opened up the box. She saw that there were all sorts of toys in there, and all over them were incomparably exquisite.

Who could it be? Who would buy so many toys for Aino at once?

Just as Sabrina was about to take out her phone and to call Ruth or Yvonne to ask them, her phone rang. It was an unfamiliar number. Sabrina hesitated a little. She had been receiving calls from unfamiliar numbers from time to time in the past couple of months. She knew very well that it was Holden calling from abroad.

Later on, Sabrina learned that the reason Holden could get on his feet abroad so quickly was because Sean and his wife had sponsored Holden almost a billion dollars when he left. It made sense for Sean to give Holden a billion dollars so readily because Holden was his biological son, after all. However, why would Rose so straightforwardly give that money to Holden? Sabrina had always been wondering silently, but she had no one to Wondering silently, but she had no one to ask.

At that moment when she saw the unfamiliar number, Sabrina made up her mind. After she pressed the button to accept the call, she called out into the phone. "Hello, is this Holden?"

On the other end of the line, Holden did not shy away. "Does Aino like all these gifts I sent her?"

"Aino still hasn't returned from kindergarten, so she hasn't seen it yet," Sabrina answered truthfully.

Holden was clearly disappointed. He sighed on the other end of the line. Immediately after that, he asked again, "Sabrina...tell me, how have you been? Is everything alright? Are you living happily?"

"Of course!" Sabrina answered calmly.

"You're pregnant again?" asked Holden.

"How do you know?" Sabrina blurted out. She then recalled immediately after that that Sean and Rose had come over a few days ago. The couple had not been over for two and a half years. Sean came over

● two and a half years. Sean came over while Sebastian was at the company. In comparison to Sebastian, Sabrina was slightly more polite towards Sean and Rose. At the very least, she would invite them in and then respectfully call out, "Mister Ford, Missus Ford."

Sean had looked at her belly and asked in a solemn and cold tone, "How far along are you?"

"Six months," answered Sabrina truthfully.

"Have you checked? Is it a baby girl or boy?" Sean asked again.

Sabrina answered truthfully again, "I didn't check."

"How can you be so careless? You did not even have your pregnancy checkup? Do you think that the Ford family is short of money? I will pay for the checkup. Go to the best hospital! Do it once a week!" As he said that, Sean was about to take out his credit card.

Chapter 1717

Sabrina, on the other hand, calmly replied. "I have been going for checkups! Never mind the people from our Ford family, even the ordinary salary workers also knew the importance of pregnancy checkups. I have been going to check every two weeks and Sebastian has been accompanying me. You don't have to worry."

"Since you have gone for a checkup, then why don't you know if you're having a baby boy or girl?" Sean asked.

Sabrina sneered. "Is there a need to know? No matter the gender, the baby will be Sebastian and my child, and she or he will be Aino's younger brother or sister. Isn't that enough?"

"However, the Ford family still doesn't have an heir yet!"

"Isn't Aino the heir?" asked Sabrina in return. "If I had not been pregnant again and if Sebastian and I only have Aino alone, then Aino will be the only heir to the Ford Group! There will be no other!"

"You..." Sean stuttered. Sean originally the Ford Group! There will be no other!"

"You..." Sean stuttered. Sean originally wanted to come and visit his son's wife in all sweetness and light. After all, she was pregnant with the Ford family's child. Who would have known that she would become so arrogant after she got pregnant? Sean was so angry that he stood up and left. Rose, who was behind him, glanced at Sabrina with a complex gaze, and then she followed Sean and left. After she had gotten out of the door, Sabrina heard Rose say, "D*mn that Lily Parker! The child that she was carrying was unexpectedly not Holden's! How great it would be if Holden also has a wife and is also pregnant!"

Sabrina heard that clearly. She knew that Sean and Rose had always been in contact with Holden. Since they had been in contact with him, then it was not strange for Holden to know that she was pregnant. Sabrina said into phone, "Yes, Holden. I'm pregnant again."

"Does he...treat you well?" Holden asked again.

"Who? Your...elder brother?" asked Sabrina.

Holden, who was on the other end of the line, was speechless. Sabrina did not hope that Holden would acknowledge it, she just replied gently, "Of course, Sebastian is good to me. Very good."

"Is he home?" asked Holden again.

"It's still office hours now, so of course, he is not home."

"You're already pregnant, and yet, he is not keeping you accompanied at home? Is he human?"

Sabrina was speechless.

"He simply is a cold-blooded animal!"

"Don't talk about Sebastian like that!" Sabrina snapped.

"Why can't I talk about him that way? Sabrina! Tell me, is he truly treating you well? Does he truly love you? You're already almost seven months pregnant, and yet, he is not staying at home to accompany you. He still went to work. Is the Ford Group that important?"

Sabrina was still speechless.

Sabrina was annoyed. “Holden Payne! I forbid you to slander my husband!”

“This is the truth,” said Holden, annoyed. “He is a cold-blooded person! He was born cold-blooded! He even killed his own biological brothers! If I were to be in South City, would I also be killed by him?”

"Who is it?" Sabrina was so frightened that she suddenly looked back.
