Chapter 46 Personal Error

She got in Lance's car and told him the address.

They were quiet all the way. The air conditioning in the car was turned on and it was warm.

She looked out of the window, and Lance saw her out of the corner of his eye.

They arrived at the destination very quickly. Krista hurriedly got out of the car and bowed gratefully to express her gratitude.

"Thank you, Mr. Hamm. Be careful on your way back."

"Come to my office tomorrow. I'll sort out some information for you."

"Alright!"

On weekdays, she attended Lance's public class at school, and his class was packed.

On the weekend, she worked as Lance's assistant, doing some trivial chores, and learned a lot.

The first set of sample clothes required the guests to try it on. They were afraid that it was not suitable.

Lance had to go to another school to communicate in the afternoon, so the task fell on her.

She couldn't refuse either, but fortunately, he let Keely accompany her, afraid that she wouldn't be able to handle it alone.

They arrived at the Irwin Group. As soon as they saw Kingston, Keely immediately took out the clothes and walked forward with a sweet smile.

"Mr. Irwin, this is your custom-made clothes. You need to try it on. Did you have time?"

"Alright. Let her do it."

Kingston raised his eyebrows and looked at Krista. He did not like other women to be so close to him.

As for Krista, he seemed to have gotten used to her.

Keely immediately said, "She's new here. She doesn't understand many rules. I'm afraid that she'll make you uncomfortable."

"You don't hear me?"

Kingston instantly lost his patience and looked at her with displeasure.

Keely's smile instantly stiffened. She had no choice but handed the clothes to Krista.

The two girls' eyes met Krista could feel the hatred in Keely's eyes.

She instantly felt a little helpless. Kingston always gave her troubles.

"He's calling you."

Keely gritted her teeth and said.

She walked forward with the clothes, carefully unwrapped them, and helped him change.

Suddenly, he frowned fiercely and immediately took off his clothes.

Blood oozed out of the white shirt on his back.

There were still round needles on the clothes that hadn't been removed.

"I'm sorry."

"How did you do it? Didn't you check it clearly?" Keely saw the opportunity and abruptly stepped forward, pushing Krista heavily.

Krista staggered back a few steps and crashed into the desk.

Fortunately, she didn't hit her belly, but her lower back, causing her to gasp in pain.

"Mr. Irwin, I'm sorry. This is our employee's personal error. I will definitely teach her a lesson when we go back. Are you alright? Do you want to go to the hospital?"

Keely nervously said a lot, but Kingston ignored her and rushed to Krista.

"Are you alright?"

"I'm fine."

Her little face was pale, and her forehead was covered in sweat. She covered her waist with one hand.

She didn't cry out in pain, but instead said that she was fine.

Hearing this, he frowned.

"Sorry, it was indeed my personal error. I apologize to you."

She stood upright. It was her fault. She would bear the responsibility. "It has nothing to do with my team. If you are angry, I can either resign or compensate you. Don't blame them, okay?"

In City D, Kingston's words could make people live and die in an instant.

She was afraid that he would blame Lance's studio, then she would really be a sinner for thousands of years.

"Mr. Irwin, I will ask the teacher to expel her. Please don't be angry."

Now, there was finally a good reason to drive Krista away.

"I'm fine. It's not all her fault. I didn't see it clearly myself."

Keely was stunned.

Was this an excuse for Krista?

"The clothes are the right size. Let him get on with it. You follow me to the hospital."

"I'm not going..."

Kingston grabbed Krista's arm and pulled her away.

"Mr. Irwin..."

Keely wanted to catch up, but was stopped by Quiney. "Stop. Otherwise, Mr. Irwin will be angry." With that, Quincy quickly followed and drove them to the hospital.

"I'm not going to the hospital. I'm really fine."

Krista was impatient, sweating.

Didn't it give her away as soon as she went to the hospital?

Kingston did not respond and was sulky. It seemed that he must take her to the hospital.

"If you ... you insist on taking me there, I will jump out of the car."

Quincy didn't drive fast and the door wasn't locked. Seeing that Kingston didn't ask to stop, Krista opened the door abruptly and really intended to jump.

Krista trying to jump off scared Kingston.

He panicked.

He grabbed her as hard as he could instinctively and drag her back into the car.

Quincy also reacted quickly and pulled over at once.

"Krista, are you out of your mind?"

How dare she jump?

The car wasn't fast, so Krista would just suffer minor bruising if she jumped off the car. But if there was a car following closely behind her, she would undoubtedly die.

Krista was so bold!

"I told you I'm not going to the hospital. Why do you force me? I still have a lot of work to do and don't want to waste my time in the hospital. Because I know I'm in good health. I will buy some medicine for it. Even if I need to go to hospital, I will go by myself ... You don't have to send me there!"

"What? Do you think being with your ex-husband will cause misunderstanding easily?"

Kingston narrowed his eyes and his voice was cold.

What Krista said in the bamboo forest occurred to him.

She got a big crush on her teacher, Lance.

She had no better excuse, but she didn't expect that Kingston came to her.

What Kingston said was right.

"Isn't that so? You love Ms. Hardin. How shameless you're when you flirt with me behind Ms. Hardin's back. She will get it wrong."

"Are you worried that Ms. Hardin or Lance will get us wrong?"

"Lance?"

Krista was confused. What did Kingston mean?

"How long have you had a crush on Lance?"

Kingston asked directly.

Did Krista had a thing for Lance when she married Kingston?

At the thought of it, Kingston was upset.

"Were you in the bamboo forest that day? Did you hear what I said, didn't you?"

Krista realized it suddenly, "How can you eavesdrop on me?"

"Are you scared to admit it?"

"Absolutely not. You're right. I'm into Mr. Hamm. He's handsome and tall and he's super nice to his students. So I like him."

Krista was talking nonsense. Anyway, she had nothing to do with Kingston now. She could love whomever she wanted.

Besides, she didn't need to explain that it was just a misunderstanding that day.

"Then you tell Lance that I'm not happy with the clothes. Send the sample to me once a week."

"Didn't you just say you were happy with that?"

"But now I'm not."

"Kingston, what's wrong with you?"

Krista was so angry that she couldn't help but call his name.

Calling him Kingston sounded better than "Mr. Irwin".

"You deliver it yourself every week."

"You're clearly making things difficult for me. If I upset you, you can punish me. There's no need to implicate Mr. Hamm. Mr. Hamm's design is fine. Why..."

She talked about Lance all the time.

Kingston was filled with anger and about to explode.

At this moment, he only wanted to stop Krista from chattering.

Kingston didn't think much of it, bent down and held Krista by the chin with one hand, forcing her to look up.

He grabbed her waist with the other hand and pulled her into his arms, pressing against her.

He kissed her lips and felt it soft and sweet.

Chapter 48 Are Her Lips Swollen from Kissing?

Kingston actually loved this feeling, as if he once tasted Krista's lips. He was immersed in the sweet kiss.

Quincy was dumbfounded.

It was quite erotic.

He quietly got out of the car.

Only Kingston and Krista were left inside.

Krista's mind went blank completely when she goggled at his handsome face in front of her.

Kingston was unbelievably good-looking.

However, what was going on now?

What were they doing?

Krista suddenly remembered that Kingston screwed her and they were intoxicated with the kiss out of control that night.

They divorced.

Kingston fell in love with Sandra.

So Krista couldn't continue to make a fool of herself.

She realized it and kept refusing.

However, the more Krista resisted, the more upset Kingston felt, and he wanted more.

Her body seemed to have a strong appeal to him, and he could not resist it.

Seeing that they were gradually out of control, Krista bit Kingston's tongue resolutely...

In an instant, a faint taste of blood filled his mouth. The taste became denser.

The tip of his tongue stung and he became sober instantly.

What was Kingston doing?

Just as Kingston was in a daze, Krista pushed him away at once with all her might. Then she got out of the car and fled.

Kingston froze for a moment. He wiped the blood from the corner of his mouth when he came back to his senses.

It was blood.

Kingston actually kissed her madly.

His body was out of control and he stopped thinking.

He just wanted ... her.

Was Kingston out of his mind?

Kingston was with Sandra and wouldn't let her down. It was a responsibility as well as a mission.

Quincy got in the car. Kingston straightened his clothes and sat down.

"Mr. Irwin..."

He spoke cautiously.

"Tell Lance not to make the clothes. Just give him the money."

"Got it."

"Forget it. Ask him to keep doing it. But don't let Krista send it..."

Why did Kingston refuse to let Lance take the order?

Was he jealous because Krista had a crush on Lance?

Since they divorced, they should distance from each other and be never on speaking terms.

"Yes..."

Quincy replied, "Then where are we going?"

"Go back to the group. I'm busy these days and not going back to the villa. Make sure Sandra is taken good care of."

"Got it."

Krista fled back to the studio, sweating profusely.

Keely came back earlier than Krista. She received a phone call from Quincy, who said that she could continue taking the order, but wanted someone else to send it to the group.

It fell to Keely to finish the work. She was the right person for the job.

And Lance also informed all of them.

Keely's colleagues kept praising her around her, "You're really amazing. I heard that Mr. Irwin asked you to deliver clothes. Do you think he takes a fancy to you? Are you going to marry into a wealthy family and become Mrs. Irwin?"

Keely's heart pounded when she heard this.

Being Mrs. Irwin was magnetic and Keely couldn't resist it.

She was tempted, but she was in love with someone else.

"Keely, tell me, is Mr. Irwin handsome or not?"

"Of course, he's handsome."

"I rather envy you. You're the most outstanding here. You deserve to be in charge of this order."

They crowded round Keely who was somewhat complacent.

Seeing Krista come back with her head drooping dejectedly, Keely stood up immediately and walked over.

"I'm still in charge of it. You should start from the bottom. You did take this order, but the client was upset by your follow-up service. Don't bite off more than you can chew or you had problems with it."

"Got it."

Krista responded indifferently, absent-minded and her head was full of that kiss.

She was going crazy.

"Krista, why are your lips swollen?"

Someone who got sharp eyes said.

When Krista heard this, she quickly looked in the mirror. Her lips were indeed swollen, and it could be seen how passionate they were.

"Is it because you had a kiss?"

She did not ask for any fame or wealth. She only wanted someone to care about her.

She no longer had a home, and here she had her grandmother and his mother. With them, she felt the warmth of home again.

Hearing what she said, Kingston tightly pressed his lips together.

Krista knocked on the door and walked in. When Nataly saw her, her eyes immediately became moist.

The older woman found she had lost a lot of weight. (This novel will be daily updated at)She used to be able to see baby fat on her face, but now she couldn't see it anymore.

After the divorce, she left the Irwin family's protection. She must have suffered a lot.

"Krista, you're here."

Nataly held her hand and sat down with her.

Krista met Kingston's eyes.

They still felt embarrassed about the previous incident.

She hurriedly averted her gaze and did not dare to look at him again.

"Mrs. Irwin, you're back. You look even prettier than last time. What kind of care products do you use? Why don't you age? You look like my sister. It's so unfair..."

Nataly was amused. Krista was really good at making the elders happy. (This novel will be daily updated at)No wonder her grandmother loved her so much. Even Nataly felt her heart was about to melt.

"You have a honeyed tongue. Whoever marries you will be the happiest man in the world. Dump the man who doesn't cherish you."

She was clearly referring to Kingston.

It was as if Krista was her biological daughter and he was just an adopted son.

His own mother's sarcasm was the most hurtful.

Kingston's expression darkened.

Krista coughed.

She felt a pair of sharp eyes on her back.

"Mrs. Irwin, what can I do for you?"

"Can't I see you if nothing happened?"

“Of course you can, but you’re too good-looking. If I visit you too often, I’ll be jealous.”

Nataly couldn’t help but laugh, and then went back to the point. “I asked you guys to come here to – discuss something. I have talked with your grandmother. I want you to be my goddaughter. The Irwins will always be your protection, and I wish to be your mother!”

“My regret with Irwin these years is that we don’t have a daughter. Kingston is our only child. After you married into this family, you were just like a daughter to me. You and Kingston are not destined to be husband and wife. I wonder if you will let me be your godmother.”

Hearing this, Krista looked at Kingston.

Kingston’s expression was extremely gloomy.

His ex-wife was about to become his sister?

It was unbelievable.

Since things didn’t work out when they were husband and wife, then they became siblings?

Although she liked Mrs. Irwin and Grandma very much,(This novel will be daily updated at) she understood that she should not have anything to do with Kingston anymore.

She must hide her child as well.

The two families socialized a lot with each other. They would find out about the d sooner or later.

So she rejected the older woman.

Nataly sighed, not surprised by the result.

She knew Krista. The young woman might look weak on the outside, but she was actually more stubborn than anyone else.

Nataly had tried countless times to help her get Kingston back. She created opportunities for them, but Krista stopped him.

Nataly didn't want to force others to do anything, especially when it came to relationships.

"This is a decision that your grandmother and I made together. Are you willing to reject me? Are you willing to reject your grandmother?" Nataly still refused to give up.

"I know you all love me, but I'm fine by myself. Even if you don't take me as your goddaughter, I have long seen you as my family."

"My appearance will only make things difficult for Kingston and worry Ms. Hardin. (This novel will be daily updaed at)Since we got a divorce, we should be determined not to interfere with each other's life. It's good for him and me. Mrs. Irwin ... I appreciate your kindness."

She stood up and bowed ninety degrees solemnly.

She wanted to thank her for taking care of her for a year. She was very grateful. –

Seeing her so sensible, Nataly felt even sadder.

"If so, I respect your decision."

Nataly wanted to keep her for dinner, but she refused.

The place was not far from downtown, so she meant to walk back home.

Unexpectedly, not long after, Kingston drove out and stopped beside her.

"Get in the car."

It was an order.

She wanted to refuse, but ... changed her mind on second thought.

She sat in the back to keep a distance from him.

The car fell into a deathly silence.

When they arrived at her destination, she got out of the car and thought of something and said, (This novel will be daily updaed at)"Do you want your parents to make up for a wedding
