

The Divorced Billionaire Heiress Boss Chapter 1809

Chapter 1809 Going to the Wrong Bathroom

Nicole took her phone and went out. She did not want to go to the bathroom in the private room and wanted to go outside to get some air. Thus, she simply took her bag and went out. When Nicole passed by the private room next door, she heard low laughter coming from inside, but she could not hear Clayton's voice.

J. Soon, Nicole came out of the bathroom. There was a window once she turned the corner. It was dark and dreary outside. Silence and noise coexisted. After staying there for a while, Nicole took out her phone. Clayton did not send 100 2000 another message to her. Nicole breathed a sigh of relief and prepared to go out. At that moment, she heard a familiar female voice screaming. "I'm sorry! I didn't mean to.

I didn't know that this was the men's bathroom) S. Nicole raised her eyebrows. Wow, how intriguing! That delicate girl went to the wrong bathroom? Nicole thought that Ian had left with the girl long ago. Did Ian not find that girl? Nicole thought that the girl might get into trouble, so she simply took out her phone, intending to tell Ian about it. oc In the next second, Nicole froze when she OO looo heard a man's voice. "It's okay. The women's bathroom is right across from here." Surprisingly, that was Clayton's voice. Nicole did not expect that this show was related to her husband. She was repulsed and felt suffocated.

C Nicole stopped in her tracks and thought that it was best not to go out. She thought that the girl would leave hastily, but that girl spoke hesitantly. "I... I'm lost. Can you please walk me out, sir?" Nicole could already imagine that girl's face from her cautious but expectant tone. It was just that she suddenly felt a little strange in her heart. Nicole was used to Clayton's tenderness and thoughtfulness.

She had never seen so Moog another woman around Clayton. Not to mention, they had never quarreled over another woman before. Without Nicole, Clayton would certainly be an eligible bachelor. Unfortunately, Nicole's existence deterred many women from pursuing Clayton. Nicole was a little curious about how Clayton would respond to that girl. Clayton's tone was cold and detached. His voice was dull.

"Sorry, you can look for an attendant if you need anything. I need to pick up my wife..." That delicate girl sounded miserable. "You... You're married?" Nicole sneered in her heart and thought, 'Can't she see the wedding ring on Clayton's finger?' I Clayton replied, "Yes." His answer was brief as he did not want to interact with that girl anymore. Thus far, Nicole was satisfied with Clayton's response. However, that girl still did not give up. "I don't mean anything else.

I just can't find my companion. Can you please just walk me to the door? It won't take too long." 1) This noble and reserved man in front of her was far better than all the trust fund kids that she had met. If that girl could get her hands on such a man, she would not need to worry about a thing in her life. During the few minutes' walk downstairs, she would seize the opportunity and show her weakness.

DO pooo What man would not be swayed by a OOO meek woman? So what if this man was married? It was still possible to get a divorce. If she had a chance, she would definitely be able to cling to him. The air was silent for a moment. Nicole blinked and finally understood what kind of person that girl was, a two-faced b*tch. Nicole looked down and sent a message to Da Ian. When she put down her phone, Nicole heard Clayton's calm and cold voice.

"I can earn tens of millions of dollars a minute. If I walk you out, how many minutes will that take? Can you afford to pay for my time?" J Nicole froze and could not help but chuckle. Boc pooos She loved this money-minded Clayton. Just as Nicole walked out, she heard Ian running over O "Why are you here? Are you standing in the men's bathroom trying to fish for a sugar daddy?"
