

Chapter 93

At this moment, everyone understood that Scarlett and Vanessa had

At the same time, Scarlett had also changed her mind, thinking that the mysterious person no matter what. Even if they refused, the Collins family. Therefore, it was better to show their willingness instead of letting the

This way, even if they were to return safely, her selfless decision to protect the Collins family would make the Collins family feel guilty and distressed. Then, her position in the Collins family

Once she planned all of this, she pulled Vanessa's fingers under the table, not worrying and just leave everything to her.

After that, she put up a pitiful and gentle look as she told everyone with the gentleman. Please don't worry about us. Since my father passed away, I have no relatives in this world. As the Collins' daughter-in-law, I should contribute. Sure enough, Scarlett's righteous words had improved her image in the felt even guiltier. After all, no one had foreseen the uninvited guest's visit. He had to get away!

Although Ralph had stated politely on the surface, everyone knew that he had driven the Wilkinsons away unlawfully.

Looking at the kind Scarlett who was wronged, Julian felt guilty and could not guarantee their safety?"

At his words, Ralph sneered and said, "Do you think that their lives are at risk? I can't even feel your sincerity!" At the same time, he was angry at Scarlett's acting. After all, he hated such pretentious women.

When she heard what he said, Scarlett's smile froze. When she tried to speak, she ran out of chance and interrupted coldly, "... My time is precious, so stop talking." In fact, what he didn't say was "that person's" time was even more precious. Forcibly suppressing the anger in her heart, Scarlett understood clearly that she had to get away, so she only put up a smile.

Then, she looked at Julian with reluctant eyes in order to make him feel that she was best at putting up such pitiful trick.

In the car.

As Scarlett and Vanessa sat in the back seat, their hands were tightly

Where on earth was this man going to take them?

Unfortunately, they couldn't even see the scene outside of the window.

"Why is this person so mysterious? Is he taking us to some unknown place? How can we see where we're going?" Scarlett thought.

At this point, Scarlett's whole body turned cold due to fear.

When the car finally stopped, she felt her heart was about to jump out of her chest.

Once their blindfolds were taken off, two scripts were unexpectedly thrust into their hands.

"Before you go in, read all of these carefully. After meeting that person, only say what the script had written. Don't you dare say anything unwritten! And don't try to cause any troubles, I assure you, not only I'll take back everything you said, but I'll also make sure you're never seen again."

be a dozen times severe! I'll make sure you'll live a life worse than death with a smile, the expression on Ralph's face was only terrifying.

Hearing his words, Scarlett looked at the script in her hand in disbelief.

"What the hell is going on here?"

Why did she feel as if she was asked to come to act?

What was the real reason to all of this?

Although they were puzzled, they had no choice but to read the whole script.

Moreover, they were only allowed to get out of the car after being tested.

Once they got out of the car, they were shocked to see the amazing exterior.

In fact, this place was too beautiful, as if it was a paradise. More importantly, the exterior of a huge villa, the person they were going to meet must be first-class.

When they were brought into the property, they were more stunned to see a royal garden.

Along the way, all the servants they met were well-disciplined and new.

Once they stepped into the villa, they were completely stunned by the bodies became stiff. They walked cautiously and didn't even dare to b
In fact, they had seen a lot of gorgeous houses in the past, but this pla
When they were brought to the living room, they didn't even dare to sit had left without saying anything.

At this moment, Vanessa kept looking around and couldn't help but be surrounding.

To be honest, in this villa, even an ordinary vase, a carpet or a chandel she could just take one of these back and showed it to the noble ladies of her.

Tugging her daughter, Vanessa couldn't help whispering, "My dear dau place? Everything looks so magnificent! Say... how good it'll be if we c laughing in my dream!"

rich! Compared to the Collins, this place was a dozen times better!

Upon seeing the marvelous layout, her heart was racing in excitement here too!"