

This Time, I Will Get My Divorce, Mr Chapter 784

After Toby heard Sonia's words, his pupils contracted slightly. "You..."

It turned out that she was ecstatic just because she had done something for him. She's such an easy person to please!

Toby felt warmth rising in his heart. Looking at her, his Adam's apple bobbed a few times and his voice was low and hoarse as he clarified, "Are you really that happy?"

"Yeah." Sonia nodded. "Of course I'm happy. Through this way, I know that I am not only someone who is helped by you, but I can also help you in turn. A relationship goes both ways, right?"

She raised her head and met his inky eyes, which darkened even more. "It goes both ways..."

He repeated these four words over and over.

Sonia tilted her head. "What's wrong with that?"

Toby shook his head. "No, it's nothing. It sounds good. I like it very much."

A smiling Sonia replied, "A relationship that goes both ways is one that is the sincerest and touching. In our current relationship, you have always given me more and I can see that. Yet, I didn't know how to help you, which makes me feel that the relationship is a little unbalanced. I always feel that you keep giving to me all the time. I seem to owe you too much, so I have been thinking, what should I do? How can I make up to you? Since you don't lack anything and don't need me to do anything, I've always been helpless, but now, I finally had the chance to do something for you. This makes me feel better."

She patted her chest, her eyes filled with happiness.

He looked at her for a while, then suddenly pushed her down on the sofa.

A startled Sonia stared at the man with wide eyes. "Toby, you..."

Before she could finish her words, her red lips were caught in a kiss by the man.

"Mmm..." She hummed at first, but in the next second, the tip of the man's tongue made its way into her mouth and danced with her tongue.

Toby's kiss had been sudden, but it was also fierce and passionate. Sonia couldn't stand it at all and her whole body became soft after being kissed by him. Losing her strength, she finally wrapped her arms around his neck and lost herself in the kiss. She probably knew why he wanted to kiss her at this time. It was because he was moved by what she had said earlier.

This was how this man was like. Once he felt moved, he would use actions to prove how excited he was at that moment. After all, such a moving thing could not be described with words. Therefore, expressing it with actions was the most appropriate move at the moment, and it was also the best one that could illustrate his happiness to her.

Sonia was also quite amused that he was this elated because she had only recorded some evidence and said a few words. Toby was already a 30-year-old man, yet he was still quite pure in certain areas.

Her hands around the man's neck tightened slightly, and when he felt her encouragement, he deepened the kiss even more. For some time, the situation in the huge office was intense as they became entangled with each other.

After a long time, Toby released Sonia's lips and kissed her neck instead. Gradually, there were fewer and fewer pieces of clothing left on her body while he was only left with a thin shirt. All of a sudden, there was a knock on the door of the office.

This knock on the door was like a basin of cold water that was poured on the couple who was still entwined with each other. At that, they instantly sobered up and regained their senses.

Sonia then remembered that Tom had gone to order lunch for them. After calculating the time, she realized it was almost time for the man to return with the dishes. With a blush, she immediately pushed Toby away from her and sat up.

When Toby felt her abrupt push, his eyes widened as he looked at her with disbelief, feeling unhappy that she suddenly pushed him away like that.

She glanced at him, panting slightly. "Okay, stop it. It should be Tom, so go and open the door."

While ruffling through her messy hair, she collected the clothes on the floor beside the sofa and proceeded to wear them.

She knew that Toby liked to kiss her when he was happy. As a girlfriend, she was also willing to satisfy her boyfriend. However, since the beginning, she had obviously just wanted to kiss him, and didn't plan to do anything more.

In the end... The expression on Sonia's face was indescribable when she found out that almost all her clothes were stripped off by him.

Why are men always so into sex?

Toby's eyes were still dark from emotion while his cheeks were reddish and his aura was domineering. His figure exuded a sense of masculinity that made women crazy. Since Sonia was just an ordinary woman, she would naturally be attracted to such a man and finally indulged in passion with him.

So, at that time, she was so dazzled by Toby's sexy appearance that she forgot that this was his office, and there would be people coming later.

Fortunately, they had not proceeded to the next stage. If they did so and suddenly someone knocked on the door, it would be the worst anticlimax. For her, it was fine as she was a woman whereas as a man, he would definitely be more hurt and it would be easy for him to feel upset.

Sonia felt her eyes burning, and she quickly turned away, her heart beating fast. Nothing is wrong, right?

Toby didn't know what Sonia was thinking. He bent down and picked up the tie and suit jacket on the floor. However, he didn't wear his tie and merely wore his jacket.

After wearing it, he frowned while tidying up his collar and cuffs, then said in a deep voice, "He came just in time, didn't he?"

His tone was full of displeasure. Obviously, he was annoyed that Tom arrived at this time.

After all, they were about to have sex, and now that someone had interrupted them so suddenly, no one would be happy about it.

Sonia looked at his dark, handsome face that was unhappy before she covered her mouth and smiled. Next, she stood up and ruffled his hair. "Okay, don't complain anymore. I'll just satisfy you tonight, okay?"

Hearing this, Toby was stunned for a moment, then suddenly raised his eyes to look at her, with a gleam in them. Seeing his expression, Sonia began to blush even more. She turned her face to the other side and pushed him forward thereafter. "Go and quickly open the door."

Toby knew that she was shy, so he didn't ask whether what she said was true. After all, she must be serious since she was already shy.

The gloomy expression on his face disappeared in an instant and his mood completely improved.

"I'm going to open the door." He walked toward the door with a brisk pace.

It was clear that what she said made him much happier.

Sonia shook her head with a laugh, then quickly got off the sofa and sat upright. Next, she took the teacup in front of her and sipped the already cold black tea. Her movements were elegant and beautiful, and she didn't look panicked at all. It was as if everything that happened before where she hurriedly pushed Toby away in a panic upon the knock on the door was just an illusion.