

Found Pregnant After Divorce by Emiissmx Chapter 251

Chapter 251 Meeting Aracely

Unable to contact the outside world, she stayed at home and drew on a graphics tablet.

Kingston asked Aracely to accompany her so that she wouldn't be so bored.

When Kingston told it to her, she was extremely happy. But she didn't want to show it in front of him and tried hard to hold back her happiness.

She was so excited that she didn't sleep well that night. She woke up early the next day and waited for Aracely.

Aracely arrived. The moment she was about to get off the car, she was stopped by Kingston.

“This is for you.”

A large package of desserts.

All freshly baked pastries in a variety of flavors.

The most eye-catching one was a delicate pastry, which was made like flowers.

“This...”

“Take it. Krista loves desserts. You tell Krista you bought for her.

Aracely nodded.

She could not understand Kingston. She thought that Kingston was the one who caused the crisis of the securities company. But she carefully studied the accounts.

Aracely was a top student in the finance department. After two days of investigation, she found that the accounts had many problems. But on one had checked the accounts under the control of her family.

When the company ran out of cash, they could only use the investors' money to make up for it. So, the situation became serious.

Aracely guessed that Kingston must have done something.

He added fuel to the fire and accelerated the crisis.

It was a question of time. The crisis would hit one day.

But Kingston was willing to help her.

The Irwin Group's legal department had never failed before.

She suddenly understood Kingston's good intentions.

He just wanted to use this to keep Krista.

“Mr. Irwin, can I ask you a question?”

“Just say it,” Kingston said coldly.

“What do you think of your feelings for Krista? Four years ago, I thought that you had never loved her. So even now, I can’t understand some of your actions. What is your purpose?”

This might be where Kingston failed the most.

He loved Krista, but he hid his love so carefully that nobody knew it.

“I will marry her.”

Kingston said with determination.

“Let me tell you the truth. Lance is no longer the same as before. He is the only bloodline of the Lamb family. The Lamb family is also one of the great families in Phelan City and may even compete with the Irwin Group. No matter how you compete with him, the one who will suffer in the end will be Krista.”

“Since ... You thought that Krista was dead, why don’t you continue like this? This is good for you and Krista.”

“It’s not good for me. I only want Krista.”

Kingston suddenly became serious and looked at her coldly.

Kingston knew Aracely was Krista’s best friend and stayed by her side when Krista was in the most pain.

Otherwise, just since Aracely hid Krista’s news, and even matched Krista with Lance, Kingston would have made her meet a bad end.

Aracely didn't dare to say anything more and quickly shut up and got out of the car.

“You're here!” See Aracely, Krista pulled her hand happily and ignored Kingston. “Did this lunatic go hard with you? Is the company okay? Do your parents live well?”

Krista asked her many questions, making Aracely not know which to answer.

Answer

“Everything is fine. Don't worry. I am almost done with those problems. As for you ... you look thinner. Do you eat or sleep well here? Kingston ... What does Kingston do to you?”

Aracely asked nervously.

Found Pregnant After Divorce by Emiissmx Chapter 252

Chapter 252 I Can Understand Him

“I'm bored here. You grounded me, and I can't call anyone. There's nothing else I can do except for watching TV and painting all day”

“These are for you. I know it's tough, and you can't do what you want. So, I bring your favorite food.”

Aracely was grateful for Kingston because he pulled Aracely out of the family issues. So stick to the facts, Aracely would accept his offer.

Actually, the Irwin family's chefs were good but not as good as those outside the house.

It was not about the taste but the smell of freedom.

Krista opened the box and saw some delicate pastries that Kingston had once brought her.

But she didn't have doubts somehow. Krista guessed that Aracely might go to the same dessert shop.

She took a bite and found it amazing, so she had two more.

Krista and Aracely had a girls' talk in the guest room. "By the way, did you contact Mr. Hamm?" Krista asked nervously. Lance was the only person who could save them.

"Yes... Aracely stuttered.

Then she fell silent.

Krista noticed Aracely's subtle expression. Aracely was hiding something, so Krista got anxious. "Could it be possible that Lance was in trouble? Otherwise, it won't take him that long to reach us. It has been almost a week!

Krista couldn't stop thinking. Does something bad happen to Lance? Is it a trap or an accident? Will he be alright?"

"It is not like this..."

"Then what is that? Tell me everything!!"

Krista was anxious and almost ready to cry. She got those red rabbit eyes.

Aracely said helplessly, “Lance is fine, but he didn’t do anything.”

“What?”

Her heart skipped a beat.

‘What does it mean?’ Krista wondered.

“Does he know that Kingston locked me up?”

“Yes, he got the news a few days ago. I’ve been waiting for him these days, but it’s pretty surprising that he didn’t show up. He seems to be stuck into something else.”

Aracely wasn’t in the position to defend Lance because Lance made a huge mistake. He didn’t do anything even if another man kidnapped his fiancée.

Krista was almost nothing compared to family interests.

It was an invisible competition, but everyone knew who the winner was.

Krista suddenly turned pale, and there was a faraway look on her face.

Her eyes were wide open and empty, and she was at a loss for words.

“Krista, are you alright?” Aracely looked at her worriedly and kept comforting her. “He’s making business with the royal family, which is very important. Otherwise, Mr. Hamm would have visited Brittany’s grave with you. He isn’t nobody anymore, so he has to take in the big picture.”

in “I bet Lance must be burning with anxiety right now. He is trying his best to finish the jobs and run to you.”

Krista remained silent. Aracely didn’t know if Krista was here with her.

ner senses and said witi mile, “It’s okay. I can understand him. Kingston didn’t harm met

Aracely showed sympathy at Kristal

At this moment, Krista was more like an abandoned doll. Aracely understood Krista. No one could laugh it off if they faced the same situation.

Found Pregnant After Divorce by Emiissmx Chapter 253

Chapter 253 Drunkenness

“Let’s forget about him. What do you want to eat? How about...hotpot? It’s cold. I’ll ask the kitchen to prepare the food.”

Aracely was relieved to see Krista change the subject, so she agreed with Krista.

They had hotpot for lunch, and they enjoyed the lunchtime without Kingston here.

“How could a nice meal go without good wine? I’ll pick one on Kingston’s cabinet.”

“You’d better not. What if Kingston gets angry...”

“Well, he won’t,” Krista said confidently.

Kingston wasn’t angry, even if Krista had been whining a lot over the past few days.

So, Kingston wouldn’t be apt to get angry over such a trifle.

Krista was desperate to drink.

She couldn’t get rid of the feeling... and she knew what it was like to be abandoned.

Her father abandoned her when Krista was little.

Her mother died when she grew up a bit

Lance abandoned her after getting married.

And Brittany left her in the end,

Lance didn’t come to save Krista when their relationship was getting better. She wanted to complain or make a fuss, but it seemed that nobody cared.

Anyway, Krista wasn’t that kind of crybaby.

Lance didn't do it on purpose. Krista could understand that he worked so hard every day, so she had to be considerate.

'If I whine about such a small matter...' Krista thought.

'It will be embarrassing!

But her emotion was fighting against clear reasoning. Krista was sad, and it was kind of like a tragic stone in her throat.

She wanted to drink the wine straight down and pretend that nothing had happened.

She took a bottle of good wine and chewed the fat with Aracely.

"It's a good beef, so we should eat more and eat him out of house and home."

"This! This and this! All of them were of top quality. You should take it back to your dad, and I guess old people like to drink. So, take them all!"

Krista was drunk. She started to pack up all kinds of things.

She packed a box of wine and almost raided Kingston's entire wine rack.

The servants were stunned, but no one dared to stop her.

Kingston told them not to piss off Krista.

As long as she didn't run away, Krista could do anything but hurt herself,

“Oh! This one! Who paints this ...? Well, who cares? It’s priceless. Look at the house, and things here are valuable. You have to rob the rich to feed the poor.”

Then Krista stepped on a stool and tried her best to pull down the famous painting on the wall.

Kingston had been treating Krista so badly, so she wanted to take revenge on Kingston.

This was the first step.

“Krista...”

Aracely was pretty nervous when she saw Krista climb up on the stool. Suddenly, a man rushed forward to support Krista, helping her to get the painting.

The person was Kingston. Aracely wanted to tell Krista, but she swallowed it.

Krista was drunk and dizzy, so she suddenly stumbled over the stool and fell.

Kingston’s arms had recovered, so he caught Krista from behind.

Krista was scared out of the shit and awake in the blink of an eye.

When she saw Kingston, Krista quickly stood up, hid behind Aracely, and lowered her head.

She thought, ‘Oh my god. I’m bust. I’m doomed.’”

“Do you want to get that painting?”

“Well, no. I don’t want it anymore.”

Krista mumbled and fiddled with her fingers, avoiding Kingston’s eye contact.

Found Pregnant After Divorce by Emiissmx Chapter 254

Chapter 254 They Don’t Suit Her

At this moment, Kingston stretched out his hand and took down the painting that Krista failed to.

He handed it directly to Aracely. “Take it.”

“Mr... Mr. Irwin, I can’t.”

“You can take whatever she wants to give you. Krista, is there anything else you want to give her?”

“The... the wine ... Uncle likes drinking. I want him to taste it.”

Krista became bolder and kicked the paper box next to her. There were several bottles of Robert Mondavi inside.

“Alright. I’ll have the driver help you carry it.”

“Really? You ... you’re not angry?”

Krista’s spirits soared and she looked at him in shock.

Kingston remained calm and Krista was happy at that.

*Then can I give her more?”

“Sure, what do you want?”

“Clothes. You’ve bought me a lot of clothes which are too many for me. Aracely is about the same size as me in clothes, so they also suit her!”

She excitedly went back to her room and took out a lot of clothes. They were all custom-made for her, but Krista never put them on.

If she did, she would know that they didn’t suit Aracely at all.

“They don’t,” Kingston said in affirmation.

“Why? We take the similar size!”

“Don’t you know you’re small-breasted?”

Krista was speechless.

She flushed, and Aracely almost laughed out at Krista’s side.

Krista’s breast was much smaller than hers.

“Alright, Krista. This is enough. I have to go. My mother is still waiting for me at home. Since she was discharged from the hospital, she’s been dependent on me.”

“You have to go now?”

Krista looked at her somewhat reluctantly.

She had only been here for hours.

Aracely had planned to leave after dinner, but Kingston came back earlier. It seemed to be improper for her to stay any longer.

Moreover, since Krista was too drunk to talk to her, it would be better for her to have a good rest.

“Yes. I’ll see you later. Mr. Irwin, can I?”

She looked at Kingston and made it clear.

It depended on Kingston.

Krista stared at him expectantly with her watery eyes.

She was befuddled by drink and was somewhat friendly to him.

She didn’t want to be locked in here. If Aracely could see her often, she would be much happier.

Seeing that Kingston pursed his lips and hesitated, she was anxious and quickly ran over, pulling and shaking the corner of his sleeves carefully.

“I’m always locked in here and you tend to be out. Besides, the servants don’t talk to me...”

Before she finished speaking, Kingston raised his eyebrows.

“Then from now on, I will work at home and be with you all the time.”

“Forget it. You’re upsetting me.”

“Well, I can promise you. But when she can come depends on your performance.” .

“Really?”

Krista was so overjoyed.

She hugged Aracely and said, “It’s so great that you can come to see me. I will behave myself.”

“Krista, take good care of yourself. I have to go. Mr. Irwin, please.”

She bowed slightly to Kingston, wishing him to be good to Krista.

She didn’t know what their relationship would end in and only hoped that Krista wouldn’t be wronged here.

Found Pregnant After Divorce by Emiissmx Chapter 255

Chapter 255 She Was Abandoned Twice

It seemed that Kingston didn’t want to make her aggrieved.

Kingston nodded slightly, agreeing to her request.

Even if Aracely didn’t mention it, he would treat Krista well.

Naturally, Kingston would spoil the woman he loved.

He asked someone to send Aracely away, while Krista stood in front of the iron door, tears streaming down her face.

But when she saw that the painting and wine were being brought into the car, she heaved a sigh of relief.

Krista was sad about Aracely's leaving. She came back with her head drooping and swaying.

Kingston followed her to prevent her from falling.

Unfortunately, she tripped over the carpet when she went upstairs and rushed forward. Kingston immediately grabbed her arm and pulled her into his arms.

Krista rubbed her sore nose. Her eyes were red and she felt wronged.

“It hurts so much.”

She said with a pitiful look, “You are really an unlucky guy. Nothing good happened to me after being with you...”

Before Krista could finish her sentence, Kingston said coldly, “Then I'll ask someone to bring back all the things you sent.”

“Please don't. Why are you so petty? A man should be magnanimous. Please don't haggle with me, OK?”

Krista stroked his chest and tried to comfort him.

Kingston enjoyed her flattery, and his heart became softened.

Why is she so cute even after drinking and being sick?

“Are you dizzy?”

Kingston knocked on her head.

“Yes, I feel so dizzy. Everything around me is spinning, including you.”

She pointed at his head, unexpectedly, suddenly she was picked up by him.

“You...”

Krista struggled in a panic but heard Kingston’s impolite threat.

“If you fall again, you will feel pain for a few days.”

“No, I’m afraid of pain...”

She muttered, her voice filled with unspeakable pity, which looked quite pathetic.

She buried her head in her arms, her whole body feeling weak as if this sentence had hurt her.

What she felt was not the pain of her body, but the pain in her heart.

The pain of being abandoned several times was an extremely miserable experience.

“I’ll ask them to prepare the hangover soup for you,” Kingston said as he brought her back to her room.

Kingston was about to leave but was held onto the corner of his shirt tightly.

“Why didn’t he come to save me? Am I not important to him?”

Krista’s eyes were bloodshot as she raised her head to look at Kingston.

This gaze made him hurt in his heart, causing his breathing to tremble.

He suddenly regretted it.

Kingston deliberately arranged the meeting between Aracely and her to prove that Lance did not care about her at all.

Lance’s fiancée was taken away by other men and locked up at home day and night, but he did nothing.

Krista racked her brains to think of a way to escape, to seek death, or to assassinate.

She tried tirelessly because she knew that Lance was also worried about her and might have tried very hard to save her.

But she never expected...

There was no response outside.

Lance was busy with his own business and it seemed that she was not important.

Mr. Hamm was not like this in the past, but since someday, he cared more about the Lamb Group.

“He doesn’t need you, but I need you.”

“You are a liar, too. The person who abandoned me first was you!”

When she thought of this, she felt even more aggrieved. She had actually been mercilessly abandoned by this man twice.

Found Pregnant After Divorce by Emiissmx Chapter 256

Chapter 256 Jack

Was she not worthy of having love?

Otherwise, why would they treat her like this?

When Krista heard what she said, his breathing tightened.

“I’m sorry, Krista.”

When Krista heard his solemn apology, she was dazed.

She didn’t expect that Kingston would apologize to her.

Did he think that he was wrong?

“You... Did you drink too much?”

She raised her hand in surprise and touched his forehead.

Now that she had put down all her vigilance, she was much more intimate and bold than usual when she was treating Krista.

If it was when she was awake, she would never let Kingston approach her.

Krista was amused by her childish actions and reached out to touch her head.

She was a little annoyed and slapped him away. She said, “Don’t touch my head! I’m no longer a child.”

She was unhappy.

Krista, don’t miss Lance! Stay with me and I will take good care of you. I can make up for you!”

I don’t want it. I’ll never be with someone I missed! She said firmly.

“It doesn’t matter. You will be mine.”

Krista was so languid that she just wanted to sleep.

She curled up into a ball. It was obvious that she was in pain in her sleep.

*Don’t leave me. Don’t leave me, please...”

Krista was watching her, and his heart tightened when he heard her talking in her sleep.

He looked at her quietly, with his heart ached slightly.

He wanted to grab Lance and assail him. Didn’t he boast that he loved her very much? Why did he desert her for the Lamb Group? Why did Lance make his mistake back then?

Did he know that many feelings disappeared in hesitation?

Krista had been unconscious for the entire afternoon. When she woke up, her head hurt.

She went downstairs to drink water but found that the wall of the living room was bare.

What's wrong with this wall? I remember there was an oil painting hanging on the wall. Where is the painting?"

When the servant heard what Krista said, she wanted to roll her eyes.

"Ms. Compton, the painting is sent to others by you."

"Sent to others? Who did I send it to?"

"Miss Ortiz."

"My god! What else did I do?"

Krista was dumbfounded. The servant told her everything.

She was alarmed and felt that she was courting death.

Fortunately, Kingston did not find trouble with her. Otherwise, things would be worse.

Perhaps it was due to a guilty conscience, or perhaps it was because she wanted to curry favor with Kingston, she wanted to ask Aracely to come a few more times.

She didn't become too stiff with Kingston. She obeyed all that he required. She was as obedient as a little sheep.

The next day, just as they were having lunch, Kingston's phone rang. His expression suddenly turned ugly when he answered it.

She asked curiously, "What happened?"

*Jack is sick. I want to take a look at him.*

Kingston immediately stood up and stopped eating.

Jack was his son.

After Sandra died, Jack was raised by his parents. After coming here for so long, Krista had never heard Kingston mention his son voluntarily

She was curious about what his son looked like. Kingston was so tall and handsome, and his son must look like him, right?

"Then go quickly. The child is more important."

She hurriedly urged him.

Kingston nodded and immediately drove to his parents.

When Nataly saw that Kingston had arrived, she finally reacted.

"You're finally here. Quick, take a look at Jack. He was fine yesterday, but he had a high fever this morning."

Kingston looked at Jack who was on the bed. Jack was unconscious, with his face flushed red.

"How could this be?"

Found Pregnant After Divorce by Emiissmx Chapter 257

Chapter 257 You Are Back!

“I don’t know either. It’s cold now, and the windows are all closed. And he has also worn enough clothes. He suddenly fell ill. The doctor who has come over said that he is too young, so he doesn’t have sufficient antibodies. The doctor also doesn’t know when he will recover.”

Nataly was so anxious that she cried. Jack was the only heir of the Feng Family.

She knew Kingston wouldn’t have another child in such a state. So she could only try her best to ensure that Jack could grow up safely so that he could inherit the family business.

If anything happened to Jack, Nataly would refuse to live as well.

“I know you’ve tried your best. I will take care of him. I will stay here for some days. You can have a relax. Don’t tire yourself up.”

“If you have a wife who could help you take care of Jack, it would be better for Jack.”

Nataly couldn’t help but try to persuade Kingston as usual.

If it was in the past, Kingston would definitely frown and reject impatiently.

But this time, he hesitated a little and looked at Jack with concern, “He will have a new mother.”

“What ... what do you mean by that? Do you mean that you are preparing for a new life? I will immediately arrange it for you. I will help you find the best...”

“Mom, you don’t have to worry about this. I’ve already had an idea.”

Nataly was very happy when she heard this. It meant that Kingston had already had a candidate. It was good news for her.

“Then ... Will she accept Jack?”

“Yes, mother, don’t worry.”

Kingston believed that Krista would not vent her anger on Jack just because of Sandra. He also believed that Krista who was kind-hearted would accept Jack.

After Nataly left, Kingston was left in the room with Jack.

He looked at the kid on the bed. Other kids at his age were all strong and chubby. Yet Jack had always been thin. The kid had always had coldness in his eyes. It seemed that he didn’t like anyone.

He didn’t like to talk or make friends, and he had always played by himself.

He would finish his legos quickly while it would take other kids several days.

And he had no problem understanding primary school courses when he was in kindergarten.

Nataly said that like father, like son. Jack looked and behaved just like Kingston.

When Kingston heard this, he had a mixed feeling of happiness and sadness.

He knew Jack's feelings, and he hoped that Jack could grow up safely and happily instead of being cultivated into a perfect heir at an early age.

But he was not a good father.

He did not know how to get along with this child all these years for his grudge against Sandra and the guilt he felt towards Krista.

So he seldom met with Jack in the past four years.

Even if they met, he was cold and indifferent to Jack. They would just stare at each other without saying anything when they met.

However, Jack was his son after all. He would also feel sorry and blame himself when he saw Jack weak like this.

Kingston stayed at his bedside, fondling his little face.

“Don't be afraid. Daddy is here.”

Not seeing Kingston for two days, Krista could not help but worry about Jack as well.

If Jack just had a common headache or fever, Kingston would have returned long ago. But it had been two days now.

She realized that the grudges between adults had nothing to do with kids. Furthermore, Jack was the only heir of the Irwin family. He had shouldered a lot of responsibilities.

She was having dinner absent-mindedly when she suddenly heard the car horn outside. Her heart trembled, and she quickly ran over. She even lost her slippers, so stood on the carpet barefooted.

“You’re back!”

She heaved a sigh of relief when she saw Kingston.

Found Pregnant After Divorce by Emi issmx Chapter 258

Chapter 258 Can I Hug You?

His face was drawn and sorrowful.

His sunken, bloodshot eyes said that he had a poor sleep quality.

Kingston was a clean freak and usually shaved, but there were stubbles on his chin this day.

He didn’t expect to see Krista home, and at this moment, he felt like living in a dream.

In his dream, he was the husband who came home late, and Krista was his sweet wife who waited for him at home,

His cute little wife rushed to the door when he came home.

Suddenly, Kingston hugged Krista.

It put Krista in a fluster.

‘What’s wrong with him?’ Krista thought.

She tried to pull herself off Kingston, but a weak whisper came into her ears, “Please don’t. Just give me a bit more time. Okay?”

Then Krista stopped struggling.

She guessed Kingston might be exhausted because she could feel his weight come off on her. He must fall without Krista’s support.

Finally, she yielded and asked gently, “How’s Jack?”

“He’s fine.”

“That’d be nice. Kids at his age need parents... well... your company.”

“Okay. I’m just tired. Krista, can you walk me to my room?”

“Well...okay.”

Krista agreed, supporting him back to his room.

It was her second time in his room.

She laid him on the bed and was about to leave, but someone grasped her hand.

“Stay with me for a while.”

“L...I think we are square.”

“Just sit by me. Okay?”

His voice was gentle and clear, as pleasant as ever.

Kingston looked intently at her, his eyes flickering with anticipation.

He looked like begging.

Krista couldn't resist a charming man's beg.

At this moment, Krista thought of Aracely and felt a bit guilty while thinking of those valuable paintings she let Aracely take away the last time.

So, she took the opportunity to offer him a deal. “Then how about this? Can you invite Aracely over tomorrow?”

Kingston hesitated for a moment and nodded.

“Deal.”

“Then, do you want a talk?”

“What? Do you still want something?”

He realized Krista was up to something.

When Kingston saw through her plan, Krista was embarrassed, blushing.

But she had to shamelessly argue, “You said that you only needed me for a while. If you want other services, of course, you will offer me something else.”

“Okay, but I call the shots. What do you want next?” Kingston asked.

“I ... I want to go out for a walk. I’ve been locked up for almost a week, and I’m going to be sick from boredom! It’s terrible!”

“You can if you promise to stay overnight.”

“What? A whole night?”

“It’s a tough job to take care of sick children. I’m exhausted, and the only thing I want is to catch some sleep. How about you stay here overnight and talk to me?”

“Then I will free you and even let Aracely take you out. But you have to come back.”

Krista found it a tempting offer.

‘How could I resist it? Aracely can take me out! When the time comes, we can discuss how to escape here.’ Krista thought.

Found Pregnant After Divorce by Emiissmx Chapter 259

Chapter 259 Did You Do That?

Krista was secretly thinking of her getaway plan.

Her black eyes rolled briskly and finally said, “A deal is a deal. Let’s do it.”

She had decided to sleep on the sofa after Kingston fell asleep.

Krista knew Kingston wouldn’t do anything rude to her. Otherwise, he would have done it during this week. For him, Krista was like a bird in the cage.

Although he was vile for imprisoning Krista, Kingston was almost perfect.

“Why don’t we talk about how you’ve been in the past four years? I want to learn about it.”

Although Kingston had already done a rough investigation, he would like to hear it from Krista personally.

Krista put it simply. In the past four years, she put all her efforts into studying. She was like a dry sponge, frantically absorbing knowledge.

“Did you hold hands with Lance?” Kingston suddenly asked.

Krista surprisingly froze for a moment.

“Why are you asking this?”

“I want an answer.”

Kingston looked at her calmly, making Krista confused.

“You better be honest. Otherwise, I will change my mind. Don’t you want to go out?”

“Yes...we did.”

“Have you kissed him?”

“Well, yes.”

“How?”

Kingston sounded cold, giving Krista the cold shoulder.

In an instant, the room turned very chilly.

“Well...it’s weird.”

“Is it like this or this?”

Kingston suddenly sat up straight, wrapped around her neck, kissed her on the lips.

At first, it was a simple, light touch of the lips, and their lips were closed.

Krista thought it was the end of...

But in the next second, Kingston’s tongue nimbly pried open her lips and teeth.

One was a shallow peck.

The other one was a French kiss.

Kingston wondered which one Krista once tried with Lance.

Kingston didn't push too much, backing away.

“You are a jerk!”

Krista came back to her senses. She covered her mouth with one hand and slapped him with the other.

It was loud and clear.

The red mark of her hand showed plainly on his tired white face.

Krista was stunned. She didn't expect Kingston to take her hit.

She swallowed hard, her fingers trembling. “Well, it isn't my fault. It was you ... you went rogue first!”

“Oh, by the way, you can't stop me from going out because of this. Well, Kingston ... calm down!”

Kingston let out a breath and looked up at her indifferently.

He lay on the bed with his eyes closed. He ignored Krista and continued, “Which one?”

‘How could he still think about this topic? Does it matter?’ Krista wondered.

“Well...the former...”

Krista looked abashed, blushing.

She couldn't do anything intimate with Lance and didn't know the reason. It seemed like something inside her resisted this impulse.

Kingston furrowed his brows because he was jealous, even if it was just a peck.

“Then did you do that?”

“What?”

“Oh? Don't play dumb with me. Or you want a demonstration?”

Kingston opened his eyes and glared at her unhappily. “Well, I don't mind if you want.”

Krista finally figured it out, and her face turned red as if all the blood flowed to her brain.

Found Pregnant After Divorce by Emiissmx Chapter 260

Chapter 260 Are You Going to Sleep or Not?

Kingston, were you going to sleep or not? Why were you asking this?

“Can I not answer?” Krista asked.

Was this an appropriate topic?

This was regarding her privacy. How could Kingston be so shameless?

“What?”

He let out a voice from his nasal cavity, and his tone was raised, bringing with it a strong pressure, making her not dare to resist.

She lowered her head, not daring to look into his eyes as she squeezed her hands tightly.

“No, no...”

Kingston trusted Krista a hundred percent. He understood her temper. Whether she had it or not, it was not, she was always an honest person.

Kingston heaved a sigh of relief.

Krista indeed had a relationship with Lance before and had a child. But that was all in the past.

At the very least, in the past few years, Krista and Lance had been intimate on the surface. But in reality, they didn't have much physical contact.

Kingston was also a little puzzled. Why was this?

Was it because she had lost her memory and had forgotten a lot about Lance, so her feelings towards Lance were not so strong?

But no matter what, this was an opportunity.

Kingston would make Krista fall for him.

How could he know that this woman, from her bones to her flesh, was telling him that she loved him?

However, Krista forgot.

But sometimes, instinct could not be forgotten.

Originally, Kingston was still full of haze. But after hearing this last sentence, her mood suddenly brightened up. And her eyebrows became much more relaxed.

If Krista answered yes, Kingston might be so angry that he wouldn't be able to sleep.

“I'm sleepy. I need to rest.” Krista said.

“Really? That's great!” Kingston said.

Krista's eyes lit up and she let out a long sigh of relief. She had finally dealt with it.

Kingston curled his lips and did not say much. He quickly fell asleep.

Krista waited for a long time. When she called out his name and saw that he did not respond, and his breathing was even, she heaved a sigh of relief.

Krista finally dared to look at his face. When Kingston was not asleep, she did not seem to have the courage to look at him,

This man did not seem to age at all. He was as handsome as always. And his body exuded a mature and steady charm.

However, his actions now were swift and decisive without a bit of humanity, making people feel intimidated.

Krista sighed faintly and said, “Kingston, if Grandma is still alive, for her wish, I might be with you. But now... Grandma has already left. There is no reason for me to be with you anymore.”

“Moreover, I am already engaged to Mr. Hamm. I can’t betray him. So don’t make things difficult for me. There was no result between us four years ago. And there will be no result four years later. Do you understand?”

“And ... why do you want me to be your wife?” Krista was puzzled. At first, she thought that Kingston had been too selfish and wanted to take revenge on her for Sandra.

However, during this period, other than refusing to let her go, Kingston did nothing excessive. Kingston had taken away so many valuable things from his family, and he had not blamed her at all.

They ate and drank like a king. And Kingston did not continue to make things difficult for the Ortiz family.

If it was really for personal revenge, could Krista have lived so well?

Other than this, Krista really could not think of any other reason.

Krista tilted her head and was confused for a long time, but she could not think of a reason.

Krista never dared to think that Kingston loved her in this aspect. If he loved her, there would not be all kinds of four years of love.

There would not be a divorce, and Sandra would not get between them.

“Kingston. With your conditions, you can find whatever you want. Why do you have to bother me? I have been living well these four years. I follow my dream and keep working hard. If it weren't for you, I think I would have prepared a wedding with Mr. Hamm when I go back.”

“I hope you can take it easy and let me go. Between us... this is the end.”