Chapter 281 He Is a Green hand

“Stop it!”

Lance couldn't stand it anymore and gave a heavy blow on the steering wheel.

His left-hand joint instantly became bloodshot..

Ryan frowned and immediately became nervous. He tried to clean his wounds.

“Forget about it, don't mind what I said. Why did you hurt yourself? You only have this hand left to be not injured!”

*Ordinary killers can't kill Kingston at all. Do you ... have any good candidates?”

Lance asked coldly.

Ryan was delighted to see Lance think it over.

“I have prepared some candidates for you. A few days ago, I had already started the plan. I found first-class experts who were all desperados. They won't let him go even if they are not able to kill him.”

“The Irwin family has less population. If Kingston is killed, we don't need to hurry up because their enemy in City D can tear the Irwin family into pieces.”

“Alright, we'll do as you say. You're right, we can't wait for long.”

Ryan's words constantly came out in his deep mind as a demon talked.

Lance wished he could kill Kingston whenever he realized that Krista would have a baby of Kingston.

It could not be blamed on him, it was Kingston ... who was wrong first. Four years ago, he was the one who saved Krista. Her fate can only be controlled by him rather than Kingston.

In the villa, Krista opened all the windows and allowed the cold wind to blow in. She also took a cold shower and her hair was wet.

She later sneezed and shivered from the cold.

She had to hurt herself and tried to get a chance to meet Aracely now.

Perhaps, Aracely knew something...

In the evening, Kingston returned and found that Krista did not come downstairs for dinner. "Where's Ms. Compton?"

"We don't know. In the afternoon, she said that she was a little uncomfortable and wanted to sleep. We were not allowed to call the doctor over to take a look. She told us she was tired. We have already invited her for dinner. She refused and we dared not to call her again."

Kingston frowned. He worried about her and quickly went upstairs.

Krista curled up on the bed and was trembling, with her lovely face being blushed. She sneezed from time to time.

"What happened to you?"

Kingston touched her head and found that she had a fever. It was obvious that she was sick.

“I... I don’t know either. I was fine before, but suddenly ... suddenly I felt not well like this?”

“I’ll call the doctor.”

“Don’t mind it ... I’ll take some medicine. I don’t want to see a doctor. I know my body very well. I used to be weak. Now it’s cold at night, maybe I’m sick because I got rid of the cover. Please ... please don’t leave and stay here to accompany me.”

She begged him in a soft tone, Kingston had sympathy with her but still insisted on calling the doctor over. She was arranged for the injection and medicine.

The doctor left after his work. Kingston asked the kitchen to prepare some seafood soup for her to help her recover.

Till have it in my own...”

She was to take the soup but was stopped by Kingston.

“Open your mouth.”

1.

It was strange to be fed by Kingston.

But she listened to him when she realized she had to beg for his help.

She opened her mouth obediently but was burned after one mouthful of soup.

“Oh ... it’s so hot ... Didn’t you cool it? It’s so hot.”

She tried hard to hold back her tears.

Kingston never looked after anyone. His son had to hold the medicine bowl and drank it all when he got sick. He never got used to

“I’m sorry ... I’m a green hand. I’ll cool it.”

He quickly apologized to show his good manner. He cooled the soup and tasted a little of it, then he handed it over to her.

Chapter 282 Can I Speak to Aracely Alone ?

“You ... You just taste it...”

She meant to ask him for another mouthful of soup.

But Kingston raised his eyebrows and looked at her unhappily. Krista was easily terrified and obediently opened her mouth to take it.

Kingston carefully cooled each mouthful of the soup to ensure that it was not too hot. He fed her one spoonful after another.

Krista had to admit that he took good care of her.

“Did you take care of anyone before ?”

She asked curiously.

“You ... are the first one.”

He made the most efforts to feed her and worry about her.

She seemed to be the only one.

“It’s a pity that you don’t have a friend.”

He thought that Krista would be moved, but he didn’t expect her to come to such a conclusion. At the moment, he didn’t know what to say.

“Take your...”

At this moment, she coughed severely.

Her lovely face flushed red. She coughed for long and was not able to hold back her tears later.

Kingston got nervous and continuously patted her back to help her find her breath.

“I’m ... I’m not well...”

She touched her chest and muttered, “I’m weak now. I don’t know when I’ll be fine.”

“Take some medicine and have a sleep. You’ll be fine after your fever is gone.”

“Kingston ... Can you ask Aracely to come and visit me? I want to meet her now. Maybe I’ll be fine if she comes.”

Kingston heard it and his face turned dark.

“Enjoy your dinner and go to sleep for good rest. Don’t be lost in your thoughts.”

“Kingston...”

She was still begging but stopped by him when she ran into his eyes.

She had to give it up.

She didn’t take the medicine as the doctor told her. She spat it out and washed it away when she was in the bathroom.

Kingston guarded her, so she deliberately found an excuse to go to the bathroom. She opened the window and sat still in the wind.

Therefore, she did not get better after one night. Instead, her illness became more serious.

She was in a half-asleep state and messed herself up.

“Kingston ... please... please ask Aracely to visit me. If she comes, I’ll be cured. In the past, whenever I was sick, Aracely would always be by my side. Please...”

She begged him in a daze again and again. Kingston had no choice but to be soft-hearted.

He had to send someone to call Aracely over.

Aracely was about to enter the room when Kingston stopped her. “Watch out for your words for her. Don’t tell her anything you should not tell.”

He knew that Lance had asked Aracely for more information when he arrived.

Aracely shivered when she ran into his terrifying eyes.

He knew everything ... but he still called Aracely over. Krista was really important to him.

If it was four years ago, she would be so happy at the way he treated Krista.

She always hoped that Kingston would choose Krista, but he did not.

Now, it was already four years later. She only hoped that Krista would be with Lance.

Before Aracely responded, Krista's weak voice came from inside.

"Aracely ... is Aracely here?"

"Come in."

Aracely nodded and immediately went in. At the moment Krista let out a sigh of relief when she saw Aracely.

"Aracely, I'm sick. I'm not well."

"I know. Why didn't you take care of yourself? You ended up like this. But I'm here now and don't worry."

"Kingston... Can I speak to Aracely alone?"

She asked carefully and got extremely nervous.

Chapter 283 Here Comes Mr. Hamm

Kingston pursed his lips and tightened his jaw. His expression was a little gloomy. Finally, he turned around and left without saying a word. Krista took a deep breath. She was really afraid that Kingston would always stay here.

*Aracely, did Mr. Hamm come ?”

“How do you know that ? Did you notice something ?”

Yes, there have been a lot of people in the villa recently. They all pay great attention to me as if they were afraid that I would run away. Kingston also comes back earlier than before every day and spends more time with me. I guess that Mr. Hamm must have come. If I hadn't treated myself cruelly, I wouldn't have been able to see you.”

So you did it on purpose ?”

Aracely was a little surprised.

“Of course. Otherwise, do I have any other way ? Only this could move Kingston.”

Krista had never thought about why this method could move Kingston. In fact, it was that Kingston cared about her so much.

Most of the time, he had already seen through her thoughts, but he just did not want to expose her.

“Did Mr. Hamm meet you ? Did he tell you anything ?”

“He asked me about your situation, and I said that Kingston did not make things difficult for you. I told him that you are fine, and only then did he feel a little relieved. He seemed to have found a way, and I think that he would take you away soon. Don't be afraid. You will definitely go through the difficulties."

"That's good."

Krista breathed a sigh of relief. At least, this serious illness wasn't completely meaningless.

"But... Will you go with Mr. Hamm?"

Aracely's tone was quite unsure.

Hearing this, Krista rolled her eyes and felt that Aracely was talking nonsense. She was definitely going to leave with Lance.

"I mean..."

Aracely hesitated for a moment and couldn't make her words clear. She didn't know what she was afraid of.

"What's wrong with you? Have you been bribed by Kingston?" Krista looked at her suspiciously and said seriously, "Kingston and I came to an end four years ago. Moreover, I don't have any feelings for him."

"I don't know what is wrong with him. He just insists on holding me. I'm already engaged to Mr. Hamm. I promised him that I wouldn't go back on my word. I won't betray Mr. Hamm. Don't worry."

Krista was considerate. She knew that Lance had saved her and given her a whole new life.

Lance's hand was crippled because of Krista.

She was not a heartless person, and she knew that she had to repay Lance for the rest of her life.

“It is best for you to think this way. I am also afraid... I am afraid that you...”

“What are you thinking? How could Kingston and I be together?”

Krista rolled her eyes, feeling that Aracely was spouting nonsense.

She and Kingston would be in love by no means.

“We can’t chat for too long. Otherwise, Kingston will suspect us.”

“Silly girl...”

Aracely didn’t say it clearly. Kingston must have known about it long ago. He just didn’t want to expose Krista.

Soon, the door opened and Kingston walked in and showed great concern to Krista.

Because Krista knew that she was going back soon, she was in a much better mood. Her body was not so uncomfortable anymore, and she found that Kingston was much more pleasing to the eye.

Although it was so bad for Kingston to illegally imprison Krista, she wasn’t having a hard time during this period of time at least.

Perhaps it was just his temporary venting. Krista guessed that after she left, they would not have any intersection.

In the evening, Aracely was going to leave. Kingston sat by the bed and fed her soup.

She could not help but want to say something.

“Kingston, I feel that your life is too monotonous. Isn't it boring to face the same things every day? You are only in your thirties now, not too old. Don't be so drab.”

Found Pregnant After Divorce by Emiissmx Chapter 284

Chapter 284 Kiss

“Also, you have to build a good relationship with Jack. Otherwise, there will be estrangement between you guys. You can take him to the amusement park and attend the school activities with him. This is also conducive to Jack's growth.”

“I know you are very busy with work, but working is endless. You need to take good care of your body and find a good balance between work and rest. Sometimes, you can just go out for a walk or go on a trip for pleasure. You know, wonderful encounters happen during trips.”

“Life is not just about survival, but poetry and distance, right?”

As she drank the delicious chicken soup, she chattered on and on.

She hoped that she would live well and so did Kingston.

Seeing that he worked so hard every day, Krista felt sorry for him sometimes. To her concern, Kingston had spent too much time working.

With the heavy burden of the Irwin family completely on his shoulder, he had never complained, but it did not mean that he was not tired.

He was also a normal person who would feel tired and uncomfortable as well as sometimes be unable to bear it.

Everyone took his giving for granted, but Krista felt that having good health and being happy were what mattered most.

Only when people were happy would they think days interesting. Otherwise, what was the meaning of living from day to day?

Kingston didn't say a word as if he was listening to her with full attention.

Soon, the bowl of soup was finished. Kingston took out a wet tissue to wipe her lips.

T'll do it myself."

As she realized that this action was a little intimate, she reached out, trying to do it by herself but Kingston stopped her.

However, he insisted on his action. He had wiped her mouth so hard that her mouth was soon reddened.

"Kingston ... you..."

She was a little angry, while he pinched her chin the next second,

"Is this your farewell before you leave?"

"W...what do you mean?"

"You trust Lance so much that you think he can save you from me?"

"You ... you know it?"

"It's not hard to guess. Do you expect Aracely to come up with a plan for you? I know all of your tricks."

Krista's heart skipped a beat. She was a little uneasy.

"I am Lance's fiancée. He has already come up with a way. You'd better let me go as early as possible, otherwise, things may come to a bad end."

"He has come up with a countermeasure so quickly? Seems that Mr. Hamm is quite capable."

Kingston said gloomily.

Krista felt a chill run down her spine when she heard this. She was a little scared.

At this moment, Kingston suddenly leaned over and kissed her with his thin and sexy lips.

"Oh..."

She was frightened and kept struggling, but she was still sick. With her body unrecovered, she had no strength to escape from his irresistible kiss.

This time, Kingston was menacing. What he did was totally different from the threatening actions previously. As Krista realized this, she panicked.

His lips moved to the back of her ears, her neck, and the collarbone...

"What are you doing? Kingston, let go of me. I'll fight it out with you. Let go of me..."

Though her body was extremely weak, she kept struggling desperately and thus she was sweating all over.

In the end, everything returned to peace.

She curled up on the bed, looking at him with resentment.

He only kissed her on the body but didn't do more.

She was still innocent.

But she did not thank him for his last conscience. Instead, she hated him even more.

Chapter 285 Who Exactly Are You Guys

She did not belong here, so she desperately wanted to leave.

It was Kingston who made a mistake. She didn't know why she was related to it.

Kingston looked into her red and angry eyes which were full of hatred, and he was fiercely heartache for a moment.

He turned and left without a word.

He went back to his room and took a cold shower to wash away the heat from his body.

He was like a mad demon just now, almost unable to hold back his desire to want her.

Fortunately... he got back his rationality.

Otherwise, this girl would hate him to the extreme.

He had always been very patient with her and planned to conquer her step by step.

Kingston was assassinated on the way to the company the next day.

The villa was in the suburbs, and it would take more than ten minutes to go from the villa to the nearest bus station. It was surrounded by dense woods, so there were basically no other cars nearby.

The sniper ambushed on both sides of the road, and he shot without hesitation when he saw the car.

The gunshot echoed through the woods.

The birds in the forest dispersed, and the car on the road slipped, directly rushing out of the fence and rolling down.

The sniper did not go forward. He had to leave regardless of whether he succeeded or not because it was an assassination.

The car finally stopped and Quincy struggled out of the car.

He was not shot because he was not the target.

But he was also covered in wounds and blood.

He struggled to open the rear car door and saw Kingston lying in a pool of blood.

The bullet grazed his temple.

He fell into a coma, and it was hard to tell whether he was alive or not.

“Mr. Irwin... Mr. Irwin...”

Quincy continuously called Kingston.

While the rest of the snipers began to approach the villa at the same time.

No matter how heavily guarded the villa was, it would not be able to withstand the invasion of these desperados.

Krista was originally lying on the bed and she suddenly heard the gunshots. But it was far away, she couldn't hear it clearly and felt that she might be hallucinating.

But her right eyelid was beating wildly, and her heart was tightened for no reason as if it was being squeezed by an invisible hand.

She didn't know why she was so uneasy.

She kept pacing in the house, and soon she heard the frightened screams of the servants from outside.

“Help! Murder!”

She was suddenly stunned and immediately looked from the balcony. She saw a few fiendish people barging in with guns,

The courtyard was full of servants but not any single security guards.

Those people were also puzzled. Lance had especially reminded them that the villa was heavily guarded before they came here. He was afraid that there were many skilled men and asked them to be careful. But now, it seemed that all of them were green hands and no one of them could fight.

Krista quickly went downstairs and saw someone lying in a pool of blood.

She was frightened and quickly rushed over to protect these servants.

“Who... Who are you? How dare you come here? Do you want to die?”

“You must be Ms. Compton, right?”

The other party took out a photo and accurately called out her name.

She frowned and was confused about how he could know her.

She continued to ask, “Who... who are you?”

“Don’t worry, we were ordered by Mr. Hamm to save you. Ms. Compton, come with us.”

“What!”

Krista never thought that Lance would save her in this desperate way.

“Have these people neglected Ms. Compton? Just tell me, I will help you vent your anger today.”

Chapter 286 Kill Kingston

They took the money and would naturally work hard.

After finishing his words, he pointed the gun at the innocent servants behind her.

Krista immediately opened her arms and stopped him. “Where did you come from? How dare you do this? This is the Irwin family. Aren’t you afraid that Kingston will take revenge?”

“Kingston? Revenge?”

They seemed to have heard a joke and burst into laughter.

One of them said, “Kingston was shot in the temple by me. Maybe he is already dead. The car rolled down the hillside and I’m afraid that no one will find him even if he is dead.”

“No. That’s impossible...”

Krista felt corrupted at that moment.

She thought, “Kingston was in trouble.

The gunshot was not a hallucination, but a real one!”

“Ms. Compton, Do not delay any more. Mr. Hamm is still waiting for you. Come with us.”

Krista said, “I’m going to find Kingston.”

“Ms. Compton...”

She continued, “If any of you dare to stop me, I will suicide. And Lance will not let you off.”

Krista suddenly became angry and went forward to grab the gun to aim it at her head. “Kill me if you dare, or bring me there.”

They looked at each other in dismay. They did not expect a weak and delicate woman would be so vicious.

They were only ordered to bring Krista back but there was not a time box, so they thought it wasn’t a big deal to delay for a while.

They brought Krista to the position of the sniper. A large hole was broken through the guardrail, and branches below were severely crushed.

It seemed that the car could be seen from afar.

She recklessly went down and the rest followed.

There were many thorny branches here that had torn her clothes, and her calves and arms were hurt and full of bright red wounds.

But she looked that she could not see them.

There was only one thought in her mind at this moment. She must find Kingston and he could not die.

He was the pillar of the Irwin family. How could he die with so many responsibilities?

And there was also one most important point.

She didn't want him to die.

She finally walked to the front of the car and saw that the shocking surroundings were covered in blood.

She stared at the pool of blood on the back seat. She thought it must be Kingston's.

She watched him going out in the morning and he was sitting right behind, right in this position.

She reached out her trembling hand and touched the cold blood. It was almost frozen.

She only felt her eyes turn black, her legs go soft, and she fell straight backward. Fortunately, she was supported by someone.

“Ms. Compton, you have already seen it. You should come with us now.”

“I’m going to find him. I’m going to find Kingston. He won’t die. He must be in the hospital.”

“That won’t happen. My shot was aimed at his head. He can’t be alive. But we did nothing to his driver. He was probably taken away by the driver.”

“Ms. Compton, it’s getting late. Mr. Hamm is still waiting for us. Don’t make things difficult for us.”

“Kingston. I’m going to find Kingston...”

Although she knew that it was scarcely possible for Kingston to be alive, she had to see it personally.

All she thought about was only Kingston.

Seeing that she was not willing to leave, they directly carried her on the shoulder and took her away.

And they sent her to Lance very soon.

Lance felt heartache to see that she was covered in wounds and her clothes were tattered. And he immediately draped a coat over her.

He asked, “How could it be like this?”

“Ms. Compton insisted on going to see it after she knew we killed Kingston. There were many thorns in the woods, so Ms. Compton’s body was injured.”

“Are you sure you killed Kingston?”

Lance had not expected things to go so smoothly.

Found Pregnant After Divorce by Emiissmx Chapter 287

Chapter 287 Where is Kingston?

He replied, “I’m sure. There won’t be any mistakes.”

“That’s good. Take the money and go.”

Lance directly carried Krista back to the room and the servant brought clean clothes.

The servant said, “Mr. Hamm, I’ll do this.”

Lance refused, “No, she is my fiancée, so I will do it myself.”

Her thin clothes were stained with blood and could no longer be worn.

He was going to take clothes off and apply medicine to her wound.

But his eyes suddenly turned red when he took off her clothes and left only her underwear inside.

Her body was not only pierced by thorns but also... the marks left by kisses.

Ear lobes, neck, shoulders, chest, waist, thighs...

There were marks on all these positions!

His hand that was holding the medicine shook violently. And he felt it was too easy for Kingston to directly die like this.

He should be put through the wringer!

Lance endured his heartache to apply medicine to her and change her clothes.

He brought a towel to wipe the dust off her face and suddenly heard her sleep-talking in a panic.

“Don’t... don’t hurt Kingston... He can’t die...”

“Don’t die, don’t scare me... Kingston, you can’t die...”

Lance was very angry and his fingers trembled.

“Why? Why are you still thinking about him? Tell me.”

He was agitated. He gripped her shoulders tightly and shook her continuously.

The unconscious Krista felt painful and her little face wrinkled.

“Kingston... Kingston...”

She had always been saying Kingston’s name from beginning to end.

Many scenes that she had never seen before appeared in her dream.

It seemed like she had dreamed about sex.

In that dream, Kingston pressed her like a mountain.

And they were having sex in the darkness.

Scattered fragments were gone in a flash. Then she dreamed of Ocean Pavilion again.

Kingston took her to see all kinds of fish, and the male mermaids were constantly fiddling with their tails.

And... She was trapped in a dark office. Kingston appeared like a supernatural being and took her away.

All of these were so real. This dream was too real.

But the scene changed very soon. Kingston stood in front of her. He was covered in blood and gave out a pale and powerless smile.

“Kingston?”

Her heart trembled. She quickly walked over, but Kingston quickly disappeared.

“Kingston, don’t leave me. Kingston...”

She felt that her heart was torn apart, and she was in great pain.

She suddenly woke up, shouted Kingston’s name, and got up.

Her entire body was drenched in sweat and her cheeks were wet. She cried.

Lance only stepped forward to care about her as if he had not heard what she had just shouted.

“Are you feeling better? The doctor came and said that you still have some residual fever and you have to rest well. You have to take good care of the wounds on your body, otherwise, they will become ugly scars.”

“Where is Kingston? Mr. Hamm, where is Kingston?”

Krista came back to her senses and grabbed Lance’s hand tightly.

Her mind was filled with the scene in her dream.

Kingston was covered in blood, and he smiled in despair.

Lance didn’t answer. He showed a serious expression. His thin lips were tightly pursed into a line.

“Mr. Hamm, answer me. What did you do to Kingston? Why did you do this? How could you kill him? How could you do this? How could you?”

“That’s enough. Why couldn’t I kill him? He’s a bastard. He should die after hurting you again and again. I hate that I was too weak four years ago and I should have killed him at that time!”

Found Pregnant After Divorce by Emiissmx Chapter 288

Chapter 288 Where Did He Touch You?

“He didn’t hurt me... It was all Sandra’s fault. Four years ago, it was none of his business as well.”

She lost her memory and did not remember many things. She only knew that she almost died. It was Sandra’s revenge.

“You’re still speaking up for him. Don’t you think he is hurting you?”

Lance’s eyes were red as he suppressed his anger. “What are these? You have completely given yourself to him during this period of time, haven’t you?”

“No, it’s not like this...” Krista desperately shook her head and continued to explain, “We did nothing. I won’t lie to you! Lance, why don’t you trust me?”

“Do you want me to trust you? How can I trust you?”

At the moment, Lance had completely lost control.

Lance had been reluctant to touch her for the past four years and was waiting for her to be completely in love with him.

He even thought that after Krista paid respects to Brittany, they could get married and become a real couple.

However, Lance never expected that Kingston would be the first to arrive.

Right now, he was very regretful that he should not have spoiled Krista too much.

If he was a bit more selfish and followed his own thoughts, he would not have missed so much now.

“No, I really didn’t...” Krista continued to explain, “He ... He did want to do that to me, but he stopped it in time. Can you believe me?”

“It was because I trusted you too much that I allowed you have gone too far during these four years. In these four years, I clearly had countless opportunities to make you mine, but I endured it and respected your wishes. But in the end, what did I get?"

"Krista, you are so ungrateful. How can you treat me like this? I have waited for you for four years..."

Lance directly pounced over and looked at her naked skin, as if he had gone mad.

"Where did he touch? Here? Here? Or here?"

He pointed at her lips, chest, and thighs respectively...

"...."

She could deny the rest, but her mouth... Kingston had indeed kissed her mouth several times.

Before Krista could tell in detail, Lance had completely lost his reason,

In his opinion, Krista and Kingston had indeed done everything on the bed.

He was so angry that he directly lifted her quilt.

As so

Krista tightly covered her chest subconsciously.

However, this action angered Lance even more.

He didn't know why Krista could accept Kingston but not him?

Had Krista forgotten that Lance was the one she was going to marry?

He disregarded everything and kissed her hard, but what he got in return was that Krista kept resisting and tightly pursed her lips.

If Lance could change his attitude and treat Krista more softly, she might agree to do that with him.

After all, they were about to get married. Krista knew very well what kind of person Lance was. There was no need to worry about him betraying her

However, the reality was so different.

He framed himself and distrusted her.

He even tried to kill Kingston and still claimed that he was right.

He was like a bloody beast, completely losing his mind.

What was the difference between him and the rapist?

Krista was almost instinctively rejecting Lance.

Seeing that Krista kept resisting his intimacy, Lance was so angry that he pinched her chin and forced her to look at him.

His eyes were red, and his look was so fierce.

Chapter 289 Nursing a Grievance

“Why? Why are you resisting me? Why can't I do what Kingston did to you?”

Lance was so angry when questioning Krista.

“Then why didn’t you come to save me immediately? Don’t you know that I was locked up by Kingston? Don’t you know what kind of terrible thing would happen when a man imprisoned a woman?”

“You are a man. Shouldn’t you know it better than I do? Why? Why were you so reluctant to come? Is it because of the cooperation with the royal family? I asked for your help, but you mercilessly hung up the phone. How I hoped that you could appear in front of me like a knight and protect me!”

“However, what were you doing? Didn’t Aracely or I ask for help from you? You let me be locked up by a man for more than ten days, and now you actually came to question me?”

“What do you think I am? Before you came to save me, were you not mentally prepared? I have been played by that man for ten days!”

Krista wasn’t in the mood to explain anymore.

She had thought Lance would believe her.

She understood his temper, just as he understood hers.

However, Krista had never expected that Lance would actually question her furiously.

Why?

Lance was rendered speechless by what Krista said because her words were facts, and he could not refute them.

His heart was instantly drowned by guilt, and he did not dare to look at Krista's tearful and desperate eyes.

Lance covered Krista with the blanket and said, "It's time for lunch. I'll ask the maids to prepare your favorite."

Lance turned and left, only wanting to escape from this place.

"Lance, do you believe that I haven't had sex affairs with Kingston?"

She stared at Lance's back and asked word by word.

Lance stopped by the door. His mind was full of complicated emotions.

If not for those four years, Lance would definitely believe it. He understood Krista's nature well.

However, Krista had lost her memory. This was like a ticking time bomb. No one could tell when it would explode.

Lance was always uneasy and terrified, so he was afraid that Krista and Kingston would meet again.

Such uneasiness gradually turned into suspicion, lingering in his heart.

Lance really wanted to believe Krista, but when he thought about all the kiss marks on her body, Lance felt so depressed.

He clenched his fists tightly and said in a hoarse voice, "You are tired. Have a good rest."

When Krista heard this, she was in despair.

She knew that Lance still didn't believe her. This was too ridiculous.

Krista made a self-mocking smile. Now, Kingston's life was uncertain, and she was in trouble.

She recalled the scene from the day before and suddenly felt that Kingston had done it on purpose.

Kingston was the outstanding one in the business world with a scheming mind.

He was deliberately sowing discord. By leaving these kiss marks, Kingston wanted to make Lance misunderstand Krista.

No matter how she tried to explain herself, Krista couldn't convince Lance.

Such a thing had pros and cons. If Lance really believed in Krista, then their feelings would be indestructible and no one would be able to break them up in the future.

Because in their hearts, they firmly believed each other, they wouldn't be affected by what others did and said.

If Lance didn't doubt her, Krista would treat him as her Mr. Right.

However, Lance didn't trust her. Even if in the end, Lance believed and accepted her, there would still be a thorn in his heart. He would still feel that Krista was played with by another man.

Such a thorn would root deeply in Lance's heart and stab him from time to time. In this way, Krista and Lance would only be more and more painful if they still stayed together. They surely would not get happiness.

Chapter 290 I Don't Believe Kingston!

“Kingston ... You bastard, you are so ruthless ...”

She closed her eyes in despair and tears fell silently from her cheek.

Now that things had come to this, what could she do?

She only hoped that Kingston stayed alive. She had never thought that Kingston would die.

At the thought that he might be gone, her heart ached terribly as if the most important part of her had been forcibly dug away.

Even she didn't know why she had such emotions.

She endured the pain of her body and tried to get up. She still had a fever.

She wanted to go to the hospital to find Kingston, and he would be in the hospital!

She changed her clothes and was about to go out, but she did not expect Lance to come in with food.

Seeing her at the door, he frowned, “Where do you want to go?”

“I want to see Kingston. His life is at stake.”

“You still mention him?”:

Lance was extremely displeased.

Krista knew that mentioning Kingston at this time would only raise the conflict between the two of them.

But now she didn't know if Kingston was fine.

"Why don't you accompany me to the hospital and we can take a look together?"

This way, he wouldn't suspect that she and Kingston were involved.

"Lance, I know that Kingston is hateful and illegally imprisoned me, but he did not bully me. We have nothing. You can ask Aracely, we are not..."

"Is Aracely there all day long?"

He questioned.

"In that case, I have nothing to say."

"You're not allowed to go anywhere. He deserves to die."

"Lance, you can't decide who can live or die. Brittany treats me as her granddaughter, but my fiancé killed her only grandson. Lance, how should I see Grandma in the future?"

"You can just take me away directly, why ... why do you want to kill him? Lance..."

"Enough, I don't want to hear his name again in your mouth. You will only make me regret that I didn't find his body immediately and ruthlessly whip the corpse to feed the wild dogs on the mountain!"

Lance said emotionally. He even spilled all the food that he had just brought in on the ground.

With a crashing sound, it was in a mess.

Krista was so scared that she couldn't speak. She looked at him in a daze, her eyes filled with astonishment.

Lance also realized something and knew that he was wrong and scared her.

He immediately called for people to come in and clean it up, and it was clean in a short while.

He let out a shaky breath, "Krista, can we talk?"

"What do you want to talk about?"

She still hadn't come back to her senses, and she was stunned...

She did not know what else she could say to Lance now.

"You ... the matter between you and Kingston, I can pretend that nothing happened."

"What do you mean? There's nothing between us..."

"Krista, I do believe you, but I can't believe Kingston."

"So you think that I'm protecting Kingston and lying to you?"

She curled into a mocking smile and pretended that nothing had happened ... There was nothing and she kept her body for over ten days.

But now it was an unclear issue as if someone had played with it.

He acted as nothing had happened. It was as if he had given her a great gift.

“In short, I don’t believe in Kingston.”

“Alright ... then continue. What else do you want to talk about?”

At this moment, she had lost all hope and her face was extremely pale.
