

When His Eyes Opened Chapter 943 | Simple Silence

Chapter 943

Elliot was afraid that his daughter would be bullied at school. Although he knew that the probability of such a thing happening is extremely low, he was still worried.

His daughter was too beautiful, and her temper would never be submissive. If no one provoked her, then everything would be fine. If someone provoked her, even if she couldn't win against others, she will definitely fight back!

So he said a word to the school in private.

“You are such a good father.” Avery teased him.

Elliot: “I know what I've done is far from enough. But I'll try my best.”

Avery looked at Layla and explained, “Your brother will be back later today. Your father went to pick up your auntie during the day, just now It's hard to come back, so Mommy gave him a meal.”

Layla was explained, ‘Oh’.

Since there is a reasonable explanation, she also put away the barb that her father put up.

“Mom, I like my magic wand so much!”

Layla held Avery's hand and walked towards the dining room. "I will be the most beautiful little princess tomorrow."

Avery said, "In my mother's heart, you will always be there every day. They are all the most beautiful little princesses."

Layla's face flushed red after being praised, and she said in high spirits, "Mom, let me tell you a secret!" Having said that, Layla turned her head to look at Elliot.

Layla seemed to fear that he would hear it, and that he would not hear it.

In the end, Layla said the secret in a voice that only Avery and Elliot could hear: "Last night, Hayden dismantled Tiggie!"

Avery looked embarrassed and looked at Elliot apologetically.

Elliot said generously: "It's okay. The gift is given to him, it's his, he can do whatever he wants."

Layla said, "Hayden said Tiggie is too stupid. He can't stand such a stupid thing in the room. He wants to make Tiggie smart. A little, so it was demolished."

Avery and Elliot were both speechless.

It turns out that Hayden did not destroy Tiggie, but to upgrade Tiggie.

After Mrs. Cooper brought the food to the table, she took Robert from Elliot's arms.

Elliot looked at the sumptuous dinner on the table, thinking that Robert only eats milk, and suddenly felt pity: “When can Robert eat? Can I give him meat?”

Avery explained: “Now he can only eat rice paste and batter, vegetable puree, fruit puree.”

Elliot: “Can you eat meat puree?”

“Why do you have to give your children meat?” Avery looked at him puzzled, “Do you think eating meat can make him grow faster and smarter? No matter what you think, he can’t eat meat yet.”

Elliot said his thoughts: “I think meat is delicious.”

“It’s delicious, you eat more.” A bowl of spare ribs was delivered to him.

Elliot said: “Avery, don’t quarrel in front of the children, it’s not good.”

Avery asked Layla: “Baby, do you think your parents are quarreling?”

Layla opened her clear apricot eyes: “How can you two be quarreling? What? It’s obviously the mother who is teaching the father.”

Avery gave her daughter a piece of meat and told her to shut her mouth.

After the warm dinner, Elliot was afraid that Hayden would come back anytime and see that he was not happy, so he didn't dare to stay longer.

Avery saw that he was so interesting, so he took him to the door.

“Thank you for picking up Tammy today.” She hesitated and thanked him.

“You're welcome.”

He looked at her unnatural little face and said hoarsely, “See you tomorrow.”

“Well.” She lowered her eyes, turned quickly, returned to the living room, and closed the villa door.

The driver drove the car to him and opened the door for him.

He looked away from the closed villa door and got into the car.

Half an hour later, the black Rolls-Royce slowly drove into the greenway leading to the villa.

Elliot glanced at a black figure outside the villa's fence, sneaking and suspicious. He immediately lowered the car window, trying to see the face of the man.

When His Eyes Opened Chapter 944 | Simple Silence

Chapter 944

Elliot thought that dropping the car window would at least shock the person. He thought the man would bow his head, or turn his back.

As a result, after he lowered the car window, the man raised his head and looked towards him.

Elliot frowned almost subconsciously and glared at each other!

Contrary to his angry emotions, the other party actually grinned and smiled at him!

A cold sweat broke out on Elliot's back! Not out of fear, but too weird.

No one has ever dared to stay near his villa, let alone face him so boldly!

Because his vision was not very clear at night, he could only vaguely see the silhouette of the man.

It was a middle-aged man, tall and slightly fat. Elliot was sure that he had never seen that person before!

Why does this person appear outside his villa at night?

The car quickly drove into the front yard of the villa. After Elliot got out of the car, he explained a few words to the bodyguard, and then strode into the villa.

After a while, the bodyguard trotted into the living room from the outside and reported to him: "Boss, I didn't see the middle-aged man you mentioned. But I saw a black car driving away. It's probably the person you mentioned.

“Go to the surveillance and see when the man came.” In Elliot's mind, the middle-aged man grinned, his fingers clenched.

Elliot wanted to identify that man as a mentally ill person, otherwise normal people would not dare to be so presumptuous in front of him!

But a voice floated in his mind, telling him that the man was not mentally ill!

The bodyguard said just now that there was a black car driving away. If that person is mentally ill, he should be madly wandering around on the road instead of driving away.

The other side.

When Tammy and Jun returned home, they found that the house was brightly lit and the door was open.

Jun's parents were sitting on the sofa in the living room with brewed tea on the coffee table.

When the two elders saw them coming back, they didn't say a word, but their eyes fell on Tammy's face.

What Tammy did in Rosacus today was circulated on the Internet, and the video went viral. In the end, relatives and friends of the Hertz family forwarded the video to the two elders of the Hertz family.

Although the Hertz family is not as good as the Foster family, they are also the rich and powerful family in Avonsville, and their family has never had such a shameful incident.

Although Tammy and Jun are divorced, they are back together again and are about to remarry.

Everyone assumes that Tammy is the daughter-in-law of the Hertz family.

“Dad, Mom, why are you here?”

Jun was afraid that his parents would blame Tammy, so he immediately said, “Tammy did do some impulsive things today, but I don’t think it hurts. If you want to accuse her, you don’t need.”

Mrs. Hertz sneered, “You are going to be a son-in-law at someone else’s house. Of course you think her behavior is innocuous. After all, she didn’t really kill Chelsea, did she?”

Mr. Hertz Hold his wife’s hand and used his eyes to signal her to say a few words less.

“Yes, your mom and I have calmed down for a few days. We have already recognized the reality about you and Tammy. We can’t control you. Now that you have made a decision, we respect you.” Mr. Hertz’s words are serious.

Tammy thought they came here to scold him, but Mr. Hertz didn’t expect it.

So Tammy was rather restrained and embarrassed.

Jun was shocked and said, “You really agree with me to join Tammy’s family?! Your love for me is too superficial, right? You said that I am a three-generation single biography of our family, and that the person I love the most is me! Really laughing! Lose my big teeth! How do you treat your precious son like this?”

Jun was uncomfortable because his parents gave him up so easily.

In his heart, parents and Tammy can’t choose one or the other.

The reason why he dared to talk nonsense at the wedding before was because he felt that his parents would definitely compromise.

When His Eyes Opened Chapter 945 | Simple Silence

Chapter 945

Jun’s reaction shocked the two elders of the Hertz family.

Tammy was caught between them, at a loss, not knowing how to ease their relationship.

Just when she was about to say something, Mrs. Hertz sarcastically said, “Son, You are already thirty, and you still consider yourself a child!”

“Even if I am sixty, I am still your son!” Jun argued with scarlet cheeks .

Mrs. Hertz picked up the teacup and drank tea leisurely.

Mr. Hertz sneered, “I agree with your mom that you and Tammy are together, what are you doing with the matter?”

Jun remained silent.

“Tammy, come here. .” Mrs. Hertz looked at Tammy.

Tammy’s heart beat faster and she walked to her mother-in-law.

“Your dad and I have been reflecting on it for the past two days. When you had an accident before, our reaction was really inappropriate. Jun’s persistence has shown us that Jun is responsible, and we are very pleased. At the same time, it also made us aware of it. How selfish we are. Your life is yours and should not be tied by us, so the two of you will live your life well from now on.”

Mrs. Hertz’s words made Tammy’s eyes red.

“But I still want to talk about what happened today. Sweetie, I know you feel bad. For a while, you can’t forget the hurt that happened in the past, but you can’t make fun of your future. If you are like this, you should be worried. You can’t be so impulsive in the future.”

Tammy nodded.

“Dad, Mom, it’s very late. You two should go back to rest first! Tammy, you have to rest too.” Jun invited his parents out.

When he sent his parents away and returned to the living room, he saw Tammy came out with a bottle of red wine.

“Tammy, what are you doing with the wine?” Jun closed the door and strode in front of her, “Don’t you want to drink to celebrate? Let’s celebrate in a different way! Avery said you can’t drink.”

“I’ll drink a little.” Tammy took a goblet and poured a glass of wine, “I’ll drink it, but you don’t have to.”

“Why? If you insist on drinking, I’ll accompany you to drink it!” Jun also took a wine glass.

“Okay, let’s drink together.” Tammy poured him some wine, “Husband, I think if I’m drunk, maybe I won’t be so scared. Let’s try it tonight!”

Jun said as he put down the wine glass, “This wine is not good?”

“Let’s try.”

“Okay, then try.”

...

The next day, Layla and Hayden’s birthdays came as scheduled.

Layla put on a princess dress early and knocked on Avery’s door.

“Mom! Why haven’t you got up yet? Hayden and I have a birthday today, aren’t you excited at all?” Layla appeared in front of Avery with her hair disheveled.

Avery stayed up late last night to read about the treatment for post-traumatic stress disorder, so she was very sleepy.

“Layla, what time is it?” she asked in a hoarse voice.

“It’s 7 o’clock!” Layla had an exaggerated expression on her face, as if the day was about to end, “Mom, get up soon! Hayden won’t get up. I called him, but he ignored me. woohoo !” Forced to get up.

Not long after, Mrs. Cooper took a package, pushed the door, and walked in.

“Avery, there is a package. I don’t know who sent it.” Mrs. Cooper took the package, walked to the bed, and gave Avery a look, “How about I open it first?”

Avery looked at the package and then frowned.

When His Eyes Opened Chapter 946 | Simple Silence

Chapter 946

This was an international package.

She had also received an international package before, and when she opened it, there was Wesley’s finger inside.

It was a nightmare that Avery could never forget in her life. After she took a deep breath, she said to Mrs. Cooper, “Help me unpack it!”

“Okay, I’ll go out to unpack.” Mrs. Cooper took the package and walked out.

Layla liked unpacking the most, so she followed behind Mrs. Cooper, planning to see the contents.

“Layla, come here, mom will comb your hair.” Avery stopped her daughter, “Mrs. Cooper will bring in the contents for us to see later.”

“Okay!” Layla went back to Avery Beside and said whimsically, “Mom, do you think the package might be a birthday present for me and Hayden?”

Avery smiled and said, “Then guess who gave it.”

“I don’t know.” Layla thought about it for a while and had no clue, but she was very determined, “I think it’s a gift for Hayden and me. Because today is Hayden and also my birthday! When can’t that package be delivered? It was delivered today..”

Layla’s thoughts were a little childish, but a little cute.

At this time, Mrs. Cooper came over with the contents of the package: “Avery, it seems to be a birthday present for Layla and Hayden.”

Mrs. Cooper brought the two greeting cards to Avery.

Avery took the greeting card and glanced at it, the expression on her face froze immediately.

“Wow! What a beautiful card! I knew it was a gift for me and Hayden! This little girl’s card must be for me!” Layla took the card from her mother.

A card with a picture of a little girl and a birthday cake.

Another card features a little boy and a birthday cake.

Although there was no text on it, the pictures had it all.

This was indeed a birthday card for Hayden and Layla.

“Bring me the package box.” Avery had some guesses, but she wasn’t sure if it was that person.

Mrs. Cooper immediately went out to get the box.

Soon, the box was handed to Avery.

The package was sent from a very small country.

There is only one shallow English letter in the sender’s column:
W.

“It’s Wesley.” Avery whispered.

Mrs. Cooper felt a colicky pain in her heart: “This Wesley is real! Although Shea’s affairs have nothing to do with him, but Robert is so healthy and cute now. The husband will definitely not trouble him, so why does he keep hiding!”

Avery felt a little uncomfortable.

Before Shea’s accident, she always regarded Wesley as her eldest brother. Every time something happened, whether it was happy or sad, she could talk to Wesley one by one.

After Wesley took the initiative to cut off contact with everyone, she felt that her life was missing a piece.

Although Shea was sad, she understood Wesley's behavior.

Wesley has a good heart, no matter how he treats, he has kindness in his heart.

When he decided to pump Shea's blood to save Robert, he must have been particularly distressed.

Shea's death must have caused indelible damage to Wesley. It is not so much that Wesley hid, but that he was struck down by this tragic reality.

“Mom, I remember that I seem to have an Uncle William, but I haven't seen him for a long time.” Layla raised her head and asked Avery, “Where did Uncle William go?”

“Then do you remember your aunt?” Avery asked.

Layla nodded, “Shea died to save her brother. I miss her so much... If she was still alive, she would definitely come to celebrate my birthday today.”

Layla had tears in her eyes.

Avery took her into her arms.

Outside the courtyard gate, a business Buick slowly stopped.

Avery took Layla out of the room and saw Eric coming from outside the door.

...

Foster family.

Elliot woke up earlier today. In addition to thinking about the boy's birthday, it was also because of the strange person he met last night.