

Chapter 36 Attacker

There were milk and bread on the table.

There were ham and poached eggs on the plate.

"Sit down and eat. I'll take you to school later." Leon Hunter looked at the chair, giving her a hint to sit down.

Alyssa Graham saw the breakfast and sat down, "I was just worried that I couldn't drive with my hand injury. Thank you for driving me."

"How do you know that I would drive you?" Leon Hunter raised his head and looked at Alyssa Graham, with an obviously reluctant face.

"Ah! You don't have time! If you don't have time, you can ask anyone else to do it. "

She took a piece of bread, but still found it difficult to move.

Soon someone nearby gave her a piece of bread and put it in front of her.

Alyssa Graham opened her mouth and took a bite. She turned her head and looked at Leon Hunter, "It's delicious!"

"One more bite." Leon Hunter looked at Alyssa Graham and handed her the bread again.

Alyssa Graham bit it with a smile.

"Hmm?" Leon Hunter's face looked strange.

Alyssa felt bad because she had bitten Leon Hunter's hand.

From the corner of her eyes, she looked at the finger that she was biting. She turned her eyes and pretended to not know and kept biting.

Leon Hunter, with his hand bitten, did not move and looked at the cunning light in Alyssa's eyes Alyssa Graham bit even harder, and Leon Hunter started to feel some pain. When she saw the mark on Leon Hunter's hand, she quickly stopped biting so hard.

She looked at Leon Hunter and smiled, pretending that nothing had happened. She kept drinking her milk.

Leon Hunter looked at the tooth mark on his thumb, not feeling angry, "Feeling like being beaten?"

"I'm not being careful. I'll be careful next time."

"It's OK. Hurry up with your breakfast."

He looked at Alyssa Graham, and his anger disappeared all at once.

Alyssa Graham raised her eyebrows, looked at Leon Hunter and said with a smile, "Can you get me one of the poached eggs? I want to have a taste. It's inconvenient. It's so hard."

Leon Hunter rolled his eyes at Alyssa Graham and fed Alyssa Graham some poached eggs.

Alyssa Graham took a bite of the poached egg and began to drink milk like a cat.

After an hour,

Alyssa Graham was sitting in the classroom of the Finance Department of A University.

Ella Lloyd sit next to Alyssa Graham and looked at her.

"What's the matter? Do you have something to say?"

"It's OK. Look at this!" Ella Lloyd took out her cellphone and showed Alyssa Graham the photos she took from the bulletin board.

Alyssa Graham looked at the photo, "Did you see this on the bulletin board downstairs?"

"Well." Ella Lloyd held Alyssa Graham's hands. "She looked exactly like you from the back. What exactly happened? Did Ryan Young want to do something to you? What was the matter with you? "

Alyssa Graham put down his book and looked at Ella Lloyd, "if I were that woman, wouldn't I have been arrested long ago? That was not me. Don't worry. "

"You do have a point. Then I can set my mind at rest!" Ella Lloyd smiled and continued to read.

Ella Lloyd went back to reading, but Alyssa Graham couldn't focus anymore.

Who put these pictures on the bulletin board?

Was it Ryan Young?

It didn't seem like him.

Alyssa Graham went to the monitoring room on her way to the bathroom and bribed the security guard.

Soon the security found this morning's surveillance record.

She quickly found Emily Cole, who was putting the photos on the bulletin board.

Look how serious she was when she put up the photos on her tiptoe.

As Alyssa zoomed in, she saw that the photos posted by Emily Cole were the ones Ella Lloyd showed her.

Did Emily Cole do this?

Alyssa Graham thought for a moment and called the investigator she met yesterday.

Because Alyssa Graham turned out not to be the suspect, that he almost misunderstood Alyssa Graham, plus a husband who looked tough, the investigators' attitude to Alyssa was different from yesterday.

He answered any questions Alyssa Graham asked. Alyssa Graham learned that it was not a man who called the police, but a girl.

As she thought, it wasn't Ryan Young who called the police. He wouldn't do this kind of thing. He was counting on her to give him money!

Since Ryan Young saw her as the only source of income, why would he report her to the police?

Unless he didn't want money from her anymore, which was unlikely.

"By the way, Mrs. Hunter, I forgot to tell you that the girl's surname is a little special, like Chao. I didn't know how to write this character until I looked it up on my cellphone."

"Emily Cole?"

"Yes, that's the name. That's right!" When the investigators heard the name, they immediately nodded.

Alyssa Graham put down the phone, her back leaning against the wall and her hands held around her body.

Thinking of Emily Cole's clean and spotless face, Alyssa didn't expect her to do this.

But given that she was doing things behind people's backs, Alyssa wanted to see what Emily was capable of.

Alyssa put down the phone and went back to the classroom as if nothing had happened.

"Alyssa, why are you away for so long?" Ella Lloyd pushed the notebook into her hand. "These are my notes. Take them with you."

"I'll give them back to you as soon as I can."

"No, I took the notes for you. With the blisters on your hands, it must be hard for you to write. Take good care of your hands."

Alyssa Graham looked at Ella Lloyd and smiled, "Thank you, Ella."

"Thank you! You deserve this. We are friends since childhood. As long as you study well, I'm very happy."
"

Alyssa Graham wanted to put the notebook into her bag. Although her hand was injured, she felt very happy to have such a good friend on her side. At least she is not alone now.

After class, Alyssa didn't rush home but went to Ryan Young.

When Ryan Young saw Alyssa Graham, he couldn't wait to express his love for her. But thinking of what had happened before, he stopped and didn't dare to go forward.

She saw Ryan Young's joy but didn't want to have anything to do with him. She took out 1000 RMB and threw it at Ryan Young.

The money was scattered all over the place.

Ryan Young squatted on the ground and quickly picked up the money.

One of 100 RMB bills fell into the gap, and he hurried down to pick it up.

Alyssa looked into Ryan Young's eyes which were filled with desire for money, lowered her head and said, "You need to deal with what had happened last time."

"Alyssa, don't get me wrong. I didn't call the police. Why would I call the police? I know I was wrong and made you misunderstand me. I love you very much and would never want to hurt you."

"If it was not you, who else could have done it? Unless it was me? "

"I don't know, I really don't know, but I swear that it was not me. You can ask the investigators." Ryan Young raised his hand, "I can swear to the lamp, it was not me."

If this were the Alyssa Graham before, she couldn't bear to make Ryan Young swear.

But this time, even though she clearly knew that he did not call the police, she didn't feel bad at all doing all this to him.

Too bad that there was no cactus to make him incapable of standing up again!

She was tired of Ryan Young's face and said, "Listen, don't you want money? I can give it to you, but you have to help me show that the woman who hit you that day was not me. "

(To be continued)