

Bride of Mr. Billion Chapter 22

Chapter 22

Bella's POV:

Herbert's hands were warm, and I was instantly surrounded by a sense of security. Although I didn't know much about this man, I believed that he would definitely protect me and my baby. He's so outstanding and handsome. Our baby will surely inherit his genes in the future. O In any case, at least the baby I gave birth to should be very excellent. If I considered the growth of my child, it seemed to be the right choice for me to marry Herbert,

But about marriage... I didn't think about it clearly.

When the car was steadily driving on the road, I looked blankly at the Herbert in front of me and asked, "Are we going to the marriage register and register for marriage?" Herbert said with a smile, "You are usually very decisive, but why are you so slow when it comes to your own business?"

I immediately pursed my lips and directly retorted. "If i don't work well, what if i am fired by the capital?"

Herbert glared at me, and I immediately shut up and didn't say a word.

Then, he suddenly took out two pieces of paper and handed them to me. "This is our pre-wedding agreement. Take a look. If there's no problem, sign it."

Hearing this, I was stunned for a moment and then reached out to take the marriage agreement in his hand.

Looking down, I couldn't help frowning because the agreement was very detailed and there were many terms.

After the marriage, the two parties reached an agreement.

First, A will be responsible for all the expenses of the members of the family and their children. Second, if they were divorced, A would have to buy a house that was no less than 150 square meters and two million in cash. The B would not have the right to own any property of the A.

Third, if B continue to work in the Wharton Group, B must reveal the fact that A is married to B.

The next chapter was B shall not interfere with A's private life. Chapter 5 B is Not allowed to have any relationship with the opposite sex.

The next chapter was to cooperate with each other in front of family. If divorced, the child's raised rights belong to the A.

Looking at the detailed explanation, it seemed that Herbert had come prepared. Just now, I wanted him to take good care of me and his child. Now it seemed that he just wanted the child in my belly to marry me.

At this moment, I felt very hurt.

Such a marriage was too practical, and I was completely passive.

The next moment, I threw the agreement to Herbert. "This is an unequalled agreement. I won't sign

Herbert didn't show too much surprise, still very calm.

At this time, I heard him say, "Your father left you and your mother 15 years ago. Your mother was given to you after you went to college by working as a part-time worker and relatives. Now your salary is to support you and your mother, as well as your sister in high school. Your salary can only be paid to your family's life. Do you have the ability to give birth to children alone? Your mother is a very traditional family woman. Will she allow you to be a single mother?" "Have you investigated me?" I suddenly felt angry. It was as if I was a transparent person in front of Herbert, and he knew my situation. Herbert said coldly, "Do you think I'll let a woman who doesn't know anything about me give birth to my child? At least your family background and experience are innocent. Not all women deserve to give birth to my child."

This made my self-esteem trampled. I couldn't help but smile and said, "According to what you said, I should be glad to have the qualification to have a baby for you, right?"

Herbert's tone was very calm. "I won't force others. You decide on this!" After that, he raised his head and asked the driver in front of him, "When will we arrive?" "Three minutes left," the driver in front replied.

Herbert turned to me and said, "You have three minutes to consider. I have a date at six o'clock."

His words were very obvious. If she did not make a decision before the marriage was reached, then the marriage would be over. When I saw the look in Herbert's eyes, I could feel my heart beating wildly. If I were alone, I could not have accepted his contract and not his money. ² However, I'm not alone right now. I already have a child in my belly. What he just said was the truth. I really don't have e the ability to leave the child in my belly alone. Do I really want to agree to this unfair contract? . Just as I was hesitating, I heard Herbert say, "If you choose to have an abortion, I will give you enough surgical fees and nutrition fees." I looked at him in shock. "If I had chosen to abort this child, wouldn't you have opposed it?" Herbert said, "I don't have the right to force anyone to give birth to a child for me." "Of course, whether this child can come to this world or not depends on your decision!" Herbert's voice was very cold.
