

When His Eyes Opened by Simple Silence Chapter 1856

Chapter 1856

Avery thought Elliot was going to walk away, but as a result, Elliot walked over to her and sat down.

Avery didn't even think about it, she moved to the side.

"What are you doing?" Avery looked at his familiar face close at hand, but she couldn't guess what he was thinking.

"Why did you say that I didn't apologize to my daughter just now?" Elliot voice was a little lower than before, "This is still me. When I was away, how did you tell your daughter about me?"

"What's in your heart? I'll say what I want. How confident are you to think that I will say good things about you in front of the child?" Avery raised her lips and sneered, "It's not impossible if you want me to praise you. You give me custody of the child, I can praise you to the sky."

The calm on Elliot's face suddenly disappeared.

Elliot: "Avery, you said that no matter what I do, I will find reasons for myself. When did I find reasons for myself? No matter what I do, I am worthy of my conscience."

"Conscience? You talk to me about conscience? You dare to say you have no humility towards me?" Avery said coldly.

"Haze is our daughter. She was so dangerous at the time. What was wrong with me going to her? You have an accident with your eyes and you are blind. You tell others that I know, but I really don't know. Avery, I believe you I won't be wronged for no reason, so I adjusted the recording of our call at that time."

Avery stared into his eyes, trying to see if he had a guilty conscience.

"I have a recording on my phone, do you want to listen?" Elliot took out his phone, "Our last call before you filed for divorce. Because I really don't know what happened to your eyes, I'm very angry about your divorce. "

I've heard it." Avery glanced at his cell phone, "Elliot, is your recording really okay?"

"I asked someone from the communication company to tune it up. When I was talking to you on the phone, I heard the same thing." Elliot held the phone tightly, "I couldn't hear your voice when we were halfway through talking. The recording also shows that you lost your voice after two sentences."

“Are you sure?” Avery frowned tightly, “Are you sure you didn’t hear me at the time? Are you sure your recording is true?!”

“If I lie, if I make a false recording, when will you curse me? If I die, I will die anytime.” Elliot swore to her.

Avery looked at his determined eyes, her heart beating violently.

Is what Elliot said true?

Elliot doesn’t look like a lie.

“Avery, you hate me so much, is it because you told me on the phone that you had an accident with your eyes?” Elliot guessed countless times that the reason for the deterioration of their relationship was only this reason, which was the closest to the truth, “I don’t know. Is there a problem with your phone or my phone, I really can’t hear what you said after that.”

“I listened to that recording. In the recording, your voice is there throughout the whole process, but there is no me behind it. I heard it.” Avery took a breath, “If there is really a problem with my phone, it must be my phone.”

He thought of this misunderstanding, and it was only now that Elliot was stabbed in his heart.

Thinking that Avery couldn’t see at the time and called Elliot for help, but Elliot didn’t know it, and resolutely embarked on the flight to Yonroeville, how helpless and heartache would Avery feel?

“But... there is no problem with my mobile phone at all!” Avery picked up her mobile phone and said sadly, “I used to use this mobile phone. I still use it now. For more than two years, this mobile phone has never had any problems.”

Avery said this to prove that she should have no problems with her mobile phone at the time.

Elliot couldn’t hear her at the time, either he was lying or something else.

Chapter 1857

At this time, at the gate of the courtyard, a blue car slowly stopped.

After a while, the bodyguard entered the living room and reported to Elliot, “Boss, Miss Norah Jones is here. Said that she’s looking for Avery.”

Avery immediately looked out the door when she heard this.

She and Norah Jones have not met formally yet.

Now Norah Jones came to Elliot's house to look for her, which was very strange.

Elliot didn't say a word, and strode outside.

Avery followed behind Elliot. She wanted to know why Norah Jones came to her.

Norah Jones held a large jewelry box in her hand.

The moment Avery saw the box in her hand, she knew the purpose of her coming.

"Elliot, Miss Tate." Norah Jones saw the two of them walking from the room together and looking at how they were a good match. It was impossible not to be jealous at all.

"Norah Jones, I made it very clear to you on the phone." Elliot frowned, his voice unpleasant, "Don't come to my house in the future. We should not talk about anything other than official business."

Elliot's tone can be described as is very welcome.

If Avery heard what Elliot said, Norah would definitely turn around and leave without thinking about it. But Norah did not do that.

The expression on Norah Jones's face did not change.

"Elliot, I didn't come to you. I didn't plan to go into your house." After Norah Jones finished speaking, she looked at Avery, "Miss Tate, I'm very sorry. I didn't know you wanted to buy this set of jewelry. Since now say yes, then this set of jewelry is still for you. It belongs to you. I think this set of jewelry is very suitable for Layla. You can buy it and give it to Layla. This is the invoice I bought at the time, I know you won't be accepted for free, so you can just give me the amount above."

Before Avery could react, Elliot cut off the invoice in Norah Jones's hand.

"If that's the case, then it's hard for you to make a trip." After speaking, Elliot took the jewelry from Norah Jones's hand.

This is what Avery fancy and was going to give to Layla before, presumably this set of jewelry is really beautiful.

Elliot wants to make his daughter happy.

Since Norah Jones is willing to transfer, it would be better.

"I'll call you the money later." Elliot shoved the jewelry box into Avery's hand, and said to Norah coldly and politely, "Go away!"

Norah nodded, as if not aggrieved at all, and turned around car, drive away.

Avery was shocked by Norah Jones's strong psychological endurance. She has heard all kinds of remarks about Norah Jones. When everyone talks about Norah Jones, they will say how much Norah Jones likes Elliot.

But with Norah Jones's attitude just now, Avery really can't see how much Norah Jones likes Elliot.

It was even less obvious that Elliot had any personal feelings for Norah Jones.

Entering the living room, the two confront Layla.

Layla's eyes looked out, trying to see what was going on outside.

"Norah Jones brought the jewelry." Avery explained to her daughter, "She's left."

"Oh, what does she mean?" Layla looked at the jewelry box in her mother's hand and said coldly, "I just don't want her present!"

Chapter 1858

"Nora intends to sell this set of jewelry to me." Avery put the jewelry box on the coffee table, then reached out to Elliot and asked for the invoice, "Give me the invoice."

Elliot glanced at the invoice.

$10 million.

This money is not a small amount.

Elliot: "I'll give her the money later..."

"Nora sold it to me, not to you." Avery walked up to him and took the invoice from his hand, "$10 million ... She is so proud to spend so much money on gifts for Layla. Does she usually give gifts to Layla, but is it so expensive?"

Elliot shook his head: "No. Last year she gave Layla a dress. I looked at the price. It's only a few hundred thousand dollars."

“Hundreds of thousands?! Do you think a few hundred thousand is cheap? You dare to accept such an expensive gift from someone who gave your child for no reason!” Avery glared at him.

Elliot pursed his lips, not knowing what to say.

The gift was received by Layla, not through Elliot’s hands at all.

He took a peek at the price tag after Layla had received the gift.

“Mom, I received the birthday present she gave me last year. The dress she gave me was very beautiful, I didn’t think it was very expensive...” How did Layla know that a dress cost hundreds of thousands.

“It’s okay, just accept it. Your father must have returned the gift.” Avery took a deep breath and returned to her daughter with the receipt, “Layla, look at the jewelry, if you like it, mother will pay the money to Norah Jones.”

Layla opened the box and glanced at it.

When Layla looked at the pictures before, She thought this set of jewelry was very beautiful, but now She sees it with her own eyes and She thinks it is very beautiful, but she doesn’t like it that much.

“Mom, it’s so expensive...I don’t want it.” Layla didn’t want her mother to spend so much for herself, so she glanced at the jewelry and closed the box.

“Baby, it’s fine as long as you like it. Mom can afford it.” Avery reopened the box, “Mom will put it on for you, try it.”

“$10 million! With so much money, you can buy a lot of jewelry...” Layla said, looking at Dad, “Dad, you pay.”

Elliot responded and immediately transferred $10 million to Norah Jones.

“Elliot, I said I can afford it, who do you look down on!” Avery said in a sour tone when she saw that Elliot had paid the bill, “I’ll transfer the money to you later. This is a gift I bought for my daughter, I have to pay for it myself.”

Elliot was stunned: “Didn’t we just make the misunderstanding clear?”

“Have I accepted your explanation?” Avery retorted, “Even if you didn’t lie, it was me who misunderstood you, and we already divorced. Friends still have to settle accounts, we are not friends, we have nothing to do with each other now.”

Elliot saw her attitude was so strong, and said, “Then give me the money.”

“Well.” Avery take Layla to look in the mirror.

Avery: “Baby, you look so good in this set of jewelry. Money is spent, don’t think it’s expensive, mom can really afford it.”

Layla whispered: “But you don’t have a job now, if I spend all your money What should you do?”

“Mom will do what she can.” Avery said, glanced outside the bathroom door, and lowered her voice, “Mom has money, don’t tell your dad. Because it’s mom’s secret...”

Layla opened her mouth in an ‘O’ shape, looking surprised: “Okay mom, I won’t tell him.”

Avery: “Well. Tell mom now, do you like this set of jewelry?”

“Yes.” A happy smile finally bloomed on Layla’s face. “But Mom, Dad just said that you made the misunderstanding clear with you. Did you really make it clear? Did you blame Dad?”

“Your father made it clear, but I don’t know if what he said is true. If I accept what he said, I can’t explain it myself. I don’t want to blindly listen to him, but I don’t hate him as much as I used to. It’s over.” Avery didn’t want to let the grievance between himself and Elliot affect the child, “Layla, if you think he is a good father, then you shouldn’t hate him because of your mother.”

“Look at his performance!” Layla said, “I think he wants to chase you again.”

When His Eyes Opened by Simple Silence Chapter 1859

Chapter 1859

“Layla, how did you see it? Why didn’t mom see it?” Avery really didn’t see it. After all, after she came over, what she said to Elliot was serious business.

Layla said firmly: “He always stares at you. If he doesn’t like you, why is he staring at you? When Aunt Norah Jones came to our house, he didn’t stare at Aunt Norah Jones very much.”

“Layla, you can’t just look at whether you like someone or not. I was confronting him just now, and of course I will look at him.” Avery said, “I looked at him just now, do you want to say that I like him too?”

“Oh... Mom, don’t you like him at all?” Layla was a little puzzled, “My dad is still handsome, right?”

Avery couldn't help laughing: "It's okay! But sometimes there are no feelings, it has nothing to do with looks. If two people quarrel frequently, no matter how good-looking the other person is, they will only get bored."

Layla: "But you two didn't quarrel just now."

"I can't quarrel with him anymore." Avery said, "All the chips he thought he could threaten me were ineffective."

"Mom, do you really want to teach him a lesson?" Layla looked at her mother and asked, "If there is anything I can do to help, just tell me. I'm definitely on your side!"

"Layla, your father and mother are adults. Even if I want to teach Elliot a lesson, I will teach him a lesson myself, and I definitely don't need your help." Avery said, taking her daughter from the bathroom come out.

Elliot knew that the two of them were whispering inside, but he didn't hear what they said.

After Layla came out of the bathroom, she went to the kitchen to show her jewelry to Mrs. Cooper.

Avery walked towards the living room and wanted to transfer the money to him.

"Why did you buy such an expensive birthday present for your daughter?" Elliot asked her after giving her the card number, "It was an auction. If Norah Jones had bid with you at the time, what was your reserve price?"

In his impression, Avery's spending money is definitely not like this.

Not only does she not spend money herself, but she also doesn't like his spending money like running water.

But now, it's just a birthday present, and Avery dares to spend tens of millions.

"People can change." After Avery handed the money to him, she replied, "When I first met you, I was a girl who was not deep in the world. Elliot, don't look at me now with the eyes of the past."

"You are now?" Elliot looked at her as familiar with facial features as before, and found it hard to accept her change. "What are you like now?"

"That's what you see now." Avery didn't want to continue with him look at each other. She always feels that his eyes are like an abyss, and if he continues to look at it, She's afraid it will be bad.

Avery took an apple from the fruit bowl and took a bite.

“Didn’t you wash it?” Elliot took out a fruit knife from under the cabinet and handed it to her.

Avery embarrassedly swallowed the apple in her mouth, and then began to peel it: “you went to see Hayden, how was it?”

Elliot: “Did you not ask Hayden?”

Avery: “He didn’t say it, I didn’t ask.”

Elliot: “He has grown a lot taller and looks like an adult. But his temper is still the same...”

Avery felt that she couldn’t say anything good, so she turned her head to look at him.

Elliot stopped immediately and changed his words: “He still hates me as always. But he is good to Robert. He bought Robert a gift. He is also willing to talk to Robert.”

“Of course, Robert is his younger brother. He has no grudge against Robert.” Avery continued to peel.

“Do I have a grudge against him? Layla can forgive me, why can’t Hayden?” Elliot was willing to hold both Layla and Hayden in the palm of his hand. But Hayden didn’t give him the slightest chance.

“Do you think that I must have spoken ill of you in front of Hayden?” Avery teased.
