When His Eyes Opened (Avery and Elliott)

Chapter 2051

Chapter 2051

As Margaret said, the door of the company was closed and the door was not opened.

“Open the door of your company, I want to go in!” Avery took Margaret out of the car and asked her.

“I don’t have a key! I have to find someone...” Margaret rolled her eyes.

“Then you immediately call someone to open the door.” Avery did not doubt Margaret’s words.

Ali saw Margaret’s expression in his eyes and said to Avery: “I don’t need her to call someone, I can open the door!”

After Ali finished speaking, he took out a gun, pointed it at the door lock, and pulled the trigger!

After two loud bangs, the door was broken open!

Margaret was so frightened that her body suddenly retreated a few steps.

Avery didn’t care about her, and after the door opened, she strode into the company.

Ali bet on Margaret and followed closely.

“When did your company close?” Avery saw that the office equipment was still there, but no one was there.

“Just a while ago! I can’t remember exactly when. I haven’t managed this company for a long time. You know how much money it costs to do research. Travis is no more famous than your ex-husband. He can’t help me. I have been losing money every year, and I have long wanted me to continue to open this company.” Margaret had a bright and open expression, “Since you have come in, what do you want to see, you can see it yourself. Our company has three floors in total. The fourth floor is someone else’s territory.”

Avery heard the words and immediately took the bodyguard to find someone.

Although she felt that Elliot might not be here anymore, what if there were traces of his existence here?

After Avery and the other bodyguards walked away, Margaret found a chair and sat down.

Ali stood in front of her, staring at her.

“Margaret, did you hide Elliot?” Ali was impatient, he wanted to pry Margaret’s mouth open and cut Margaret’s heart to see what the truth was.

“Why are you full of nonsense? Do you have evidence? Shut up your mouth if you don’t have any evidence!” Margaret shouted, “Don’t think I’ll be afraid of you if you hold a gun, I’m a powerful person in Bridgedale anyway... ..”

“Haha! You have a head and a face? Do you mean that Elliot has no head and face? You are really more famous. Do you think Elliot is more famous or yours?” Ali’s roar overshadowed hers. “If you don’t want to die, return Elliot as soon as possible! If you are obsessed, wait for my boss to find Elliot. If this matter really has anything to do with you, just wait to die!”

Margaret’s mouth raised a quirky touch. She smiled and said: “Death is a threat to others, for me, it is a gift, a relief...”

Ali: “???”

Ali couldn’t understand at all What Margaret said. He thought about it in his heart, and suddenly there was a chill on my back.

Ali: “Aren’t you going to marry Travis? Why do I feel like you are seeking death?”

“You are seeking death. You threatened me with death, and I followed your words! Since you know that I am going to marry soon Travis, how dare you treat me like this?” Margaret stared at Ali as if he had been greatly wronged.

“You’re talking about that old man Travis, it’s better to say that you are Professor Hough’s sister!” Ali said arrogantly, “My boss has no strong evidence right now, once there is evidence... “

“You dare to arrest people without any evidence at all?” Margaret sneered, “You guys are really brave! Are you not afraid of calling the police after I go out?”

Ali was stunned: “Although my boss has no evidence , but I know that this matter has something to do with you! If you dare to call the police, then you should report it. When this matter gets bigger, maybe you can help us find Elliot!”

Margaret sneered and didn't answer.

"You dare not answer my words because you are afraid. Margaret, just wait! Your wedding with Travis may have to be held in the underworld." Ali continued to threaten.

The smile on Margaret's face faded, and she couldn't help reaching into her bag.

"What are you doing?!" Ali shouted violently when he saw Margaret's action.

Margaret's body trembled, and she frowned: "I look at the note written by Professor Hough! I haven't been caught for breaking the law, are you guarding the prisoner? You are so bold!"

"Don't look!" Ali snatched her handbag away, "Before my boss allows you to be free, you are a prisoner!"

Margaret gritted her teeth, but there was nothing she could do.

The bodyguard Margaret brought, shrank away secretly, wanting to pretend that he wasn't here.

What is more and more afraid of what.

Margaret soon saw her useless bodyguard and asked, "What are you doing hiding there?"

The bodyguard flinched: "He has a gun...I don't have..."

"Then get out of here! Look, you will be an eyesore!" Margaret yelled.

After the bodyguard glanced at Ali, his body quickly moved towards the door.

"You two are playing double reeds here!" Ali took out his pistol and pointed it at Margaret's bodyguard, "Are you running out so you can report to Travis? Before my boss speaks, neither of you want to leave!"

Avery took the bodyguards and searched every room of the company inch by inch!

She didn't find Elliot's figure.

In the laboratory, the equipment is still there, but there is no medicine.

Avery stood in the laboratory and looked around.

This laboratory looked relatively ordinary, and the space was not large.

After staying inside for a while, she came out and planned to go to another room.

"Let's go and see if there is a hidden space such as a secret compartment."

"Miss Tate, have you ever thought that even if Elliot was here before, but now it's closed, how could they leave Elliot alone here?" A bodyguard asked suspiciously.

"Yeah, Miss Tate! There's no one here at all. Elliot is definitely not here." Another bodyguard also said, "We have turned over the three floors and called Elliot's name countless times. If he is still here or alive, he will definitely respond to us."

"What if he is imprisoned here, what if he is in a coma and can't hear our voice? Look for it!" Avery didn't want to give up.

She finally found this place, and she was unwilling not to turn it upside down.

Not long after, Mike drove to find here.

After Mike came over, he first pulled Avery aside and sat down in the chair.

"You really don't remember that you were injured! You can just call me for this kind of thing, why did you come here yourself?" Mike frowned, angry that she didn't know how distressed her body was.

"My wound doesn't hurt anymore." Avery explained, sitting in a chair.

"You know whether it hurts or not." Mike's eyes swept across her face coldly.

Avery lowered her head.

Mike looked at the bodyguard and said, "Did you find Elliot?"

"I didn't find Elliot! Miss Tate asked us to find out if there was any hidden secret. We... didn't find it." The headed bodyguard replied.

“Organization secret?” Mike glanced at the house, the decoration was quite new, “Just ask the original decoration company, will the company know?”

Margaret wanted to end this boring game as soon as possible, so she took the initiative to say the name of decoration company.

Margaret: “Hurry up and ask! I’m starving to death!”

Mike glared at Margaret, then took his mobile phone and walked aside to find someone to contact the decoration company.

Half an hour later, the decoration company sent Mike Margaret’s decoration structure diagram and final decoration renderings.

Mike glanced at the picture, and then handed the phone to Avery for Avery to see.

After seeing the picture, Avery got up from the chair with a pale face.

“Avery, you’ve made enough trouble, can I go with the bodyguard?!” Margaret roared at Avery’s back with a gloomy face.

Avery clasped her hands tightly, turned around, and looked at Margaret’s face with cold eyes: “You can go, but this matter is far from over!”

“Then you can continue to investigate! Later, you will give me a call, if you’ll come out!” Margaret has suffered this loss, and will never suffer a second loss!

After coming out of the company, Margaret thought of what Avery gave her, and her anger disappeared little by little.

She thought that Professor Hough was a merciless sc*mbag, but she didn’t expect that it was actually different from what she imagined.

Of course, just a handwritten name cannot erase the hurt Professor Hough had done to her back then.

Margaret’s bodyguard said, “Boss, I’m sorry! I didn’t protect you today.”

The bodyguard and Margaret took a taxi on the side road. Their car was still at the previous cafe.

“What’s the use of me blaming you? Avery brought eleven people with her. Even if you are very skilled, you can’t fight eleven people alone!” Margaret didn’t blame the bodyguard.

The bodyguard: “You yelled at me like that in there just now, I was really scared to death...”

“I want you to get out first and go to the rescue! Who knew that Avery’s bodyguard was so shrewd!” Margaret cursed in a low voice.

The bodyguard stopped a taxi on the side of the road.

After the two got into the car, Margaret called Travis.

Margaret: “Travis, guess what Avery did to me just now?”

Travis: “I called you, but you never answered, so I guessed that something must have happened to you.”

“Avery has no evidence! Her bodyguard is with me. So we don’t have to be afraid of anything for the time being.” Margaret smiled proudly, “She found my company. She was incompetent and furious inside! Seeing her so sad and incompetent, I feel so good! If Professor Hough is still alive, seeing his good disciple being played around by me, I don’t know if I will feel distressed hahaha!”

Travis laughed and said, “Margaret, since she suspects you now, you should avoid the limelight! “

Margaret: “Wait until I go back. I’m starving to death.”

After Mike sent Avery to her house, he immediately called the doctor and asked the doctor to come and give Avery an infusion.

Avery ran out and tossed for a few hours today, and the wound ripped apart without any accident.

Mike can’t remember how many times the wound has been lacerated since her injury.

He’s really worried that if things go on like this, her wound will get infected, making her condition worse.

“You have to recuperate at home for the next three days. Even if I don’t eat or sleep, I have to watch you at home!” Mike stood at the door of her room and warned her.

Avery ignored his warning. She seemed to be immersed in her own world.

Mike knew that there must be Elliot in the world she was immersed in.

After half an hour, the doctor came.

After Mike told the doctor about Avery's situation, the doctor immediately took the medicine and entered Avery's bedroom.

"Miss Tate, what are you doing? You know that you are injured, so you should rest at home." The doctor put the medicine box on the bedside table.

Avery's eyes turned to the medicine box, and out of the corner of his eyes, he caught a glimpse of the suitcase that he had placed beside the bedside table.

Avery got out of bed.

When the doctor saw her getting out of bed, he was startled and said, "Miss Tate, what are you doing?"

"I'll take something." Avery walked to the suitcase and squatted down.

"Miss Tate, you have a stomach injury, so don't squat! I'll help you get what you want." The doctor quickly put down the medicine in his hand and helped her up.

Avery: "please help me open the suitcase, there is a men's white shirt in it, you can help me take it out."

The doctor immediately opened her suitcase.

That men's white shirt, in a more conspicuous position.

The doctor picked up the shirt and asked, "Is it this one?"

"Yes." Avery took the shirt and went back to the bed to sit down.

"Miss Tate, this dress is a little dirty." The doctor glanced at the white shirt and reminded kindly, "Can't the stains be washed off?"

"I don't wash it." Avery held the shirt in both hands with a serious expression.

The doctor dared not say much. Prepare the medicine, give her the needle, and exit the bedroom.

"Miss Tate is holding a dirty shirt." The doctor came out and told Mike about it.

"That's what Elliot wore during his lifetime." Mike replied.

The doctor: "No wonder she looks so sad."

"You haven't eaten yet? Let's eat here!" Mike invited, "How many bottles of medicine does she want?"

The doctor: "Two bottles."

"Then come over for dinner!" Mike took the doctor to the dining room.

"Miss Tate hasn't eaten yet?"

"I asked the nanny to bring her food." Mike guessed that Avery would not be able to eat.

"Elliot is really dead?" The word 'before his death' that Mike said just now echoed in the doctor's mind.

"Not necessarily! But there is no news about him yet. I thought he should still be alive, but it's more difficult to lose contact for so long." Mike only dared to tell outsiders these words.

If he said this in front of Avery, Avery would definitely be greatly stimulated.

"By the way, do you know what the pharmaceutical company opened by Margaret does?" Mike remembered this, so he chatted with the doctor.

After thinking for a few seconds, the doctor said: "I heard from my colleagues. Margaret's company actually mainly serves Travis. It can also be said that it serves the two of them. Both of them are relatively old, one is in his sixties and One of them is in their seventies, but do they both look much younger than their peers? It's because Margaret's team has been researching medicines for eternal youth."

Mike: "Haha, Avery told me that birth, old age, sickness and death are the laws of nature. No one can go against it. There is no way to keep youth forever in this world."

"I think the same as Miss Tate, but Margaret is more powerful. Maybe she has really developed a way to delay aging. Otherwise, what would Travis look So young?" The doctor said.

Mike was silent for a few seconds, then asked: "Doing this kind of research, shouldn't people die?"

The doctor said, “Theoretically not. Any medical research will use animal experiments first. Only after the safety of animal experiments will be used in clinical trials. “

In that case, why did they arrest Elliot? Besides, according to what you mean, they should have already developed a drug to delay aging, and they don't need to arrest Elliot to test it!”

The doctor asked, “Did they arrest Elliot?”

“It should be.” Mike whispered, “The clues we have so far are this.”

Mike picked up the wine bottle and poured the doctor.

“I don't drink. I have to drive back later.” The doctor refused.

“You drink less, I will ask the bodyguard to take you back later.” Mike poured the doctor's wine and the wine glass was brought to the doctor, “I definitely won't let you get drunk. You will have to change Avery's medicine later!”

The doctor reluctantly took the wine glass and took a sip.

“I don't know Margaret very well, but I have friends who admire her very much. She is often mentioned in front of me. I heard that her biggest wish in her life is to win the March Medical Award. Do you know the March Medical Award?” Doctor asked.

Mike shook his head and nodded again: “I heard of it, but I didn't understand it. It seems to be a very good award.”

“The March Medical Award is the most authoritative award in our medical field. The last winner of the March Medical Award was Professor James Hough. Margaret likes Professor James Hough, and everyone in the circle knows this. So Margaret naturally wants to win the March Medical Prize, even if it's not to compete with Professor James Hough, but also for himself In the medical field, I have the best explanation in my life.”

Mike: “Avery didn't win this award, but Margaret can get it? I don't believe it.”

“Since Margaret boasted that She would win this award, she must have privately do her homework.” The doctor said here, picked up the phone and glanced at the calendar, “In another month, it will be the four-yearly March Medical Award. I don't know what Margaret will do this time.”

Mike: “Oh... If she really makes a drug that can delay aging, will she also be awarded an award?”

The doctor shook his head: “I don't know that. The judges are all the most authoritative people in the medical field. It has its own set of award rules. However, according to the research results of the winners over the years, the March Medical Award is more inclined to award the award to the research that can cure major diseases. If Margaret wants to win steadily, this may be difficult her to get the prize.”

“Oh...” Mike murmured, “It's complicated!”

After Avery lost her medicine, she hugged Elliot's shirt and fell asleep.

Today, she was running around outside for a long time, and she didn't eat much, so her physical strength was obviously weak.

With the breath left on Elliot's shirt, she felt as if she was holding him.

After falling asleep, she had a sweet dream.

In the dream, Elliot was lying beside her, hugging her back like she was hugging him.

She could feel his hot body temperature and his familiar and unique breath.

She could hear his low, hoarse voice, so clear and so vivid.

He said he was fine, he was just lost... He also said that with her and the child, he would never die.

This dream made all the pain Avery experienced during this period disappear. Although it only disappeared for a short time, it allowed her to have a moment of relaxation.

After some time, Avery woke up from her dream. Her face was cold, she reached out and touched it, tears all over her face.

She sat up and looked out the window.

Its daybreak.

She immediately lifted the quilt, hugged Elliot's shirt, and came out of the room.

The nanny just got up and didn't have time to make breakfast when she saw Avery come out of the room and came over immediately.

“Avery, why did you get up so early? The doctor said you need to rest in bed.”

“I’ll go to Mike.” Avery strode towards Mike’s room.

An hour later –

Mike and Avery appeared at the door of Margaret’s company.

Along with them, in addition to eleven bodyguards, there was also a special police officer and a search and rescue dog.

The special police smelled Elliot’s shirt to the search and rescue dog, and then brought the search and rescue dog into the company!

Avery strode behind them.

Has Elliot ever been here? There will be an answer soon!
