

Bride of Mr.Billion

Chapter 476

Chapter 476

The second day after the honeymoon

Bella received a call from Hank

"Is Betty better?" Hank asked

Bella was very surprised "To be honest, I didn't expect that you would still care about her. I thought you would hate her"

On the other end of the phone, Hank smiled "Maybe this is the power that Elsamara gave me. She always has the power to cure people. I'm very happy to be with her"

"No matter what, Betty is the mother of my child. If she doesn't live a good life, Anne won't be happy"

Bella was very gratified. She said with a smile, "It's really good for you to think like this. Betty is now accepting treatment, and her situation is much better in all aspects. It's just that she will often be in a daze alone. She will stare at Anne's photos in a daze."

"Her personality has improved a lot, and she seems to have returned to the obedient Betty she used to be. Perhaps Betty is not a bad girl. She just loved you too much that she was not acting like herself."

"After she lost you, she regained her senses."

Hank said, "That's great. I also hope she can be better. Anne misses her very much. Bella, can you do me a favor? Help me pick Anne up and bring her to see Betty. Anne has been asking to see her mother."

Hank sighed and said, "In fact, Betty often used Anne to threaten me and hurt Anne. We thought that the child didn't understand. After all, she was still young."

"In fact, Anne knew it. She said that she hated her mother before, but she still loves her mother now."

"We used to say that parents love for their children is selfless. But sometimes thinking about it, adults' love is mixed with too many benefits and other factors. Children's love for their parents is selfless."

"No matter how bad their parents are, their children will always love them."

Hearing Hank's words, Bella's eyes were a little moist, and she forgot to respond to Hank.

"Bella, are you still listening? I'm sorry, I've said too much," Hank said.

Bella immediately said, "No, you are right. What you said touched me. After all, I am also the mother of two children."

"Yes, you should be very experienced. Bella, take Anne to Betty. Have Anne accompany Betty. Perhaps Betty will get better soon. Please take good care of Anne. Don't let her suffer," Hank said.

Hank continued, "My parents are still worried about Anne's education, so after the holiday, Anne has to come back to us. I hope you can understand this."

Bella nodded hard "Don't worry, I understand. I will take good care of Anne. Thank you, Hank."

After hanging up the phone, Bella looked at her two children.

Lucas ran over with his painting "Mom, look at this. I painted you as a queen, the most beautiful queen."

Lucy also came over and said, "Mom, I'll give you my favorite chocolate."

Bella held the two children tightly in her arms. "Thank you, babies, I love you..."

...

That afternoon, Bella went to pick Anne up.

In the car, Anne looked up and asked Bella anxiously, "Aunt Bella, will I see mummy soon?"

Bella touched Anne's braids and said with a smile, "Yes."

Betty missed her child very much. During this period of time, she had changed a lot. She probably knew that she was wrong.

Betty was not only plainly dressed, but she did not wear makeup anymore. She was very silent. Bella was very sad to see her like that. After all, she used to be her closest sister.

Dingdong, Dingdong.

The doorbell rang twice, and someone came to open the door.

When the door was opened, Bella saw that it was her mother who opened it. "Mom, look who's here with me."

Lauren Meyer lowered her head to take a look. After a few minutes of careful observation, she pulled Anne into her arms. "Oh my god, Anne, I haven't seen you for so long. You've really grown taller. I couldn't even recognize you!"

Seeing how agitated her mother was, Bella entered the house and closed the door with a flip of her hand.

Anne greeted her politely, "Grandma." But she was not as excited as her mother.

At this time, Betty heard the noise and came out of the bedroom. When she saw Anne, the things in her hand fell to the ground!

She simply couldn't believe that it was Anne standing in front of her. She walked over step by step, touched Anne's face with trembling hands, and asked in a daze, "Anne, is that you?"

"Mommy!" Anne raised her head and looked at Betty. She frowned and there were tears in her eyes.

It could be seen that Anne was also very excited to see Betty, but she was very good at controlling her emotions. This child was not only very polite but also very good at controlling her emotions and taking care of herself.

Hank and his family laughed Anne well.

"Anne, my daughter!" Betty then held Anne in her arms and cried.

Anne looked up and saw her crying mother. She stretched out her little hand to wipe away the tears on her cheeks.

"Mommy, don't cry. I'm here to see you," Anne said, holding Betty in her arms.

Betty became even more agitated when she heard these words. She hugged Anne tightly.

After Betty calmed down a little, Anne said, "Mommy, I brought you a gift."

"Oh? What did you bring to mommy?" Betty tried hard to restrain her emotions.

Anne took out a picture from her school bag. It was a child's painting, and it didn't look realistic.

But it could be seen that it was a woman, a crying woman.

Anne explained with the painting in her hand, "This is my first painting of mommy. Although she is wearing the most beautiful clothes, she is not very happy. So the flowers around her are withering."

She took out another painting and said, "This is the second painting of mommy, who looks very happy. The flowers around her are very bright. Mommy, I hope you can be happy."

"Mommy, you look really beautiful when you smile," Anne hugged Betty tightly.

Betty also hugged Anne tightly.

She suddenly regretted that she had ignored Anne in the past.

She was so lucky to have an angel-like treasure.

"I'm sorry, baby. Mommy did a lot of bad things in the past," Betty said.

Anne said, "It doesn't matter. You will always be my mommy."

Anne said with a smile, "Daddy also said that although you are separated, you will always love me."

"Did your father really say that?" Betty asked.

...

"Yes, Mommy, you should be happy soon," Anne nodded hard.

"Okay, I'll make myself happy. I won't cry," Betty said with a smile and tears flowing down her face.

Seeing the mother and daughter, Lauren Meyer's face was naturally covered with tears, and Bella's eyes were wet.

At this time, Lauren Meyer sat down on the sofa in the living room with Bella and let Betty and Anne chat.

"Bella, why did you bring Anne back?" Lauren Meyer asked.

"It was Hank who took the initiative to call me," Bella just smiled.

At this moment, Betty took Anne's hand and walked over.

"Sister, thank you for bringing Anne back. I... it was all my fault in the past. It was my fault..." Betty lowered her head and started to cry.

Seeing this, Bella got up, took Betty's hand, and said, "Betty, we've been sisters for so many years. I hope it will remain the same in the future, and I hope you can be filial to mom in the future!"

"I will," Betty nodded with tears in her eyes. Then she sat on the sofa and pulled Anne into her arms. She didn't want to be separated from her anymore.

Bella continued, "Betty, Hank took the initiative to call me this time. He's a good person. Don't blame him."

Betty was stunned for a moment and then burst into tears while laughing. "I know, he's a good person. He just doesn't love me."

"Sister, don't worry. I won't pester him anymore. For Anne, I will start my new life."

Seeing the vitality in Betty's eyes, Bella was also very gratified. "Well, it's great that you think so."

Then, Bella said, "Betty, Hank agreed to let Anne come back. Anne's grandparents said that Anne should go back after the school holiday. You have to understand."

Hearing this, Betty hesitated for a moment and said, "I can understand. I'm also very happy to see that Anne has been well educated by her grandparents. But sister, can you discuss with Hank and Anne's grandparents to let Anne come back to live with us for a while during the winter and summer holiday?"

"You are Anne's mother. As long as Anne can be taken good care of, they will definitely agree," Bella nodded.

"Yes," Betty nodded with tears in her eyes.

Bella was also a mother, so she could naturally understand Betty's feelings at the moment.

Betty reached out to hold Bella's hand and said gratefully and guiltily, "Sister, I'm so lucky to have a sister like you."

"Me too," Bella said with a smile.

Bella and Betty had finally reconciled. They had never thought that this day would come again.

They had a long life ahead of them, and there would be more things that would happen.

But what would remain unchanged was that they would accompany each other until they were old...

The ending.
