Chapter 431 Ger Nina Back

“She can’t even raise a baby properly!”

Carlee returned to the ward and sat beside Harley. She tucked him in and looked at the electrocardiogram. The curves on it were rhythmic.

“What did the doctor say?”

Reid took Harley’s medical record and replied as he looked at it, “He said that Harley’s condition is stable, but he’s not getting better.”

“Harley hasn’t eaten for several days. He has been relying on the nutrient solution only. Look, he’s getting thinner,” said Carlee as she grabbed Harley’s hand.

She turned to look at the coffee table in the ward. Nothing was on it. Then she took a look at the cabinet and found only two clothes.

“He doesn’t even have fruit here!”

“I told you to have some breakfast before coming here. See? Hungry now?” Reid said.

“I’m worried about Harley, and I wanted to get here as soon as possible!” As Carlee spoke, she turned around and saw Reid sitting there, idly flipping through the medical records.

Carlee was furious. “Why can’t you go down and buy some apples? When Harley wakes up later, he will be hungry because he hasn’t eaten for a few days. He can have some apple paste!”

Reid put down the medical record and answered seriously, “The doctor said that he couldn’t eat these things, since he has just recovered from a serious illness. He should eat some soup.”

“You...”

What he said was the truth, which made Carlee speechless. She was hungry anyway, and she met Nina who irritated her. And now she was even more furious when being retorted by Reid like this.

“Why am I so unlucky? I found myself a husband like you and gave birth to such a son. And that’s not all! I almost died because of a jinx.

“Nina is such a jinx. She brings bad luck to our family. See what she did to Harley? And she can’t even raise the baby in her belly well.

“The doctor said today that the baby is small. Babies nowadays grow up well in their mothers’ wombs. It’s not easy to give birth. Only Nina is with a small baby!”

Carlee complained. Reid could tell that something was wrong, so he asked, “How did you know?”

Carlee sat beside Harley. “Just now, I accompanied Laine downstairs for her checkup. We bumped into Nina and her friend. It seemed that they were having some physical exams.

“I think there’s something wrong with the baby. It’s not serious, though.”

“Not serious? Are you sure?” Reid asked.

Carlee thought for a while and said, “More or less. I didn’t hear them clearly.”

The two of them spoke casually, and Harley, who was lying on the bed, seemed to hear their conversation.

Harley’s fingers moved slightly, and he shook his head from side to side. His brows seemed to be frowning, and the curves on the electrocardiogram started to fluctuate violently.

A harsh sound came.

The electrocardiogram sounded an alarm.

Carlee panicked, and she stood up. She didn’t even know where to place her hands.

“He was doing just fine a minute ago. What happened? Doctor! Call the doctor!”

Reid was relatively calm. He pressed the beeper on the bed and called the nurse station.

“Something is wrong with the patient in Room 903. Get the attending here now!”

“The doctor is on his way. Calm down. Don’t move the patient before the doctor is there!”

Harley was now in a more serious situation. He was trembling slightly, and his bloodless lips opened slightly.

Seeing this, Reid wanted to reach out to touch Harley. Thinking of the nurse’s words, Reid retracted his hand and leaned over, wanting to hear what Harley was mumbling about.

“Nina... Nina...”

The doctor and the nurse came hurriedly. They asked Reid and Carlee to step outside first, lifted Harley’s quilt, and began to diagnose.

Carlee stood in front of the door worriedly, wanting to see the situation inside through the glass on the door.

The nurse came straight over and drew the curtains on the window.

Carlee couldn’t do anything else but wait outside the door.

“Wasn’t Harley fine just now? Why did he suddenly become like this?”

“Maybe because he heard you talking about Nina subconsciously,” Reid said slowly.

“What?” Carlee was confused. “Isn’t he in a coma? Can he still hear me? I didn’t speak ill of her anyway. What are you talking about?”

“Harley was calling Nina’s name just now.”

Hearing this, Carlee widened her eyes in disbelief. She glanced at the ward and then at Reid. “Are you sure?”

“Yes. I didn’t hear him wrong.”

“That’s...”

Reid looked at Carlee solemnly. “Nina is very important to Harley, and Harley is not totally unconscious right now. So, don’t make things difficult for Nina. It would be better to let her stay with Harley.

“If you don’t agree with me, I will not allow you to see Harley while he’s in the hospital.”

Although Carlee was usually the one who planned everything at home, those were all trivial matters. Reid’s words still counted when something serious happened.

“But Harley only becomes like this because of her. Whenever I think about it, I... Forget it. It’s all for Harley’s sake. We’ll talk about it when he gets better.”

Carlee was angry and anxious, She was angry that Harley loved Nina, and she was anxious about Harley’s condition. She had no choice but to leave.

Chapter 432 Negotiation

Glancing at Melissa and Nina, Carlee said, “Now Harley needs you. The doctor performs first aid on him. You know his feelings towards you. You can help him recover.”

“What happened to Harley? Why is he receiving first aid treatment? I’ll be right there!”

When Nina heard Harley’s news, she immediately took out the IV needle. She wanted to rush over immediately but was stopped by Melissa.

“What are you doing? Don’t you hear the doctor’s words? When are you going to care about yourself?”

“Are you a doctor? Will he recover if you go there?”

Melissa’s words made Nina calm down. She knew that Nina was worried. Then she continued to comfort her, “I know you are anxious, but what else can you do besides be anxious now? Why don’t you care about yourself? Does Harley want to see you like this?”

As she spoke, Melissa pulled Nina's hand and exerted a little force. She wanted Nina to think twice.

Nina nodded. She looked up at the IV drip and said, "Mrs. Timothy, Melissa is right. I will only cause trouble if I go. I can't help him. Besides, Harley also hopes that I will be fine.

"I will finish soon. And I will go later."

Carlee helplessly snorted, Nina is planning to negotiate with me.

A jinx! My son is in the rescue. But You don't even take out a needle. You just listen to whatever your best friend says!

Carlee thought to herself as she resisted the urge to curse out like this. After all, she had a request now.

"Because of you, my son has become like this. Don't you feel guilty at all? Will you die if you take out the needle? My son is in danger now!"

Once she heard Harley's name, Nina could not control herself and wanted to rush over immediately.

Her arm grabbed by Melissa slightly hurt, and she was reminding herself.

Nina gritted her teeth and said, "Mrs. Timothy, I am indeed very guilty, but you are the one who chased me out, and the doctor asks me to take care of myself..."

"You..." Carlee was so angry that she slammed the door. This jinx... She dared talk back to me!

Melissa continued to add, "Mrs. Timothy, I know you are worried about Harley. Nina is also worried. Otherwise, she would not have stayed here for several days. But after all, you have kicked her out, and now you call her over in such a hurry. This is 100..."

"If Harley gets better later, do you want Nina to stay or not? If she stays, you will hate her, if she doesn't stay, you..."

"Her unborn baby belongs to the Timothy family. A pregnant woman cannot be stimulated all the time. If Nina is called by you one day and chased away, the child will be affected after coming here a few times."

Looking at Melissa and Nina, Carlee said, "Are you taking the opportunity to negotiate with me?"

But Carlee wasn't a pushover,

Carlee didn't know her son's situation. She was anxious, so she was threatened to agree this time.

Get Boris

"If my son can recover this time, I may agree to you being his girlfriend. During this period, you have to stay and take care of him, understand?"

Nina nodded fiercely and said, "Yes!"

"Where is Harley now?"

"His ward."

When she received the reply, Nina immediately pulled out the needle and ran toward Harley's ward. When she passed by the door, she even squeezed Carlee.

Carlee didn't fuss about it and quickly followed.

Melissa glanced at the needle on the ground, picked it up, and inserted it into the infusion bottle to prevent the medicine from flowing all over the ground.

Just

now, Melissa stopped Nina because Carlee was very anxious. So, when should they talk if they don't talk just now? Did Nina need to please her?

So, Melissa had the chance to help Nina. Next, Carlee should not make things difficult for Nina.

And she could leave now.

In Moonlight Mansion.

Murray was busy with the plans for North Bay Amusement Park. Melissa watched from the side and occasionally talked to him.

"Murray, can you choose this site again? Get closer to the high-speed railway station? It would be closer to the city, and it is convenient for foreign tourists to come."

"You and I have the same idea. The people responsible for this plan are not worthy of praise. I have to personally do it."

Melissa sighed and lay on Murray's shoulder. "It seems that you will still have to be busy for a while. I think that the work is done. I have already thought of what to eat."

Murray pinched her fleshy face. "What do you want to eat? I'll make up for you with two meals."

"Japanese cuisine."

"I have the salmon sent today in my refrigerator. There is also sashimi. Go take a look and make it yourself."

"Alright, just wait. I'll bring you the meal in a while."

Melissa went to the kitchen to busy herself. She opened the refrigerator and looked at the sashimi inside. She sighed, "You are good at enjoying life. You have such expensive sashimi in your house."

Melissa was busy in the kitchen, and when she turned around, she saw Murray coming out with a laptop and sitting in a corner so that he could see her.

The two of them smiled at each other. They were busy with their own things. Occasionally, they would raise their heads and look at each other. They quietly accompanied each other.

The knife slowly fell, and the fish was sliced apart. Melissa, wearing gloves, slowly made sushi.

Chapter 433 The Kissing Scene

"Haha."

Melissa laughed out loud and replied, "The apple peel has been cut off. I'm fine."

Murray was speechless.

“What are you shouting for? You make me worry for nothing.” Then, he dropped Melissa’s hand and returned to work

It was obvious that he was angry. Melissa was laughing at his worry!

Melissa joked about what he cared about the most! If it were anyone else, they would be angry in their hearts.

“Murray?

“Murray? Why are you ignoring me? Are you angry?”

Murray ignored Melissa’s shouts. Of course, he was angry, and Melissa was still joking!

Melissa looked at him and laughed again.

“Why do I feel like you are throwing a tantrum?

“I don’t want to joke with you. I suddenly remembered something. I have to go back to the company. Can we go together?

“Murray, why are you ignoring me? If you won’t come with me, I’ll go alone.”

Melissa walked to the door and changed her shoes. “Murray, I’m going alone. Are you sure you aren’t coming with me?”

Murray ignored her and continued to look at the computer.

“I really have to go.”

Melissa pretended to turn around to open the door. Murray still did not speak. Melissa looked back, but he was still unmoved.

“Murray, I’m really leaving.”

Melissa opened the door this time and left.

Murray could no longer sit still. He immediately got up and chased out. As soon as Murray opened the door, he knew that he had been deceived because he smelled the unique fragrance on Melissa.

Then, Melissa hugged him.

"I know you won't let me go alone at night.

"Ah! Murray, what are you doing? It is painful!"

Murray grabbed Melissa's hand and took her in his arms. He lowered his head and kissed her red lips.

"No..." Melissa secretly regretted that if she knew this, she would not have provoked him just now.

Murray sent Melissa to the company.

"Come back to the old house with me this weekend. Why don't we discuss the engagement with Grandpa?" Murray said

Melissa refused without thinking. "No."

"Are you rejecting me?" Murray turned to look at Melissa coldly.

"Yes. Can't I?" Melissa teased.

She saw Murray's face darken quickly, and immediately added, "Well, I am just joking."

"I have to go to Paris to participate in the fashion design competition. Even if I could come back in a week, we have to push back the engagement."

Murray slammed on the brake. Melissa rushed forward and was pulled over by him.

"Oh!"

Melissa was forcefully kissed.

"Murray, what are you doing?"

"Be careful!"

Melissa was angry, but Murray became happy. He pinched her face and said, "The engagement must be placed first."

"Well..." Melissa was speechless. "Wait for me to come back from Paris."

In the hospital.

"I know my health condition. You don't have to persuade me."

Jaylin stood by the window of the ward. There were still many entertainment reporters waiting to take photos of him downstairs.

“But if Melissa finds out...” The assistant looked awkward, wanting to stop him but not daring to.

When Jaylin heard Melissa’s name, his eyes flickered. “Just do what you need to do.”

He just warned the assistant not to forget who he was.

Jaylin put on his mask and sunglasses to completely cover his handsome face.

They bypassed the entertainment reporters downstairs and went to the parking lot.

The driver looked at Jaylin and wanted to say something but hesitated. In the end, he still brought him to the movie set.

The assistant anxiously said, “I know I can’t persuade you, but your wound has relapsed and you insist on coming out. You must pay attention to your wound this time.”

Jaylin did not remove his sunglasses. He glanced at his assistant. It was unknown what Jaylin was thinking. He nodded lightly and did not move again.

The people on set were surprised to see Jaylin being discharged so quickly.

The director and film producer were all flustered and came up to comfort him.

“Mr. Segar, you’ve only been staying in the hospital for a few days. Your wound must have not healed yet. Why are you in such a hurry to come back for filming? What if something happens again?”

Chapter 434

Chapter 434 The Thing That She Worried About

She clutched the dress on her knees nervously, her thin body trembling slightly.

Jaylin said calmly, “Director, this kissing scene could be filmed from a special angle.”

Vivian instantly stiffened and suddenly collapsed.

She was about to cry and thought he was looking down on her.

“It...”

The director looked at Jaylin with an embarrassed expression, “Mr. Segar, this scene needs to show a very delicate relationship, so only you kiss with love can make the audience resonate. If you want to pretend to kiss, it won’t have that effect.”

Although the director said this, Jaylin still insisted on his idea.

Everyone present was curious. Jaylin was a famous actor and it was a piece of cake for him to make a kiss scene, but why didn’t he do it this time?

Everyone was secretly sizing up Vivian, wondering if Mr. Segar hated Vivian and didn’t want to kiss her.

Vivian was sensitive, so she was about to cry after sensing others’ gazes.

In the end, the director compromised and agreed to film with a special angle.

However, Vivian acted badly. She was very sad that she could not perform as a happy girl when her loved one confessed to her.

“Vivian, what happened to you?”

Because Vivian failed to perform well, the director completely lost his patience, and he shouted in an angry tone.

“Director, I’m sorry!” Vivian quickly apologized, lowered her head, and bit her lower lip with tears falling.

Hearing that the cast was making a night scene, Melissa came to visit and saw this scene.

She pulled over the film producer beside her and asked. When she learned that Jaylin left the hospital without the doctor’s commitment, she roughly understood.

Melissa asked the director to stop filming and pulled Jaylin to a place with a few people.

“Why don’t you have a good rest? Do you want to die?”

Jaylin felt guilty and did not dare to look into Melissa's eyes. He shifted his gaze to the tree behind her, "I don't want to slow down the progress of the cast."

Hearing his answer, Melissa could only sigh helplessly and pat his shoulder.

He was being stubborn.

After the two of them said a few words, Jaylin finally smiled.

The director prepared to continue filming. However, after Vivian saw Jaylin's gentle attitude towards Melissa, she was in a bad mood and couldn't be the character.

"Stop!"

The director was angry and picked up the microphone to vent his anger. Seeing this, Melissa quickly rushed to say,

"Director Vivian mau he vrug and doc. have enonoh loving feelings I could remonstrate and then she must know how to perform."

Since Melissa said this, the director had to agree.

When he heard that Melissa would show acting with him, Jaylin was a little surprised.

Vivian saw Jaylin's change and felt that her heart was torn into pieces. She was in pain but could only stand on the side and saw Melissa act her character.

"OK, Vivian, watch from the side and see how to express your emotions. You can continue later."

The director shouted at Vivian, who was still in a daze.

"Yes." Vivian clenched her fists and suppressed all the grief in her heart.

Melissa sensed Vivian's emotions and sighed after seeing that Jaylin didn't care about Vivian at all.

She knew that Jaylin liked her, and Jaylin also knew that she did not love him, but Jaylin was willing, and so was Vivian.

"Jaylin, if you don't like Vivian, tell her as soon as possible."

Melissa whispered in a voice only the two of them could hear.

Jaylin was stunned for a moment. Glancing at Vivian quickly, he said, "I know it."

Jaylin felt miserable and thought if he was going to reject Vivian just like Melissa did to him.

Hearing his words, Melissa did not say anything else.

"Let's begin."

After saying this, Melissa immediately entered the play. Her expression and emotions became extremely precise, just like the person she loved the most at this moment was Jaylin in front of her, not someone else.

Her pair of clear and shining eyes stared at Jaylin filled with love.

Jaylin felt nervous as he looked at Melissa. He slowly moved his gaze down to Melissa's tiny and pink lips.

At this moment, he couldn't control his emotions, covered Melissa's cheek with his hand, and lowered his head to kiss her.

Melissa widened her eyes in shock. She quickly dodged, but before she could do so, his lips still touched hers.

Melissa was speechless.

"I'm sorry..."

Jaylin came back to his senses and quickly apologized.

"It's nothing. It's just an act. I understand." Melissa quickly concealed her embarrassment.

Jaylin felt at loss after seeing her indifference.

"Vivian, come and continue acting."

The director was smart and saw that the atmosphere was not good, so he quickly called Vivian to act.

Vivian was so annoyed that she made her clothes wrinkled. When she heard the director's voice, she immediately walked over.

Melissa moved aside.

Chapter 435 I'm Very Stingy

"What do you mean by that?" Melissa frowned, looking quite doubtful. "It seemed that I did something behind your back"

She wondered what Murray wanted to do exactly.

Murray sneered. Then he took out his phone and threw it in front of her. "What's this?" He said in an angry tone.

Melissa frowned. She picked up her phone and saw the video with Jaylin. She was kissed by him.

Obviously, it was snapped secretly. They both got deep in the show. It seemed that they were so close.

It ranked first on Twitter's hashtags.

What the...

Who did this exactly?

Melissa was annoyed. She instantly figured out why he was acting so weirdly. She explained patiently. "I went to the crew to check Vivian. She couldn't throw herself into the show. I was afraid that she would be baffled by the director. So, I showed her how to act. I'm quite surprised someone even snapped it."

"Then why did Jaylin kiss you?" Murray gazed at her lips. He looked quite furious.

As soon as he thought of that scene, he wished he could tear Jaylin to shreds.

Damn it! How dare he! Murray thought.

"I didn't know that he was so deeply involved in the film. All the crew members could testify. Well, don't you believe me?"

Melissa felt a little guilty. She sat beside him and spoke in a softer tone.

As soon as he saw her being like this, all his anger faded away.

He held her tightly. Then he kissed her passionately.

Melissa was stunned by his violent kiss. She couldn't even breathe.

By the time she regained her senses, she was pressed down on the sofa by Murray. The buttons had been torn to the floor and her dress had been lifted.

"Murray, not here." Melissa was holding his neck. Her eyes blurred. She blushed.

Her red lips were kissed red and swollen.

She had no idea how attractive she was at the moment, especially when she said this. Murray tightened his grip on her slender waist

"Melissa, you must know that I'm very stingy. I will not allow any man to touch you!"

Then he pulled up all her clothes.

"Well. To punish you for not protecting yourself properly, we will do it on the sofa. Then you'll remember it deeply."

His voice was so hoarse and low.

Melissa felt her entire body go limp. She could only let him do as he pleased.

The next day, when she woke up, she felt that her waist was about to break!

Last night ... except for the last step, he did everything he could!

Nina was waiting in front of Harley's bed early. She was reading the news for him.

"Harley, the doctor said that you were recovering. You're gaining your senses. You might be able to hear what I'm saying now.

"Your mother agreed yesterday. As long as you wake up, she will no longer embarrass me. It means that she agrees with us to be together. So, you have to wake up early."

"My dear..."

Nina followed the doctor's instructions to chat with him as much as she could. Her mother called instantly.

"Mom? Why are you calling me? Is there something wrong?"

"You're my daughter. Can't I call you?"

"Of course, you can. You're right. You seldom call in the early morning. I thought you had something urgent."

"I do have something to talk to you about."

"Harley's in the hospital. So, I have already bought a ticket to Aldness. I want to see both of you."

Hearing her talking about Harley, Nina couldn't help feeling tense.

Does she come back to simply visit him or want to discuss something about us?

It was really inappropriate. Besides, Carlee was acting like that.

"Mom, Harley is still unconscious. It's a waste of time for you to come here. You can come when he gets better." Nina urged sincerely.

"It doesn't matter. I want to see you. I've already booked the ticket and will be there at 1 p.m. You can pick me up at the airport."

"Mom, why not come when he wakes up? I'm doing great. There's no need to be in such a hurry."

"Nina, I have already made the decision. Remember to pick me up in the afternoon." Ariana was a little confused by her daughter's reaction.

Then she hung up the phone.

"Mom?"

Nina looked at her phone helplessly. She had been a good girl since she was young. She really didn't know how to lie. Her mother must have felt something strange, so she insisted on coming here.

Carlee didn't like Nina. Nina was really afraid that her mother would quarrel with her.

My mom was worried about me. In order to protect me from being bullied by Carlee, she took me away and didn't allow us to be together.

It was quite difficult for us to be together!

Nina held Harley's hand and said slowly, "Harley, do you think they would fight this afternoon?"

"Why is it so hard? If only I were you. Then I wouldn't need to worry about this." Nina murmured to him.

Chapter 436 Compete Secretly

There was only an hour before Ariana's plane arrived. The time was pressing, so Carlee stepped into the ward as soon as Nina left.

"Mrs. Timothy, my mother is almost here. I have to hurry to the airport. Please help me take care of Harley," Nina glanced at Carlee and said before hurriedly leaving.

Before Carlee could reply, Nina had already disappeared.

"She left just like that? She really has no manners!" Carlee complained. She already had complaints about Nina, and now she was even more unhappy.

She really didn't understand. Her son was good-looking and had a big family. Besides, he was a big star. Many women wanted to marry Harley, but why did Harley like this jinx?

Not only was she a few years older than Harley, she even caused him to be like this.

After Nina left, Carlee was furious and complained about Nina.

If not for the fact that she was pregnant with Harley's child, Carlee really did not want to see Nina at all.

She sat by the bed and looked at the heart rate monitor, which was relatively stable.

She looked at Harley again and found the soup stain by the pillow, reaching out to touch it.

“Still sticky?”

Then Carlee saw the insulation box on the bedside table and understood what was going on.

“That jinx! She keeps saying that she is unwilling to part with Harley and will stay close to take care of him. Does she not even know how to change the pillowcase?”

“She is really good at eloquence!”

Nina was really wronged. It was not that she did not change the pillowcase, but that she had been worried about Harley’s illness and had not paid attention to these details.

At the airport.

Nina waited for a while at the departure gate and waited for her mother.

“Morn, here!” When Nina saw her mother, she was delighted and hurriedly waved her hand.

“Nina, why are you so haggard? Also, have you lost weight?” Ariana was shocked to see her daughter. She quickly walked over and asked with concern.

“Of course, I can’t rest well in the hospital. There’s another main reason. I don’t have makeup on, so I naturally don’t look well.” Nina pretended to be relaxed and shrugged.

“You are not alone now. You have to take care of yourself. Harley is not alone and can be taken care of by his family. You are pregnant. If you can take care of yourself, that is enough.” Ariana felt sorry for her daughter.

Nina pushed her mother to the outside and answered perfunctorily, “OK, OK, OK! I understand.”

When they left the airport, Nina waved her hand to call a taxi, Ariana was somewhat dissatisfied.

“You came alone? The Timothy family didn’t send anyone?”

Nina replied, “Harley’s father is also very busy. Her mother is taking care of him in the hospital. She really doesn’t have time.”

“The two of them didn’t even have the time to ask the driver to pick you up? At least now you are carrying a child of his family, and I, your biological mother, have come. I don’t want a grand welcome. But don’t they know that they should come here to pick me up?” Ariana frowned and complained.

As the two of them spoke, a taxi came over and stopped. Nina pushed her mother into the car.

“Mom, you came too quickly. I didn’t tell them in advance, so I didn’t think about it so thoroughly. The taxi is here. Hurry up and get in.”

Along the way, Ariana did not smile. She held Nina’s hand and felt very distressed, “How thin have you become?”

“Mom, I’m pregnant now. No matter how much I eat, I won’t grow fatter anymore. Also, aren’t you making a fuss out of nothing? I don’t even feel that I’m thin. I’m so thin that it’s not obvious. You’re so exaggerated,” Nina comforted her mother.

“You’re one part of my body. How can I not care?”

“Alright, alright. I understand...”

Ariana was distressed and said those words all the way. Nina now regretted asking Carlee to look after Harley on her behalf. She should have called a nurse.

She thought that Harley’s mother was already dissatisfied with her because of Harley’s matter. Now that her mother was dissatisfied with the Timothy family, the two of them might fight.

Nina started to have a headache.

When they arrived at the hospital, Nina and Ariana entered the ward together. Carlee did not greet them with a smile, but she still had the necessary etiquette.

Even if she hated Nina, she still needed Nina to stabilize Harley’s condition, so she couldn’t embarrass Nina too much.

“Ariana, you’re here.”

“Yes, I came to visit Harley. I like Harley very much.”

“Come, sit down. There are fruits here. Have some.” Carlee pretended to be polite.

Although she asked them to have some fruits, she was indifferent. If she did not wash the fruits, how would they eat?

“How is Harley? What did the doctor say?”

“He said...”

The two spoke politely, talking about Nina feeding Harley porridge today.

Carlee pointed at the pillow, "Nina, the pillow cover is dirty. I'll hold Harley. You can change it."

"Alright, I'll go and take a look," Nina nodded and agreed

Nina went to the balcony to take a look and came back to say, "Mrs. Timothy, the pillow cover has been washed. It hasn't dried yet. Wait moment."

"But we can't let Harley lie on it like this." Carlee was very dissatisfied.

"I'll get a towel for him to cover."

Chapter 120 Caneta Cravathi

Nina went to the bathroom and took out two towels. She carefully placed a towel on Harley.

Ariana was very unhappy that her precious daughter was being ordered around like this, and she immediately expressed it.

Her daughter was a treasure at home, not here to be ordered around and to take care of the patient! And she was pregnant.

Not only did Carlee not go to the airport to pick Ariana up today, but Carlee also treated her daughter like that. No one could stand it.

Harley was such a good and excellent man. How could he have such a mother?

Ariana saw Carlee's expression and thought, my son has become like this because of the jinx you gave birth to. She can't take care of him well. She only has a honey tongue. But you're still unhappy now?

What's wrong? Taking care of my son is what your daughter owes my family!

was

She lets my son lie on the dirty pillow. It really is...

The two elders were secretly competing, and Harley, the person involved, was lying unconscious on the bed. And Nina, the other party, was busy and did not think so much at all.

Nina covered the pillow with the towel and looked up at the unhappy faces of the two of them. Only then did she understand something.

She opened her mouth but closed it again. She didn't know what to say and felt endless regret.

She should not have asked Harley's mother to come over today!

"Nina, why have you suffered so much recently? You are still pregnant. You have to take good care of yourself. Do you understand?" Ariana asked slowly.

After a pause, seeing that Carlee was unhappy, Ariana continued, "If you can't eat well and sleep well this time, you can go home. When you go home, mom and dad will love you. Don't let the two of us feel bad,"

"Mom, I'm fine," Nina said a little awkwardly and winked at her mother, telling her not to say anything more.

But Ariana

was angry and pretended not to see Nina's eyes, continuing, "Look at you. How thin have you become? When you were at home, did you ever look so haggard? Why don't you go back with me and stay for two days to recuperate?"

Carlee naturally understood what Ariana meant, and her expression changed.

Ariana asked Nina to come to her side, "Nina, I brought you your favorite candied fruit this time. I just made it a few days ago."

"You have to take care of yourself when your dad and I are not around. After all, you are not alone now. It is so tiring to take care of a patient. You are pregnant, and you are a person who needs to be taken care of. How can you take care of others? Don't force yourself so much in the future."

She was telling Nina not to look down on herself, and not to be a nanny for the Timothy family!

Carlee said coldly, "My son became like this because of Nina. Nina was the one who proposed to stay here. After all, she owes my son! She owes our family!"

Ariana couldn't continue to pretend. She slammed the table and shouted angrily, "Are you raised like this? Bullying a pregnant woman?"

"My daughter is carrying your kid. You are not grateful but are like this. Do you have any conscience?"

Carlee angrily glared at Ariana, "No matter what happened to Nina, she was willing to do so. So, what if she is the treasure in your family? She just chose to come to my family to serve us!"

"No matter what, our family is still a noble one. Moreover, Harley is so outstanding. Nina is trying to marry above her station. So, of course, she has to pay a price. Besides, before getting married, she has... Is it something worth bringing up?"

"This is because our family is generous. If other people who are powerful like us, they won't ask her to enter the house and will despise her for being shameful!"

"You ... You!"

Carlee scolded Nina. Ariana was so angry that her whole body trembled. She could no longer sit still. She stood up and pointed at Carlee. For a long time, she could not say a word.

"Isn't it all because of what your son did? Our Nina is the victim!"

Ariana pulled Nina's hand and was about to walk out, "Nina, let's go..."

"Mrs. Ariana, you're here."

Just as the atmosphere between the two was tense and was about to explode, Reid arrived and interrupted Ariana.

In fact, he had heard a few words at the door just now. When he heard that the two people were arguing, he quickly opened the door and tried to stop them.

"Nina, why didn't you tell me in advance? otherwise, I would have definitely asked the driver to pick you up. Why did you stand up? Sit down. Sit down."

"Nina, quickly help your mother sit down."

“Mom, take a seat.”

Nina said in a small voice. Ariana was still unhappy as she pulled Nina tightly, wanting to take her away.

Seeing that Ariana’s expression wasn’t good, Reid continued, “Nina is a good child. Thank you for taking care of Harley here for the past two days. It’s tiring for her. We can’t make it without her.”

“Harley has been recovering subconsciously these past two days. He didn’t care about others. He just called Nina.”

“Nina can endure hardship. Good. Very good. Carlee and I have been talking about this at home.”

“Because of this, Carlee was still angry. She said that she had raised her son for nothing. He didn’t need his mother anymore. He just needs Nina.”

Reid’s words not only praised Nina but explained the reason why Carlee was in a bad mood.

When Carlee heard Reid’s white lies, she was so angry that she left.

When Ariana heard this, she felt a little more comfortable, and she was dragged by Nina to sit down again.

“Mr. Timothy, it’s not that I want to be angry. You care about your son, and I also care about my daughter. Just now... I have raised my daughter for more than twenty years. I didn’t bring her up to let her serve others,” Ariana pinched her brows.

“I know. I know. Have you had lunch?” seeing that Ariana’s tone was much better, Reid hurriedly asked with concern.

“I had lunch on the plane,” Ariana replied.

“Nina, you haven’t eaten yet, right? I specially asked the chef at home to make lunch for you and your mother. Come, have some. Didn’t you say you wanted to eat some sour food? I specially packed some vinegar for you.”

“Thank you, Mr. Timothy. My pregnancy reaction is very obvious these days, so I want to eat something sour and press it down.” Nina nodded and took the lunch box.

Reid pulled a chair and sat opposite Ariana.

“Mrs. Paul, since Nina is pregnant, when Harley wakes up, we should talk about their wedding. As you know, our family is prestigious in Aldness. We will hold a big wedding,” Reid’s words made Ariana feel a lot more comfortable.

No matter what, Harley was a child that Ariana liked very much, not to mention that Nina was pregnant now.

But ... Harley was unconscious.

“Mom, Harley will definitely wake up soon,” Nina said as she held her mother’s hand as if she had seen through her mother’s worries.

It was the weekend again.

The morning sunlight shone through the glass windows and onto the bed,

Melissa woke up in a daze and was about to get up when she saw Murray’s tall and slender figure leaning against the door frame.

“What are you doing at my door?” Melissa rolled her eyes at him.

“Today, we are going to the old house to visit my grandfather. Have you forgotten?” Murray walked in.

“Hey!” Melissa patted her cheeks. She had really forgotten about it

Last night, to prepare for the fashion design competition, she had been busy until very late. She had forgotten such an important matter.

“You go out first, I’ll be right there,” Melissa looked up at Murray.

She got up in a hurry and went to the Gibson’s house with Murray after breakfast.

Marc was already waiting for them at the house.

As soon as he saw Murray’s car, Marc walked over with his cane.

“Grandpa, slow down.” Murray quickly held Marc.

“Meli, why do you look so tired? Did Murray bully you?” Marc couldn’t help but ask when he saw how tired Melissa was.

Melissa quickly shook his head and smiled. "No, Mr. Mare, I just didn't sleep well."

"If that brat dares to bully you, don't hide it and tell me. I will speak up for you," Marc held Melissa's hand, his eyes filled with pampering.

"Thank you, Mr. Marc!" a warm feeling surged through Melissa's heart.

"Come, come. Don't just stand here. Hurry up and enter the house." Marc pulled Melissa and walked into the villa,

Murray strode in and followed her.

Chapter 438 Don't Do That

"Meli, I have heard about Ryleigh." Marc sat down on the sofa and stroked his white beard. "Fortunately, you saw through Ryleigh's true intention. Otherwise, Murray would have been tricked by her. Murray is too emotional. He always remembers the kindness of Lily."

"Grandpa, what are you talking about?" Murray felt awkward.

He thought, grandpa, would you please not bring up the matter I don't want to mention?

After a pause, he added, "Actually, I already knew that Ryleigh was a fake. Otherwise, how could I have done that with Melissa? Melissa, right?"

Melissa rolled her eyes at Murray. "Nonsense."

"Since Ryleigh has been settled, when are you going to get married? I can't wait to have a grandson." Marc smiled.

"We plan to get engaged next month," Melissa sat down beside Marc and said plainly.

“Grandpa, please pick a good day for us,” Murray sat down next to Melissa and said to Marc in a hurry.

He had been waiting for a long time for the day of their wedding,

Marc looked at the state of the two of them and smiled. He had always recognized Melissa as his only granddaughter-in-law. Now that Ryleigh had also received her retribution, he could finally wait peacefully for his grandson to be born..

As for the date, he had already picked one.

Marc said cheerfully, “Do I need you to tell me that? I’ve already chosen the date. It’s the fifth day of the next month.

There’s still plenty of time. You can buy whatever you want.”

“The fifth day of the next month...”

Melissa was in a trance for a moment. She thought of going to the fashion design competition in a few days. If the wedding was held next month, she didn’t know if she would be able to return.

Seeing this, Marc was puzzled. He asked, “What’s wrong? Meli, do you have something to do?”

Melissa thought about the time to participate in the design competition. If it went well, it should not delay anything.

Only then did she relax and shake her head lightly at Marc. “Marc, it’s nothing. I’m going to Paris to participate in a fashion design competition in a few days. I think I can make it back in time, so I’ll use the date that you picked for us.”

Marc’s smile brightened, and he nodded repeatedly. “Alright. It’s settled then. I’ll pick the hotel for the wedding in the next few days. Ah ... Meli, you have to take care of yourself when you’re busy with work. Don’t be too tired.”

“I know... Marc, you don’t have to worry about me.” Melissa smiled; her heart filled with warmth.

Perhaps God owed her and would make up for it with another engagement ceremony. At least she still had Murray and Marc around her.

She was so lucky

Murray patted the sofa at this time and said to Mare with dissatisfaction, "Grandpa, I am going with Melissa. Are you afraid that something will happen to her? Don't worry, I will bring her back safely."

"You..." Marc pointed at Murray with his finger. He was joking and warning Murray, "Go with Meli. Remember to take good care of her. When you come back, if she lost weight, it would be all your fault."

Murray shook his head and smiled helplessly. "Alright. I understand. Grandpa, don't worry."

Marc finally felt at ease. The more he looked at the couple, the more he liked them. The servant reminded him that it was time to go back to the bedroom to rest. Marc stood up with his cane.

"It's rare for the two of you to come back. Don't go back today. Stay here. Jose, tidy up a room for the two of them and let the young couple live and talk."

When Jose heard this, he knew what Marc meant. He simply agreed and went upstairs to tidy up the house with a smile.

Melissa and Murray looked at each other. Melissa shrugged helplessly. Forget it, she understood Marc's intention.

Besides, it was indeed a long time before she returned.

After dinner, Marc found an excuse to return to his room to rest. Before he left, he gave the two a meaningful look. Melissa knew what Marc meant and smiled at Murray.

"My grandfather is always like this. You don't have to take it to heart. It is not the first day you know him." Murray was afraid that Melissa would feel uncomfortable, so he approached Melissa and pinched her palm to comfort her.

Melissa said in a soft voice, "That's your grandpa. Why would I blame him? I'm not a petty person."

The two of them chatted and laughed as they returned to their room. As soon as they entered the room, Melissa let out a long sigh of relief. She walked to the window and stretched the sheets. She sat on the bed and relaxed.

"Is it because I haven't moved for too long? Why am I so tired today?"

"Since you're tired, go to bed early. The old house is indeed far from home." Murray sat next to Melissa, quietly groping her waist, wanting to hold her.

Melissa sensed that something was wrong. She lowered her head and gently patted Murray's hand away. She rebuked, "What are you doing? Go and sleep on the sofa tonight."

Murray was reluctant. He felt that he and Melissa were about to get engaged soon. Besides, he had endured for so long. His wife was right in front of him, but he could do nothing. He felt uncomfortable.

"Melissa, Meli, it's been so long since we had a good talk..."

Murray spoke in a rare soft voice. No, he was tempting her.

Melissa knew what Murray was thinking. Similarly, she also missed him, but some things could not be done.

Thinking of this, Melissa seemed to be in a half-joking mood as she emphasized, "No means no. You can only sleep on the sofa tonight."

Murray let out a long sigh and finally let go of Melissa. He compromised and said, "Alright."

It was already very late. After the two of them washed up, Melissa lay on the bed and fell asleep not long after, but Murray, who was nestled on the couch, was not sleepy at all.

There was no loud sound on the bed not far away. He could only hear the faint sound of breathing. Murray slowly opened his eyes and turned to look at the bed. Melissa was lying on her side with her back facing him, looking very obedient.

Murray still couldn't control his thoughts. He quietly got up from the sofa, walked to the bedside, leaned over, and gently kissed Melissa's face.

Melissa inadvertently let out a sound. She felt something on her face and subconsciously raised her hand to rub her eyes. She opened her eyes and saw Murray.

"Why aren't you asleep yet?"

Chapter 439 It's Good to Have You

Murray did not expect Melissa to wake up. When he saw Melissa turn back, he was stunned for a moment, but soon reacted.

After all, Melissa was his wife, so why was he acting so guilty?

Thinking of this, Murray was much calmer than before. He even lifted a corner of the quilt and lay down. He held Melissa's shoulder and let her rest on his arm.

"I haven't talked to you so intimately in a long time. I want to hug you. Melissa..."

"Huh?" Melissa raised her head slightly and looked at Murray in confusion. She was also waiting for him to say something.

"What happened to you?"

"It's fine." Murray looked at Melissa, his eyes full of tenderness, and he held Melissa tighter. "I was just thinking that this time, I must hold a grand engagement ceremony for you, and give you everything I owed you before and what should belong to you."

When Melissa heard such words, she felt it was so sweet, not to mention that she loved Murray.

She lowered her head slightly, a sweet smile on her face, and she tried to wrap around Murray's waist, "You know, I don't care about that. All I want is for you to appear at the engagement ceremony."

After going through so many things together with Murray, she no longer cared about those superficial things. As long as she and Murray were by each other's side, it was enough.

"By the way, I will be going to Paris to participate in the fashion design competition tomorrow. There will be about five or six days. It won't count as a trip back and forth. You can wait for me to come back."

Melissa said to Murray in the car after bidding farewell to Marc from his home.

Murray clenched Melissa's hand and adjusted the car to a comfortable speed. He turned his head to look at her and said, "I'll go with you."

Melissa shook her head. "Isn't the company very busy lately? Just focus on your work and wait for me to come back I promise I will be fine.”

“But you...” Murray hesitated. There was no need for him to worry about work. He was more worried about Melissa. “I remember that you are afraid of heights. What if you are afraid on the plane? I think I should go with you, I can take care of you at any time then.”

Murray was sincere. Melissa stared at him without moving, and a smile appeared on her face. She found that having Murray by her side was the greatest happiness in her life.

After Murray stopped the car by the roadside, Melissa unconsciously leaned over and kissed the corner of Murray’s mouth. She also held his wrist and whispered, “You’re so sweet.”

This kiss was like a switch. It immediately lit the fire in Murray’s heart. He wrapped around Melissa’s waist and brought Melissa back in an instant. The distance between the two was very close. Murray stared at Melissa for a second before kissing her lips. It was overbearing and powerful as if he wanted to use up all his enthusiasm and strength.

Melissa soon fell into this kiss, and she unconsciously wrapped her arms around Murray’s neck, responding very gently.

Chapter 439 It’s Good to Have You

Murray’s kiss was warm, but he was very measured. Half a minute later, he released Melissa and said affectionately, “I just want you to know that no matter when, as long as I can, I will be by your side, and I will protect you.”

“I understand.” Melissa smiled. She didn’t say anything about Murray’s decision to go to Paris with her.

At ten o’clock in the morning the next day, Murray got someone to prepare his private plane on the apron and went over with Melissa after an inspection.

“This time... nothing will happen, right?”

Because of the accident when they were on the plane, although Melissa said that she was not afraid of heights, she was still a little worried.

“It’s fine. With me by your side, nothing will happen to you,” Murray comforted her in a soft voice.

Hearing this, Melissa nodded. It took a total of six to seven hours from Aldness to Paris. At first, everything was normal, but after two hours, the plane suddenly jolted, and Melissa could even feel the violent shaking.

She tightened her grip on the hem of her shirt, and because of her strength, the tip of her thumb was red.

Murray noticed the change in Melissa and reacted almost instinctively. He held Melissa in his arms and called the flight attendant. He turned and asked, "What's the matter?"

"Just now, the plane encountered an air current during the flight, but it's fine now. Please don't worry."

Murray nodded. He gently patted Melissa's shoulder with one hand, indicating that she should be at ease, and he was stroking her back with his hands.

Melissa's face was still pale. She still hadn't recovered from the jolt just now. That blow had successfully reminded her of the scene when she fell off the plane. That time, she had also encountered the airflow, and it was even more violent than this time.

She had a lingering fear.

Thinking of this, she unconsciously grabbed Murray's sleeve and said after a long time, "Is it really ... alright?"

"It's fine now," Murray told Melissa softly.

He knew what Melissa was afraid of and what she cared about, but as long as he was by Melissa's side, even if he risked his life, he would not let her get hurt in the slightest.

"Just now, the flight attendant said that we just met an air current. It's fine now. We will be arriving in Paris in a while. Relax ... that will be fine."

With Murray's words, Melissa's vigilance and nervousness finally ebbed. She left Murray's arms and turned her face away uncasily.

Murray knew that Melissa was embarrassed, so he didn't say anything.

Later, the plane was smooth all the way, and six hours later, the two finally arrived in Paris,

As soon as they left the airport, a person came to pick up Murray and Melissa and helped them put the luggage into the trunk. Murray grabbed Melissa's hand, and her palm was still cold.

"I had a villa in Paris before, and it has been cleaned, when you go to participate in the competition, we will live there."

"Alright."

Melissa nodded. After the two of them arrived at the villa, Melissa saw the decorations in the house and immediately revealed a pleasantly surprised expression.

It was a simple foreign style, but it was not the color of black, white, and gray. There were several cute dolls on the long sofa in the living room. It was obvious that they were used for recreation.

"This house is so beautiful." Melissa walked in and looked around with curiosity. Murray smiled and watched the woman's figure.

Melissa paused and turned to Murray with a smile. "I like this house. Its decoration is very beautiful."

"If you like it, we can stay here every year for a few days."

Chapter 440 Forever Love

"Really?" This sentence pleased Melissa. She liked this villa very much. Seeing Murray's eyes, Melissa walked over and opened her arms to hug the man.

"Thank you for thinking of me."

This sentence was very soft, but it showed that Melissa was deeply moved.

Murray pulled Melissa into his arms. His chin pressed against the top of Melissa's head. Murray said softly, "You know that I will meet all your needs."

"By the way, do you remember the amusement park we went to? It is still there now, and it has expanded in scale. Do you want to go and see it?"

Murray thought of something and let go of Melissa, smiling at her.

Melissa was stunned for a moment. She thought of something and was pleasantly surprised. "Oh... I got it! Well, the amusement park is still open. Let's hurry up!"

Murray and Melissa left the villa and drove to the amusement park. It was already dusk in Paris. By the time they reached the entrance of the amusement park, it was almost closed.

"I'm sorry, sir. The amusement park is closing soon. If you want to enjoy it with your wife, please come back tomorrow morning." A middle-aged man saw them and walked over. He smiled apologetically.

"Us?" Hearing this, they looked at each other in a tacit understanding and laughed at the same time. Murray cleared his throat and deliberately asked, "How do you know that we are a couple?"

"You two are so well-matched. So that's for sure."

The administrator shrugged and looked at them with understanding. His eyes were also kind. The French were always warm and romantic. Melissa only made a move for his statement.

She let go of Murray's hand and turned to hold his arm. It was a very intimate gesture.

"Thank you. We are going to have an engagement ceremony next month. My husband is here to accompany me. By the way, we have been here before and know that the amusement park will open the Ferris wheel for a while at night. I want to know when the Ferris wheel starts?"

"Well, it's in about an hour. You can stroll around. There are many suitable places for couples to go around nearby. You can come back later."

"OK, thank you."

Murray and Melissa politely bid farewell to the administrator. They revisited an old haunt. However, they still felt novelty.

After Melissa was tired of walking, they went to the nearby restaurants to have a meal. It was not until the amusement park reopened the Ferris wheel that Murray returned here with Melissa.

Melissa showed a completely different side from before. She was like a child who was happy to see everything. The Ferris wheel was running. Murray pulled Melissa to sit on it.

The Ferris wheel slowly turned. When they rose into the air, fireworks suddenly lit up in the sky and soon attracted attention. She was a little surprised but more amazed

The fireworks are so beautiful!"

Murray had been staring at the side of Melissa's face the entire time. He smiled as he softly said, "The fireworks outside look good, but you look better."

"Huh? What did you say?" Melissa did not hear his words. She turned her head doubtfully. Before she could continue to ask, the man held her face and kissed her.

At this time, their cabin happened to be at the apex of the Ferris wheel.

This kiss was different from any previous kiss. Both of their movements and strength were very light. It was a long and fervent kiss. Melissa's ears were red. Murray stared at Melissa's face seriously and held her hand very solemnly.

"Melissa, I want to let you know that I, Murray, will only love you for the rest of my life."

Melissa also looked back at him seriously. There was a smile in her eyes. She was moved to tears.

"I believe in you. So will I."

Their hearts were closer.

It was already nine o'clock in the evening when they left the amusement park. When they returned to the villa, Melissa collapsed on the sofa. It was rare. "Oh... I'm so tired. Well, I am so happy today."

"You have been busy. Are you hungry? You didn't eat much in that restaurant in the afternoon. I'll go to the kitchen and make something for you to eat."

"OK!!

Melissa agreed with a smile. After Murray went to the kitchen, Melissa looked around and suddenly remembered the design competition. She patted her forehead and ran to the study room. She took out the computer from the cabinet and began to prepare the design drafts.

The competition was imminent. She checked the manuscript to see if there was anything to revise.

Murray skillfully opened the stove to cook in the kitchen. Although he was the president of the Gibson Corporation and was very busy, he still cooked for himself. He thought, I have Melissa now. I can't make my woman hungry.

They had not been to the villa for a long time. However, the house was clean and bright. With Murray's notice, even the things in the refrigerator were available. It all looked like they were going to settle here.

Melissa stared at the computer screen and began to change the details of the design drafts. Suddenly, the smell of the food floated over

She murmured, "It smells so good..."

Murray smiled. When the food was cooked, he turned off the fire again and brought the dishes to the dining table one by one. He even set the tableware for Melissa.

"OK. Be busy with the design drafts later. Come and eat."

Melissa nodded and put the computer aside. When she walked to the dining table, she saw cabbage with meat, sweet and sour pork, and spicy shredded potato.

"Why did you cook so much?"

"I am afraid that you will be hungry. Alright, it's all your favorite food. Sit down and eat."

Murray did not look puzzled or angry at all. It was natural for him to do this for Melissa.

In Aldness.

Nina woke up very early during this time. On one hand, she had to go to the hospital to take care of Harley. On the other hand, she was worried that her mother would have a conflict with Carlee again.

She never thought that she would one day mediate in a family dispute. She was very upset about it.

Nina went back to her room after washing up, picked up her phone, as usual, glanced at the time, and suddenly remembered that Luca was coming to Aldness today.
