

When His Eyes Opened by Simple Silence Chapter 2405

After Avery fell asleep, Elliot was no longer sleepy.

He rolled over, picked up the phone, and turned it on.

He would click through the resumes sent to Avery one by one, and wanted to help her screen them to see if there were any more suitable for her.

In fact, he had read these resumes before forwarding them to Avery.

But he didn't look closely.

Among those resumes, what impressed Elliot the most was the one with the lowest education.

Because she had the lowest education, Elliot even remembered her name – Gloria Wiens.

His requirements for recruiting assistants were clearly written.

The first requirement was to have a bachelor's degree or above.

But Gloria Wiens's education was only a bachelor's degree, and she was a fresh graduate who just graduated this year. She had no work experience at all. How dare she submitted her resume?

The personnel side generally saw this kind of resume that did not meet the requirements at all, and would directly brush it off.

But this time, the personnel was not cleared, because Avery did not have such strict conditions for recruiting assistants.

Avery's requirements were undergraduate and above.

So the personnel left Gloria Wiens's resume.

Personnel reported the matter to Elliot separately.

Gloria Wiens was a native of Yonroeville. In high school, she won the gold medal in the tea art competition of Yonroeville. She studied at a key university in Aryadelle. After graduating from college this year, chosed to work in Aryadelle.

Although her resume was not as good as others, HR thought that Gloria Wiens should be an assistant to Avery and there should be no problem.

Gloria Wiens was very good at making tea, so she could often make tea for Avery, wasn't it good?

After all, Avery's work pressure was not high, and she did not need an assistant with such strong business ability.

Elliot didn't express any opinion after listening to the personnel's words at that time.

After all, Elliot wasn't sure what kind of person Avery wanted to recruit.

About an hour later, Elliot was dizzy looking at the phone and had to put it down.

He didn't know if it's quiet in the middle of the night, and it's easier for people to think wildly.

He stared at Gloria Wiens's resume for a long time, and when he saw that she was from Yonroeville, he naturally remembered the various experiences that happened in Yonroeville, including Haze, who he couldn't give up.

Because Gloria Wiens was from Yonroeville, Elliot even started to think conspiracy theories. Was it possible that Gloria Wiens was related to some people he knows? After all, people from Yonroeville rarely found jobs and lived in Aryadelle.

At least Elliot couldn't remember any employee in the company who was from Yonroeville.

In the end, he denied his suspicions.

Gloria Wiens studied in Aryadelle for three years. At first glance, she had completed university in Aryadelle and developed feelings for Aryadelle, so she would stay here to work.

How could Gloria Wiens be someone who wanted to get close to Elliot with ulterior motives?

Yonroeville was so big, how could a little girl like Gloria Wiens know people in Elliot's circle?

After overturning all his guesses, he fell asleep.

The next morning, Avery slept until 8 o'clock and woke up. After waking up, she glanced at the time, and then looked towards Elliot.

Elliot was still sleeping, and he was quite sound.

Did Elliot stay up late last night after Avery fell asleep?

Avery tiptoed out of bed, went to the bathroom to wash briefly, and went downstairs for breakfast.

At 9 o'clock, Elliot woke up. He saw Avery dressed neatly sitting in the chair next to him drinking coffee and the sun shining through the tulle and sprinkled on her, which was particularly dazzling.

"Avery, what time is it? Why didn't you wake me up?" Elliot rubbed his aching temples and said hoarsely.
