

Chapter 17

Star Entertainment.

In the office, Janice looked angrily, "Selena auditioned for the second female lead!" "Second girl?" Susie frowned upon hearing the words, "Didn't she just play tricks in a crew who didn't know what kind of drama it was? How could she have time to audition for the second female role!"

"I was also surprised at first, but after asking, I found out that it was the audition for the first female lead yesterday, and the judges were about to leave after the audition, but they saw Selena by accident and thought she was very suitable for the role of the second female lead. It's settled. No wonder you are so wary of her, this Selena is really scheming, even after the audition is over, she is still hanging around in front of the judges, not knowing who she wants to hook up with!"

There were also some things that Janice didn't dare to say, Selena's appearance was simply a killer weapon, and she was not surprised at all that the judges immediately took a fancy to her.

She thought that when she signed Selena, she planned to focus on training, but who knew that Susie was suddenly airborne?

One is a young rookie with no power, and the other is a popular artist with a family background. Everyone knows how to choose. In a place like the entertainment industry, it's not just about being pretty.

Susie looked sullen, "Although it's not the first female lead, this film is a big production!"

From the voice, it was obvious that she did not want Selena to get this role.

Janice was a little embarrassed, "I'm afraid it will be troublesome this time. After all, the company also invested a lot of money in this drama this time. The boss was very happy when he learned that the first female and the second female were all engaged in our company. If our company has It would be nice for Selena to be replaced by someone more suitable, but unfortunately, the last audition failed, so there is really no reason to replace Selena..."

Susie didn't know what to think of, but she suddenly calmed down, stroked her well-manicured nails, and sneered, "Forget it, since she's in a rush to act as a vixen, let her do it! Heh, The bewitching female concubine who is in trouble for the country is indeed quite suitable for her!"

Selena soon received a call from Janice, informing her that her role as the second female lead in "The World" had been confirmed, and asked her to prepare well. In the drama "The World", the first female lead is wise and brave enough to help the male protagonist ascend to the throne, while the second female lead is cast aside by others for her sinister and cunning ways, and is finally forced to jump off the cliff by the first female lead, which is very satisfying.

With such a character set, it's no wonder that Susie was so generous this time and didn't spoil it.

Even though she got the second female lead in "The World", she still needs to finish her work. Selena still has a production crew to run today. The role is a mistress who steals her husband. There are still five minutes left for the scene today. Big Sun A group of people surrounded him and beat him violently for five minutes.

It took more than two hours to actually finish the five minutes, because the extras were inexperienced and their movements and expressions were inconsistent, so she had to be beaten repeatedly.

Back home, Selena turned on the TV and lay down on the sofa exhausted.

After lying down for a while, she always felt as if she had forgotten something.

At this time, the news was broadcast on the TV, and a familiar figure appeared on the screen.

This flourishing beauty, this wide shoulders, narrow hips, and long legs, this abstinent temperament at an altitude of 8,000 meters... It's not Rick who is his father, Daniel!

It seemed that Daniel was shaking hands with several foreigners during a signing ceremony.

The host introduced with excitement that Lu's Group joined hands with the Italian dr brand to enter the European market, and the market value may double.

Looking at Selena, she finally remembered that she forgot to call Rick!

...

Platinum Palace.

The elders of the Lu family have returned from abroad, and the family of five is having dinner together.

The big deal that the Lu Corporation had been talking about for three years was finally settled. Mr. Lu was very happy. He expressed his high appreciation and encouragement to Daniel and even praised Saul.

In the end, though, that's the point.

The general idea is that work is important, but his precious grandson is even more important!

Grandpa Lu: "Daniel, work is very important, but you can't ignore Rick. You're done with your work these days. Spend more time and spend time with Rick!"

Mrs. Lu: "If you really don't have time, you can find someone to take care of you for you! Rick is so old, you should also think about personal problems!"

Mr. Lu: "Your mother is right!"

Saul secretly winked at his brother, lo and behold, our parents started singing double reeds again.

Daniel buried his head in his meal and didn't say a word.

Lu Rick was holding the phone, motionless.
