Chapter 1479 Another Breakthrough

Nevertheless, they had no choice but to do as told even though it was a risky mission. After all, they were simply puppets to those in the Warriors Alliance.

Plenty of other puppets would replace them if they perished. They were just pawns who could be discarded anytime.

A speedboat was floating on the raging sea. There were four passengers—Salvador and the other three.

The four of them stared at the seemingly bottomless sea with grave expressions. It was pretty clear to them that they would have to risk their lives to complete the mission.

If the mission were easy, the other sects and families would've already sent their men to get the beast cores secretly. After all, the beast cores were valuable and tempting resources.

However, no one was willing to risk their lives as it was too difficult a mission.

"All right, we should head down. If we survive, I believe President Zeigler will reward us well," Salvador announced.

Having said that, he swallowed the water-avoiding bead. The only way they could stay underwater for a long time was to rely on the help of the water-avoiding bead.

Splash! Splash...

The four of them jumped into the sea and swam toward the seabed.

Inside Bliss City, a golden glow emerged from Kai's body as his aura swirled and grew, spreading all over the city.

It was yet another breakthrough for him as Kai achieved the third realm of Nascent Soul. Thus, he looked even more like an immortal now.

He exhaled sharply. "Well, I finally made a breakthrough. I wonder how much time has passed."

Since getting stuck here, he had long since lost track of time.

He muttered under his breath, "It's time for me to leave, but how do I do that?"

Kai's brows furrowed together.

He was currently deep down in the sea. Without a boat, it was practically impossible for him to return to land.

Besides, he would be terrorized by demon beasts on the way up.

Right as he was wondering what to do, Kai was stumped when he sensed a few auras.

“Someone is coming?” he blurted out in surprise.

Why would someone come here at this moment?

Despite his surprise, Kai concealed himself to see who they were.

Soon, Salvador and the other three appeared. The four men were shocked to realize that Bliss City was still in one piece.

“I can’t believe Bliss City is still in one piece! It hasn’t collapsed!” someone yelled out loud excitedly.

If Bliss City was still intact, that meant it would be easier for them to get the beast cores. They wouldn’t be in that much danger.

“This is strange. Dragon Island sank, but Bliss City didn’t collapse. I wonder if Kai is still alive,” Salvador said thoughtfully.

He immediately thought of Kai after discovering that Bliss City hadn’t collapsed.

“It has been nearly two months, so Kai must be dead. This city is far away from any land. Without a boat, Kai couldn’t have possibly survived,” someone chimed in.

Salvador reminded them, “We need to be careful inside. I have an ominous feeling. Let’s leave right after we get the beast cores.”

With that said, he led the rest into Bliss City.

Inside, Kai overheard their conversation from his hiding spot and got to know that he had been here for over a month. It meant that the New Year holidays had passed. Hmm, looks like everyone out there thinks I’m dead. This is a good thing. I am in the dark while the Warriors Alliance stays out in the open. This way, I can do anything I want!

Soon, Salvador and the other three entered Bliss City. They couldn’t hide their shock at the empty scene that greeted them.

There were no beast cores in sight. All they could see were rubble and ruins.

“W-What happened?” one man blurted out in disbelief.

Chapter 1480 My Sword Can Slay Everything

Salvador's brows were knitted together in confusion. Back when we left, there were thousands of beast cores here. Why is this place empty now? Only over a month has passed since we left.

"Salvador, do you think other sects or families might have snuck into this city to steal the beast cores?" one of them asked.

Salvador nodded in response. "That might be a possibility."

After the previous Trial, many sects and families got to know the existence of this city. They could've risked their lives to sneak here to obtain all the beast cores for themselves.

"Come, let's go back and report this matter to President Zeigler. This is a serious incident," Salvador declared.

He knew that it was a grave matter.

If one sect or family had gotten all the beast cores for themselves, the leading power in the Jadeborough martial arts world would change hands soon.

After all, the vast resources available here would be able to nurture many elite fighters.

Salvador and the rest were about to leave when they suddenly stopped in their tracks and turned to look over their shoulders in confusion.

That was because they realized an aura had locked onto them. They dared not move an inch.

After turning around, they saw Kai walking out of his hiding spot. Shock crossed their faces.

"Kai, you're still alive?" Salvador demanded, his voice full of disbelief and horror.

"You people are still alive, so how can I die before you?" Kai sneered.

His face turned dark as a murderous intent enveloped his body.

These four men only got to increase their strength thanks to Josephine's blood.

At the thought of how much suffering Josephine must be going through, Kai couldn't stop hatred from overwhelming his heart.

The four grew cautious after sensing Kai's murderous intent.

"Everyone, let's charge at Kai together and kill him. If we head back with his head, President Zeigler will give us a huge reward!" Salvador told the other three.

The rest nodded in agreement and unleashed their energy to attack Kai.

They were all Martial Arts Marquises, so their combined strength was nothing to scoff at.

“Ha! You fools have a death wish,” Kai declared as he snorted icily.

His body trembled slightly as a horrifying burst of spiritual energy launched into the air.

As Kai had achieved the third realm of Nascent Soul, his strength had increased exponentially. Before Salvador and the other three could come any nearer to him, they were sent flying by the terrifying spiritual energy.

“You!” Salvador spluttered, failing to form a complete sentence.

He stared at Kai incredulously.

Did Kai increase his strength to such a horrifying level in just over one month? I can't believe it!

“Kai, you're stuck here, and without a boat, you can't escape. Why don't we strike a deal? If you let us go, we shall bring you back to land.” After sensing the intensely powerful aura that Kai gave off, Salvador tried negotiating with him.

“If I kill you, I'll still get the boat and would be able to return to land myself,” Kai responded as his gaze and aura turned increasingly icy.

The next moment, Kai splayed his hand, and the Dragonslayer Sword appeared in it. The weapon started buzzing loudly with the help of the Power of Dragons. Along with Kai's strength, the sword spirit within the Dragonslayer Sword had also matured a lot.

The Dragonslayer Sword buzzed eagerly as though it was thirsty for blood.

The four quickly brandished their weapons and gazed at Kai gravely.

“My sword can slay everything,” Kai uttered.

He then took one step forward and swung his sword out.

The terrifying power behind that blow caused a huge gust of wind to hurtle straight for the four men.

Seeing that, Salvador let out a roar and brandished his short dagger to block the incoming attack.

The other three also unleashed their martial energy to stop Kai's sword.
