

Chapter 5241

Facing Horiyah's flickering, Elaine was not led by her nose this time,
But was looking after herself and said: "I don't understand stocks and futures."

"The risk is too high and it requires a lot of capital."

"I still think it's easier to live broadcast and sell goods."

"I can do it from scratch with a mobile phone. It's no big money. What will be the loss."

Horiyah hit her while driving, "If you want to live broadcast and sell goods,"

"You must first have something attractive. Tell me with old women like us, what can be attractive?"

Elaine muttered casually: "If it doesn't work,"

"I'll sell it anyway. I will say that my husband has lung cancer. Please help me."

Horiyah seemed to have been stepped on the tail, and quickly said:

"That's okay! Your son-in-law has a some reputation,"

"If you drag Jacob to swindle money online at home,"

"Charlie in front of those clients how embarrassing it would be for him!"

Elaine curled her lips: "It's about making money, nothing to feel embarrassed about."

Horiyah said: "By the way, what has that dead old woman been up to lately?"

"Why don't you lend her to me for a few days,"

"And I'll take her and Jacob with me to rent a rural self-built house in the suburbs for live broadcasting."

How could Hongyan think that Elaine would find a way?

When she first thought of doing live broadcasts,

She also saw other people's live broadcasts and short videos selling badly on the Internet.

After looking around, she found that those miserable streamers were not as fcking miserable as herself.

Either their children are sick, or their husbands, wives, or parents are sick,

But in her situation, two elders who are paralyzed in bed,

And an old woman who is almost at the death door,

And she has been bullied by her mother-in-law for so many years.

Becoming a coolie in a coal mine got pregnant unexpectedly.

She was finally rescued and returned home, only to be beaten violently by her husband and rejected by her family.

Seeing that those who were not as miserable as herself could make money, Horiyah changed her mind and simply arranged the room, and started a live broadcast to sell goods.

To say that Horiyah's live broadcasts are selling misery, it is really ready-made material,

Her husband and son are almost useless, they just lie on the bed, and they don't even need to act.

Moreover, both of them had the hospital's diagnosis certificate,

And there was a thick pile of certificates of various injuries.

If one looked at it with reference to the diagnosis certificate,

The people lying on the bed were not two living people, but two tragedies.

Therefore, when she started live broadcasting, she immediately grasped the pain points of netizens' psychology,

And platform algorithms. The number of fans increased, and the retention effect of fans was excellent.

And Horiyah's real money was much more than what Elaine and Charlie had guessed.

Because the things she sells are different from other streamers. All low-quality items.

She really doesn't pay for the order, and few of her fans will return the goods as well.

The return rate of the same product brought by others can even reach 50%,

But as soon as she got started, she dragged the family to sell it miserably,

And kept thanking, singing some sad songs, and thanking each fan for the help,

Making her fans more tolerant of her than other streamers.

Many people feel dissatisfied with buying things in her live broadcast room,

But when they think of how difficult this woman is,

Her son and husband are paralyzed on the bed and she has to clean their p00p and urine,

And there is an old woman at home who looks like she won't live for a few years to take care of.

They think giving out money is a good deed.
