Chapter 18 I Am Your Father

Justin's eyes were red with excitement and his face gleeful. He was unaware that Anthony did not use a taxi but had chosen to run there! Even Anthony himself was shocked by his speed. It was three times faster than a taxi. Normal people would not even be able to see Anthony as he ran.

It took Anthony only three minutes to get to Grandeur Apartments. As Justin was undressing, Anthony had already reached the front door of the chairman's office. He could immediately see what was going on with his Carnelian vision, and what he saw caused him to burn with rage. He really wanted to beat Justin to pulp there and then.

Justin had also assigned two bodyguards to stand outside his office. At Anthony's sudden appearance, the guards demanded sternly, "Who are you? What are you doing here?"

With his Carnelian vision, Anthony Stewart could see that Justin was about to tear Poppy's skirt apart. Anthony knew that he was running out of time, so he said the first thing that came to his mind, "I am your boss' biological father. I've received news that your boss is suicidal and wanted to kill himself. You have to open the door to save him now!"

Suicide? Biological father?

The two bodyguards were shocked. When their boss assigned them, he said that he was about to have a good time with Poppy in the office. Why would he now be suicidal?

However, as they were unsure, Anthony dashed to the door and banged on it repeatedly, "My poor son, I am your father... Please don't kill yourself. If you die, how can your mother and I live? Please open the door..."

Meanwhile, Justin's hands were shaking as he was about to rip Poppy's skirt apart. Justin became excited at the thought of sleeping with her. However, suddenly, there was incessant banging on the door. "Idiots, you are all useless. Didn't I say not to disturb me..."

Justin had no choice but to go to the door. Upon opening the door, a large fist landed on his nose with a loud bang, crushing his nose bridge.

"You... Son of a bitch, it's you... How did you move so fast..." Justin held his nose. When he looked at Anthony's face, he realized that he was doomed.

This is illogical. It takes at least ten minutes to get here. How could he be here in just three minutes?

“Bastard, I gave you a chance yesterday. How dare you repay me as such? I am going to have fun with you!” Anthony was really furious. Anthony dashed forwards before Justin could react, grabbed his arm, and broke it with a single crack. The bodyguards at the door were shocked and froze for a moment before saying, “Son of a bitch, you’re dead!”

When the two bodyguards were coming at Anthony, he immediately fly-kicked them at their stomachs, causing them to tumble down. They were unable to get back up for a long time.

Anthony’s gaze swept across the room. His gaze suddenly landed on a pastel-colored bottle on the table. It stated, ‘Miraculous drug, excites your sex life with just a drop!’ Anthony immediately knew what the drug was for. He looked at Justin and his two bodyguards who were lying on the floor, and thought of an ingenious plan.

“Come here, be good. If you drink a mouthful of this miraculous drug, I will not hold anything against you, hehe!” Anthony grabbed the bottle, fed each of them a large mouthful of it, and then left them there.
