Chapter 531 The Ring Is Yours Now

Finn carried Lilia in his arms and slowly walked in the direction of the helicopter unsteadily.

He was in poor health, and he walked with difficulty. However, he still held his beloved woman carefully.

He struggled, but he was also very devout.

The helicopter was only a few steps away, yet for him, the distance was particularly long.

He staggered halfway and almost fell.

“Mr. Orwell!” Gerald couldn’t bear to look anymore and wanted to go over and help.

Finn glanced at Gerald and shook his head firmly, implying that Gerald’s help was not needed.

Gerald understood and could only stand in situ, looking worried as he followed them.

Fortunately, Finn safely carried Lilia to the helicopter at last. As if holding a treasure, he carefully placed Lilia on the soft seat.

He carefully buckled her seatbelt and covered her with a soft wool blanket.

After that, he lowered his head and left a kiss on Lilia’s forehead affectionately.

He was very reluctant to stop the kiss.

Brandon got in the helicopter and saw the scene. He coughed with a bit of embarrassment.

“Mr. Orwell, the captain would like to know the departure time.”

Finn was silent. He looked deeply at the unconscious Lilia and then said, “Now.”

“Then I’ll go and inform him to get ready to take off,” Brandon said. “Are you going with her?”

Finn shook his head and forced himself to look away from Lilia. “She’ll go herself.”

After that, he strode to the hatch.

Halfway through, he stopped and turned back. He took out an exquisite ring box from his pocket and opened it. Inside was an exquisitely cut diamond ring.

In addition to the hangover soup, Savanna also made some nutritious food, which was good for the stomach.

After the soup was served, the dining table was full of dishes.

Brandon happened to return, so Savanna told Lizeth to get the tableware and was going to have dinner.

Brandon sat down, looking at the food. He said teasingly, "Honey, you cooked so many dishes behind my back!"

Without waiting for Savanna to explain, Lizeth immediately rushed to answer,

"Mr. Cassel, you misunderstood Ms. Thompson. She was afraid that you would go to socialize and you would only drink wine without eating any food. She especially made these dishes, waiting for you to come back."

"So it was made for me. Honey, you love me so much." Brandon reached out and grabbed Savanna's tender fingers.

Noticing the smirk on his face, Savanna felt that he was up to something evil, so she deliberately said coldly, "Anyway, we have to eat. I made something light to change the taste."

"Liar," Brandon commented before getting himself a bowl of soup.

Savanna stopped him and said, "You didn't drink wine. Why do you want this soup? I made this with the recipe. It may not be very delicious. Don't drink it."

She wanted to collect the bowl, but Brandon got some soup with the spoon and took a sip.

"It tastes good."

Savanna couldn't argue with him. In any case, it was made from good ingredients. It wouldn't matter even if he drank some. "Drink it and eat some food. Don't hurt your stomach because of the dinner party."

Brandon nodded like a gentleman.

Savanna started having dinner when he suddenly leaned over and kissed her on the cheek.

"Honey, I love you so much."

Savanna was thin-skinned, and her face immediately turned red. She finished her meal with a red face.

After dinner, the sky turned dark. Savanna took the child to the yard for a walk.

“Savanna, are you done?”

After a long time, there was a knock on the door.

Savanna was shocked. She loosened her grip and the ring fell to the ground with the box.

“Savanna, did you hear me?”

Brandon knocked on the door urgently a few more times.

Savanna finally recovered from the shock and replied, “I’m fine, I’ll be done soon.”

“Then hurry up and come out. If you bathe for too long, you will lack oxygen.”

The man’s voice sounded behind the door. When Savanna heard such a caring voice, she felt it was ironic.

While he was so concerned about her, he bought a diamond ring for another woman.

He pretended to be so loving. Who exactly did he love?

Did he know who he really loved?

Savanna stood up, slowly picked up the ring, and put it into the cupboard in the bathroom.

She didn’t even deliberately hide it because she wanted Brandon to find it himself and take the initiative to give an explanation.

After doing this, she got up and opened the shower.

Hot water came down and washed away her tears.

After she washed her hair and went out, Brandon was already lying on the bed.

He was looking at his phone. His slender fingers were crazily tapping on the screen. It seemed that he was typing.

Seeing her come out, Brandon immediately put down his phone and opened his arms. “Honey, come here and sleep.”

Savanna walked to the bedside and was pulled over. “What are you doing?”

Chapter 534 How Can It Be You?

Hearing his words clearly, Savanna only felt that he was ridiculous.

“What am I angry about? What do you think I am angry about?”

“Savanna!” Brandon frowned and said anxiously, “I don’t know. I’m asking you because I don’t know.”

He was such a tall man, but Savanna saw a child’s aggrieved and helpless expression on his face. It was as if he was innocent and didn’t know anything.

Did she really blame him wrongly?

For some reason, Savanna thought that she was wrong.

But when she thought of the ring, her attitude turned harsh again. “You don’t know, then never mind. Move aside. I want to take the child to the hospital.”

“I won’t.” Brandon stubbornly stood at the door. “Let’s settle this first. I’ll go to the hospital with you.”

“No need. I can do it myself.” Savanna freed a hand to push his shoulder.

But he did not move. He was still blocking the door. “Savanna, tell me why you are angry. Otherwise, I won’t let you go.”

“Brandon, you know what you have done!” Savanna did not know how to mention the ring.

She was worried and afraid. She was afraid that once she said it, she would have to face the cruel reality.

How could someone as cautious as Brandon leave another woman’s ring in his pocket for her to find it?

Unless he did it on purpose.

Thinking of this, Savanna could not help but tremble.

Brandon obviously saw her move. He held her shoulders and asked, “Honey, what’s wrong? Tell me what happened?”

Savanna opened his mouth, but before she could say anything, Brandon’s phone rang again.

But he acted as if he did not hear it. He stared at Savanna’s face with burning eyes and repeated what he had just said, “Honey, tell me.”

Savanna trembled and had a lump in her throat.

Chapter 535 Bidding Conference

“Savanna, I am a doctor. So what’s so strange about me working in a hospital?”

Rex held the child in his hand tightly. Roya had just woken up. She stared at

Rex in a white coat wearing a mask in confusion as if thinking about who he was.

“And last time Roya had a fever, you should have known that I was sent to this hospital.”

“Sorry, I forgot,” Savanna said apologetically.

“Savanna, you are absent-minded. Did something happen?” Rex noticed that she was distracted and asked with concern. Savanna shook her head.

“I am fine.”

Did you quarrel with Brandon?” Rex asked.

At the mention of Brandon, Savanna thought of the ring, and her face suddenly became gloomy.

Although she did not say anything, her subconscious reaction had already made everything clear.

There was definitely a conflict between her and Brandon.

But no matter what happened, Brandon shouldn’t have let Savanna bring Roya to the hospital alone.

Brandon had gone too far in this matter.

Rex clenched his fists. He knew it was not good to ask about the whole story, so he could only temporarily suppress his anger.

He took a deep breath and instinctively touched Roya’s forehead. “Savanna, did you bring Roya to see a doctor? Is she having a fever again?”

“No.” Savanna shook her head and reached out. “She’s here to get vaccinated. I have already made an appointment with the doctor. Sorry, we have to go now.”

“I am familiar with this place. I will take you there.” Rex took Roya in his arms and strode toward the vaccination room.

Savanna had to follow along. It was good to have someone’s help. She did not eat anything and was worried she would faint from low blood sugar.

She had almost lost her balance just now.
