A Man Like None Other Chapter 1729

A Man Like None Other Novel

Laughing, Flaxseed restored his original appearance after his cover was blown. Kai jumped down from the tree and spoke to Flaxseed. "This Transforming Clone Charm is pretty good, Mr. Flaxseed. It's a shame you can't alter your aura. If you can, no one will be able to tell the difference!"

Smugly, Flaxseed replied, "You haven't even seen my charm spells that are more powerful yet."

The samurai was infuriated when Kai and Flaxseed talked to each other as though he wasn't there. Upon removing his katana from the sheath, he growled and swung it in the duo's direction.

Casually, Kai grabbed the katana and snapped it in half. The group leader was bewildered by the difference between his enemy's strength and his own.

Without delay, he tried to flee, but Kai smashed him into meat paste. "You should've left the last guy for me to kill. I wanted to get all of them," Flaxseed lamented.

"There's no time to waste. Let's go." Kai proceeded to dart toward the samurai's hideout as Flaxseed followed behind him.

They expeditiously arrived at the foot of the mountain. The edges of Kai's mouth curved upward when he noticed the untouched peak. Do they think I can't find their hideout just because they camouflaged the entrance? I've already locked onto their location when I used my spiritual sense earlier!

Staring at the mountain, he raised his fist, which started glowing with a golden light, and punched forward.

Boom! The entire mountain shook as the entrance to the cave was blasted open.

"What's going on?" Ono was flabbergasted as he watched the entire cave shake.

"Someone has invaded our camp, Captain Jiro!" a subordinate reported.

"Quick, activate the arcane array!" Ono commanded loudly. Concurrently, the moment Kai cracked open the entrance, he sensed Evangeline's familiar aura. "She's inside!"

He and Flaxseed promptly dashed into the cave. However, soon after they entered the samurais' hideout, dozens of white lights were shot in their direction.

Those white lights speedily formed a large net and trapped the duo. Meanwhile, Ono approached them with a group of men and surrounded them. "Who are you people? How did you find this place?" Ono questioned.

"Can't you see? We're your ancestors. Anyway, I managed to find this lousy place with simple magecraft. So, if you don't want to meet a horrible end, you'd better release the girl you captured!" Kai exclaimed.

Confidently, Ono mocked, "Ah, so you two are here to rescue the girl. Unfortunately for you, your endeavor is fruitless! No one can escape this cave!"

He wasn't afraid of the intruders because they were bound by the arcane array.

"Who brought her here? There's no way you're powerful enough to kidnap her," Kai inquired. It's impossible he's the one who captured Evangeline. While her strength is suppressed, she can still unleash the power of a Greater Martial Arts Marquis. On the other hand, this guy is only a Martial Arts Marquis.

"What's the point of learning who captured her when you two are about to meet your end?"

Ono sneered. In response, Kai ridiculed, "What, you don't have the balls to tell us even when we're your captives? Did your master tell you to be a coward?"

He was intentionally pissing Ono off because he really wanted to know who captured Evangeline. Actually, I already had an idea who was the one responsible when I saw the samurais. I just need someone to confirm my guess.

"Hmph! It's not like you can do anything about it, even if I tell you. Mr. Kawaguchi was the one who captured the girl because she's carrying a secret or something." Ono spilled the beans freely. I think it's okay if I tell him. They're about to die, after all.

"As I expected. It was Kazuo. He's the only one who can capture Evangeline and bring her here." Kai narrowed his eyes slightly as a frigid look swirled within them.

Again, he questioned, "Why are you people setting up a base here?" I can't believe these Jetroinian samurais have the balls to build a secret base in Chanaea. I must figure out what they're up to!

Unlike last time, Ono didn't tell him anything. "Why are you still so curious about us even on the verge of death? Anyway, kill them!" he ordered

He wasn't going to delay the execution anymore because he felt like Kai was intentionally baiting him to reveal more information.

Numerous samurais attempted to slash Kai and Flaxseed as they raised their katanas. In response, Flaxseed panickily urged, "Your body may be insanely tough, Kai, but not mine! Break this arcane array quickly!"

He was certain Kai could destroy the arcane array.

"Break it? Is that a joke? There's no way you can destroy the arcane array personally created by the envoys of Elysium Sect!" Right as Ono finished his sentence, he saw Kai's body abruptly explode with a golden light.

A terrifying aura crashed into the samurais like a mighty wave, instantly toppling them.

The net, made from dozens of lights, also vanished in a blink of an eye. "You... You..." Ono was shocked as he paled. "You're a Greater Martial Arts Marquis!"

Upon turning his line of sight to Flaxseed, Kai asked, "I'll let you handle the small fries while I take care of this guy. What do you think, Mr. Flaxseed?"

"No problem." Flaxseed nodded in response. The moment Kai took a step toward Ono, a terrifying aura exploded from his body. Ono twirled around and retreated when he sensed Kai's aura.

"Still trying to run, are you?" Kai sneered and chased after his prey. To deter his pursuer, Ono struck in the direction behind him, causing multiple huge rocks to fly toward Kai.

With a casual swing of his fist, Kai reduced those huge rocks into powder. His fist continued to travel forward until it violently landed on Ono's chest. Several of Ono's ribs were broken as he spat out a mouthful of blood.

Fearfully, he continued to escape at high speed. Kai pursued him slowly because he was certain Ono would lead him to Evangeline.

Unfortunately, Ono wasn't stupid. He was aware of Kai's intention, so he didn't sprint toward Evangeline's confinement.

The further he fled into his escape cave, the narrower it became. There was also a sinister aura inside the cave.

Just as he was getting ahead, he suddenly slapped a spot on the wall, causing laser beams to shoot out from both sides.

Because of how cramped the cave was, Kai had no room to dodge. Thus, he was hit by the laser beams. Ono then stopped moving with a sneer. However, when the laser beams hit Kai's body, he was completely unharmed.

"What?" Ono was dumbstruck. His original plan was to lure Kai into the cave and kill him with the arcane array, but it failed because he didn't anticipate Kai's body would be that tough.

"Where do you think you're going?" Staring at Ono coldly, Kai punched him. Then, the gust of wind generated by the attack sent Ono flying away.
