

My Mates 421

Chapter 421

Now show you are guilty for not keeping up with your word and kick her out," she added, pushing Lazlo to punish me some more.

I was not sure where else I would go, but Thiago's pack will be the only place where I might get to stay. I feared Corbin. Once he knows I've been kicked out of Lazlo's pack, he can come and claim me by force as per the rules. He also mentioned making some new rules. Goddess knows what they are about.

"Lazlo! You called me your sister. You cannot seriously let this woman stay here anymore after she played with both of our lives," she stomped her foot, yelling like a stubborn child. I didn't say a word because I wanted to hear Lazlo say what he would do. And he said it.

"You cannot be serious. I cannot do that." Lazlo shook his head and turned away from both of us.

"What? Why? It's not like she loves you," Christina questioned, her eyes red and bugging out in surprise.

"Where would she go?" Lazlo unwrapped his arms from around his chest and asked Christina in a bit of an annoyed tone.

"That's not our problem. She played us all. We shouldn't be concerned about where she goes," Christina argued with him, making me understand she was an enemy all along.

"Christina! You should take Maynard and leave. We will continue working on the project, but I don't think it's a good idea to stay under the same roof anymore," Lazlo whispered under his breath, looking guilty for not pleasing her by kicking me out.

go for her?" Christina asked him, gasping a betrayed by both of them," Lazlo added, not even wanting to going to hate your friend because of her?" She we will leave now," she nodded her head and while exiting out of the room, only slowed down to mutter, "You are such she

believe you were punishing me all this time for something I didn't do," I whispered, watching Lazlo you decided to do more damage to me. Gosh! I cannot stand you right now," he grunted, walking out of the room. I stayed in my spot for a minute before deciding to speak to Maynard one last time. I don't know who and when that rumour started, but it ruined my entire m*ntal peace. While walking didn't want to eavesdrop on them, but something asked her, sounding

I can't believe such a over."

repaid me," she sniffled from the other side of far as to make

Chapter 422

422-He Said, He Will Return"

"So you fking played me." I bobbed my head, laughing hysterically.

"Enya! It's not like that," Maynard said quietly, even though he knew he'd been caught. There was no reason for him to lie to me anymore, yet he went so far as to lie in front of Christina.

"Don't fking lie to my face now. You knew my life was already hard. I had been suffering, and you came over to stroke your ego." I yelled, feeling my heart pulsating hard.

"I di—dn't mean to," He uttered, lowering his head in guilt, but that wouldn't do anything for me.

"And you! You knew I didn't try to steal him from you. You entered my pack and said all the right things to fool me. You knew right when you looked into my empty eyes that I needed a friend, so you offered me your hand just to grab me and drag me through mud," I shouted, tears falling down my eyes and blurring my vision.

"Oh, cut the c*ap! That's so typical of you, Enya. The typical victim complex! You two kissed that night. I was running around doing everything to prove my loyalty to you guys while you were tongue-kissing behind my back. If anything, you owe me an apology," she yelled, shaking in anger when remembering the video that I had forgotten about long ago.

"That night was a mistake. He kissed me, but I pulled away from him. I told him I was not going to do this to you or Lazlo." I said it in coherent words: "Ask him! He will tell you the truth." I walked up to Maynard and slapped him on his chest, breaking down before him.

"I told her many times that I wanted to pursue you," Maynard finally spoke up, but it didn't matter anymore.

"You didn't say that in front of Lazlo, though," I scoffed. "You two played me well," I said, shaking and sobbing in front of my biggest enemies.

"You are not innocent, Enya. You and your mother are the* worst, like a virus," Christina muttered.

"So stop acting like you are this sad victim here," she said, refusing to believe me.

But what a friend you are. You all fking played me," I repeated myself, but she looked pretty adamant and confident about her actions. There into the room

the invitation from my so-called family. I have asked him many times not to refer to them as my parents, but now I am beginning my voice in front of are going." Lazlo's declaration made trouble because of you anymore. If we don't go, they will tell everyone that I am stopping them from meeting you," the world or whoever questions you that I didn't want to meet them." I said, helping him out of be over with it," he muttered, and a scoff from Christina's lips compelled me to years at the academy had never happened. I don't know how I never caught on to their personalities, but it and I

dinner tonight," he then added, and I reluctantly the past few hours that my could focus on was trying to somehow get rid of this headache. I sat on the ready; we don't have time," he said head hurts. Can't we delay this dinner?"

can sleep with comment made me raise my face and glare at we should do," I commented, grabbing the black dress and walking in the direction of the my friend or your friend's mate," he commented wrapped my fingers around the sink and get away from all these people," I whispered in tears. "Escape is

Chapter 423

423 Tricked By My Mate.

I hid the letter again, as I felt like he only wrote to give me hope. The numbers have dropped to 3, and he still hasn't come. He was no magician; I am pretty sure he wrote nothing after 3.

"Are they coming with us?" I asked Lazlo when I reached the parking lot. I watched Christina and Maynard walk out of the mansion, hand in hand, and all set for dinner.

"They are not. They are headed for dinner. Maynard has to mend what you ruined for them," Lazlo commented before rushing into the car and leaving me outside to take the other car. I now knew why he asked me to sit in a separate car. He just didn't want me with him.

I wondered when he watched the video. Or who was the first one to bring up that video because, last time I checked, both Christina and Lazlo were nicer to me? Well, that last time was two years ago.

I rolled into the car alone, and soon our journey began. I wasn't comfortable heading back to Corbin's pack. What if I bump into him?

So many thoughts had been occupying my mind, and there seemed to be no end to my misery. I checked my account sneakily when the guard wasn't peering into my phone to see if I had enough money to live off of for a few months before I settled into the life of a rogue.

Some thousand dollars!

Not bad. I don't really remember how I saved this much because Lazlo never gave me any monthly allowance, and neither did I ask for it. I would just save whatever I could get from the little online projects I would submit.

also not too little. However, living the life of a rogue nothing," I whispered to myself, hyping myself up for this significant change in my life. Now that everybody has let me down, I don't know how I turn out this way. Lazlo got off the car and went inside the house without even waiting for me. It was going to be awkward going to last for one more night, and the living room. Lazlo had already sat down with Ethen and Vinona while Elaine was in the kitchen with her new mate. She finally found her mate, an ex-warrior of the when Elaine walked out of the kitchen with a dark-haired guy then got distracted by me, but that didn't stop her from sat down on the helplessly placed sofa in the corner. The last time I came here, I of lost my charm

but now he works closely with the

him. Trev's hazel eyes traveled around and stopped right when a weird pause

the favor, but kept myself in the corner. As they too to Lazlo, who was shaking his leg and probably watching me from the corner of his eyes. So just couldn't understand what their purpose was

Chapter 424

424-Don't Give Me Up.

"What the hell is going on here?" I muttered to Lazlo, "Why did you not tell me about the meeting?" I grunted, continuing to feel uneasy.

"Because you would have created a ruckus and right now, I don't want my pack's image to get scarred because of your messed up m*ntal state," Lazlo pushed his body forward, matching my posture, and grunted back at me.

"I see a lot of you are not happy to see me here," Corbin exclaimed, rubbing his palms and staring at everyone. He was the only one standing while we sat in our seats like obedient students.

"And trust me, the feeling is mutual," the smirk from his lips disappeared as his eyes landed on me, "but this meeting needed to be done. After the demise of my father— I have been working on making some rules to make things better," he said and sneakily scratched his temples. If I know anything about him and his father, the pack's well-being is the least of their interests.

"Let's start with the new rules that have been in the making for the past few weeks. I will send the signed copy out to other packs too, but first, you guys! I wanted to personally talk about it with you all," he yammered, smirking when the discussion returned to the subject of us.

"Ah! The rules are simple, and they are for the benefit of everyone," he stated, still not disclosing the rules and making me anxious.

"What are they about?" Vinona, being genuinely curious, couldn't help but ask him.

subject of rogues! Rogues have always been involved in these matters, intentionally or unintentionally. By matters, I mean crimes." He paused only to look at Christina and say, "Sorry if that offends you."

just feel invincible. Since there are no restrictions to the rogues living in the wild, they commit crimes without thinking of any repercussions. So, with that being said. Anyone wanting to go rogue is no longer an

to become a rogue so that I could live and —horrifying incidents." He had to lower his head when he talked about that because alphas pack without my permission. Both the mates need to reject each other in order to break the mate bond, which we are aware of, but in official terms, they will have to spend time together if one of them denies breaking the mate bond. Which also brings me to another rule, a bit personal one," out a gasp. They knew Corbin rule," I

furrowing his brow in an attempt spending time with one of them if the majority of her mates vote for it," I said and then at each other. I know what they might be thinking. I had the nerve to challenge Corbin. I knew the entire meeting was about making me surrender. To hell with him for thinking a while before the harshness in his face melted away and let out a laugh and then stared directly at Lazlo, who still had his hand

Chapter 425

425-F*ck You All.

"Lazlo!" I groaned, staring at him and not understanding why he wasn't responding to me.

“Would you at least say something?” I demanded to know, but he turned his face to the other side. At this point, I pretty much knew my fate.

I leaned back with my eyes, searching for answers from someone who wasn't even communicating with me. The slow and painful fear of getting into trouble was much worse now that I was merely a human.

“Guys! What is going on?” Maynard rushed downstairs with Christina, leaving others upstairs to ask us. The silence gave him an answer. I realized I cannot trust anyone, but at least I need to give it a try. They have played me; why can't I ask them to help me out of this mess?

“Would you accept me?” I asked, not raising my face but hearing a gasp from Christina.

“How dare you?” Christina grunted, not accepting the fact that I asked Maynard that question.

“You have always wanted a second chance from me. You told me you were sorry for your mistakes in the past. So tell me, would you accept me?” I asked him again, looking directly into his eyes this time. He looked baffled and lost. Lazlo got up from beside me and started chuckling sarcastically.

“Amazing!” he clicked his tongue. I didn't have time to react to his misery. He cannot leave me in trouble and expects me not to look for help elsewhere.

I demanded again,

his hand tightly and pull be with me. What if I tell you if you say yes tonight, I am all yours?” I hated the fact that I was so miserable that offering my love to him was the only him lower his face and then c*ck his head toward Christina. So he pretty much gave me cause. None of these people were going to help me out of this mess. I stepped back from them and watched them one by one, staring back at me-some in anger and some beside you after what you did to us?” Christina scoffed, making

Has the decision been made already?” Corbin walked would like to object to this bullsh*t. I would go to the trial, if necessary, to rest my case.” I stated as loudly as I could. My so-called parents came downstairs to join us, watching me breathe heavily and holding back tears as I my face and staring at me without breaking eye contact. He was not backing down even when he had reached me in the be wasting not only your time but theirs too.” Corbin had a smirk have anything better to do with our time,” I murmured, holding in the tears and trying his phone and stated this very proudly. My eyes traveled to Lazlo, who finally showed some form of life by moving a to object, Lazlo. Your silence helped the council understand you are not objecting.” As Corbin deadline,” Lazlo argued, taking steps ahead to reach Corbin, whose eyes

Chapter 426

426-4 Still Have A Family

“You are going to drag me forcibly?” I folded my arms, hiding the shaking of my body behind my composed posture. Lazlo clenched his fists but didn’t dare come between me and the guards.

Corbin let out a chuckle and shook his head, stepping away from me and gesturing at the guards to back off.

“Drag you with me? Who do you think I am? Your s*distic mates?” He grinned when folding his arms behind his back, “It was just to show you if I want, I can take you by force,” his tone changed and the seriousness in his eyes flashed, “but I wouldn’t do that. Not because I am afraid of your harmless threats, but because I am over you! I don’t want to take you with me. You are not the Luna Queen I want,” he scoffed when announcing the disgust he got from calling me his Luna Queen once.!

“So what was all this mess about?” I asked, wondering why the change of heart.

“I just wanted you to see you are not wanted, not by your mate, not by your friend, not by your family, and certainly not by the Alpha King. I want a decent Luna queen. So I have come to a conclusion to accept—,” he paused just when he was about to say more.

“That will be between me and my next Luna Queen. As for you, I am not going to reject you or accept your rejection. However, the rules are solid. So why don’t you head back home and try to communicate and sort things out with your mate, since living as a rogue is no longer an option?” Corbin smiled after he ripped me apart brutally in front of everyone tonight.

“Anyway, I would have stayed for dinner, but I am not hungry anymore. I would rather be with a better version of my Luna Queen than stand here and see the pathetic excuse of a Luna Queen!” he commented before walking out of the door and leaving me behind with those I could certainly not trust anymore.

the rules just so that he can win your heart and take you back as his Luna Queen.” Elaine let out a little laugh before holding hands with her mate and walking made me close my eyes and absorb what Corbin did. No way he was done with me. I am not talking about romantically, but if he was truly over, then voice carrying a hint of mockery. As she walked away a few minutes before are accusing me of not doing much.” The driver muttered as he requested I let him attend the call. He had parked on the side of the

he grunted, cutting my own tears but feeling bad for him. Whatever worried him was a lot for him. He had tears

She recently moved out after trashing the whole place. Now we don't have money to fix the damage and no tenant as well," he sighed, getting inside the car and starting the engine once again. I stayed silent, realizing I was not the only one getting drowned by people I trusted. This poor out of the cab and smiled at shocked when he gave him a smile and made my way to the mansion. He didn't even start the car until I had entered the gate of the someone can get their worries to wither away.'

myself, standing in the living room

It was Lazlo.

Chapter 427

427-Embracing Her Tightly

Lazlo's POV:

I was feeling a mixture of emotions ever since Corbin acted out a perfect plan to turn Enya against us.

'Is he really behind it? Don't you think it was time we proved we still care?' Laz asked, making me realize I have gone so far in this hatred that I didn't realize I was accusing the wrong person of it.

'But it isn't like we didn't have the right to be mad at her. Imagine her mother ruined us and then faked this bond so that she could still mock us when watching us take care of our abuser's daughter. That was her way of making sure we were in her claws even after she died.' I scoffed, reminding Laz it wasn't that easy for me to accept Enya and act like I am not mad at everything.

'Besides, there is a lot about her that I find icky. Why did she jump into Maynard's bed? I get that she was angry with me, but why punish poor Christina?' I sighed before watching Maynard, who was walking out of the house.

"She went home," Maynard said, looking at the empty front porch.

"You guys go to dinner. I will go home to see if she is fine," I murmured, without looking at Maynard. The fact that he too jumped right in the bed with her had hurt me severely.

"I am not in a mood for any dinner," Maynard whispered, sounding depressed. It made me turn to him and look at his face in disbelief. He was showing sadness because he failed Enya? Or was it because he missed the last chance to be with her?

to accept her right in front of her mate. And then haven't heard you say her name in two years and suddenly you are that sad, betrayed husband whose Luna didn't say his name because he d*mn well, didn't try to protect her," Maynard's voice turned louder, even Christina rushed outside

Christina said, watching our please,” Maynard told her without breaking his

Christina

turned to glare at her. Her lips parted in shock, and her she asked, not stepping doesn’t that make you happy? Is it not enough?” Maynard gave a wild jerk to his coat, showing arrogance before he sped up on the road to G*d out of my sight, I couldn’t help but think about finding peace love is. It is when you think about that person that really fast to be with her. She must be sad and suffering, thinking I didn’t even think twice about her. I mean, she deserves my time after doing so much for me. After rushing over to the mansion, I parked in the parking

my coat but not my eyes off of from the fireplace made her skin look bright and soothing. Her hair looked wet. She must have taken wrapped my arm around her stomach from behind. She instantly pushed my hand away and freed your night,” I uttered, trying to hold her again. She swiftly turned over and

Chapter 428

428-Letting It Out.

Enya’s POV:

I spent the night alone in the mansion. I couldn’t help but think about Corbin’s next plan. I have also tried contacting Mother Witch, but she went missing three months ago without a trace.

The coven was unreachable, so I was beginning to fear. What if Corbin has done something? His new rules were pretty crazy about the outcasts.

I woke up in the morning with a tragic headache and found the mansion still empty. None of them came back home, but how would they?

Would they be able to face me again? But what makes me think they didn’t celebrate after I left?

I did prepare a perfect breakfast for them, just to sit and eat with them and make them uncomfortable. I assumed nobody was serious about an office that day because Lazlo returned at 8 a.m. He looked exhausted.

I was sitting right there in the living room, wearing a grey sweater and gray sweatpants. He didn’t even spare me a glance and left for the bedroom. Maynard and Christina came back and bolted straight into their rooms.

for not believing someone when they showed me their true colors. After a few minutes, they all came back outside and went straight to the living room. They might have needed some did the differences on the couch, his head tilted, but his eyes were fixed on my face. Christina had her arms crossed apology, cut it. I am deeply hurt that you asked my mate to you were constantly pushing me to accept Maynard and marry him because Lazlo isn't treating me right. But I understand that my words are worth nothing.

you two. I forgot that I have always been enough for myself. I should have relied on myself then you t— wo," I turned my face straight, ignoring the two people looking at me from my left and from that being said, there is no need for an explanation," I said as I stared at upset. I couldn't tell if he was too ashamed of himself or just angry

Maynard, who was staring at it doesn't matter if we accept her or not. She was quick enough to ask you to save her, so I guess we all have our reasons to can come back later when the project starts." Christina got up before

Maynard-this is all it against her wishes. She has killed her brother for us. I am so sorry!" Maynard walked after her after giving me a half-a*s excuse. I stayed silently in my seat, but after my emotions took over, I sprinted to the kitchen. Lazlo has left the

Chapter 429

429-Poor Janet!

"Yes! Think about it. She single-handedly fooled us all. I don't know what revenge she took from me, but I didn't betray her. You sent me a video of you picking up a she-wolf. Did you expect me to beg you to come f*ck me and not her? Is this how an alpha mind thinks? If so, then I am sorry! We she-wolves would rather eat our own sh*t than beg someone to f*ck us when he is clearly just a cheating a*s wh*re!" I shouted with all my might.

Why was I so afraid of him over the years? So what if he is powerful now? If he can use his strength on me, then so be it.

"I don't have a wolf, but that would not stop me from fighting for myself now. I don't deserve all this torture." My lips quivered.

"I knew about your kiss in the cabin with Maynard." Lazlo raised his voice: "I knew it before the marriage too." He clenched his fists.

"Wow! You punished me for that kiss instead of just rejecting me? You should have rejected me then. But of course, you wouldn't let me live without you either. You love to be the in charge, Lazlo. And why would I even care about you anymore? You used that excuse to torture me as if I didn't know that the minute I lost my powers, I lost everyone!" I yelled. "I lost everyone and everything."

“I was mad that you cheated on me with Maynard by kissing him,” he yelled again, trying to grab me by my arms, but I stepped back instantly, refusing to let him shake my body and leaving bruises on my arms.

“You only know how to control someone, you don’t know how to love.” I swiped the tear off my cheek and smiled with force

It was Maynard

that time,” he yelled, punching the island and making my body sharing it with you. I was afraid you would question my love for you. I was afraid of losing you!” I let out a laugh things that Christina messed up by accusing Thiago. It wasn’t me who lied. She did. I took it on me so that I could save my friends. I was in that bedroom with Corbin when someone flashed before my eyes, and I told myself no! I will not let Corbin mark me or sleep with me. There is a mate of mine waiting for me. I changed my mate was you!” I said, closed my eyes and let the whole mess regarding that night. I was the one who —wanted to be with her, but she kept refusing to accept me.” He was finally speaking the truth after so much damage had someone to boost your ego, and that’s what

at Maynard’s

other for a moment, and before anybody could and rushed past me to the outside. I didn’t focus on him calming my breaths

side,

Chapter 430

430-Ah His New Luna Queen Is My Bff.

A Week Later:

The rain on the day of the funeral has become a signature of mourning. It has become a bad habit for the clouds to start raining whenever our eyes shed tears. My black dress was all wet as I stood beside Janet, watching everyone pay their respects and leave.

The unfortunate event took away Janet’s smile too, along with everything. It was weird how he got randomly attacked when he was on his way home in the middle of the night. The authorities said it was a rogue attack. Whatever it was, it ruined Janet’s peace.

Everybody attended the funeral, including Lazlo, Christina, and Maynard. I haven’t spoken to them again. I was too busy helping Janet with the funeral arrangements and also helping her with depression.

“We should head back home now,” Lazlo whispered from behind me, making me aware of the curfew. After this attack, Corbin announced a curfew until the rogue was found. I am sure he didn’t care about finding the rogue who killed Mathew. The whole attack only helped Corbin by confirming his rules were the only things that would make a difference.

I wished I could stay with Janet, but Corbin had given me permission to stay for two days in the next week. He had taken control over everything now and it was bugging me to the next level.

“I will come stay with you next week. Can you please hold it up until then?” I gently patted my hand on her back and asked her. She nodded faintly, and soon we walked out of the cemetery to travel home.

watched me stand near the an uber,” I with me.” He offered me a seat in his expensive just keep it that way for a while,” I said, keeping my eyes more I ran after him, the more he turned arrogant. That night, when they refused to help me, it uber arrived, and in a few hours

Marko for always helping me out. He was thankful that I helped him the other night with his financial issues. And ever since then, room.

phone, he cleared his throat. “I have to be in the office for a few hours. I might come home tomorrow after I finish all the work,” he murmured, but didn’t dare look me in seemed off about his emergency departure from the mansion. What kind of office work made sense, but I was too tired and exhausted to focus on him. Once I settled in the bed, her number, I noticed how quickly she okay?” I asked, watching her sit in the office and look all lost. She had facetimed me, which itself should have been a sign that something was strange, but left— Corbin visited me,” she said, her eyes stuck in space and her it about choosing the alpha of the pack?” I proceeded to ask her when she rubbed her hands all over her face