

My Mates 478

Chapter 478-The Cheaters Kissed

Author's POV:

Two Years Ago:

I can't believe you went through so much, mom!' Christina had sat down to have a heart-to-heart conversation with her mother, where they shared their life struggles with each other. Emelia told her everything about her past with Hazel, and Christina recalled every single moment she felt miserable because of Enya.

"I took my revenge when I ended up there that night and their daughter was alone. But sadly, she soon found many mates to take care of her. That is what irks me the most. I don't know how anyone can think Enya is innocent. The only reason she hadn't done anything wrong till now is because she had been given the best life. She has so many mates and friends that are ready to give up on their own happiness for her. That is so unfair. She should face some consequences." Emelia ran her fingers through her daughter's hair as Christina rested her head in her lap.

"You know, even my mate still carries feelings for her. I have not confronted him about it yet, but there have been so many times when he has called me a wrong name because he was imagining Enya in me," Christina sighed, complaining about Maynard and how he hadn't been able to stop thinking about Enya.

"That's the problem. Enya is not a saint. She must have been giving him hints here and there,' Emelia scoffed at the thought of Enya living peacefully.

"What should we do then? I don't like her either." Christina lifted her head from her mother's lap and stared into her eyes. It was the first time that she had someone who could actually help her get rid of Enya.

"We have to first make sure we turn her mates against her. Take them out one by one. Don't rush anything; start slowly. The way they feel about her is very strong, so it might take you some time to even turn one of them against her, but in the end, it will be worth it," Emelia told Christina, who bobbed her head and then got up from the couch to leave.

"There is one more thing you need to know." Emelia cleared her throat as she prepared to speak to Christina about something she had been hiding from her all this time.

mother?" Christina asked, sitting down again once she realized how stressed

"She will not rest until she steals everything from you, like her mother did back to her, no matter how much he missed her. He knows the sacrifices I made for him are wild; he will since I don't have anywhere to be at,' she told her mom and hugged her one last time before heading out of the her side now. If only academy, Christina couldn't help but feel this emptiness inside her. She blamed Enya's mother for not being able to live with her

Maynard asked her,

am fine." Christina forced a smile across her lips, comforting Maynard and also trying to escape any questions he had for Enya?" Christina asked Maynard. 'I don't see of Walsh. We don't have time, so we are doing everything we can in these few minutes,' Maynard told defending Enya whenever she

Walsh and tied him in the cabin, Christina told make Maynard see how much behind with Walsh, the others left are doing their dirty job now?" Walsh began to mock up and chose to mock her for taking care you little boy!' Christina muttered, sitting in front of him with a knife and