

CHAPTER 35 - THE SWEET RECONCILAITON

PERKS OF REJECTED MATE

It was around five in the afternoon when they finished their salon appointment and Diana was already wondering why her brother was not checking up on her. Usually he will do it every hour and asked her whereabouts but maybe he spends more time checking his mate which is a win-win situation for her.

As they arrived at the pack house, the surrounding is strangely quiet and no one is around even those kids who Minerva used to play with. It's not even dinner time so Diana is started to think that something happened.

"Cha, where is everybody?" Diana scoot the surroundings.

"Marcel told me they are at the assembly hall and he is expecting you there." She informed her.

"Did he mention why? She asked curiously.

"Nope, but wait! I forgot to give you this." Charissa handed her a small envelope.

"What is it?" Her curiosity became intense.

"I don't know just open it while walking to the hall okay? I'm out! Thanks bestie!" Charissa gave her a peck on the cheek and left in hurry.

Diana remained standing on her place and being along inside the pack house made her feel something is really wrong. She asked Artemis if she can sense any danger nearby but her wolf confirmed that there's none, making her at ease. Instead of dwelling on her paranoia, she followed the instruction that Charissa told her.

"This better be a good." Diana inhaled deeply and opened the small card.

As Diana read the red card she immediately recognized who the handwriting was considering the scent that lingered on it. She kept walking inside the house and found scattered flower petals and a house lantern placed on the path walk.

"There are a lot of reasons why I'm doing this..."

As she walk down the hall, she saw Marcel who gave her a small smile but didn't say anything but instead, he handed his sister another red envelop with a note to keep walking. Diana opened the letter since she doesn't know what was inside the letter and what was going on.

"I – means I am in love with you from the first day I saw you."

Diana read the words once by one until she met Minerva to the other end of the path walk. She didn't say anything either and Diana knew it will be the same for the rest of whoever were involved in the plan.

"A – for Admiration because you are a strong woman."

Another note was hand down by Axelia smiling while giving another note.

"M - Mesmerized by your beauty inside and out."

As Diana opened the hall, everything is empty but every path is filled with her favorite peach rose petals scattered around. At the end of the path walk, she saw Marco and with the other enveloped and she was told to follow the light.

"S - Sparks fly when we touch."

Diana couldn't contain her excitement because she knew exactly who set it up; she was clouded with thoughts when Paloma marched towards her with a smile.

"O - Overjoyed when we kissed the first time."

She accepted the note and went on to the next paper that came from Marcello with a playful wink. All the time Diana's heart was beating too fast and her hands are shaking while walking.

"R - Rattled when you were gone for a week."

At this point, she reached the door to the balcony and saw Agatha smiling me and hand over the next note that she took with no questions asked.

"R - Rejecting you was my biggest mistake."

She stepped outside the balcony saw Tyrone holding the last note that's when Diana finally realized the words for each letter she received.

"Y - YOU ARE MY MATE" Tyrone spoke sincerely.

The balcony where they first kissed is surrounded with candles and flower petals. There is a round table set up for two with a bouquet on top of it. Diana remained standing while Tyrone walks slowly towards her direction handling the flower.

"Tyrone." Diana spoke softly.

"I know you asked me to give you time but still I want to show you that I really mean everything I said." He pleaded.

"I was to say thank you for doing this." She accepted the flowers and smelled it.

"Oh." Tyrone held his neck a bit embarrassed.

"I have one question to ask though, if you're honest then I might give you that chance." Diana finds it amusing seeing her mate's face reddened.

"Shoot." He complied.

"Was it you and Charise who planned everything from this morning? Considering you got my favorite flower and made sure my day was loaded." Diana asked in full seriousness.

"Well, partly she did together with Marcel and Mini while the pack decorated the balcony while I personally ordered the flower." He tattled nervously.

"You all made sure to keep me distracted from morning." Diana keeps nodding little by little.

"They wanted to help so I let them be." He answered truthfully.

"You didn't have to do this, it's too much of a bother to everyone." She bit her lip.

"Relax they all helped willingly because it's for their Luna." Tyrone placed a finger on her lips.

"Tyrone, you know I –" Diana was cut off.

"Please just give me a chance to prove myself and I promise I'll make everything right this time." Tyrone is now on bended knee.

"You didn't have to prove to me anything but I also remember telling you if I'm ready I will let you know, correct?" Diana looked at him.

"Yes." Tyrone confirmed.

"To be honest, seeing you doing this gets tougher --." Diana paused to see his reaction.

"I am sorry if you felt pressure by my actions, forgive me I should have just waited for you but here I am being selfish again and did not think about how you feel, I am sorry." He felt disappointed but Tyrone understood his mate's point of view.

"I know you are that's why I have made my decision." She saw his face filled with hesitation.

"I promised whatever you're decision is I will respect that but it doesn't mean that I will stop persuading you." Tyrone tilted his head up.

'You better forgive him! Come on he went all out just to do this all for you!' Diana's wolf interfered.

'If you shut up I can finish my words.' She beats her on that.

"Tyrone you didn't have to wait that long I guess its time for me to get this on my chest." Diana stared at him.

She can feel Tyrone is getting nervous from all the sweat that's been radiating in his system while anticipating what Diana will say. She can also sense his strong scent making her mind and attention clouded.

"Whatever it is I'm ready to wait until you accept me again." Tyrone looked her in the eye.

"I forgive you." Diana finally tells her decision.
