

CHAPTER 48 - THE MIRACLE HAPPENS

PERKS OF REJECTED MATE

It's been two weeks and nothing has change with Diana's condition. For Tyron last night was the hardest decision he ever did and everyone was there to hear it as they were entitled to know it too.

"Son, are you sure about this? We will understand if you don't want to be here." His Dad came from behind.

"I promised Diana that I will do it besides this is the last time I will be able to be with her so I will stay with her until our son is born." Tyrone replied with sadness.

Every immediate family has given a chance to see Diana and bid their final goodbye. After the battled, Zeus forgave him and since then he became closer to Diana's parents.

"Alpha, it's time the full moon is already up and your son is ready to be born." The pack doctor broke his silence.

Tyrone nodded while the Pack Doctor prepared the caesarian section for Diana.

"Will you please give me a minute Lyssa? I'll call you as soon as I'm done." Tyrone requested.

"Yes Alpha." She bowed and left him.

Tyrone grabbed his mate's cold hand and touched her now pale skin. For the last two weeks he never left her side, Tyrone did her sponge bath, dress her up and even lay beside her at night. Tyrone even took a picture of her even though she is weak so he can show it to their child and make sure his mother is dearly missed and love him. Tyrone wants their son to have memories of his mother even she will be gone.

"Hey babydoll, I know this will be the last time I'm going to see you but then it will be the first time I will see our son. I'm just sad you need to leave us so soon and you won't be able to see him. I know this is what you wanted and I won't break the promise. Don't worry about him I will make sure he will grow up to be a good kiddo. I will teach him to be as kind, loving and understanding person just like you. I love you so much babydoll and I will see you soon." Tyrone kissed his mate's lips for the last time.

Tyrone was crying while taking a longer time to hug her and with final courage, he pulled away and mind linked Lyssa to perform the operation. Tyrone insisted of staying beside his mate while doing the medical procedures. After hours of waiting, Tyrone heard the most angelic cry coming from his son.

"Congratulations Alpha, your son is a healthy baby boy. Would you mind cutting the cord before I clean him?" Lyssa hand him the tool.

"Yes please." Tyrone rushed to his son's umbilical cord and cut it.

"I will take him now meanwhile Apollo will be here to heal Luna's wound." She informed her.

Tyrone nodded while handling his son and soon enough Apollo came in and gave a tapped on the shoulder. He curtly smiled and walked towards Diana's bed and saw his hands beam while closing Diana's surgical wound. All throughout his healing Tyrone remained his hands entwined with Diana. He knew after this will be the cremation according to our pack law.

"Thank you Apollo." Tyrone comment timid after the wound was healed.

"No need to thank me it's the least I can do for my twin. If it helps I know she is in a happy place now." Apollo tapped his shoulder again.

"Please tell Marcel to get the pack ready for the ceremony." Tyrone informed him.

"I will. Please stay strong for Dion." Apollo last words and left the room.

Tyrone stayed a little more while her mate was being groom by Charissa and Hera. He personally requested them to do it since he does not know anything about it. He sat silently as they fix Diana's body but left hurriedly since they became very emotional. The only thing that's keeping Tyrone's sanity is their son and the fact that he will again in another life. He grabbed the bouquet to the nearby table and when he turned around he saw Diana sitting on the bed watching him.

"Hi love." She greeted with a smile.

"Di--diana? Please don't wake me up if this is just a dream." Tyrone dropped the flowers in shocked.

"You're not dreaming love I'm real I came back for you and our son, don't I get a hug?" Diana joked.

As Tyrone moved closer, Diana touched his face and just then Tyrone had the chance to look closer his mate's condition. Her skin was glowing, her hair is now perfectly style and shiny and lastly she has a heartbeat.

"My God! You are real. I am not dreaming you came back! How did this happen?" Tyrone hugged her tight.

"It's a long story but for now would you mind giving me kiss?" She playfully giggled.

Tyrone didn't wait for her to speak because he hastily kissed her like there's no tomorrow. Tyrone poured all his emotions on their passionate kiss and he doesn't even want to stop for a second. He missed her soft lips, her warm body that sends Tyrone to heaven and her sweet melodic voice.

"I miss you so much, I love you." Tyrone kept chanting.

"I love you too but I can't breathe." Diana gasped for air.

"Sorry I didn't realize you just woke up from a coma." Tyrone apologized.

"Where is our son?" Diana asked after holding her flat stomach.

"He is being clean up by Lyssa." Tyrone informed her,

"Thank you for keeping your promise." She whispered.

"I will always keep my promise." Tyrone smiled at her.

"I'm thirsty can you get me some water?" Diana requested.

"Here love." Tyrone handed a glass and watched her in amazement.

"You know staring is crime right?" Diana playfully made fun of her mate.

"I don't care because I am staring the most beautiful woman in the whole word." Tyrone kissed her hand again.

"Yeah right." Diana softly laughed.

"I love you so much babydoll. You don't know how long I wish to Moon Goddess this day." Tyrone sat beside her on the bed.

"I love you too and I can't live a day without you and Dion. I thank my mother for giving me this chance." Diana replied smiling.

"You mean your real mother? What does she have to do with this miracle?" Tyrone creased an eyebrow.

"Because she is the -- Moon Goddess." Diana releases a deep breath.

Tyrone listened to every detail of her conversation with the Moon Goddess while his hand runs on her soft silky hair. It was interesting to hear what she could possibly be and very courageous for choosing the consequences of her decision. Tyrone was very proud of his mate and he could never asked for anything more.

"Babydoll, listen to me I don't care if you are completely human now because I love you nonetheless and your decision lead us to have more time together with our son. You have been made me the happiest and proudest mate and I would never change that." Tyrone assured her.

"But you are the Alpha of this pack and you can't run it without your abilities. It's a great disappoint---" Diana didn't finish her sentence because Tyrone placed a thumb on her lips.

"I told you I'm willing to give up everything in fact I'll be glad to hand it over to someone who I think fits for the position. You and our son matters to me the most." Tyrone cupped her face.

"Speaking of our son, I want to see him can you get me out of this bed and take me to Dion my butt is aching from sitting." She ordered and Tyrone chuckled.

"Of course and then we can tell everyone the good news. I'm sure they will be all surprised." Tyrone helped her up.
