The Divorced Billionaire Heiress chapter 2501-Eric also saw Chaz. He had investigated Chaz before and found that Chaz liked men.

Thus, Eric was not threatened by Chaz. He walked over, smiled, and patted Chaz on the shoulder.

“Don’t go upstairs and disturb her. She just fell asleep, so just remind her to eat when she wakes up.”

“Sure, Mr. Ferguson. Goodbye!”

Chaz watched stiffly as Eric left the bar.

Eric looked like he was head over heels in love.

Would a domineering president be in love?

Was Eric serious about Selena?

Chaz looked upstairs. His footsteps were light.

Eric ordered him not to disturb Selena.

Selena slept until noon.

However, she did not wake up by herself. She was woken up by Chaz’s knock on the door.

Selena sat up in a daze and went to open the door.

“What do you want?”

Chaz looked at her angrily.

“The downstairs is flooded, yet you’re still sleeping soundly!

Did you leave the tap on when you went to the bathroom in the morning?”

He could not care less and ran inside to turn off the tap.

Sure enough, the water stopped flowing.

Chaz stood there and sighed in relief.

As soon as Selena came to her senses, she was shocked to see the water on the ground, which spread from the bathroom. The flooded area was not large, but there were water marks on the floor where the water had seeped through.

That was why Chaz sensed that something was wrong and knocked on the door.

Selena's face changed slightly. "Is the damage downstairs serious?"

Chaz sighed. "Two private rooms are completely unusable because the wallpaper has fallen off. I think it'll take two days to fix."

He thought Selena was careless, so he did not scold her outright.

After Selena thought about it for a while, she remembered that Eric was the only one who used the sink here in the morning.

She thought, 'Did that b*stard do this on purpose?'

Her face was glum as she took a deep breath.

"Never mind. Just fix whatever needs fixing. The waterproofing was not done well in the first place, so let's just do a thorough repair this time."

Chaz looked at her. "That will cost a lot of money!"

Selena waved her hand. "Don't worry about money."

Opening a bar was quite profitable, and Selena had some savings.

However, Chaz misunderstood her and said with a smile, "Oh, right. This is nothing but a drop in a bucket to Mr.

Ferguson. We'll spend as much as we can while he's in a good mood!"

Selena twitched the corners of her mouth, but she did not explain anything.

She looked at the scene and knew that she could not live here anymore.

How troublesome!

After Chaz went downstairs, Selena took out her phone and called Eric.

Was this really that b*stard Eric's doing?

Eric was at the golf course.

He could not reject this business entertainment in the morning.

A few of Eric's friends also came over to join in the fun. Eric was afraid of missing any calls, so he glanced at his phone from time to time.

The people around him were all single, except Keith.

Thus, they were curious about Eric's behavior since Eric was also single.

"Eric, why are you always looking at your phone? Why don't you look at us since you haven't seen us for a long time?"

An old friend came back from abroad and planned to develop his business in Mediania.

Eric snorted lightly. "Why would I look at you guys?"

He shook his head.

Suddenly, his phone rang.

Eric immediately picked it up and saw that it was indeed Selena.

He smiled out of the blue.

The people around him did not believe that a woman would call Eric because they were well aware of Eric's experience.

Eric was so deeply in love with Nicole that he would do anything for her. Thus, they pitied him. 1

They did not dare to mention women when they were with Eric, but they jokingly said, "We're having fun now, so don't take business calls."

Eric frowned. He was not in a hurry to answer and looked at them solemnly as he explained, "It's not a business call. It's a personal matter."

Everyone was stunned.

"Personal matter? Is it a woman?"

Someone next to Eric laughed and said, "That's impossible."

"Yeah, how could it be a woman?"

“When would he have the time or energy to date?”

No one believed it.

Eric felt uncomfortable when he heard this.

Did his friends think that he deserved to be single for the rest of his life?

Eric somewhat regretted that he promised Selena not to disclose their relationship last night.

Then, under everyone’s watchful eyes, Eric answered the call.

However, Selena hung up at that second.

Everyone was speechless.

Hehe...

Eric pursed his lips and was about to call back when Selena called again.

It was no more than three seconds after she hung up.

It seemed like she was in a hurry.

Eric exhaled lightly. He did not leave to avoid his friends and answered the call in front of them.

Before he could speak, Selena’s hysterical voice came through.

“Eric Ferguson! Calling you a dog is really an insult to man’s best friend. Why are you such an animal? If you dare deny that you didn’t deliberately leave the tap on to flood my expensive wooden floor before you left, I’ll cut off my head and let you kick it around! You f*cking *sshole! You’re really crazy! Do you know how much I lose every day if I close the bar? You should just dig out your stone heart and feed it to the dogs! You’re old yet so immature and petty! I f*cking regret sleeping with you! Go to hell!”

After Selena finished speaking, she hung up the phone without giving Eric the chance to explain.

Selena turned around and saw Chaz coming in with a mop, planning to wipe away the excess water.

Chaz accidentally overheard her.

He was frightened, 1

Selena glanced at Chaz calmly, made way for him, and sighed.

“When you scold someone, you should be ruthless, and you can’t give them a chance to retort!” i

Chaz nodded and could not help but give her a thumbs up.

He thought, ‘No wonder she’s a boss. She really has a kind of courage that ordinary people don’t have!’

Soon, Eric called back, but Selena hung up right away.

She kept hanging up whenever he called.

After several times, Eric finally got the hint.

On the golf course, Eric’s friends were gaping at him.

“It’s a woman?”

“She slept with you?”

“You just came from her place?”

Everyone chimed in and had countless things they wanted to ask.

This news was better than any gossip in the entertainment industry.

Nicole and Clayton were doing well, so it was impossible for Nicole to be with Eric.

Moreover, it was not at all like Nicole to call and curse at someone.

If it was not Nicole, who else would it be?

Everyone surrounded Eric and stopped playing golf.

Eric put away his phone and pretended to be calm.

However, he figured that Selena must be angry with him because she would not answer his calls.

Although he was anxious, he would never rush over to apologize.

Anyway, it was not the first time she scolded him.

Selena just needed to vent her anger by scolding him.

Eric suppressed the uneasiness in his heart, cleared his throat, and looked at his friends who were gawking at him.

“Wrong number.”

“Who would believe you, Eric? Tell us, what’s going on? Did the sun rise from the west today?”

Everyone asked eagerly.
