

When His Eyes Opened Read Novel Chapter 3110

Novel Chapter 3110 -Lucas: "Stop joking! She is leaving soon."

Niko: "Go back to her own country?"

Lucas: "Yes."

Niko: "So she really came here to play! Why did she choose you to play? Hahahaha!"

Lucas: "I haven't figured out this question yet."

Niko: "Is she hiding so deeply?"

Lucas: "It's not that you haven't seen her. She can answer anything you ask, but her answers make me confused. It seems that I live in a different place with her."

For example, she said that she was very familiar with the servants of the Hogan family. Although Lucas had lived in the Hogan family, she was really not familiar with the servants of the Hogan family.

So Lucas couldn't tell whether Hazel was telling the truth or not.

"I think Hazel didn't lie. It should be your problem. You have never cared much about the people and things around you." Niko concluded, "But it's a pity that such a beautiful little sister is leaving. I thought she was going to chase you! I didn't expect that others were just here for fun."

Lucas didn't want to hear him chant sutras, so he got up from his chair and planned to go home for dinner.

Back home, Lucas saw three dishes and one soup on the dining table, but Hazel was not seen.

Where did she go?

Lucas reflexively picked up the phone and wanted to call her, but found that the two of them had not exchanged contact information.

Lucas could only walk to the dining room and eat first.

Hazel's cooking skills had improved a little compared to yesterday.

After Lucas had dinner, she thought that she had friends on Whatsapp, so he sent her a message: Are you leaving?

At this time, Hazel was in the Hogan Group, making an appointment with Cyrus Hogan at the front desk.

The receptionist asked Hazel: "Miss, what do I call you?"

Hazel: "Siena. The second young master will understand if you just say my name to him."

The receptionist nodded and immediately dialed the number to the second young master's office.

The receptionist held the handset of the landline and said to the person on the phone: "A woman named Siena is looking for you. Now she is at the front desk on the first floor."

On the other side of the phone, Cyrus was confused: "Siena? Didn't she die early?"

The receptionist shivered in fright, and quickly looked at Hazel: "No, it's impossible, right? This woman is alive, not like a ghost!"

Cyrus: "I'll go down and have a look."

The front desk hung up the phone and looked at Hazel: "Miss, please wait a moment. The second young master said to come down to see you."

Hazel nodded: "Thank you."

Soon, Cyrus came out of the elevator.

Seeing him, Hazel immediately took the initiative to walk over.

When Cyrus saw Hazel, his eyes lit up, but he didn't remember where he had seen Hazel.

Cyrus stared at Hazel's face, and said in disbelief, "Are you Siena?"

Hazel: "I am Siena's good friend Hazel."

Cyrus laughed out loud: "I thought you were Siena! I was shocked! I said how can a dead person come back to life! You are quite capable! What do you want from me?"

Hazel: "Second young master, Siena told me one thing before. She said that you helped her pay off a debt. Now that I have money, I want to help her pay back that money to you, and then you give me back her mother-in-law's bracelet."

"Is there such a thing?" Cyrus thought for a while, "It seems to be so, but it has been so long, I don't know where to throw that bracelet, and the money is not much, so you don't have to pay it back."

Hazel: "Second young master, how can you just throw away other people's things?"

Cyrus: "Are you blaming me? Both Siena and her mother-in-law are dead, what's the point of you coming to me for that bracelet now?"