

I'm A Quadrillionaire Chapter 911

Chapter 911

Chapter 911

David felt that the old man's words were absurd and nonsensical, but he could not find any reason to refute it.

This was because if he did not have the system, no one on Earth could stop Pavan, and things might have really developed as the old man said.

The human beings on Earth were planted with slave marks, and they could not get rid of the marks until the human beings on earth became extinct.

This could also be regarded as a relatively reasonable explanation for the system's appearance.

unlucky.

Why did the system suddenly come to him?

It turned out that he himself in another timeline had risked his life to do this for the current him.

However, the system was a little too mysterious.

It was a product of a level 10 civilization!

Even if it was a level 9 civilization, David felt that he might struggle to understand it, let alone himself as a citizen of Earth, a civilization that was not even on level 1.

If he wanted to know more about this, there was still a long way to go.

"Thank you!" David said sincerely to the old man.

This old man had paid too much for the people of Earth.

However, if David were in the old man's shoes, he might have also done the same.

"David, you don't need to thank me because if I help you, I will also be helping myself. In that timeline, being enslaved spelled eternal pain for human beings on Earth. Wherever you go, people would look at us with discrimination. It was not only me, countless people spent their lives looking for a way to remove the slave mark. By the way, since Pavan failed to plant the slave mark on the Earth, how is he now? He didn't escape, right?" The old man asked suddenly.

"No, I crippled him and detained him," David answered.

"That's good. You can't let him escape because the Octagon has something that earthlings need. The earthlings' potential is very strong, but it's never been stimulated. Since you've detained Pavan, you can find something called a genetic drug in the Octagon, and you can stimulate the earthlings' potential with that, and there will be no side effects. Now, without the restriction of the slave mark, what's waiting for you is the boundless universe. I've succeeded!" The old man started sobbing again.

"I understand. No matter what, I still want to thank you. If you didn't do everything to give me the system, the Earth's fate would have been the same as what you described. Pavan would have planted his slave mark here, and we would have become his slaves forever. We wouldn't have been able to emancipate ourselves until we had gone extinct."

After David finished speaking, he bowed deeply to the old man.

"David, without the slave mark's restriction, after your talent is stimulated, coupled with the assistance of the system, your future is limitless and may reach unprecedented heights. Therefore, I still need your help for the future," the old man said.

"You can tell me. As long as it's within my power, I will definitely not refuse."

"Many of my friends who used to search for the removal of the slave mark with me died to the God Tier Civilization. Without them, I could not have escaped with the system. Thus, they exchanged their lives for the system in you. Now that you have the ability, I'll tell you the location of the planet where they live. I hope you can find them and help them," the old man looked at David and said.

"This will be my duty. Don't worry! I will do my best to help them. Even if I'm too late, I will ensure they live good lives. I will help them remove the slave mark when I have the ability to do so in the future," David solemnly promised.

He had no reason to refuse the old man's request.

Without their help, David would not be here today.

"Good! Hahaha! I'm relieved now that I have your word. I was worried that you would lose your integrity because you obtained such achievements in such a short time with the system. I think my worries were excessive because you're still the person I know so well," the old man laughed loudly and said.

David was a little speechless.

This old man was him in another timeline, so could he not know David?

Next, the old man told David some names and the locations of the planets they lived on.

They were all highly talented people.

Ever since they were planted with the slave mark, they refused to give in and kept trying to find a solution out there. Hence, they had the same fate as the old man.

They all grouped and supported each other.

In the end, they found the system in the remnants of the God Tier Civilization.

I'm A Quadrillionaire Chapter 912

Chapter 912

Chapter 912

Then, it traveled through time and space and ended with David.

Although the old man described it like that, David's mind power was powerful.

He would not forget anything that he saw and heard.

He secretly memorized the names and addresses.

As long as the problems of the Earth were completely solved, he would go to rescue the planet where these people lived.

"David, I'll leave the rest to you. We have done our best. Don't underestimate yourself. Even if your talent is ranked amongst the stars, it will still stand at the very top. Plus, I believe you can create miracles with the system's assistance," the old man said as his figure began to dissipate slowly.

David knew that the old man was about to disappear completely.

He suddenly asked, "What eventually happened to Pavan in your timeline?"

"After Pavan planted a slave mark on the Earth, he prospered. He not only became the head of the Tuffin family but also defeated everyone who was competing for the Master of the Milky Way title and became the Master of the Milky Way. At the time of his death, it is said that Pavan had already taken a step further. He could only achieve this by absorbing the talents of the earthlings. Otherwise, he would not be able to do it at all because of his unremarkable talent," the old man said with a sigh.

"Don't worry! I won't give him this chance," David said in a deep voice.

"Well then, bye, David!"

After the old man finished speaking, he disappeared from in front of David.

David woke up suddenly.

He sat up from the bed at once, and he patted his face.

He could not tell whether what he had just experienced was true.

Even so, everything in his head was so clear.

"What's wrong? David, are you okay?" Celia asked.

When David sat up suddenly, he woke Celia, who was sleeping next to him.

"I'm fine. You should go back to sleep, Celia," David comforted.

"David, did you have a nightmare?"

"Yeah, I did have a special dream."

"Don't be scared. I'll always be with you."

Celia inched closer to David and held him.

As David enjoyed Celia's smoothness, he could not help thinking about the old man in his dream.

Celia should be with David in that time and space.

However, the catastrophe destroyed everything.

David did not ask about their ending.

However, judging from what the old man said, this should not be ideal.

Selena too.

She could spare herself from all the suffering, but she insisted on going on a path filled with many obstacles.

In the end, she sacrificed her life for that sliver of hope. Due to this, David started feeling protective of that woman.