Chapter 211

Actually, what Rosalynn truly had in mind was that it didn't matter whether she had a father or not. She'd spoken as such just to make Hilaria feel guilty "Rosalynn, you're still young. You..

"You're not trying to persuade me to not have the child, are you?" Rosalynn said, a look of surprise on her face.

Hilaria looked at her, struggling to speak further "If it's not Wayne's child, I wouldn't persuade you..."

"Granny Jared, the baby inside me is the only kin I have in this world. I won't give it up for any reason!" Rosalynn suddenly became serious.

"No!" Tears rolled down Hilana's cheeks.

How could you only have the baby as your kin?

You have so many more family members!

Calvin entered with the food he had prepared.

"Alright, let's not talk about this anymore. Your health is the most important, Rosalynn took over the food from Calvin's hand and fed them to Hilana. "You haven't found your granddaughter yet, so you can't afford to collapse now."

Hilaria nodded

Rosalynn gently and carefully fed Hilaria.

Afterwards, she used a warm towel to wipe her hands and face

The better Rosalynn was to her, the more Hilaria feared losing her.

An unprecedented sense of fear and shame filled her heart.

Hilania had been in the hospital for four days, and Rosalynn stayed with her for all four

Four days later, Hilana was discharged

“Rosa, I need to go back and handle some matters. I’ll be back soon. After being discharged, Hilaria wanted to go back and originally planned to take Rosalynn with her, but Rosalynn was unwilling

After thinking it over, Hilaria decided to respect Rosalynn’s wishes and stay with her at home.

So, she needed to go back and deal with some things.

“Mmm” Rosalynn nodded with a smile.

After bidding Hilaria goodbye, Rosalynn had just returned to the hotel when Wayne’s call came through.

“Has Hilaria left?”

“Mmm” Rosalynn was somewhat distracted.

“I’ve nearly finished everything I need to do here, so I’ll pick you up early tomorrow.” Wayne paused, then softly said, “Rosa, I miss you so much it’s driving me crazy” Rosalynn blushed, “Don’t be so exaggerated!”

“I said I miss you so much, it’s not exaggerated at all!” Wayne chuckled

Rosalynn quickly changed the subject, “Actually, you don’t need to come and pick me up. I can go back by myself.”

Wayne replied, “Apart from picking you up, I have other things to do.”

Rosalynn asked, “What else?”

Wayne said. “We are getting married, you should take me to meet your elders” Wayne’s tone was serious yet gentle.

Rosalynn was taken aback and replied, “Oh... I see.”

Wayne asked, “Aren’t you happy?” He couldn’t detect much emotion in Rosalynn’s tone.

Rosalynn replied, “Of course, I am.”

Her fantasy seemed to be coming true, how could she not be happy?

Rosalynn continued, “I just feel a bit unreal, like I’m dreaming.”

H City was experiencing a light drizzle

Wayne had planned to pick up Rosalynn tonight

However, due to the weather, neither commercial nor private planes could fly

After hanging up the phone, Wayne planned to go directly to the airport.

Whether it was a private plane or a commercial flight, as long as it could get him to L City, he would leave immediately.

Til be staying in L City for a few days, take care of the loose ends here.” Wayne instructed Sean while walking out of the company building.

Of course, Sean knew why his president Silverman was going to L City

Because President Silverman had a look of excitement all over his face

Sean replied, “Don’t worry, I’ll take care of everything!

Chapter 212

Wayne answered back, then halted abruptly, as though he had seen something unexpected.

Sean, puzzled, followed Wayne’s gaze.

In the lobby’s guest waiting area, a slender woman stood. Her eyes were moist with unshed tears as she looked at President Silverman. But what shocked Sean more was the woman’s face...

“Miss Olivia?” Sean asked in surprise.

In truth, Sean had never met Olivia.

But he knew, she resembled Rosalynn, and even more so, Ashley.

Therefore, upon seeing this familiar face, the name ‘Olivia’ immediately popped into Sean’s mind.

“Wayne Olivia approached Wayne

Wayne stood still, his face grave.

“Sean, you can call it a day,” he said coldly

“Yes, sir”

F

Sean was anxious. He was itching to dial Rosalynn’s number immediately, but he had to respect his boundaries as Wayne’s assistant

With a sense of resignation, Sean took his leave.

Olivia walked up to Wayne

She looked thinner than the last time Wayne saw her.

“Why are you here?” Wayne asked, his tone chilly

“I’m sorry,” Olivia said, tears brimming in her eyes, “I should have listened to you and returned with you.”

Wayne furrowed his brows

When

he had traveled to R Country last time, he indeed had intended to bring Olivia back.

Ive gotten divorced,” Olivia said, looking at Wayne, her eyes blurred with tears, “Wayne, do the words you said back then still stand?”

The words he had said

The memories came flooding back.

When Wayne had gone to R Country, his justification was to see how miserable the life of this faithless woman was, to witness her retribution.

But when he got there, Olivia’s friend told him that Olivia was forced into marriage by her family, and even Maddie and Wayne’s grandmother had a hand in it.

They all disliked Olivia

After learning about Wayne’s recovery signs, they eagerly colluded with the Whaley family to forcibly marry Olivia off.

Finally, they labeled her unfaithful and greedy

After her marriage, not only did Olivia's husband cheat on her, he was also abusive

She was living a very miserable life

That day. Wayne finally couldn't help but meet Olivia.

She had bruises on her face and wounds on her hand.

Wayne was both distressed and enraged, "Why don't you divorce him despite how he treats you? Leave him now and come back with me. I'll take care of you!"

After those memories flashed across his mind.

Wayne looked at Olivia, "Olivia, my mother and grandmother wronged you. I bear some responsibility, and I will take care of you."

Olivia was taken aback

Was Wayne trying to draw a line between them with those words?

"I...I understand" Olivia was already slender, looking frail

Now, she seemed like she had been struck by a massive blow, her body swaying lightly. She gave Wayne a weak smile, "Don't misunderstand, I just wanted to see you...You must be busy, so I'll leave first."

After saying this, she wiped her tears and turned to leave

Wayne watched, feeling a lump in his throat

He watched as Olivia, so thin and frail, walked towards the exit.

Just as Olivia was about to reach the door, she suddenly collapsed, falling straight to the floor.

"Olivial" Wayne exclaimed.

He ran towards her as fast as he could.

Chapter 213

Wayne had taken Olivia to the hospital.

Not long after, Olivia's friend Beverly hurried over.

"I knew she'd gone to meet you!" Beverly looked at the pale-faced Olivia, wiping her tears. "She's been back for a while now, and the first thing she wanted to do was meeting you. But the news of your engagement came the very next day. You know her, she's kind hearted, and once she knew you were getting married, she would never want to bother you.... But she also seems to have lost her will to live"

"What do you mean?" Wayne asked Beverly

"On the day you got engaged, she probably couldn't bear it any longer, she had a bottle of sleeping pills. Luckily, she was found in time..

Wayne clenched his fists.

"The reason she wanted to see you this time was because she learned that you'd broken off your engagement" Beverly continued, "President Silverman, you might not understand just how much Olivia loves you"

Wayne stayed silent.

A nurse arrived after a short while, asking about the patient's medical history

"She has severe depression and anxiety, heart disease, and severe anemia. Beverly rattled off a list, which made the nurse frown.

"No wonder she's so skinny, she's really sick. She needs proper treatment. Has she been receiving any systematic treatment?"

"No..." replied Beverly

"The nurse sighed, shook her head, and left.

Wayne sat there in silence for a long time before finally asking, "Why doesn't she go to the hospital for treatment?"

"Olivia is afraid of hospitals Beverly looked at Wayne. "But I believe that if President Silverman is with her, she'll get proper treatment." Wayne instinctively touched his cufflinks, they weren't the ones Rosalynn had given him, one of the pair had been lost at some point.

He thought about when he could get Rosa to give him another pair

“President Silverman... you don’t want to?” Beverly frowned, “do you remember how outstanding Olivia used to be? Why do you think she’s become like this? Don’t you know? Don’t you feel any responsibility?”

“It’s not your place to teach me what should I do,” Wayne said,

He looked up at Beverly, who shrank back and quickly switched to a softer tone, “I just want Olivia to get better”

Wayne didn’t pay her any more attention.

It wasn’t long before Olivia woke up.

When she did, Wayne was by her side.

“You are awake,” Wayne asked softly, “do you feel uncomfortable anywhere?”

“Wayne “Olivia’s eyes filled with tears, and then suddenly, she sat up and threw her arms around Wayne

Wayne froze

The first thing that came to his mind was...

During a call between Enc and Heatherway, Rosalynn had called him a bad man because he slept with many women

“Olivia, you need to have a good rest. Wayne quickly pulled away from Olivia

Olivia lay back down, still gazing longingly at Wayne

Wayne glanced at the time.

“Are you leaving?” Olivia suddenly asked anxiously, her voice trembling.

“Where’s Beverly?” She asked frantically, looking for Beverly, “Get her to arrange my discharge. I can’t stay in the hospital!”

“You can’t be discharged, not only now, but you also have to come to the hospital regularly for treatment!” Wayne said sternly.

“I can’t! I’m afraid of hospitals” Olivia shook her head continuously

“Why are you afraid of hospitals? You’re sick now, you need treatment, understand?” Wayne said gravely

“My ex-husband had me ocked up in a hospital and took out my uterus!” Olivia stared at Wayne, her voice breaking. “Tell me why I should be scared, tell me!”

Wayne was rooted to the spot.

Olivia sat up, her knees drawn up to her chest, her head buned in her arms, weeping softly.

Between sobs, Olivia confessed. “My ex-husband knew that I loved someone else, so he said I wasn’t worthy of bearing his children and took out my uterus.

“Why didn’t you ask me for help then?” Wayne asked in a low voice

“I knew you hated me!” Olivia cried out

Wayne fell into a long silence.

Chapter 214

Subsequently, he collapsed into a seat, “Im not leaving. I’m staying with you.”

Olivia looked up at him immediately, her eyes filled with surprise. “Wayne Thank you”

“Rest now.” As Olivia laid down, Wayne reached out, covering her with a blanket.

Through all the commotion, it was soon morning.

Olivia’s condition had not improved, and as soon as she woke up, she started looking for Wayne.

L City.

Rosalynn was up at the crack of dawn.

Paige knew she was going back today, filled with joy

Paige asked, “Should we start buying props to set up the scene now?”

“Pretty much,” Rosalynn replied.

In the midst of conversation, she glanced at the time, then at the message she had sent to Wayne. "Are you leaving?" No reply.

It was a message from three hours ago

What's going on.....

Til take care of the purchases! Paige declaredt, accepting the task.

"Alright you're in charge, that's settled. I'm going to call Wayne."

"OK!"

Rosalynn called Wayne, but the call was disconnected

Rosalynn felt a sudden sinking feeling, a bad premonition. As Rosalynn was about to call Sean to ask if there was any trouble at the company, Wayne replied to her message

The message read, "Something came up, I can't pick you up today. Stay in L City for a couple more days."

Rosalynn stared at the message for a few seconds.

"I see" After replying, Rosalynn took a deep breath. Then she murmured to herself, "Why are you panicking? Haven't you foreseen all the good and bad outcomes? The worst-case scenano is leaving with the kids..."

Wayne couldn't come, and Rosalynn didn't plan to stay in L City anymore.

She bought a ticket for the next flight and flew back directly.

On Wayne's side, after observing Olivia for a day, the doctor allowed her to be discharged.

Wayne escorted her home.

"Wayne, could you occasionally accompany me to the hospital when you're available. I also want to get better, Olivia asked softly.

"Alright," Wayne agreed

"Thank you," Olivia's eyes welled up with tears, "So we..."

"Olivia, your priority now is to get better, Wayne interrupted her

If he could, Wayne would like to tell her right now that he's getting married soon. But He remembered what Beverly had said. She attempted suicide after knowing about his engagement "Alright!" Olivia responded, "I know, I will recover quickly!"

Soon after, Wayne drove off

Olivia and Beverly stood in place, watching the car disappear into the distance

The previously frail Olivia showed disappeared. "He's different with me now" Olivia said slowly, "I thought...he broke off his engagement because of me, but it seems that's not the case."

Chapter 215

Beverly watched Wayne as he walked away.

"You're overthinking things" Beverly said. "He's usually so cold and indifferent. But today, he took care of you all the time and barely ate anything."

Olivia scoffed and retorted, "But his mind seemed elsewhere the entire time"

"Perhaps he was contemplating what to do with the stand in now that the real one has returned?" Beverly asked with a hint of disdain at the mention of the stand-in.

Olivia didn't respond. She simply turned and made her way toward the house.

As night fell, a soft, chilly drizzle began to fall

Wayne parked his car by the roadside, sitting inside and smoking one cigarette after another.

It wasn't until the late hours of the night that he finally started the car and left. Aimless initially, he somehow found himself near Rosalynn's apartment.

Being with Rosalynn had always brought him a sense of peace over the years.

After parking the car he dragged his tired body into Rosalynn's apartment

He unlocked the door using his fingerprint, assuming she wouldn't be home

“Wayne?”

Just as he took off his jacket, the bedroom door opened, and there stood Rosalynn in her soft pajamas, her eyes still filled with sleep.

Wayne paused for a moment.

The dim yet warm light highlighted Rosalynn, who emanated a sense of calm and peace.

“You’re back?” Wayne asked, swiftly moving to embrace her tightly in his arms

Her warm body was real, not a figment of his imagination.

“You’re squeezing me too tight,” Rosalynn patted his back gently, “Ease up a bit!”

“Why did you come back alone? Are you upset that i didn’t come to pick you up? Wayne asked anxiously.

If she got angry, she might run away. Maybe she came back to pack her things he hadn’t shown up, she could have left!

“Do you think I’m that petty?” Rosalynn playfully pushed him away. “How many cigarettes have you smoked? You smell temible!”

Wayne regained his composure and promptly let go of Rosalynn.

He had been at the hospital for a long time, and he might still smell like it.

Concerning the Olivia situation, Wayne decided not to tell Rosalynn. He didn’t want to trouble her with more worries.

“Tll go take a shower now”

Wayne caressed Rosalynn’s hair and headed to the bathroom.

Rosalynn stood still, not expecting Wayne to show up out of the blue

However, when he hugged her, the uneasy premonition in her heart disappeared

Rosalynn exhaled softly, went back to her bedroom, and crawled back under the covers

Just as she was about to drift off to sleep, Wayne entered the room freshly showered

He gently lifted the covers, slid next to Rosalynn, and skillfully wrapped his long arms and legs around her.

Rosalynn placed her hand on his

“Must be tough dealing with the company after breaking off the engagement,” she asked.

Wayne, burying his face in her neck, hummed in agreement, “It’s manageable.”

Rosalynn played with his fingers, “I should have returned a few days earlier to help you out, but Hilaria Jared ended up in the hospital, vomiting blood”

“Weren’t you always calling her Granny Jared? Why the switch to her name now?” Wayne perceptively asked, “Did she upset you?”

“No,” Rosalynn denied

Wayne flipped her around to face him.

Rosalynn remained silent

“Tell me the truth” Wayne stared intently at her

Chapter 216

After taking a shower, Wayne’s hair fell softly on his forehead, giving him a less serious look than usual.

“After I learned what she did to her daughter-in-law, I just find her disgusting” Rosalynn honestly replied.

Wayne remembered the slap Maddie gave Rosalynn in the nursing home

“You won’t encounter such things in the future” Wayne kissed the tip of her nose affectionately. “If you don’t like it, I won’t let my mother come near you!”

Rosalynn smiled helplessly

Honestly, she wasn’t afraid of Maddie. If they really fought, Maddie wouldn’t be her match.

“Alright, Rosalynn gently caressed Wayne’s cheek. “You look tired, go to sleep”

Suddenly, Wayne felt very relaxed.

He suddenly remembered the second year Rosalynn was by his side. They were on a business trip and witnessed a car accident on the road.

That scene had triggered something in his brain, and at night, he suddenly started experiencing phantom pain, reliving the pain he felt during the accident

That night, Rosalynn didn’t sleep and stayed by his side.

When dawn broke, the pain gradually subsided.

It was on that day that Rosalynn defied him for the first time. She disregarded his opposition and canceled all the meetings scheduled for that day.

Then she said to him, “Meetings can be held anytime, but you need rest. Go to sleep. I’ll watch over you.”

Wayne had never known before how many memories of Rosalynn were hidden in his mind.

How foolish he had been, only gradually realizing how important she was to him when she wanted to leave.

No one could treat him better than Rosalynn

“Okay.” Wayne obediently closed his eyes and relaxed.

Rosalynn felt that he seemed to have something on his mind.

“Waype” she called softly.

“Hmm?”

“Do you have time the day after tomorrow?” Rosalynn didn’t want to pry into Wayne’s thoughts. If he wanted to say, he would say it naturally. But she could still cheer him up

“What’s the matter?” Wayne asked

“I want to have dinner with you at home, Rosalynn hinted subtly, so as not to reveal her plan to Wayne too early.

“Okay” Wayne agreed.

“Great!” Rosalynn then lightly patted Wayne’s back “Go to sleep”

Wayne couldn’t fall asleep.

Whenever he closed his eyes, all he could see was Olivia’s terrified and helpless expression.

Or Rosalynn’s resolute look

“Rosa” after a long while, Wayne hoarsely called out Rosalynn’s name.

Rosalynn, who had just fallen asleep, was awakened again.

Annoyed, she bumped her head against Wayne’s chest.

Wayne smiled.

“What do you want me to do?” Rosalynn asked with a pout

Wayne cupped her face, lowered his head, and kissed her earnestly

Rosalynn felt helpless.

After a gentle and brief kiss, Wayne let her go and then said seriously, “Let’s go register our marriage tomorrow. We can announce it publicly after the storm of the engagement settles”

“Tomorrow?” Rosalynn was taken aback

Normally, it should be her, the substitute lover, who would be in a hurry to get married, right?

Wayne was a domineering CEO. Why was he in such a rush to get married?

“Yes, don’t you want to?” Wayne furrowed his brow slightly. “I’ve already broken off the engagement for you. Don’t you trust my sincerity? Are you still thinking about leaving”*

“No.” Rosalynn muttered. “Mamage is a big deal, isn’t it?”

Wayne said, “So, are you willing to marry me?”

Wayne had mentioned marriage so many times, but Rosalynn always avoided the topic

This was the first time she gave a direct answer to Wayne.

Chapter 217

Rosalynn looked at Wayne, who was so happy. The last trace of unease in her heart disappeared. She touched Wayne's cheek, and he immediately leaned his cheek against her palm, like a big puppy.

"I have been with you for five years, and I want to spend the rest of my lifetime with you." Rosalynn replied.

"So, Rosa also likes me, right?" Wayne asked eagerly.

Rosalynn looked at Wayne and shook her head.

The smile on Wayne's face visibly faded away

But then, Rosalynn said, "Wayne, I think I love you"

Wayne was taken aback. "If you love me, why did you leave me before?" he asked:

"Loving you doesn't make it right to be the third party in a marriage, Rosalynn said, then hummed. "Besides, someone made an agreement with me before, that it couldn't fall in love with you, right?"

Wayne cursed. "That someone is such a jerk!"

Rosalynn looked at Wayne and thought, Wayne, I've already revealed my true feelings to you. I hope you won't disappoint me.

"I'm so happy!" Wayne hugged Rosalynn tightly and kissed her on the face

With mixed emotions, Rosalynn said, "President Silverman, it's almost two o'clock. Do you want to take a nap?"

"No rush, let me check the calendar first and choose a wedding date!" Wayne couldn't fall asleep this time. He took out his phone and started flipping through the calendar

As he flipped through it, Wayne became unhappy

"Why is there so much work? I can't find time for marriage in the next half month?" he said.

“Mamage is a big event. We don’t have to rush it” Rosalynn took his phone away. “Why are you so anxious?”

“I’m afraid you’ll run away” Wayne spoke and hugged her again. “Rosa, we’ve agreed to get married, so it’s settled. You can’t run away anymore!”

“As long as you don’t disappoint me, why would I run away?” Rosalynn asked.

Wayne thought of Olivia, but now he only felt guilty towards her. He had only accompanied her for treatment, it wasn’t considered a betrayal, just his responsibility!

“You are the one for me in this lifetime, Wayne said earnestly

“A lifetime is a long time. Let time verify whether you are telling the truth or not, Rosalynn said, then yawned. “Wayne, I’m really sleepy...”

“Sleep! I won’t disturb you anymore!”

Wayne kissed her

He thought she would fall asleep, but before Rosalynn closed her eyes, she pecked his lips and then retreated into the covers.

Wayne noticed that her ears were turning red

Even though they had been intimate before, she still reacted like this-shy, with her ears turning red.

Wayne gently and devoutly kissed the tip of Rosalynn’s ear “Goodnight, my wife”

Rosalynn found it quite exaggerated.

It was as if she had suddenly fallen into a jar of white sugar

Every breath felt sweet

Wife

This was the first time Wayne called her his wife.

The next day, when Wayne woke up, Rosalynn was no longer by his side.

Womed that his wife had run away, his body reacted before his brain could catch up. He immediately got out of bed, not even bothering to put on his shoes.

He opened the bedroom door and saw the suitcase in the living room. Wayne instantly became nervous

“Are you awake?”

Rosalynn walked in from the balcony while talking on the phone, and when she saw Wayne’s unhappy expression, she said, “Let’s not talk about it now. We’ll talk later”

Chapter 218

Rosalynn hung up the phone and walked up to Wayne, raising her hand to touch his forehead. “You don’t have a fever...”

“Where are you going with the suitcase? Wayne asked.

Rosalynn was stunned, then looked towards the suitcase in the living room, about to explain.

Wayne held her shoulders “Are you running away again? Do you regret saying that you love me last night?”

“Stop shaking me, it’s making me dizzy!”

Rosalynn pushed away Wayne’s hand.

“Are you an idiot? That’s the luggage I brought back yesterday. I haven’t unpacked it yet!”

Wayne froze, and his imposing manner gradually dissipated

“Oh...”

“Why are you acting so strange?” Rosalynn shook her head. “Breakfast as usual?”

Wayne replied, “Sure”

“Put on your shoes, Mr Silverman’ Rosalynn finished speaking, shook her head, and walked towards the kitchen.

Wayne didn’t see her face after turned away, which was full of uncontrollable laughter

Wayne's breakfast was quite simple.

Two slices of toasted whole wheat bread, crispy on both sides, spread with unsalted peanut butter, and a cup of black coffee.

Rosalynn added an additional fried egg today to nourish his brain.

Wayne changed his clothes and came out, reverting back to his usual elite and imposing appearance.

"Are you going out with Paige?" Wayne asked

"Yes. We planned to go shopping. Rosalynn sat opposite him, propping her cheek with one hand, watching him eat.

Wayne eating was also a pleasing sight, as if he were shooting a commercial.

"Later, I'll give you my credit card Buy whatever you like Wayne paused for a moment and asked, "Do I look good when I'm eating?"

Rosalynn smiled and said, "You look great!"

Wayne put down his coffee and got up, leaning over to pinch Rosalynn's chin, giving her a peck on her lips before sitting back down to continue eating.

Rosalynn muttered, "Childish!"

"Mrs. Silverman, get ready, because from now on, I'll be this childish every day" Wayne proudly declared.

Yesterday, he was so annoyed, but after he went back to her side, even if it was only for one night, even if they didn't do anything besides having a breakfast she made, his mood lightened considerably.

After finishing breakfast, Wayne had to go to the company

Sean had been waiting downstairs for quite a while.

"Wifey, which tie goes with this outfit?" Wayne went to the wardrobe and looked at the tie rack, feeling clueless.

Rosalynn hurried over Without much hesitation, she accurately pulled out a tie, and Wayne bent down and offered his neck.

In the past, it was always Rosalynn who stood on tiptoe to help him tie his tie

There was a hint of sorrow in Rosalynn's heart.

So, he wasn't completely clueless. He just didn't care about her as a person before.

"We're not married yet, so don't call me wife' casually." Rosalynn tied his tie while saying, "What if you slip up and say it in public?"

Wayne embraced her waist and pulled her into his arms. "What can we do? My wife is someone I'm proud of!"

Rosalynn's heart warmed

"Alright, lets hurry downstairs Sean is probably getting impatient!" Rosalynn spoke and held Wayne's hand, pulling him towards the door.

When they reached the entrance, Wayne stood there, unmoving.

Rosalynn understood what he meant.

She tiptoed and pecked his mouth corner "Take care on the way"

"Just the corner of my mouth?" Wayne held onto her waist, not letting her go, furrowing his brows, looking dissatisfied.

Rosalynn gritted her teeth.

She simply cupped his cheeks and planted several kisses on his lips in succession

Chapter 219

"Is that enough?"

Wayne leaned down and kissed Rosalynn deeply. "Now it is enough!"

Rosalynn blushed.

Even when she was more intimate with Wayne, they had never been this affectionate. Back then, the Wayne in bed and the Wayne outside of it felt like two different people. He could coddle her in bed, call her baby, but once they were off the bed...

This is for Sean Rosalynn grabbed a paper bag from the foyer.

Wayne furrowed his brows "What is it?"

"Breakfast" Rosalynn added before Wayne could get annoyed, "Usually, Sean would have had time to buy breakfast on the way to the company after picking you up Today, you wasted almost an hour, so this is compensation"

"Did you make it yourself?"

"It's not as delicious as the one you have." Rosalynn coaxed him like a child.

"Hmph" Wayne cared the breakfast with him and finally left the house.

Rosalynn was still worried. She stood at the door and reminded Wayne, "Don't throw it away. I'll ask Sean!"

Wayne replied, "Got it

Rosalynn smiled and closed the door.

As she looked around the house, for some reason, it felt even warmer to her

Rosalynn and Paige planned to meet at 11:30 for lunch and then go shopping together.

When they arrived at the restaurant, Paige was already waiting.

"Getting married?" Paige asked.

Rosalynn thought about this carefully Paige was the person closest to her now, and she should tell her about getting married. After all, she had been genuinely worried about her ever since she found out about her pregnancy and Wayne.

Paige almost choked on her drink when she heard the news. "Married!"

"Keep your voice down!" Rosalynn lowered her voice.

"Wayne!!" Paige pounded her chest and stomped her feet. I didn't see it wrong! Well done!"

Rosalynn could only smile wryly

"And you! He asked to get married today, so it's today! What's with checking the date? Paige was frustrated.

"What's there to be afraid of? If he can't hold on even for half a month, how can we spend a lifetime together?" Rosalynn's tone was calm.

She was also greedy and wanted to be in love for a lifetime.

“Well, then take a good look at the date. I have faith in Wayne. He truly loves you!”
Paige nodded, affirming herself.

Rosalynn said, “Let’s eat”

“Oh, by the way, Joseph contacted me again.” Paige’s expression changed.

Rosalynn’s demeanor turned cold. “What does he want from you?”

“He said he saw that Wayne had called off the engagement and wanted your phone number. Of course, I didn’t give it to him. Then he started asking me to persuade you to go back to him.” Paige rolled her eyes. “He thinks that Wayne was just keeping you as a pet and can’t imagine that you and Wayne are getting mated!”

“If you find him annoying, just ignore him” Rosalynn’s tone was indifferent. “We didn’t have much interaction to begin with

“Well, I just wanted to remind you. Who knows if he’ll find you from somewhere else?”
Paige never expected that, as she said that, Joseph was sitting surreptitiously- in a window seat of the restaurant across from them.

Since he last saw Rosalynn, he hadn’t returned to the lab. He appeared disheveled and unkempt, no longer the refined man he used to be

Chapter 220

He had always wanted to see Rosalynn again and persuade her to leave with him. He had been to Bane Corporation and The Silverman Group, and had also maintained contact with Paige. At first, Paige was angry when she heard about Rosalynn’s situation, but for some reason, she changed her attitude the next day. telling him to live his own life and not meddle in others’ affairs.

Meddling? How could this be considered meddling? If it wasn’t for Wayne’s seduction! If it wasn’t for him taking advantage of Rosalynn’s grandmother’s illness to enter the picture, Rosalynn would have been his girlfriend long ago. She used to excel in her studies, and she should have pursued a Ph.D. and gone to better places, but being with Wayne changed all that.

If Wayne truly cared about her, why wouldn't he let her go to a better place? He only desired her body!

When she becomes old and unattractive, he will kick her aside and find other young and beautiful students. At that point, Rosalynn will truly have no future!

Unable to find Rosalynn no matter what, Joseph chose to track Paige. Unexpectedly, he saw Rosalynn on his first attempt at following her. Joseph was trembling with excitement, while Rosalynn and Paige were completely unaware.

After lunch, the two of them started shopping. Paige had secured a big project and wanted to buy a nice dress for the commendation ceremony. She initially planned to buy just one, but ended up purchasing six in the afternoon. As for the items to decorate her apartment, most of them had already been bought online. However, while passing by a maternity and baby store, Rosalynn couldn't help but be drawn to the beautiful clothes displayed in the window. She didn't know whether she was having a boy or a girl..

"Do you like it?" Paige asked.

"Yeah," Rosalynn nodded.

"Then let's go in and take a look!" Paige said and pulled Rosalynn into the store

In the end. Rosalynn chose two baby t-shirts and two adorable pairs of shoes.

Meanwhile, Heatherway, who had failed in her alliance with Wayne and had brought shame to her family, was about to be ordered to return home. Before going back, she had helped Maddie order a diamond necklace. Heatherway hadn't completely given up on the possibility of marrying Wayne and hoped that Maddie could help her

Excitedly, she came to the mall to pick up the necklace, but she never expected to run into Rosalynn here. She saw Rosalynn coming out of a maternity and baby store while carrying a shopping bag.

This was an excellent but extremely expensive store, and they only sold maternity and baby items. Why would Rosalynn go there?

Heatherway had a strange flashback, recalling the incident when Rosalynn vomited in front of her the last time. At that time, she didn't think much of it and only felt that Rosalynn might have been impolite. But now, seeing Rosalynn carrying a paper bag coming out of a maternity and baby store, a sense of foreboding aRosso in her heart

Rosalynn... Is she pregnant?
