The Secret Heir Return To Wealth And Love Chapter 836

Chapter 836

Rosalynn stared into the camera

In a sincere tone, she said, “Latham, thirty years ago, you boosted your mistress to power, used Hilaria to slander my mother, and forced her to divorce and flee. This led to Hilaria cutting ties with you when she learned the truth. For thirty years, you’ve never felt remorse. You even stooped so low as to kidnap and hide Granny Hilaria. You’re a disgrace to every role you’ve held, husband, father, son. If you have any decency left, don’t harm Granny Hilaria. We’ll pursue this to the bitter end if she suffers even a scratch.”

When Rosalynn finished speaking, she bowed and got into the car.

The bodyguards shielded her from the bustling media.

Wayne stepped forward.

“President Silverman, what do you think about what your wife just said? Do you also believe that Miss Hilaria has been kidnapped?”

President Silverman, did you rush here with Ms. Jared out of concern for Miss Hilaria or to take over the Jared Group?”

The reporters shouted their questions.

Wayne glanced at the crowd.

The buzzing crowd suddenly fell silent.

I have no comment on what my wife said.

We’re a unified front, Wayne said, his gaze fixed on a reporter. “What do you think the Jared Group is? Bane Corporation isn’t that greedy to just gobble it up?”

President Silverman, what's your view on the internet rumors that Ms. Jared isn't Hilaria's granddaughter?"

There will be clarity after the Jared Group's shareholders meeting, Wayne paused "Also, to those who slandered my wife, I've taken note. Apart from pursuing legal action, the Silverman Group, Bane Corporation, and the Jared Group will refuse to cooperate with any related individuals or companies in the future"

Having said that, Wayne got back into the car

The live broadcast showed only Wayne and Rosalynn's car driving away

"Bang!"

A loud noise

The TV broke into pieces

"Has she lost her mind?" Yvonne pointed at the broken TV, she was hysterical. The reputation of the consortium is related to the stock price how dare she spouts nonsense in front of the media"

The fact that Yvonne got her position through an affair was not widely known.

Most people believed that Adeline Gorman had cheated first, leaving Latham heartbroken and leading to their divorce

It was only two or three years later that he married his current wife, Yvonne

Yvonne had always had a good reputation

But who could have predicted that after decades of hard work, one remark from Rosalynn about her affair would ruin everything!

"I'll contact the media to refute these rumors right away!" Yvonne said frantically, reaching for her phone

Latham stopped her, "Honey, what if she has evidence? You know as well as I do that Rosalynn is known for never making a move without being fully prepared

"Evidence?" Yvonne went pale

In fact, when Hilaria confronted her, she mentioned that she found evidence of her slandering Adeline

Latham didn't believe it

The old lady was furious and kicked him out

The evidence was never made public

Therefore, Yvonne always thought the old lady was lying. There was no evidence

But now

She looked at the shattered TV

She was seething with rage

Things had escalated so much now, if that old lady really gave the evidence to that little devil Gabriella.

In the end, she would be the one to suffer

Yvonne had been living comfortably recently Everything had been going smoothly

Suddenly someone was choking her She wished she could kill that person Immediately !

Chapter 837

Rosalynn's sudden alarm and condemnation caused a tremendous domestic and international sensation.

For instance

“Didn’t Hilaria previously announce that Gabriella was Jason Jared’s daughter? The way Gabriella’s speaking to the media, it seems like she’s hinting that Latham’s her real father?”

“Oh my god, I knew the power struggle within the Jared family would be intense, but I didn’t expect Gabriella to go on the offensive right out the gate!” honestly, I think Gabriella was pushed to her breaking point. Her beloved grandma suddenly disappears and falls ill, and Latham denies her the right to Visit Something’s fishy about that. Why wouldn’t he let her see her?”

Despite the numerous doubts, most voices in mainstream media, both domestically and internationally, seemed to lean towards Gabriella. However, there’s a huge divide within the Jared Group.

Some shareholders, led by Hilaria’s confidants, fully supported Rosalynn’s actions. They wished for Latham to disclose Hilaria’s condition and allow

Visitations

On the other hand, a different group is quite furious

They believed Gabriella was acting without considering the reputation of the corporation and, in doing so, harming all shareholders’ interests

They demanded the shareholders meeting to revoke the privileges Hilaria bestowed upon Gabriella within the Jared Group

Yet Rosalynn couldn’t care less about all this fuss

The reason she’s causing such a ruckus was to warn Latham that the whole world is now suspecting him of persecuting his own mother. If anything happened to her, he’ll be everyone’s target

“Gabriella”

The moment Rosalynn got home, Mike came looking for her.

“Any leads?” Rosalynn asked immediately.

Mike shook his head. “We found Lydia”

Rosalynn frowned “She wasn’t at the funeral?”

“No,” said Mike seriously. The old lady seemed to know something was going to happen to her, so she arranged for Lydia and her kids to be hidden” “Bring them to me, Rosalynn said solemnly

If Hilaria wanted to protect them, she’d continue doing so

"It's complicated, Mike said, looking worried. The neighborhood Lydia's in is filled with Latham's people. We suspect the old lady might be in a hospital there, but it's airtight. Both our men and President Silverman's men are trying to infiltrate"

"Airtight?"

Rosalynn chuckled

"I'd like to see just how airtight it is. Get things ready. I'm going to the funeral"

"Gabiella, it's dangerous!"

Mike had seen enough that Latham and his wife had gone mad. They're fearless on their own turf, whether it's the old man's death, their city-wide search for Lydia and her kids, or Calvin's situation, or the old lady's situation

They're not afraid of being suspected when they make their move.

If Gabiella went there, Mike feared, they might brazenly hire a hitman to take her out

Then they could scapegoat someone else.

"I'll go with her," said Wayne, who's just finished changing his medication and rewrapping his bandages.

Mike was apprehensive. President Silverman, shouldn't you be advising her against this? Why are you joining in on her reckless behavior?"

Chapter 838

"Don't worry. President Silverman has been 'assassinated' so many times it's hard to keep count, Rosalynn joked

Mike turned silent

"Latham is so arrogant I must not have thought that I would go to his place to attend the funeral. When we go, the people in Latham will definitely take extra precautions. They only have so few people in total. If you use people here, other places will relax. It's time for you. Your job is to get Lydia out safely

"Yes, sir!" Mike stood up straight, answering loudly and confidently

Public opinion didn't fade with time, instead, it grew even wilder the next day as more and more stories about Latham and Yvonne were exposed. The rumors were spreading like wildfire

It seemed that Latham's side couldn't take it anymore.

So, early the next morning before the funeral, Latham held a small press conference at the funeral venue's media area, accompanied by his tearful, pitiful-looking wife

Rosalynn and Wayne were in a car heading toward Latham's neighborhood.

The car's screen was broadcasting Latham's press conference

With tears streaming down her face, Yvonne told the cameras, "Latham and I have always been respectful to our mother. Although we had disagreements in the past, we've long since made up. I don't understand why Gabriella would make baseless accusations against us in front of the media"

"Did you not let her visit her grandmother? Did she make it up?" a reporter asked sharply

Latham looked heartbroken. It's not that we didn't let her see her, but our mother was extremely disappointed in her and specifically said she didn't want to see her while she was sick As her son, I naturally have to respect her wishes."

"Everyone knows how much Old Mrs Jared doted on Ms Jared, even more than her own son Why would she not want to see her anymore? Mr. Latham, if you're going to lie, can you at least find a more believable excuse?" another reporter sarcastically remarked

Latham glanced at the reporter but didn't get angry Instead, he sighed 'It's because my mother doesn't like Wayne Everyone knows about his methods and behavior Who would want to marry their daughter to someone like that? Especially after all the effort my mother put into raising Gabriella Just as she started succeeding, she went against our mother's wishes and married the man she disliked the most."

Rosalynn couldn't help but laugh

"He's talking about you," she said to Wayne

'Nonsense Grandma loved me very much. She asked me to see her off When I left the H City." Wayne sneered

Rosalynn didn't respond

Yvonne denied all the accusations one by one, whether there was evidence or not. She claimed they were all rumors and slander and that she would resolve them through legal means

Finally, Latham followed Rosalynn's example

With tears streaming down his face, he faced the camera and said, “Gabriella, even though you’re not blood— related to the Jared family and despite your attempts to tarnish my reputation, Yvonne and I still consider you family. Please, for the sake of how good our grandmother was to you, stop harming the Jared Group. Otherwise, how will you face her when she wakes up and recovers?”

The press conference ended.

Latham escorted the sobbing Yvonne, who looked like she was about to faint, back to their room with the help of their bodyguards

As soon as the door closed, Yvonne immediately regained her energy

She left Latham’s embrace and wiped away her tears

Two neutral shareholders texted me, saying that Gabriella’s actions have harmed the group’s interests and are infuriating. They’re willing to support us at the shareholders meeting

Chapter 839

Yvonne was super happy. I always thought that mom protected Gabriella so well because she was really good at something, but it turns out”

Yvonne burst out laughing. They wanted to mess with us, but they ended up shooting themselves in the foot!”

“However, we did offend Wayne this time. Latham was still a little afraid of Wayne.

But Yvonne wasn’t scared at all

“Even if we don’t do business in H Country if the Jared Group works a bit harder abroad , it’s not impossible to defeat Bane Corporation” As she spoke. she hugged Latham’s neck, “Honey, I’ve always said you’re the most capable man It was just that Mom used to suppress you Now things are different The Jared Group will soon be yours, and you’ll have plenty of opportunities to show off your abilities. We don’t have to fear Wayne.”

Latham was delighted by Yvonne’s praise.

He gave Yvonne a passionate kiss: “Don’t worry, babe. I’ll ensure you become a woman that no one dares to mess with!” Yvonne’s smile was enchanting

After all these years, even though Latham had been with other women, Yvonne was still had the most control over him.

After their intimate moment, the two put on their sorrowful masks and went to attend the funeral, welcoming guests.

Those who came to the memorial service included some friends of Jason Jared, many people from the Jared Group and those who had cooperated with “Latham, the events happened so suddenly and continuously. You must restrain your grief” A vice president of the Jared Group brought several large flower baskets and comforted Latham, As for Gabriella’s matter, you don’t need to worry. The board listened to her before because of your mother’s influence Now, not many people are really afraid of her.”

Yvonne wore a mask of sadness and disappointment: ‘My mother was so kind to her, and everyone saw it But we didn’t expect that as soon as mom had an accident, in order to seize the family property, she would join forces with Wayne of Bane Corporation and cause such harm to the group

At present, it was hard to say where Gabriella came from or even whether she was a real descendant of the Jared Group

“An ungrateful villain!” He cursed.

‘Gabriella’”

At this moment, someone suddenly exclaimed.

Latham, Yvonne, and others were stunned for a moment, then followed the sound and were all shocked

A bodyguard hurried over. “Ma’am, we only discovered them at the entrance. *

Yvonne glared fiercely at the bodyguard.

They had so many people keeping an eye on Gabriella and Wayne. But they ended up coming here before being discovered!

Angry as she was, Yvonne quickly put on a surprised and happy expression.

“Gabriella, you’re here!” She hurriedly greeted her, “Latham and I were just discussing going to see you after the funeral” Rosalynn wore a stately black dress.

She looked emotionless at Yvonne “Although I didn’t receive your invitation, this is my Uncle Jason Jared’s funeral after all, so I came on my own.”

Yvonne’s smile became awkward for a moment “We’ve been so busy lately, the person in charge of sending invitations must have missed you I’ll definitely give them a good scolding later!”

‘No need

Rosalynn didn't look at Yvonne again

She walked straight to the hall where the coffin was placed in the center.

Ignoring all the various gazes around her, Rosalynn closed her eyes.

She didn't say anything

Chapter 840

Just now, that vice president suddenly sneered, "Gabriella, this is our first meeting after your wedding, right?"

Wayne gave him a cold stare

The VP's face stiffened a bit

How many people are fearless of Wayne?

He tried hard not to look at Wayne and turned his gaze to Rosalynn

This was his third encounter with the VP, including this one

The previous two times were at important shareholder meetings of the Jared Group

The VP's impression of Rosalynn was that she rarely spoke and seemed easy to manipulate.

In both shareholder meetings, the decisions were made or rejected with the pushing of the quiet Gabriella.

He planned to embarrass Gabriella in front of so many people

But who would have thought?

The beautiful woman in front of him stared at him, looked him up and down slowly, and asked, "Who are you?"

The VP disdainfully said, "I'm the vice president of the Jared Group. We met at the shareholder meetings. I stand right across from you!" He shouted. "Is this woman dumb?"

She couldn't even remember someone she'd met twice!

No, she must be pretending to disrespect him in front of so many people on purpose

"Oh Rosalynn responded coldly and asked Yvonne. Where's Lydia?"

Yvonne was taken aback 'Oh, Lydia is not feeling well She's resting at home"

Rosalynn's gaze at Yvonne was complicated

Yvonne couldn't understand it at all

Her heart became increasingly uneasy

Just as she waited for Rosalynn to continue questioning, she retracted her gaze and held Wayne's arm, "Let's go sit over there"

The VP stood there

Slowly coming back to his senses, he was ignored by Gabriella

Ms Jared, aren't you being too rude? The VP blocked Rosalynn's way and sneered, "Latham said Hilaria doesn't like Wayne, and you still bring him to this kind of occasion? Who are you trying to provoke?"

All the guests had seen the press conference earlier that day.

The VP was making a big fuss, and the whole funeral's attention was drawn.

You know it's Latham who said that, but has Hilaria said it herself? Wayne stared at the VP, his tone so cold it was frightening, "By the way, Hilaria did say she would sever ties with Latham. According to you, shouldn't Latham and his wife be kicked out of the funeral?"

"You? The VP's lips trembled, and he finally said out, This is the Jared Group's business. What right do you, an outsider, have to meddle?"

"Outsider?" Rosalynn couldn't help but laugh, Wayne is my legal husband If anyone is an outsider, it's you. You have no right to butt in" The VP's face instantly became stiff

Rosalynn was getting a little angry, too. This guy keeps disturbing the peace of Jason Jared's funeral, disrespecting the deceased Kick him out'
