The secret 19

Chapter 19 Passionate Kiss

The man's hot lips pressed against hers, and the two of them breathed on each other's skin.

In that same second, Roxanne's mind went blank.

She never thought that Lucian would carry him all the way there.

The man was even tightening her grip on her chin, apparently trying to force her to open her mouth.

At that moment, Roxanne came to and began to shake. "Get off me, Lucian Farwell! You've lost your mind? We are in a restaurant! Anyone can enter at any time!"

Lucian pulled away from her a little more because of her difficulties. When her mind registered her words, she frowned. "So what? Weren't you the one who said you were going to compensate me? I'm only taking what you owe me once, but are you scared yet?

Roxanne's eyes flickered. A wave of disgust washed over her as she thought about what happened the other night.

Perhaps it was because he had been drugged that night, Lucian was barely aware of what he was doing. Even so, he had been acting instinctively and had been rude.

Therefore, she did not remember anything other than the pain of that incident.

Now that the smell of the man and the faint smell of alcohol floated back into her nose, and after hearing what she said, Roxanne began to tremble.

When Lucian saw no response from her, her eyes darkened and he leaned in to kiss her again.

It was a rougher kiss than the last.

Roxanne couldn't move at all under her grasp, and the panic in her heart was growing more and more intense.

Six years had passed, but her body still couldn't resist that man.

If he notices my reaction, to him, I would still be the same person I was six years ago.

With that thought in mind, Roxanne instantly sobered up.

When she felt the man trying to penetrate her, she quickly bit her lip hard.

The metallic scent of her blood soon filled her mouth.

The man froze. In the next second, he moved with even more vigor.

Roxanne could barely catch her breath from her continued kissing, and she was slowly losing strength in her body. The only reason she didn't collapse was that the man was still pressing on her hand.

A moment later, Lucian stopped and, with her lips still on hers, asked, "I thought you said you don't feel anything for me. Why have you become so weak? Roxanne, your body is much more honest than your mouth!

The man's voice was hoarse.

Roxanne gasped. Just as she was about to refute him, she suddenly felt a large hand wander to her chest.

Once she felt the action from her, Roxanne somehow mustered the strength to push and slap him.

"Lucian, wasn't it you who said you were going to marry Aubree? I've let you go, so what are you doing now? Are you taking revenge on me? If so, then she's done it! I was a fool to target such an extreme trick at you, but just as you wanted, I stopped clinging to you. I will no longer appear in your life! So this is our end."

Saying that, Roxanne shot him a look and ran out of the room, never once looking back.

Meanwhile, after Cayden cleaned up the mess, she went to the private room they were in to guard Lucian's door. Suddenly, she saw Lucian's ex-wife run from the room. She froze for a few seconds before coming to her senses and running into the bedroom to check on Lucian.
