

I'm A Quadrillionaire chapter 1545

Chapter 1545

After David said goodbye to Nova and left the Iridescent Sect, he took out the memory stone Nova gave him.

The function of this one-time use memory stone was very simple. The contents inside would be automatically transferred into the brain after the user crushed it.

David crushed the memory stone directly.

A complete map of the known areas in Star Kingdom appeared in his mind.

Complete galaxy maps were very rare in Star Kingdom.

What the general forces had were only the regional galaxy maps where their own forces were located.

Only major forces had a complete galaxy map.

Nova gave David such a generous gift.

After following the guidelines of the galaxy map, David identified the direction, tore apart the three-dimensional space, entered the four-dimensional space, and quickly went to the Central Sacred Continent.

Now, he had to implement his plan as soon as possible to improve his strength without any delay. Without power, nothing else mattered in Star Kingdom.

One could not protect the people around them with their words.

They would not even feel safe at all.

It was a pity that with David's current beginner Ruler Rank strength, he could only travel in four-dimensional space.

Otherwise, the distance would be closer in a space with a higher dimension.

If that were the case, it would take less time for David to reach the Central Sacred Continent.

The distance from the Iridescent Continent to the Central Sacred Continent was so great.

Even if David was heading forward at his full speed in the four-dimensional space, it would still take a long time for him to arrive.

As David made his way to the Central Sacred Continent, inside a forbidden place in the Iridescent Sect...

The world was white on the bottom floor of the ice cavern and there were extremely cold and strong winds there.

Everything around was formed by ice that was more than 10 thousand years old.

All creatures below Eternal Realm would be turned into ice sculptures in an instant as soon as they stepped foot inside..

Celeste was sitting cross-legged at that moment.

A thick layer of frost had formed on her body.

Fortunately, her mind power had been greatly improved in the past few months she had intercourse with David, so she could temporarily resist the invasion of the extreme cold air.

If she only had her previous mind power, the extreme cold air might have already entered her body.

Once the extreme cold air entered her body, it would cause frostbite to various organs of the body and invade the bones, giving the victim bone-piercing pain.

On the other hand, although the extreme cold air would cause frostbite to various organs in the body, it would not cause death.

This was because Eternals could continuously generate vitality to repair their body.

This would then form a balance so that the Eternals who entered this place could endure the icy pain brought by the extreme cold air for a long time but not die.

Who could endure such constant torture if they stayed here for dozens or hundreds of years?

Celeste was trying to use her mind power to resist the extreme cold around her.

She had to be fully concentrated, and she could not relax even a little.

Otherwise, if the extreme cold air entered her body, it would arouse the desire in her body.

Celeste did not know what the consequences would be if these two forces were activated at the same time.

After all, this had never been done before.

In any case, it would definitely not be a good thing.

However, even if she could barely withstand the extreme cold now, she would not be able to suppress the desire in her body over time.

I'm A Quadrillionaire chapter 1546

Chapter 1546

At that time, not only must she suppress her desire, but she also needed to resist the extreme cold. Two huge forces attacked her from inside and outside.

Celeste felt that she might not be able to take care of all these aspects, and it would be troublesome.

It was just that she could not do anything about it.

Since Master Eira asked her to face the wall in the ice cavern for a hundred years, then she had to stay there for a hundred years.

However, right now, it was hard to say whether she could last for a year, let alone a hundred years.

With bitterness in her heart, Celeste muttered to herself, "Master, you're not even giving your disciple a chance!

"Why? Why won't you listen to me?"

"Why are you punishing me like this when it's clearly not my fault?"

"In the past, those who entered the ice cavern were all members of the sect who had committed serious crimes. But what crime did I commit? You didn't even hesitate before you sent me here to suffer a hundred years of pain.

"Just because I offended a Saint? How are you so cruel?"

"When did the Iridescent Sect become so afraid of a Pre-Saint who just stepped into Saint Realm?"

"A hundred years! Will I still be me after a hundred years?"

“Master, I have no relatives. You raised me and taught me all my skills.

“Without you, I might have left this world long ago.

“Thus, I have always respected you, and even if you ask me to die, I will not hesitate at all.

“But this time, I am really disappointed.

“Because I can’t respect a teacher who punishes her disciple after her disciple has been wronged.

“Perhaps in your heart, I was no longer your disciple the moment I lost my alluring body and became an ordinary person.

“I wish Nek just killed me back then.

“In this way, at least I would still be able to imagine that you killed Nek that b*st*rd and avenged me.

“I will treat these one hundred years as me repaying your kindness. After one hundred years, no matter what I become, you will no longer be my master in my heart.

“However, I will still repay you for raising me.

“David, I’m sorry. I shouldn’t have brought you to Star Kingdom, I hope you don’t hate me.”

After Celeste finished talking to herself, she fell into silence again.

She had no idea that the reason why Eira treated her like this was not that she was afraid of Nek the Saint.

She was not bothered by a Pre-Saint at all.

Instead, the activation of Celeste’s alluring body disrupted Eira and her sisters’ plan, and this plan was very important to them.

It could even be said that the four sisters existed because of this plan.

They had put too much energy and too much time into it.

They were almost at the last stage, but because Celeste suddenly had such an accident, they had no choice but to temporarily set it aside.

It was not easy to train Lorraine to reach Saint Realm.

Even though Lorraine had an intact alluring body and was extremely talented, it would also take at least thousands of years.

Celeste was almost 2000 years old, and she was only at the late Sovereign Rank. She had not even reached peak Eternal.

If she wanted to break through Eternal Realm and become a Saint, it would take at least a thousand more years, and she might not even succeed.

That was why Eira treated her like this.

Even if Celeste told Eira she found a way to improve her mind power and did not lose her status as a genius, which was what seemed to be the case now, it would not change Eira's attitude towards her.

This was because the moment Celeste's alluring body was activated, she had already lost her original value to Eira.

I'm A Quadrillionaire chapter 1547

Chapter 1547

Time passed day by day.

Celeste was at the bottom of the ice cavern, fighting against the extreme cold with all her strength as David continued to move rapidly in the direction of the Central Sacred Continent in the four-dimensional space.

Inside the Iridescent Sect, Selena and the others also began to devote themselves to intensive cultivation, striving to advance toward Eternal Realm.

Originally, Selena, as Lady Dream's personal disciple, could live in a more advanced residence, but she refused to be separated from Celia and the others.

Therefore, she applied to her teacher Nova in hopes to stay here so she could practice with everyone and make progress together.

For David's sake, Nova agreed and asked Selena to take care of everyone.

Time flew by and soon half a month had passed.

Every two or three days, David would come out of the four-dimensional space and return to the three-dimensional space to check whether his route was correct and whether there was any deviation from his destination.

The reason why they could travel such a long distance over such a long time in the four-dimensional space to go from the Milky Way to the Star Kingdom was that Celeste had a special cruising device.

It could help determine their position in a high-dimensional space at any time to make sure they did not deviate from their course.

Even if there was a deviation, they could also correct it in time.

However, David did not have it, so he had to come out and make sure he was on the right course.

It was easy to deviate from the original route as he was traveling in a high-dimensional space.

If not corrected in time, he would be likely to get farther and farther away from his destination.

Generally, people who traveled in high-dimensional spaces would prepare a cruising device.

David had no idea of this.

Otherwise, he would definitely have asked Nova for one too so it would not be so troublesome, and he would not need to come out so frequently to confirm his position.

In the beginning, he did not check it for a week, but when he came out, he found out he had significantly deviated from his original route.

If he kept going like this, he might never make it to the Central Sacred Continent in his lifetime.

After that, David learned his lesson, so he would come out and look frequently to make sure he was on the right track.

In a void in Star Kingdom, a merchant ship was heading for the Central Sacred Continent.

The Central Sacred Continent was the largest trade market in the entire Star Kingdom.

Eighty percent of the transactions in Star Kingdom took place here, showing how prosperous this place.

was.

There were many trade ships of various sizes that come in and out of this place every day.

The merchant ship heading for the Central Sacred Continent now was one of them.

Merchant ships could not travel in high-dimensional spaces, so they could only travel slowly in three-dimensional space.

Their speed would be much slower than that of David, who traveled through four-dimensional space. However, merchant ships would not always travel at such a slow speed.

After paying a certain fee, they could use the established wormhole to quickly reach their destination.

It was just like a highway on Earth.

Normally, they could only travel 40 miles per hour, but when they got on the highway, they could travel 120 miles per hour, which would be three times faster.

However, wormholes would be much faster than that.

If the speed of a merchant ship in three-dimensional space was compared to 40 miles, then its speed in the wormhole could reach more than 4000 miles, which was more than a hundred times faster.

Of course, the construction and maintenance of wormholes were complicated, so it would cost a lot to use them.

I'm A Quadrillionaire chapter 1548

Chapter 1548

Moreover, wormholes would only be more common the closer one was to the Central Sacred Continent.

The more remote the place, the fewer wormholes were available.

Wormholes would inevitably be built around the continent where every major force was located.

This was a good opportunity to show their strength.

The more wormholes, the more powerful and wealthy they appeared.

By then, this continent would become more and more prosperous.

If a continent did not even have wormholes, which merchant would come here for business?

The unit of time for commuting was a year.

In places without wormholes, merchant ships could only travel at a slow speed.

However, this kind of speed was only relatively slow. If one wanted to calculate it, it would still be much faster than the speed of light.

In the vast and boundless high-level civilization like Star Kingdom, even the speed of light appeared to be very slow.

On this merchant ship that was currently traveling.

“Mom, we’ve been on the road for so long, how long will it take to get to the Central Sacred Continent?” A delicate-looking seven or eight-year-old girl asked.

Opposite the little girl sat a beautiful woman in her thirties.

She had to be the little girl’s mother

Upon hearing the little girl’s question, the beautiful woman replied, “Soon. If we continue for about a week, we will reach the entrance of a wormhole. If we pay a certain fee, we can directly go to the Central Sacred Continent.”

There was a trace of lingering sadness in her eyes. Clearly, she was worried about something.

“Great! I’m finally going to the Central Sacred Continent. This is my first time going there. I heard that it is the most prosperous place in Star Kingdom. I must visit that place properly this time,” the little girl said. happily.

“Oh, you! You only know how to have fun. When will you grow up?” The beautiful woman also showed a smile on her face after seeing the happy expression on the little girl’s face.

However, her sadness never went away.

“Mom, I don’t want to grow up! It’s great to be a child. When I grow up, I will also be miserable like you,” the little girl pouted.

“I also don’t want you to grow up, and I want you to be happy every day, but you still have to learn to grow up,” the beautiful woman said.

“Mom, I know! Don’t worry! When I grow up, I will share some of the burdens with you, so you don’t have to worry so much,” the little girl said sensibly.

“I will be happy as long as you think like this. My greatest wish in this life is that you can grow up healthily and happily,” the beautiful woman said gladly.

The mother and daughter chatted as the merchant ship continued on its way.

After three days of traveling in four-dimensional space, David came out to check his position again.

He tore apart the space and stepped into the three-dimensional space from the four-dimensional space.

When he just entered the three-dimensional space, a merchant ship traveled past him at a speed exceeding the speed of light.

Bang!

Before David had time to observe the situation, he collided with the passing merchant ship.

The merchant ship was naturally no match for David’s Eternal Realm body.

Thus, David directly created a big hole in the ship.

Then, David landed in the room of the beautiful woman and the little girl.

“Ah!”

The little girl screamed.

She was obviously frightened.

Hence, she immediately threw herself into the arms of the beautiful woman.

The beautiful woman hugged the little girl and stared at David with vigilance and coldness in her eyes. David was also a little dizzy from the collision.

He shook his head, stood up, and checked his surroundings.

“Oh? Where am I? Is this a room? Am I at the Central Sacred Continent already? It shouldn't have been so fast.”