I am a quadrillionaire chapter 2277-Queen Isa glanced at David and sent a voice transmission to the Elven Guards outside the battle circle.

“Come here, all of you!”

The Elven Guards thought that Her Majesty had dealt with the enemy, so they hurried toward the center of the battle.

They soon arrived.

When they saw Queen Isa and David standing together, they all thought they were seeing things.

Just now, the two were in an earth-shattering fight.

How did they suddenly reconcile?

Although they had doubts in their hearts, the Elven Guards did not say anything.

They still knew what to ask and what not to ask.

“Your Majesty!”

“Come on, let’s go to pick up the princess and go home together.”

After Queen Isa finished speaking, she set off first, heading toward Evie and the others.

The Elven Guards followed immediately.

David was at the end of the group.

As a matter of fact, he was the most depressed one.

He had kindly rescued Evie and the Elf women and promised to send them to Amber City.

As a result, her mother came.

If it were not for David’s strength, he would be killed if not crippled.

If that happened, that would be such an unjust death.

It seemed that he should not do acts of kindness randomly now.

David shook his head helplessly.

Now that things had progressed to this point, Queen Isa believed David.

There were two reasons why she did not like him.

Firstly, she was embarrassed.

David saved Evie and logically, Isa was Evie's mother so she should thank him. However, she attacked him the moment she saw him without understanding what happened.

Queen Isa had no idea how to face David, Evie's savior.

Secondly, as the queen and the number one among the Elves, she had almost lost to a junior.

No, if David did not stop in time, she would have been killed.

Even in The Spirit Cage, not the real world, Queen Isa still could not accept this fact.

There were not a lot of people in Leila who could surpass David in terms of soul power now.

The sound of fighting finally stopped.

Beanie and Evie were anxiously waiting for the result of the battle.

Because they did not know whether the battle was over or not, they did not dare to approach.

If the battle started again, they would die.

Not long after, a few figures appeared in the sky.

Everyone looked intently as they knew the one who arrived first would be the winner.

When they saw that the person at the front was Elven Queen Isa but not David, Evie, and Beanie seemed to be drained of strength and fell limply on the ground.

Although they were already prepared in their hearts, it was still a little hard to accept when the facts were in front of them.

The only thing they could hope for was that David was still alive and not dead.

Queen Isa was very fast and she reached Evie, and the others not far away, in the blink of an eye.

Just when Evie was about to ask about David's situation, a figure approached slowly.

Who was it if not David?

Beanie and Evie immediately burst into tears of joy.
