I am a quadrillionaire chapter 2324-“A Pre-Deity has died, and you are completely clueless. Is that how the head of the family should act?”

The voice still did not fluctuate and it remained as calm as ever.

Yet, it caused cold sweat to break out on Ward’s forehead.

He could not stop himself from trembling. He was nervous.

Grandmaster Bertram was an Ancestral Deity and the stabilizing force of the Feather family.

So, Ward did not dare to refute, argue, or even speak out.

‘Tell me in detail what happened,’ Bertram ordered.

“Yes, Grandmaster!”

Ward then began to tell him what he knew.

From receiving the signal from Azul’s death, sending Blue to Star Kingdom to check, until Blue’s death not long ago.

“So Blue went to a level 7 civilization that hadn’t been discovered yet?”

“Exactly! I asked Blue to check the specific situation first. If it is worthwhile, I will send a large force to invade and make Star Kingdom another subordinate civilization of the family.”

It took a while until the voice came from the forbidden area again.

“Do you think other forces or our enemies found out about Star Kingdom?”

“Grandmaster, I promise you this is absolutely impossible. After receiving the signal from Azul, I immediately asked Blue to go to Star Kingdom alone to see what was going on. So, there is no possibility of the news leaking,” Ward said with certainty.

He did not discuss Azul’s matter with anyone before sending Blue directly to Star Kingdom.

In other words, only he and Blue knew about it, so how could it have leaked?

“Since the news wasn’t leaked, it means that something unexpected happened. How is Blue’s strength?”

“He was promoted to mid-Pre-Deity Rank 30 thousand years ago!”

“Anyone who can kill a mid-Pre-Deity must be at least a peak Pre-Deity or even a Primordial Deity. Do you think there is such a person in a level 7 civilization?” Bertram’s tone changed slightly.

He was clearly dissatisfied with what Ward knew.

Ward dared not speak.

Of course, he also knew that there was something strange about this matter.

Normally, a Deity would not exist in a small level 7 civilization.

Blue, whose strength reached mid-Pre-Deity, was already invincible in a level 7 civilization.

So how could he die unexpectedly?

And yet, he did.

The distance was too far away, and with Blue’s lessons learned, Ward did not dare to continue sending people there, so he could only ask the grandmaster for help.

Moreover, the death of a mid-Pre-Deity could not be concealed.

No Deity had died in the Feather family in millions of years.

“Ward, as the head of the family, don’t you have any opinion on this matter?” Bertram asked again.

The frightened Ward was startled, so he quickly replied, ” Grandmaster, is it possible that there is something wrong with the news sent back by Azul? After all, he had been missing for millions of years. Although it was sent back in the unique way of the Feather family, there is no guarantee that he had not been coerced. If so, then Star Kingdom is possibly a trap waiting for our family.”

After Ward said that, the forbidden area fell into silence again.

Bertram seemed to be thinking about this possibility.

After a long time, Bertram replied slowly.

‘This is not impossible. You should go back first. As long as there is an opportunity, Blue will definitely send a message back before he dies. Then, we will know the truth of the matter. If the time is up and you still didn’t receive Blue’s signal, it means that the enemy’s strength far surpassed Blue’s and he didn’t even have a chance to send a signal. Which will then prove what happened to Azul must have been deliberately formulated by the enemy, so we have to consider at length.’

Bertram was giving a direction for this matter.

It would be best if Blue could send a message back, if not, things will not be easy.

‘Yes, Grandmaster! I’ll take my leave!’ Ward said loudly.

Then, he left the forbidden area with the core of the Feather family to wait for Blue’s signal.
