Married at First Sight Chapter 2364-The Brown family siblings left.

In the follow-up, after obtaining Jessica's consent, Hank resold the wedding house he bought at the beginning. After getting the money, he wanted to share some with Jessica, but Jessica refused.

Hank bought the house before marriage. When he divorced Liberty, Liberty couldn't even get the house, let alone Jessica.

Jessica asked Hank to transfer the money that Hank wanted to give her to Liberty and her son. The person she was most sorry for was Liberty and Sonny.

Whether Liberty accepted it or not, Jessica was using her way to atone for her sins.

Afterwards, Hank returned to his hometown to recuperate. Apart from visiting his son at regular times, he and his family no longer actively appeared in front of Liberty.

It could be regarded as fading out of the world of Liberty and others.

Newman family.

Trenton was carrying a black luggage bag, standing at the door of Newman's villa, but he didn't ring the doorbell for a long time.

This was his home.

No, this's the oldest sister's home.

Because this big villa was left to his uncle by his grandparents, and his parents jointly killed his uncle, occupied the family property, and abused his elder sister.

Now, it's just returning to the name of the oldest sister.

It took a long time before Trenton rang the doorbell.

Not long after, the servant came out to open the door. Seeing him, the servant smiled joyfully: "The young master is back, the oldest lady will be very happy to know."

Trenton asked as he walked in: "Is the oldest sister at home?"

"Well, Missy is at home every day recently, and she needs medicine for her eyes. Mr. Callum doesn't let her deal with official business. All business matters are left to Mr. Dalton." replied the servant.

Trenton hurriedly asked: "After my oldest sister took Dr. Carden's medicine, how did it work? Can you see it?"

The servant immediately praised Lilian's medical skills and medicine.

She said: "Missy took Dr. Carden's medicine, and the effect is very good. Missy can barely see what is in front of her eyes now. Mr. Callum often comes closer and asks Missy if she can see clearly."

Callum had been receiving treatment with Camryn, and he was also eager to know the effect.

Ever since Camryn started using the medicine Lilian had prepared for her, Callum would stick to her face every day, asking her repeatedly if she could see him.

He hoped that when Camryn saw dawn again, he would be the first person she saw.

They were all fiancée, and she had not seen him yet.

"Is it real?" Trenton's hanging heart could finally let go.

The servant said: "What did I lie to you, young master? Dr. Carden said that Missy's eyes have improved since the beginning. If the doctor who treated Missy's eyes hadn't passed away, Missy's eyes would have recovered a long time ago. So once Dr. Carden took the medicine, Missy's eyes healed very quickly."

Lilian said that she took a big advantage from her seniors. It wasn't her credit, but it was her credit in the eyes of outsiders.

Well, she also had a little credit, she picked up the stall left by her predecessors and cured Camryn's eyes.
